Count EVERY pearl in our golden pin
Count every girl who has entered in
We claim no halos, but who does today?
For we've found our joy in $A\Sigma A$.
Crowns are for kings, so the wise men say,

Stars in the night light the angel's way.

Now we're not royalty nor angels gay,

But crown and star belong to $A\Sigma A$.

ALPHA CHAPTER HAILS

Carolyn Johnson

ALPHA CHAPTER PROUDLY SALUTES CAROLYN

A ready smile and a cheerful word is what the girls of Alpha chapter found in their new friend Carolyn Johnson. Carolyn was stricken with polio at the age of fourteen.

After two years of treatment in Virginia and West Virginia, she returned home to finish high school from bed. As just one example of her self determination and independence, she sold magazine subscriptions over the telephone for two years. Now, paralyzed from her neck down, Carolyn still displays the wonderful qualities of optimism and self determination.

Hearing about Carolyn and feeling her need for young companionship, Alpha chapter visited Carolyn at the Virginia Home in Richmond and immediately began a deep and rewarding friendship which is continuously growing. A correspondence is kept with her through cards and letters and it is a great joy to visit her at the house. We have taken her to the nearby park and another time we went shopping. On one occasion we spent the afternoon in her room singing AΣA songs and running through our skit from the fall rush party.

Carolyn loves to read and never ceases to amaze us with her many talents. She does oil paintings by holding the brush with her teeth and has won several awards for her ceramics which she makes by the same method.

We began our relationship with Carolyn with the goal of bringing youth, gaiety, and friendship into her life, but now we realize that the reward for us is much greater than that. For it is Carolyn who teaches us optimism, courage, and determination and makes us aware of our many blessings. We feel it is a great honor to have our chapter composite hanging on her wall.

Carolyn wears her usual smile as the Alphas sing their songs from a fall rush party.

ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA
FOUNDED AT LONGWOOD
COLLEGE ON NOVEMBER
15, 1901.

ΑΣΑ HISTORY

The four sororities founded at Farmville endeavored to perform in the South the functions which the older sororities were fulfilling in northern colleges. However, in the South, opposition began to develop against secret organizations. Like other national sororities which entered southern schools, ΑΣΑ found chapters were often killed by anti-sorority legislation or died for lack of returning members. In loyalty to its Mother Chapter and because the education field was in great demand of sororities, Alpha Sigma Alpha decided to limit its chapters to teachers colleges and colleges of education in universities. At its important convention at Miami University during Thanksgiving week in 1914, four chapters participated in the reorganization of Alpha Sigma Alpha. They are designated by the Greek letter Alpha: Alpha at Farmville, Alpha Alpha at Miami University, Alpha Beta at Kirksville, Missouri, and Alpha Gamma at Indiana, Pennsylvania. Alpha Sigma Alpha, functioning as a national social sorority, was a fraternity leader in this special sphere for many years. Its chapter roll lengthened with the addition of many fine accredited senior colleges. Its services increased, and its members, true to ΑΣΑ teachings, brought distinction to the sorority.

Through the years, however, Alpha Sigma Alpha's special field became generalized by gradual developments within the colleges. There were significant changes in the classification of colleges and in the accrediting agencies which served institutions of higher learning. These changes had conclusive effects upon interfraternity organizations in that former boundaries for expansion could no longer be maintained. As a result Alpha Sigma Alpha, with pride in its distinguished record of accomplishments, became affiliated with National Panhellenic Conference in 1947.

Color Games Yield To Classes of '67-'69

By SELENA LUNSFORD

"Green and whites, green and whites never give in. . ." Such was the cry heard the first night of color games, and the green and whites proved that they did not plan to give in. Both green and whites and red and whites were assembled on their respective sides of the court. The ball was tapped into play, and the roar began with each side trying to outdo the other in spirit and color songs.

The green and whites proceeded to lead the game through every quarter. The score at the end of the first quarter was 7-6. The green and whites managed to increase the lead to 14-6 by half time. The half time festivities included a visit by Gangreen. Then once again the teams started back to the serious business at hand. The score at the end of the third quarter was 19-8. The first night of color games ended with the green and whites winning 25-14.

