Seniors Defeat Faculty: Byrnside, Rubely Star

The Seniors met with stiff competition Monday night in the Senior - Faculty Volleyball game. The starting line for the Faculty consisted of Miss Huffman, Mrs. Bobbitt, Mr. Byrnsides, Mr. Clements, Mr. DeWitt, and Mr. Rubely. Backing the Faculty team were Miss Hood, Mrs. Harris, and Miss Smith. Playing for the Seniors were Sarah Lynch, Barbara Agee, Carolyn Ramsey, Mary Jones, Millie Woodward, Betty Wright, Tot Sykes, Lurlene Robertson, Earlene Lang, Melody Saunders, Jackie Walker, Lynn Guerin, Judy Wilson and Marcie Hynes.

The Faculty took the honors in the first game with a score of 8 to 4. The second and third games were won by the Seniors with scores of 13 to 11 and 11 to 7 respectively.

Highlights of the game were presented by the Faculty which appeared in top form. Mr. Clements dwarfed the Seniors which gave him the advantage for spiking. Miss Huffman ran into trouble with line fouls while Mr. Clements and Mrs. Bobbitt tangled for the same shot. Mr. Clements made his apologies from the floor. Obviously Mr. Byrnsides was star athlete in college since he showed great ability during the game. Neither Miss Hood nor Mr. Clements know their strength where volleyball is concerned. Miss Hood sent several serves into the balcony while Mr. Clements sent his into the locker room adjoining the gymnasium. Mr. Byrnsides and Mr. Rubely tied for the title of "Most Points Scored." Between games Mr. Clements shot a few rounds of basketball. After the games were over, he was joined by Mr. Rubely, Mr. Byrnsides and Mr. DeWitt. All four are as good at basketball as they are at volleyball.

Batts Field Trip Hits Hatteras, Braves Weather

In spite of the bad weather, Billy Batts and seven girls in his Biology 365 class took a field trip to Hatteras, N. C., on the week end of October 9. The girls stayed in a rented house and cooked most of their meals.

They arrived at Hatteras Friday afternoon and went to the Marlin Club to watch the fishing boats dock and unload their fish. Although the fishing hadn't been too good that day, they did see a few different varieties of fish.

Saturday morning they got up bright and early to walk along the beach and look for shells. Later that afternoon Billy Batts took the girls to the lab he had worked in last summer. There they saw preserved specimens of fish, embryos, and fins. Then they went behind the lab and found fish vertebrae, driftwood, and skulls of some fish.

Sunday morning they went to Cape Hatteras and climbed the lighthouse. On the way home they stopped at a shell shop at Nags Head and bought shells to make mobiles. They stopped at Kitty Hawk to see the Wright Brothers' Museum. Their next stop was Farmville which looked pretty restful after such a week end.

Batts Conducts Fish Research With Grants

A research program was initiated this summer by Mr. Billy S. Batts, a member of the LC Science department, with grants made by the National Science Foundation. Specifically entitled Research Participation for College Teachers, the program will be carried on at Longwood during the 1964-65 and 1965-66 sessions.

Last summer's work was done at the Hatteras Marine Research Station in North Carolina. It is a marine laboratory operated by North Carolina State University of North Carolina at Raleigh. Here at Longwood work is continuing with preserved samples brought back to campus. The title of the research is The Life History of the Oceanic Bonito, Katsuwonus pelamis.

Batts Publishes Lepidology Study

In the December 31, 1964 issue of Copeia, the official publication of the American Society of Ichthyologists and Herpetologists an article by Billy S. Batts, assistant Professor of Natural Sciences here, appeared. The article, entitled "Lepidology of the Adult Pleuronectiform Fishes of Puget Sound, Washington," is concerned with the study of fish scales, lepidology, of flatfishes found in Puget Sound.

It is a complete study of these flatfish scales so a more positive identification of them is possible. It includes the key results, analysis, methods and materials, and summary used by Mr. Batts for the project.

Alumna Retires After 23 Years Faithful Service

by Linda Dyer

On July 1, 1965, Longwood College will be losing its most loyal alumnae from the campus scene. Miss Virginia Langhorne Wall, Registrar, is retiring after twenty-three years of faithful service to the college.

Miss Wall takes pride in the fact that she is one of the oldest alumnae. A native of Farmville, she attended kindergarten in the basement of West Wing as a student of the Training School. In 1924 Miss Wall received her Bachelor of Science degree in elementary education from Longwood. She was a member of the Mu Omega Ribbon Club, of the Argus Literary Society, and of the Delta Sigma Chi social sorority, now Alpha Sigma Alpha.

In the ensuing years, Miss Wall lived in High Point, North Carolina. In 1942 she returned to Longwood to assume the position of registrar. There were three reasons for her return to the campus: (1) she wished to be at home; (2) she loves her Alma Mater; and (3) she was influenced by her deep admiration for Doctor Jarman.

