

Description

Conferring Made Easier Using Writing Toolkits

Many teachers struggle with making their conferences effective and meaningful. What do you do when faced with that immediate challenge of what to focus on in a writing piece that has many areas that need support? Discover the different types of conferences and the tools that will help make your conferences memorable, supportive and efficient!

Conferring Made Easier Using Writing Toolkits

Conferring is not the icing on the cake—it is the cake! (Carl Anderson-author How's It Going) This workshop will demonstrate the different types of tools teachers can create to help meet the learning needs of all students. The components of a Writing Toolkit is individual to each teacher. Though they share many of the same qualities—no two toolkits are exactly the same! Each year toolkit components grow and change as the expertise of the teacher grows and students' needs change. This workshop will show participants the different types of tools that they can create to support their students' growth in writing.