Second Night Color Games

The second night of color games brought more people to the game, for this game determined whether the green and whites won. Enthusiasm was at its peak. The red and whites marched out on the court before the game, with Sally Red and White, singing some of their color songs, and then they seated themselves on their side of the court. At half time the green and whites led 11-7. The green and whites then streamed onto the court displaying all the pep they could manage, and Gangreen once again appeared. The red and whites lost the game by a score of 21-11.

Green and White Members

The members of the green and white team were Ann Bowles, Pat Brown, Alberta Doran, Joan Goodwyn, Ruth Limbrick, Mary Virginia Manson, Linda Reams, Margaret Robinson, Nancy Spaulding and Kathy Still. The members of the red and white team were Bobbie Allen, Judy Hall, Jean Hendricks, Lucy King, Margaret Lawson, Nancy Maxey, Jenny McCoy, Sherry Mitchell, Jane Powell, and Sue Powell. Congratulations, green and whites!

The color games were held on Monday and Tuesday, and the final game was today.

Longwood Ladies Score Three Victories;

Saturday, October 16, Mary Washington came to Longwood for our first varsity hockey game of the season to be held at home. The atmosphere must have been good for the Ladies because they pulled together as they never have and showed LC spectators their remarkable ability.

The first game was a completely offensive game, and the Longwood goalie only worked three times. We would like to mention that one of those occasions Pay Lyddane came all the way out of the striking circle to intercept a ball in order to get some action! The teamwork of the Longwood Ladies was amazing and fascinating to watch, and their teamwork paid off. Goals were made by Carolyn Cline-2, Ginny Morton-2, Barbara Ragland-1 and Dianne Davis-1. The final score was 6-0 as the LC team rallied for the first home victory.

In the second game, the teams were quite matched. The first half was rather choppy and no one seemed to make much progress, until Ruth Limbrick scored the first goal. This seemed to put that unknown spirit which we have back into the team, and the second half was well on its way. In this half LC spent most of the time down at the Mary Washington goal, but succeeded to score only once, a beautiful shot by Peggy Wilkins. Then the Mary Washington team got the ball and scored. The rest of the game was completely offensive but no goals were scored. The final score for the second team was 2-1. Needless to say, this is a great way to start off the home games!

LC RALLIES TO VICTORY

Last Tuesday, October 12, the Longwood Ladies traveled to Norfolk to play Old Dominion for their third game of the season.

Most of the play was at the O. D. goal, but Longwood could not get a decent shot at the cage. The Old Dominion team had only one shot at the goal in the entire first half, and that was cleared by our goalie, Pat Lyddane.

In the second half, Old Dominion scored on their first short corner. This was the first goal scored against Pat Lyddane this season, however, seconds later, Carolyn Cline scored for Longwood. O. D. again scored followed by another score by us, this time by Ruth Limbrick. At this point the game ended, with the first tie score of the season—

2 to 2.

In the second game, wing Helena Hall made the first of many goals. She was soon followed by Vannie Gunter. Another goal was scored by Ginny Morton, but was not counted since it went off her hand. But Ginny retaliated in the next few seconds and brought the score to 3-0. By the end of the first half, Vannie had scored twice more and Ginny once, bringing the score 6-0 at halftime.

In the second half, Longwood stayed in their opponents circle the entire period. During the games, however, there were numerous fouls by both Longwood and Old Dominion. Towards the end, nevertheless, LC scored twice more, once by Nancy Maxey and the last by Peggy Wilkins. The final score was 8-0,

Clowns Set Atmosphere, Perform Tumbling Acts

What would any circus be without its clowns? From the very first circus until the present day one, clowns have always been the center of interest. Children as well as adults look forward to watching them as they do their specialized stunts and tricks.

Circus at Longwood also has its traditional clowns. These seventeen chosen girls serve to entertain the audience as well as to unify the two skits. They are carefully selected on the basis of their ability in tumbling and acrobatics. Out of approximately sixty girls who tried out, only seventeen were chosen, so one can see how carefully they were judged.

Longwood clowns in one sense may be considered the most important part of Circus. They not only entertain everyone but also break a little of the tension resulting from the stiff competition between the skits. For the benefit of anyone who has never seen our clowns perform, they do a series of tumbling acts ranging from the simple forward and backward rolls to complicated balances and flips.