In 1949 Miss Wall was tapped into Alpha Kappa Gamma as an honorary member. She is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, an honorary teachers' organization, advisor to Alpha Sigma Alpha from 1944-1963, and advisor to the Granddaughters' Club.

When asked about her work here, Miss Wall said, "I enjoy my work here, enjoy the contact with the faculty, administration, and students . . . I will still be interested in the college and its welfare . . . I've enjoyed watching the students grow from freshmen into seniors, and have kept up with a few of them after they graduated . . . It has been very interesting watching the school grow and the many changes on campus." Miss Wall said that it has been most interesting meeting the daughters of acquaintances.

Miss Wall intends to take every opportunity for enjoyment after her retirement. "I like people and I want to renew my contact with people I haven't been able to get around to see. I'll just be free to do what I want with my leisure." She further stated that now she would have more time to spend with her family and friends.

Top Rats Of '67 Cap Frosh Of '68

At seven o'clock on the evening of September 18, eighteen red and white sixty-eighters received the highest honor that can be bestowed upon freshman rats — they were capped "Top Rats" and "Orchids to You" for the class of 1968.

The sheeted sophomore Top Rats performed their traditional duty at the annual Big Rat Court. This was the climax of ratting.

Hundreds of fellow freshmen and upper classmen watched as Susan Zix, Head Top Rat put the coveted red cap on the head of Margaret Bridges.

Along with Margaret was Barbara Hooper. Barbara received the second highest position in the top rat ranks — that of Assistant Head Top Rat.

Other Top Rats were Justine Wilkins, Beverly MacFarlane, Myra Boone, Mary Ann Chinn, Carol Blythe, Linda Bayton, Celia Carter, Marian Bell, Pam Stear, and Betty Copley.

Orchids to You were Nancy Ikenberry, Angie Ray, Jenny Daughtrey, Susan Binns, Pam Spigle, and Phala Leggette.

Margaret Bridges is an English major and hails from Richmond. Also from Richmond are Justine Wilkins, also an English major, Beverly MacFarlane, a Spanish major, Marian Bell, a pre-pharmacy student, Susan Binns, a business education major, and Pam Spigle, a French major.

Barbara Hooper, an elementary education major, and Pam Stear, an English major, are both from Arlington.

A Roanoker, Nancy Ikenberry is majoring in medical technology. Myra Boone, from nearby Salem, is majoring in English.

Mary Ann Chinn, from Alexandria, is an English major, and an elementary major from Lynnhaven is Carol Blythe. Betty Copley is also an elementary major. She is from South Hill.

From the eastern side of Virginia come Linda Bayton, an English major from Portsmouth, Angie Ray, a health and physical education major from Newport News, and Jenny Daughtrey from Chesapeake.

Celia Carter is a day student who lives here in Farmville. She is an elementary education major. Phala Leggette is from Waynesboro and is majoring in music education.

The new Top Rats have made no plans for the future. Their activities will depend on the results of the recent evaluation that was made on ratting.

On September 29, the new Top Rats gave the old Top Rats a party in Tabb Rec. At this time the sophomore Top Rats were given charms as mementos from the entire freshman class.

Sophs Select Officers; Vote Hamner President

Betty Jo Hamner of Richmond has been reelected to the office of President of the Class of 1967. Betty Jo has been active in class and school activities since her arrival on campus in September 1963. She was elected Vice-president of the Freshman Class, and then was selected to preside over the sophomore class. Betty Jo is a member of Sigma Kappa social sorority and has been selected to the May Court this year.

Gail Dervishian was elected Vice-president of next year's junior class. Gail was the runner-up in this year's Miss Longwood Pageant; she is a member of Kappa Delta social sorority. Gail was the sophomore representative to the Assembly Committee this year, and she has served on many class committees.

Pat Brown, a transfer student this year from the Madison County extension of the University of Virginia, was chosen Secretary. Pat is from Culpeper, and although this is her first year here, she has found the spirit of Longwood. Pat played varsity hockey and basketball; she was a member of the A. A. Council; and she was a clown in Circus.

Mary Virginia Manson of Blacksburg was chosen to be Treasurer of the class. "Gurg" was Vice-president of the sophomore class this year. She played varsity basketball, participated in class sports, and made the Dean's List. Gurg is also a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority.

Kathy Still from Cascade was chosen to represent the juniors on the A. A. Kathy was on the Elections Committee this year. She played varsity basketball and participated in the Round-Robin volleyball tournaments. Kathy has demonstrated class loyalty through her participation in class activities and in Circus.