Spirit is a prime concern of the clowns. Their acts create a sort of carefree spirit which envelopes each member of the audience. It sets an atmosphere for a successful circus.

The clowns chosen for Circus 65 will perform both at the beginning of the program and in between each skit. The following girls were selected to be clowns for this year: Lynne Howard, Kathy Grizzard, Tommi Stone, Glenda Harrison, Joey Baker, Candy Jamison, Sharon Williams, Kay Moore, Karen Ruder, Cheryl Roberts, Betty Jo Hamner, Donna Daly, Pat Brown, Frances Stewart, Gerry Edwards, Pat Holstead, and June Williams.

MARCH 30, 1966

8:15 P.M.

New Art Club Formed At Longwood Plans Outdoor Exhibition, Sale

An outdoor exhibition and sale of student art work will be the first activity of a newly formed club at Longwood College. Called Philakalia, the new club, under the auspices of the college Art Department will hold the exhibition on the afternoon of April 29 in the Sunken Garden behind the Colonnade on the college campus.

Philakalia was organized by the Longwood art students to stimulate an increased interest in art, particularly student art, in the college, Farmville, and the surrounding communities. Plans for programs of various kinds for the 1966-67 academic school year are being made: assembly programs for the student body and lectures for both the college and the community.

With the art department already bringing in numerous outside exhibitions of professional artists, the members of the club are particularly interested in complementing the exhibition interest in student exhibitions, both joint and individual.

junior of Farmville, vice-president; Ricky Howard, a sophomore from Portsmouth, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Nancy V. Leitch is advisor to the group.

Philakalia

In telling about the society, Miss Peregoy said, "The art students at the college are very excited about Philakalia because it will provide an opportunity for us to exhibit our work and will also help us to broaden our knowledge through hearing visiting lecturers. We hope that our club will not only encourage and serve the students, but that it will also serve the community.

"We understand that the people of Farmville have shown an interest in the art work of the college. Our show will give them an opportunity to see what is being done at the college and begin or add to their own collections."

Describing the exhibition, Miss Peregoy stated, "We are planning for our outdoor exhibition and sale to include paintings, water colors and oils, drawings, prints, sculpture, and ceramics. This will be a school show — open to all students. However, a certain level of achievement will be required. A committee of students and faculty will decide what will be acceptable for the exhibition."

Chairman

Debbie Hedly, junior, and Diana Johnson, junior, both of Richmond, will serve as co-chairmen of the exhibition committee for the event. Other members of the committee are Frances Bain, freshman, Washington, D. C.; Kay Collins, junior, Alexandria; Pudd Murdock, senior, Richmond; and Sarah Wohlford, junior, Roanoke.

Publicity for the exhibition will be handled by Shirley Blackwell, chairman, Farmville; Sally Fauber, freshman, Lynchburg; Bunnie Harrison, junior, New Kent; Debbie Hedley, junior, Richmond; and Leslie Sedgwick, freshman, Alexandria.

Further information concerning the exhibition will be released at a later date through the various news media.

Patricia Peregoy Shows Paintings, One-Man Exhibit

A Longwood College art major has been discovered by the Discovery Shop at Miller and Rhoads in Richmond.

The shop is currently presenting a one-man show of 15 watercolors by Patricia Peregoy, a talented senior from Richmond. Representing Miss Peregoy's first independent show, the varied exhibit of still life, seascapes, and landscapes ranges in size from 8x10 to 22x28 inches, all matted and framed.

The exhibit also marks the first showing of paintings in the gift shop since it opened less than a year ago. Previous exhibits have consisted of crafts, hand-painted jewelry, and dried arrangements.

The shop manager expressed the hope that the current exhibit will be the first of many shows of this type by artists whose careers are still in the making.

At Longwood Miss Peregoy has been active in organizing a new art club, Philakalia, of which she is current president. She plans to do her student teaching in January and hopes to begin regular teaching in March.

New Art Group At Longwood Sponsors Show & Sale

Longwood student artists will display their work this Friday in the first show sponsored by Philakalia, the newly formed campus art society. The show, which will be held in the Sunken Gardens on April 29, from 1 to 6 p.m., will include many works for sale to the general public.