The two Legislature Board representatives from the class are Sandra Byrum and Tootsie Kay. Sandy is from Norfolk. This year she was Dorm President for North and was on the Executive Council of House Council. Also Sandy is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority. Tootsie is from Waynesboro. Last year she was Hall President and Dorm President; she is a member of Sigma Kappa social sorority. Tootsie has participated in May Day, as well as the round robin volleyball tournament.

The two Judicial Board members are Pat Finn and Karen Walton. Pat, from McLean, is a member of Sigma Kappa social sorority and was a member of Freshman Commission. Karen is from Arlington. She was secretary of the sophomore class. She has participated in May Day, Circus, and Freshman Production. Next year Karen will also be secretary of Sigma Kappa, her social sorority.

In speaking of next year Betty Jo said that she only hoped the class would continue working together and would make it a successful year.

Pi Omega Pi

Pi Omega Pi, national honorary fraternity in Business Education, has selected its new members, with the initiation service to be held on April 29. The new inductees are Gail Gooch, Catherine Hamilton, Virginia Hartz, Judy Phelps, Nancy Schrum, and Lea Wilson. These girls were pledged last Thursday.

The society has also elected its new officers. They are: president, Jackie Leath; vice-president, Gail Gooch; secretary, Shirley Mann; treasurer, Barbara Gillespie; and historian-reporter, Pat Meekins.

Candidates: House Council

For the office of House Council President, there are four candidates — Judy Cundiff, Beverly Cuthriell, Anne King, and Jean White. Questions asked them were the following: What do you think can be done to promote a more cooperative attitude of the student body towards House Council? Do you feel the Case Procedure presently being developed by H. C. is important and why? Do you feel any H. C. rules should be changed or altered in any way?

Judy Cundiff

Judy Cundiff feels that the main reason students don't cooperate with H.C. is because they feel that the rules are too outdated; also because of the administration of the rules.

Judy feels that a case procedure is a good idea and important because she feels there should be a pattern of punishment.

The rules ought to be changed, Judy says, because she feels that with the growing of the school, there will be a transformation of H. C. for the future and that the standards of H. C. will be set higher.

She says this can only be brought about by respect and cooperation between the student body and H. C. for its future success.

1965 Major-Minor Elections Begin With Conferences

The one direct way of deciding what type of student government is wanted by the student body is, according to Theresa Albright, Chairman of the Election Committee, for the students to express their choices in the 1965

Major - Minor Elections. Last year only 600 students out of a body of approximately 1,200 voted. Many more should vote in the coming elections.

Those on petition for the Major election are as follows:

Chairman of Legislative Board—Theresa Albright, Kaye Catron, and Jenny McCoy. Chairman of Judicial Board—Linda Bassford, Mary Lea Shoulders, and Frances Stewart. President of House Council — Judy Cundiff, Beverly Cuthriell, Anne King, and Jean White. President of Athletic Association — Bobbie Allen and Barbara Ragland. President of the Y.W.C.A. — Olivia Gibson, Fran Lipford, and Louise Mann.

The conferences with the candidates for President of House Council were held Monday night, and Chairman of Legislative Board on Tuesday night. Tonight at 6:45 conferences for the candidates for Chairman of the Judicial Board will be held in West Wing. Thursday night the candidates for the President of Y.W.C.A. may be seen at the same time and place. The candidates for President of the Athletic Association will be in West Wing at 6:45 on Monday, March 1st.

It is imperative that all students attend these conferences since this provides an opportunity for students to meet the candidates and find out what their views are. It is likewise urged that all read the posted petitions and sign them as is desired. It is of the utmost importance, however, that all vote in the Major Elections on March 8th.

NEWLY-ELECTED OFFICIALS

Students Elect Heads Of Major Offices

Monday, five juniors were chosen by the student body to head the major organizations on campus.

Jenny McCoy

President of the Legislative Board is Jenny McCoy. Jenny is a Biology major from West Chesapeake, Va. She has contributed much to Longwood. Jenny is the junior representative to Legislative Board this year. She was co-chairman of the decorations for the Junior Ring Dance. In Circus, Jenny was chosen to be an usherette. She is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta social sorority. She plans to do her student teaching in Roanoke this summer.

Linda Bassford

Linda Bassford will be the chairman of the Judicial Board for the 1965-66 session. Linda is a History and Social Science major from Arlington, Va. She was a member of the Freshman Commission, and was the sophomore representative on the Legislative Board. This year she is secretary of the Y.W.C.A. Fran plans to do her student teaching in Danville, first block.

Judy Cundiff

Judy Cundiff is our new House

Council president. Judy is an Art major from Roanoke, Va. She was the freshman class treasurer and was a hall president in 1962-63 and 1963-64. She also served on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet. This year Judy is dorm president of South Cunningham and May Day chairman. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority of which she is the editor this year. Judy plans to do her student teaching first block in Roanoke.

Bobbie Allen

The new Athletic Association President is Bobbie Allen. Bobbie is a Biology major from Roanoke, Va. She has participated in many class sports and shoots varsity archery. She is a member of the H2O Club and has held the position of Swim Meet chairman for the past two years. In her sophomore year, she was known as Miss Allen—head Top Rat. She was also Vice-President of the freshman class. In Circus, she has been a clown for her three years here. This year Bobbie is historian of her social sorority, Alpha Sigma Tau. She is also treasurer of the Athletic Association.

AKG Selects Juniors For Spring Tapping

Alpha Kappa Gamma, Longwood's honorary leadership fraternity, recently tapped nine rising seniors into its organization at a regular assembly program in Jarma Auditorium. Among those tapped was Bobbie Allen, a biology major from Roanoke. A member of Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority, Bobbie is the newly-elected president of the AA Council.

Also from Roanoke, Judy Cundiff was selected for membership into AKG. Judy, an art major, is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha and is president of House Council. Janet Gormus, an English major from Richmond, was also tapped. A member of Delta Zeta social sorority, she is vice-chairman of Legislative Board.

Fran Lipford, a Spanish major from Bassett, was also tapped for membership. Fran, a member of Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority, is the recently-elected president of the YWCA. Jenny McCoy from Chesapeake received membership into AKG. Jenny, a biology major and member of Alpha Gamma Delta social sorority, is chairman of Legislative Board.

Louise Mann, an English major from Colonial Heights and vice-president of the YWCA was also tapped into AKG. Barbara Ragland, a member of Alpha Gamma Delta social sorority from Richmond accepted membership into this fraternity. Barbara is serving as vice-president of the AA Council.

Mary Kay Richardson, an elementary education major from Alexandria, was tapped at this time. Mary Kay is president of Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority.

Jean White, an art and elementary education major from Bayview, was also among those selected for membership into AKG. Jean White, a member of Alpha Sigma Tau, is senior representative to Legislative Board.

New Initiates In Alpha Kappa Gamma

This national honor society for leadership took in nine new members recently. Its membership is limited to juniors and seniors whose scholastic records place them in the upper fifth of the student body. Longwood College juniors elected this year and pictured are: seated, from left, Fran Lipford,

Lychnos Selects New Members

One of our newest honorary societies, Lychnos (Greek for "Lamp of Learning"), is rapidly expanding. Founded in 1958, Lychnos is devoted to promoting interest in mathematics and science. The society is composed of science and math majors who have acquired (under the four-point system) an overall average of 2.5 and a 3.0 in all math and science courses.

Monday, April 12, twenty-seven new members were initiated into the society. The science majors are Diane Schmid, Harriet Rebecca Anderson, Patricia Delona Borkey, Ann Montgomery Chappell, Carole Jeanne Cleary, Carolyn Cole Elliott, Frances Lene Heath, Elsa Anne King, Woodfin V. Ligon, Jr. (the only boy), Carolyn Gene Mohler, Carol Jean Schricker, Mary Lea Shoulders, Jessie Elizabeth Sledge, Beverly Jane Butler, Anne Ferrell Smith and Ann Willis Waesche. Math majors are Carolyn Virginia Cardwell, Mamie L. Moorefield, Marianna J. Wyatt, Virginia Ann Beard, Sally Fuller Fulton, Olivia Juanita Gibson, Nancy Marie Hopkins, Elizabeth L. Sykes, Mary Anne Thomas, and Virginia Evelyn Thompson. The officers for the ensuing year were elected the following Monday, April 19. They are Betsy Sledge, President, Virginia Beard, Vice-President, Ann Chappell, Secretary, and Marianna Wyatt, Treasurer.

Next year Lychnos plans to have numerous speakers and for incoming freshmen and sophomores.

Seven of this year's members will attend a conference at the Virginia Academy of Science in Richmond.

The Schoolhouse

Virginia Petty

The afternoon sun glared at the white sandy path ahead of me. Rows of dusty corn, withered by the heat, ranged along both sides of the path. Behind them, about an acre back, were spicy-smelling woods. My bare feet, covered with a white mist of fine dust, encountered an occasional sandspur, making my sweaty misery more unbearable.

I had escaped from the ennui of a quiet house, tired of cool shuttered rooms and sounds of adult voices on the porch, punctuating the leaden sultriness. Being of an age when an active body repelled an afternoon nap, I was avidly searching for some new mischief to amuse me.

There was rough grass now, and a clearing in the circle of trees. Centered in this spot stood a dilapidated shingle schoolhouse. I had heard many stories about it—how aunts and uncles, and grandparents had been taught there, and about the plaster-faced tutor who nervously came each fall. It had been deserted for years, and off pieces of junk were stored inside.