All entries have been selected for display by a committee composed of members of the art faculty and student representatives.

Ribbons will be awarded to the best single work in the show and to the best works in each division: painting, drawing, graphics, crafts, and sculpture. The ribbons have been furnished by the Farmville Chamber of Commerce.

Pat Peregoy, President of the club states, "As president of Philakalia, I would like to extend an invitation to area residents to come and view the student's art — as well as purchase works for their own collections."

In case of rain the exhibit will be held in the Student Lounge and the little auditorium.

FROM THE BOARD

In the past two weeks Student Government has initiated several new programs to help students become better informed:

1. Daily Dope—Monday thru Thursday qualified students interested in current affairs present a news cast at dinner. It is hoped that this service will keep Longwood students up-to-date on world, national, and local affairs.
2. Speaker Program—the second in a series of programs entitled "The Modern Student" sponsored by Student Government will be presented on March 23, at 7 p.m. in the Student Lounge. At this time Mr. Tallison will speak on "Academic vs. Social Life." These programs are being presented to help us better understand the problems and challenges facing today's student.
3. Bulletin Board — in order to keep all students well informed of all the activities of Student Government a new bulletin board has been installed in the New Smoker. This bulletin board will be shared by Legislative Board, Judicial Board, and House Council and will serve to give students immediate notice of the activities of each branch of Student Government.

This year a Student Handbook committee has been instituted. It is hoped that a committee of this type will lighten the burden of the Handbook editor, and therefore improve the quality of the publication. Susan Goodes was elected Handbook editor; Nancy Young, assistant editor; and Pam McGehee, typist.

In order to fully explore the possibilities of NSA on our campus Student Government has formed an NSA committee. This committee consists of:

Sandy Byrum, NSA co-ordinator
 Kay Collins, assistant co-ordinator
 Diana Johnson, junior representative
 Margaret Bridges, sophomore representative
 Kathy Stone, sophomore representative
 Judy Forrester, freshman representative
 Mr. Tallison, faculty representative
 Mr. Bird, faculty representative
 Mr. Scholnick, faculty representative

Members of the student-faculty Academic Affairs Committee have been chosen. These girls were selected by a screening committee composed of the executive board of the Legislative Board and the faculty representative to the committee. The girls are:

Mary Virginia Manson, Senior
Sandra McIvor, Senior
Donna Daly, Junior
 Terri McCartney, Junior
 Kathleen Romanus, Junior
 Alice Collier, ex officio

New members of the assembly committee have also been chosen:

Linda Gardner, Chairman
 Gail Dervishian, Senior
 Phyllis Price, Junior
 Jane Softley, Sophomore

GURG AND DONNA ELECTED TO ACADEMIC AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

Academic Affairs Committee Formed

Last spring the Legislative Board felt it necessary to form an Academic Affairs Committee. This committee, which is elected by the Legislative Board, consists of representatives from the administration, the faculty, the Legislative Board, and the student body. Currently the committee is composed of Jean White, chairman, Judy Tate, Virginia Beard, acting chairmen, Anne Gray Houchens, Donna Daly, Dean Brooks, and Dr. Binger.

The increased awareness on the part of Longwood students that the intellectual part of college life should assume more prominence prompted the Legislative Board to form this committee. The purpose of the Academic Affairs Committee is to promote cooperation among the student body, the faculty, and the administration in order to foster the academic atmosphere of Longwood College.

The committee will provide an opportunity for the students to respond to their college curriculum. It encourages the faculty and students to bring their suggestions to members of the committee. For example, do you feel there is a dissatisfaction on the part of the student body or faculty to the manner in which some of our classes are conducted? Are our professors failing to keep abreast with the fact that our students are better prepared than they were five years ago? Read next week's Rotunda for further information on the Academic Affairs Committee.

YWCA Sponsors Two LC Students At "Y" Assembly

Sue Gatewood and Carol Rex were sponsored by the YWCA for weekend of February 11-13 on a trip to Montreat, North Carolina to attend the Southern Regional Assembly of the YWCA. There representatives from nine states met together to plan the work of the "Y" for the coming year. Through much discussion and thought on a variety of subjects, this Assembly decided what emphasis the "Y" will make on foreign policy making in light of the nature and function of a student Christian association, the effects of mass communication on our everyday life, and the role of the "Y" in promoting the new campus honesty. Other topics of discussion were the young woman's predicament in today's world as the "woman-machine," the effects of cybernation, automation, and technology on man's role today, and the importance of regarding all men as individuals.

Besides these talks there was an informative debate on the "New Theology"—is God dead in our traditional churches, what effect does the idea of a secular church have on us as individuals and as a nation, and how great will be, the impact of this minority group of "new theologians" on revising the viewpoints of the Christian church? These are just a few of the questions raised by this discussion. The "Y" is hoping to look into this question during the next few months.

It was a highly informative and productive weekend. Through the guidelines set up by this Assembly, it is hoped that the student body will become more interested and aware of the many exciting changes developing in the world.

OTIS REDDING

Juniors Await Big Week-End; Second Annual Ring Dance

By Phyllis Hummer

After much planning, countless meetings, and much expectation, the Junior Class awaits its big weekend as the Class of 1967, on Saturday, February 26. Highlighting the weekend, Otis Redding and Show will be featured at a concert from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday afternoon in Jarman Hall. The Second Annual Junior Ring Dance will be held Saturday evening from 8 p.m. to 12 midnight in the Senior Dining Hall. This dance will feature "The Rhondels," one of the most well-known and diversified dance bands in this area. The long-awaited weekend will end with a breakfast for the Juniors and their dates.

Otis Redding and Show will present a two-hour concert Saturday afternoon. Twenty-five-year-old Otis is currently riding the top tune charts with a two-sided hit, "I Can't Turn You Loose" and "Just One More Day."

The performer, who has been well-known in rhythm-and-blues circles since 1961 when he had his first hit with "These Arms of Mine," has gained more widespread fame in the past year because of his popularity among the British artists. Otis has just as much admiration for the British groups and recently included the Rolling Stone's smash "Satisfaction," in his album, "Otis Blue — Otis Redding Sings Soul."

When recording, Otis prefers doing ballads, but explains that to keep his audience and fans, he must mix his songs up.

Two-hundred and fifteen-pound Otis was born in Macon, Ga. When not performing, he returns to his birthplace where he has a 280-acre ranch.

His biggest hit was his first—"These Arms of Mine." Since then he has had hits with "Pain in My Heart," "Come to Me," "Security," "Chained and Bound," "Mr. Pitiful," "I've Been Loving You Too Long," and "Respect," all on the Volt label. His favorite is his latest, "I Can't Turn You Loose."

The Junior Ring Dance will highlight the weekend's activities at 8 p.m. Saturday evening in the Senior Dining Hall. This is the Second Annual Junior Ring Dance to be held at Longwood. The Ring Dance is a renovation of the old Cotillion dances formerly held at Longwood. Although the Juniors received their class rings on February 17, they will not officially receive them until Saturday night when they perform the ring figure, receiving their rings from their escorts. "The Rhondels" will provide the music for the evening. They are one of the swingiest rock 'n roll bands on the east coast, and also one of the best small orchestral dance bands in the state of Virginia. This group is officially known as "Bill Deal and The Rhondels," and is probably best known as the regular band at the "Top Hat" at Virginia Beach. However, their talents vary widely. They have appeared as a back-up band for many of the top names in show business, they have had two records which were both moderate hits, and they have played at every occasion from teenage club dances to adult parties on New Year's Eve. They are truly one of the most diversified and popular groups in this area.

Mention should be made of the various and numerous committees who have worked so long and hard to make the weekend a success. Co-chairman for the Ring Dance are Tootsie Kay and Gay Rice. Decorations — Sandra Byrum; Favors — Sandra McIvor and Bebe Woodruff; Publicity — Mary Kay Lucas; Ring figure — Esther Royster and Dr. Rosemary Sprague; Flowers — Phyllis Utt; Breakfast — Pat Gorky and Vicki Doss; Dance invitations — Nancy Fey; Dance programs — Bobbie Lou Davis and Julie Glass; Tickets — Edith Loving and Page Gravatt; Ushers — Cheryl Roberts; Refreshments — Judy Childress, Gerri Daniels, and Joan Faulkner; Gifts — Janie Wall; Chaperones — Doris Koehler; and Photographer — Susan Beasley.