Glancing guiltily back at the house, I reached for the doornob, a white china orb with stains of rust and a chip in the center. As the door swung shakily open, a fragrant heat poured out—a mixture of dried tobacco leaves and rotting papers. On the wall facing me hung an octagonal clock with COCA-COLA stamped across its face. Two keyholes in the center stared at me, like empty sockets.

Wallpaper hung in faded strips. Dark pencil marks and greasy spots adorned the ugly pattern of flagrant strips. Around the floor, rats had dined on the paper, and an uneven design rippled its surface from seeping rain.

I walked across the soft wooden floor which quivered beneath each footstep. Under the clock sat a squat leather trunk. Lifting its broken lid, I saw the faded silk lining and a clutter of boxes and clothing. An old Valentine's card, bought for fifty cents, lay on the top. An obese, naked cherub coyly looked at me from its cover, still bright against moss-green leaves.

Peering beneath the card, I saw a white organdy dress, yellow in streaks like parchment. Shaking out its folds, I held it up against the yellow light glancing in through windows in the room. Lace flowers were embroidered on the skirt, like icy petals suspended in a mist. A faint fragrance of lavender touched the heavy air, an intimate essence of its owner.

Carefully placing the dress back, I burrowed beneath a stretched, pink corset, carefully mended, and faded black wool trousers, still wrinkled behind the knees. A spotty velvet box came into view. Inside, scattered, odd bits of

Colonnade Announces Winners Of Contest

The winners of the annual Spring Literary Contest sponsored by The Colonnade were selected from five divisions of poem, short story, prose impression, essay, and play. The winning writers were: Mrs. Carolyn Rice, first place short story; Marcia Catoe, second place short story; Virginia Petty, first place prose impression; Carol Tingley, first place poem; and Freda Richards, second place poem.

To the first place winners a $10 cash prize was awarded, and to the second place winners an award of $5 was given. All of the winning entries will be published in the 1965 Spring edition of The Colonnade which will come out the end of May.

Prizes were not awarded in the other categories because the judges felt there was insufficient merit to warrant those awards. The student judge for the contest was junior Barbara Garrison. Faculty judges were Mr. and Mrs. David W. Wiley and Mr. Herbert Blackwell.

The Colonnade staff wishes to thank all those who made this contest possible by entering the competition. A time will be announced when all those who entered the contest and did not place may confer with the editors, advisor, and student judge to receive criticism on their work with regard to improvements which can be made.

jewelry formed a crazy mosaic of colors: bright beads, a silver locket, a broken brooch of amethyst—colored stones. A slender needle lay entangled in a web of coarse thread, and three yellow pearls clumped against a clumsily knotted clasp.

I, the intruder, glanced beside the trunk. Like sentinels, two .22-gauge rifles stood against the stained wallpaper. In front of them rested a battered pair of shoes, with tiny veins of mud caked around the soles. The crackly leather had been meticulously polished by now dead hands. Silent eyes, gently chiding in their stare, looked at me: the lock on the trunk, tarnished brass knobs on a gloomy highboy hulking in a corner. I hastily closed the lid of the trunk and stood up, feeling a wave of nausea surge in my throat. A face peered at me in the ripply surface of a mirror on the highboy, drowning in the waves of tarnished reflection.

Looking through a window I saw the brilliant sun, harsh and crazy light. Tiny bubbles in the glass swam in uneven waves. Rushing to the door, I stepped outside, and closed it softly behind me. Quiet voices whispered in the pines above me: an inarticulate sigh. I turned toward the house, still smelling the warm, pungent odor of the schoolroom. Dust etched a delicate tracery in my sweaty palms, and I felt suddenly old, with a cloying sweetness of lavender in my mouth.

Blue 'n Whites Romp Over Hollins 57-31, 65-5; Teams Split Victories With Lynchburg College

By "Dixie" Grant and "Tootsie" Kay

With smooth plays, crack shooting, and solid defense the Longwood Blue 'n Whites grabbed a 57-31 win from Hollins College Tuesday, February 23 on the LC home court.

In the first quarter the LC team capitalized on Hollins' fumbling, and made numerous pass interceptions, but the scoring was yet to come. At the quarter it was 14-10 in favor of Longwood.

The game picked up steam in the second period as the home team began connecting for points. Hollins seemed reluctant to shoot very often and the quarter ended with a lopsided score of 35-15, with Hollins behind.

Rebounds

Rebounding ranked high on Longwood's list in the third stanza as they got off their feet to grab the numerous scoring attempts by the opposition. There was shooting from the outside on the home team's part but the Hollins girls managed to pick up only 2 points in the entire quarter as it ended 50-17, the widest gap of the game.

Going into the fourth period 33 points behind did not keep the team from Roanoke from putting on the pressure. It was a wide-open "pass-the-ball" game at this point with both teams really covering the court. Hollins put pressure on LC's offense and held them to only 7 points in the quarter.

The visiting team got a burst of energy and managed to keep the ball on their end of the court for the better part of the last period. They began to connect with the basket and really concentrated on the game.

Time ran out and the buzzer sounded with the score 57-31 for Longwood.

LC Team

Members of the LC Blue 'n

with some really good plays. The quarter ended 17-0, LC.

Good Plays

In the next period Pat Brown handed a pass to Kathy Still who drove in for a beautiful lay up. The Hollins team left a gap and Nevis Born went in for 2 more points on an unobstructed lay-up. The Roanoke team got 1 point in this quarter on a foul shot as LC's defense kept Hollins from scoring even one basket during the entire first half. Score: 33-1.

Coming back on the court for period; however, the home team had control of the ball — and the game — for the entire quarter.

The second team consists of Nevis Born, Pat Brown, Diane Davis, Vannie Gunter, Jean Hendricks, Liz Parker, Sue Powell, and Kathy Still.

Lynchburg

The Blue and Whites of Longwood traveled to the Hill City on Friday, February 26, to play the Lynchburg College team on their home court.

Perhaps the toughest opposition was the first win.

Smooth Play

With their usual smooth plays, the Blue and Whites played a close game, but came out on top by defeating the Hill City team.

This weekend, on Saturday, March 6 (2:00 p.m. in the Old Gym) Longwood faces Westhampton for the final game of the season. Up to this point the first team has a 3-2 record and the second team a 5-0 slate.

Whites' first team are: Lynn Baker, Carolyn Burnett, Liza Cobbs, Connie Gallahan, Lurlene Robertson, Frances Stewart, and Sharon Williams.

The second game of the evening was a complete routing on Longwood's part. They managed to hold Hollins to 5 points for the entire game while they hit for 65.

Sue Powell got the jump at center as the whistle blew and Diane Davis connected for the first 2 points of the game.

The Longwood Ladies worked well as a team feeding the ball to one another and coming up the second part of the game, Vannie Gunter went on a scoring spree which eventually netted the team 20 more points.

During the third quarter Hollins managed one more point. Vannie sank a beautiful hook shot on her second basket and the defense shined again as the quarter ended 45-2.

The only mistake of the game was the lack of substitutions on Longwood's part when they were ahead by 43 points in the final quarter.

Victory

Hollins picked up its remaining three points in the last

tion of the season, Lynchburg proved a little too strong in the first game as they tripped the Blues by 19 points.

Longwood got off to a slow start which gave the home team a chance to get ahead.

Strategies

With definite strategies, plus a girl who pumped in 37 points, Lynchburg had the upper hand, and by the time the final buzzer sounded it was too late for Longwood to rally for a win.

The undefeated second team remained in that category as they "paid Lynchburg back" for

Blue 'n Whites

Chosen for this year's blue and white team were: Nevis Born, Pat Brown, Carolyn Cline, Phyllis Collins, Diane Davis, Jayne Eddy, Gerry Edwards, Connie Gallahan, Helena Hall, Jean Hendricks, Cheramy Howe, Earlene Lang, and Phyllis Lasley.

'Home' Again

Henrietta Gilliam unpacks after returning from her student teaching assignment. Although a Spanish major, the active senior is an avid sports participant.

Sports Spotlight

Gilliam Finds Time For Sports, Languages

By Betty Wright

Just back from student teaching is this week's sports spotlight Henrietta Gilliam, majoring in English and Spanish. Henrietta got a taste of the outside world of teaching at Jefferson High School in Roanoke.

Back at Longwood, now, Henrietta picks up the reins of responsibility in a variety of activities. This, her senior year, she is first vice president of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority and the Athletic Association.

This not the first year that Henrietta has willingly shouldered leadership responsibilities. In her freshman year, she pledged ASA and became a member the first semester. She became an active participant of the Spanish Club as a result of her double major.

Henrietta has made class basketball, volleyball, and hockey three year projects for herself. Her most outstanding ability in this field though is varsity tennis. A three year participant, she represented Longwood in the Middle Atlantic Tennis Collegiate Championship at Mary Baldwin College in her sophomore year.

In her junior year, Henrietta was selected varsity tennis manager for the AA Council. She was elected vice-president of the Spanish Club and chosen as first vice-president of her sorority.

This capable senior has participated in May Day and Circus.

As for student teaching, Henrietta has this to say, "I really liked it a whole lot. I can't wait to get out on my own. You can't believe how much you don't know until you try teaching someone else."