YWCA Candidates Present Platforms

The president of the Young Women's Christian Association presides at regular weekly meetings. She plans with the Colleagues and supervises registration proceedings for freshmen. She also works with the Y Cabinet, familiarizes new students with workings of the YWCA and installs students into the Y. The president works with YWCA committees that sponsor campus speakers, interdenominational activities, Campus Chest Drive, Christmas and Thanksgiving services and service projects.

The questions asked of the candidates for President of the YWCA were as follows:

1. What do you see to be the purpose of the YWCA on the Longwood campus?
2. Do you think the Y, structured as it is now, fulfills its purpose? If so, in what ways?
3. What would be your main objectives or chief areas of interest in Y work for next year?

Carol Rex

The purpose of the YWCA on the Longwood campus is to provide for the student body programs concerned with the Christian outlook on problems of personal, local, and world interest. I believe we should try to learn about and understand the viewpoints of many interest groups as they involve our own personal feelings and beliefs. I believe the Y should help us to become more open-minded and to feel free to discuss our opinions and ideals. Through the years we are at Longwood our religious beliefs should be broadened and developed more than ever before. I believe that through working with the Y this could be accomplished.

I do not believe this purpose is accomplished for all students because many do not understand that everyone is a member of the Y and that anyone is welcome to come to any program, function, or special event which the Y works on. For those who do work regularly or help out occasionally, I believe, they give and receive much benefit from the Y, even as it is presently set up.

CAROL REX

This year we have begun a regular column in The Rotunda to help inform the student body of the work the Y is doing and to suggest programs and projects which might be of special interest. I would certainly continue this and try to develop it even more. In every way possible I would like more students to join in and become aware of the many fields of interest to be found in Y work.

Candidate's Conferences Mark Election Opening

by Linda Dyer

In the coming elections, there are many things which the students should keep in mind. First the minor elections are just as important as the major elections, particularly because the elected student will be a voting member of that particular organization. It is very important that the student body attends the conferences to find out where each candidate stands on specific issues.

One should look for qualities of leadership and stability, integrity and scholarship, personality, and a sense of responsibility. A student should vote for the candidate who she feels is most qualified and avoid being influenced by friendship or popularity. The only way to do this objectively is to attend the conferences and to vote in both the primary and general elections. The primary elections are to be held on Monday, December 13, and the general on Wednesday, December 15.

The following people are candidates in the minor elections. Legislative Board: For Vice Chairman are Sandy Byrum and Tootsie Kay; for Secretary are Eleanor Walnes, Alice Bland Collier, and Pam Spigle; and for Treasurer are Margaret Bridges, Kay Boykin, and Patsy Diehr. Judicial Board: For Vice Chairman are Gayle Dervishian, Becky White, Karen Walton, and Pat Finn; for Secretary are Nancy Britton, Alice Rennie, Kathy Stone, and Nancy Walnes.

Athletic Association: For Vice President are Dianne Davis, Deedie Holdren, and Connie Spradlin; for Secretary, Peggy Wilkins; and for Treasurer are Vannie Gunter and Carol Boythe.

House Council: For Vice President are Brucie Flournoy and Mary Virginia Manson; Betty Copley for Secretary; and for Treasurer are Sharon Bannon and Susan Sturm. Y.W.C.A.: Vice President, Carol Rex; Secretary, Ella McDade; and Treasurer, Sandy Curry. Those running for Freshman Counselor are Jane Curle, Kathy Grizzard, Meg Pherson, and Janet Sofly.

If any students have suggestions for changes in election procedures, submit these in writing to Gerry Edwards, (322 SC) chairman of the elections committee, or place them in the Student Government suggestion box in the smoker by Friday, December 10.

The Pick at Longwood

Miss Nancy Lee Maxey, 19, of Arlington is the new Miss Longwood. She was crowned at a week end pageant by her predecessor, Miss Linda Rae Pritchard. Miss Maxey will compete in the Miss Virginia contest at Roanoke in July.

NANCY L. MAXEY

Sophomore Maxey Wins Miss Longwood Pageant

By CAROL SKELLEY

"I was shocked out of my mind," were the words of Nancy L. Maxey, from Arlington, who was recently named Miss Longwood College. She is a sophomore majoring in Physical Education. She was influenced very greatly in this decision by her high school physical education teacher, a former Longwood student. Nancy wants to teach in the elementary schools because she feels that physical fitness should begin at an early age.

When asked her opinion of L. C., Nancy laughed and said of course there had been trying times, but that she loved the school. She feels that seniors have enough privileges, and at the present time there are no rules which she would like to see changed. She served on the committee which recommended changing the drinking rule.

Nancy is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority, and Orchesis. She has played varsity hockey and participated in class basketball. She is a member of the Methodist Church and enjoys sewing, knitting, and playing bridge.

Nancy will do another modern dance interpretation for the state pageant, from July 4-9. She urges "EVERYBODY to come," to the pageant because audience support means a lot. Nancy definitely feels that teenagers grow up too fast today. When asked what she would do if she had a sophomore daughter in high school who wanted to go steady she commented, "I would advise against it, but I would never force her."

Nancy received many nice gifts including gift certificates, luggage, a silver Revere bowl, and $100 scholarship. "The Rotunda" wishes to extend its congratulations to our new queen and wishes her the best of luck in the Miss Virginia Pageant.

New 'Miss Longwood'

Nancy Lee Maxey, blonde 19-year-old sophomore from Arlington, was crowned 1966 'Miss Longwood' at the conclusion of an evening of pageantry at Longwood College Saturday.

A physical education major, the winner performed a modern dance in the talent portion of the competition. The 13 contestants also were subject to the verdicts of a six-member panel of judges on poise and beauty.

Two freshmen finished just behind Miss Maxey. Betty Lou Thomasson, of Clarksville, was first runner-up, and Laura Dian Cogburn, of Alexandria, was second runner-up.

Barbara Hall, Salisburg, Md., sophomore, was voted 'Miss Congeniality' by her 12 fellow contestants.

The new Miss Longwood, as have her predecessors will represent the college in the annual 'Miss Virginia' competition at Roanoke in July. Thus the competition here Saturday was a preliminary — and could involve Miss Maxey — to the Miss America contest later in the summer at Atlantic City, N. J.

Miss Charlene Evelyn Owen Weds In Bruton Parish Church

Bruton Parish Church, Williamsburg, was the setting Aug. 13 for the marriage of Miss Charlene Evelyn Owen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Wesley Owen of Newport News, to John Norman McKay Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Norman McKay of Birmingham, Ala.

The Rev. John Hatcher performed the double ring ceremony.

The organist was James Bain of Richmond and soloist was Miss Phyllis Whitecotton of Yorktown.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory organza wedding gown. The bodice was designed with a portrait neckline and elbow sleeves of scalloped Chantilly lace. The skirt, appliqued in a deep border of lace, featured a chapel train. Her veil of English illusion was arranged with a cluster of ivory silk organza roses touched with petals of lace and embroidered with pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of cymbidium orchids and ivy.

Honor attendants were Miss Janet Marie Owen, maid of honor, and Mrs. Gary Lee English, matron of honor, of Newport News, sisters of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Val Edward Hopkins Jr., of Newport News and Mrs. James Michael O'Brien of Columbus, Ohio. They wore two-tone green crepe dresses. The floor-length Nile green skirts featured a back fullness and the Empire bodices of deeper green were fashioned with bateau necklines and short sleeves and a bias fold of the fabric at the waist line was finished with a bow overlaid in Swiss lace. They wore bouffant green illusion veils caught with a Dior bow and they carried Shasta daisies.

Mr. McKay served his son as best man. Groomsmen were George Gowen, Stone Harbour, N.J., Thomas Kirk Woodmere, N.Y., and Frank Caravita, Geneva, N. Y.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Owen selected a champagne Scottish lace dress and a corsage of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. McKay, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dress of pink lace over satin and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Perry Woodward English of Newport News was mistress of ceremonies.