Athletic Association Selects New Council

The 1965-66 Athletic Association Committees have been formed and the Council announced. The committees and members are as follows: Varsity Hockey Manager — Connie Gallahan and Jean Hendricks; Class Hockey Managers — Nancy Fey and Rusty Stephenson; Varsity Basketball Managers — Sharon Williams and Vannie Gunter; Class Basketball Managers — Ruth Limbrick and Lucy King; Class Volleyball — Patty Dole and Vada Condrey; Class Softball — Sandy Long and Pat Brown; Varsity Tennis — Kay Moore; Class Tennis — Pat Borkey; Varsity Archery — Karen Ruder; Class Archery — Carolyn Burnette; Golf Manager — Kathy Kolva; Class Swimming Manager — Eleanor Umbdenstock; Historian — Ginny Padgett. The Publicity committee will be headed by Judy Hicks as Chairman, Alberta Doran, Jo Ann Dayne, Judy Bateman, Joan West, Hilda Jones, and Ginny

Morton. The chairman of the Recreation Committee is Pat Lyddane; the Committee consists of Helena Hall, Nevis Born, Mary Grompf, Brenda Donavant, Carolyn Cline, and Kathy Harris. Lynne Howard is Chairman of the Social Committee, with Margaret Robinson, Mary Long, Margaret Lawson, Dede Holdren, Jayne Eddy, and Karen Engdahl serving on the Committee. The Senior Class Representative is Phyllis Lasley; Junior Representative is Kathy Still; Sophomore Representative is Peggy Wilkins. The Freshman Representative is to be elected.

Longwood College Concert Choir, H-SC Glee Club Give Program

The Longwood College Concert Choir and the Hampden-Sydney College Glee Club will present a joint Christmas Concert on Sunday, December 13, at 3:30 p.m. in Jarman Auditorium. The program will be under the direction of Dr. John W. Molnar, director of the Longwood Choir, and Dr. Ivan Olson, director of the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club.

The program will consist of several selections performed by the separate choirs, and then a finale which will be performed by the combined choirs.

The first portion of the concert will be presented by the Longwood Choir, under the direction of Dr. Molnar. The choir, accompanied by Gail Milstead, piano, will sing several choruses from J. S. Bach's "For Us a Child is Born." They will also sing "Adoramus Te, Christe" by Palestrina; "Regina Coeli" by Aichinger; "How Far is it to Bethlehem?" by G. Shaw; "To a Virgin Meek and Mild," a Polish carol arranged by Glarum; "In Excelsis Gloria," a French carol arranged by Henninger; and "Christmas Day," a collection of Christmas carols by Holst and arranged by Molnar. Solist during this section of the concert will be Mildred Johnson, mezzo-soprano, and Linda Pritchard, soprano.

An Olde English May Day Features Merry Men Skit And Traditional May Pole Dance

By Susan Woltz

With the rising of the sun, a beautiful May Day was set in action last Saturday. The festivities started at 2:00, and played to a large crowd in the dell at Longwood Estate.

The program started with a welcome by Judy Cundiff, chairman of May Day. Next came selections by the Highland Springs' High School Dance Band, led by Wade H. Arledge. "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing" and "Back in Your Own Backyard," the pieces, seemed to fit the tone of the day. The Longwood College Choir sang next, led by John W. Molnar.

Mildred Gwaltney, the narrator, wore a long green and orange dress with pointed hat. She set the pace for the introduction of the Court, the next activity. The attendants were escorted in, and wore long white dresses, of a simple design, with green ribbon marking the empire waist. They carried sprays of large white daisies. Suzanne Ballard, the Maid of Honor, had a dress of the same design, only with a yellow ribbon. She carried a spray of yellow daisies. The May Queen, Wanda Old, wore a long white full skirted dress, with a lace top. She carried a bouquet of red roses. They took their places and the program continued.

Robin Hood's Merry Men, in costume, danced a jig, and then

Robin (Brenda Gibson) appeared on the scene with Little John (Gail Nolan). The peasants came and danced on the Green, and then the guards marched in and cleared the way for the Nobility.

Feats of strength were presented for the Nobility to view, including Cudgeling, Archery, and Fencing. Robin Hood, disguised as the Black Knight, won all the contests, but had to flee to escape detection of his identity. The Sheriff of Nottingham, determined the celebration should continue, commanded it to go on and the May Pole Dance started.

This was the culmination of the Festival, also of Longwood's May Day. The blue and white streamers almost perfectly entwined during the dance. It preceded the finale.

May Day has always marked the death of winter and the birth of spring, and here at Longwood the tradition is well carried out.

Following the activities in the dell, students, parents, faculty, dates and townspeople enjoyed a concert presented by the University of Richmond Glee Club. This was followed by a one-act play entitled "A Marriage Proposal" under the direction of Mr. David Wiley. The play featured an all-girl cast of Karolyn McAdoo, Mary Ann Chinn, and Ellen Miller.

English Airs, Robin Hood Invade Campus May Day

Longwood's Dell takes on an Old English May Day air, as Robin Hood and his band of Merry Men invade Sherwood Forest and the Nottingham Festival!

Narrated in "cockney" English by Milly Gwaltney, the program this year (beginning at 2:00) features a fencing match, archery and cudgeling match, and various types of dancing — including the traditional Maypole Dance, an old English custom.

As an added attraction, the Highland Springs Band and the Longwood Choir will perform.

Everyone is invited to join in the festivities of the day as Robin Hood rides again!

Committee heads for May Day include Ann Hutchinson, script; Ealene Dalton, costumes; Nola Ryan, music; Pat Peregoy, and Longwood Choir will perform. Ann Coleman, sound; Pat Dugger, technical director; Gerry Edwards, publicity; Martha Muire, programs; Kit Sweezy, make-up; Sena Bowden, transportation; Brenda Donavant, clean-up; Pat Thomas, dance; Lynn Garner, director.

Students Display Works On Library Exhibition

by Cookie Hlatt

The Annual Spring Exhibition of the Art Department is now on display in the art corridor and the Exhibition Room of the library.

The works on display were done by students in Miss Bedford's crafts and enamels class, Miss Leitch's sculpture class, Mrs. Lemen's water color, oil, and printmaking classes, Miss Ross's graphics and jewelry classes, and Mr. Chavatel's art education and freshman art classes.

Painting (water colors and oils), sculpture (woodpieces, carved plaster and assemblages) and crafts are on display in the Library Exhibition Room. In the art corridor are prints, etchings, silk screen, jewelry, collages, graphics, ceramics, pierced and tooled copper, and aquatints.

The purpose of these exhibits is to show Longwood students what is being accomplished in the art classes. The exhibits are a culmination of student effort throughout the year.

The art department feels that an artist conveys a message and if no one receives the message, the work is only half complete.

The art works on display are not for sale as such; however, anyone interested in a particular work may contact the student who did it.

The Art Department Faculty Exhibition will replace the Spring Exhibit in the library May 15 and will continue through the summer.

Miss Mary Ann Debnam and John Dalton Eure Jr. were married Saturday at 4:30 p.m. in Main Street Methodist Church, with the Rev. John Teter, pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hall Debnam of Suffolk and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dalton Eure, also of Suffolk.

The wedding music was played by Nelson Linaburg, minister of music, assisted by Thomas Robertson. Mrs. C. E. Davidson sang "Praise Ye The Lord" by Wolfgang A. Mozart and an Aaronic Benediction.

The church was decorated with arrangement of white flowers and lighted candles in brass candelabra.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a traditional wedding gown of veiled silk organza. The slender bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline overlaid in re-embroidered Alencon lace and short sleeves. The bell skirt, garlanded with floral sprays of lace, swept to the back into a carriage length train which was topped with a lace appliqued bow. Her veil of English illusion was arranged from a crown of matching Alencon lace embroidered in pearls and she carried a semi-cascade of stephanotis and royal banquet orchids.

Miss Rebecca Jo Debnam of Suffolk, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sue Stallings of Suffolk, Miss Heather Laird of York, Pa., and Mrs. William Bell of Windsor. The attendants were gowned alike in azure blue floor length organza dresses made with an A-line skirt. The empire bodices featured portrait necklines and ruffled elbow length sleeves. The high rise waistlines were defined with streamered azure blue satin sashes. They wore azure blue double bows caught with miniature rose buds and finished with double illusion veil as head-dresses. They carried cascades of pink carnations and burgandy frosted grapes.

Hugh Lynnwood Eure of Suffolk, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Grooms-men were Douglas Latane Eure of Suffolk, another brother of the bridegroom and Rodney H. James and James Simpson Mathews, also of Suffolk, Howard Woodrow Martin Jr. of Virginia Beach and John Jordan Smith Jr. of Danville.

The mother of the bride chose a pink calais lace dress made along sheath lines with an over-blouse featuring a bateau neckline and short sleeves. She wore a matching hat, pink accessories and a corsage of orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of white Cluny lace re-embroidered in blue ribbon and white chalk beads. She wore a blue hat and accessories and a corsage of orchids.

Mistresses of ceremonies were Mrs. H. Blackwell Cross of Suffolk, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Hugh L. Holland Jr., also of Suffolk, aunt of the bridegroom.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Hotel Suffolk. Later the couple left for a northern wedding trip and on their return they will live in Suffolk this summer and in the fall they will go to Charlottesville where the bridegroom is a student at the University of Virginia Law School.

The bride wore for traveling a two piece yellow linen knit costume suit. She wore a yellow and green hat and black patent accessories and a corsage of orchids.
