To the Alumnae

Acceptance by Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster of the presidency of our Alma Mater was announced by the State Board of Education in May of this year. Dr. Lancaster is eminently qualified for the position as head of a Teachers College. He is a graduate of the University of Virginia and Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and an honorary graduate of the University of Richmond. As a member of the staff at V. P. I. for ten years, he was for the greater part of the time in charge of teacher-training. At the University of Alabama, he was assistant to the president as well as dean of men. When he resigned after eight years, more than 4,000 students staged a demonstration protesting his leaving. At Sweet Briar College for four years as Executive Secretary of the Board, he was toasted by the Sweet Briar Alumnae as "the man behind the scenes." During the five years of his administration as State Superintendent of Public Instruction in Virginia, in spite of the unprecedented difficulties of the War years, the state made great advances in her educational program. The approximate doubling of the average salary of teachers, the strengthening of the vocational program, the enlarging of visual educational opportunities, are indicative of some of Dr. Lancaster's achievements. In experience, in training, and in his fine personal qualities, he is, as the editor of the Times-Dispatch so truly declared, "a worthy successor of Dr. Joseph L. Jarman, than which there could hardly be higher praise." He was the unanimous choice of your Executive Board, as he was of the Faculty, and of the State Board of Education. He was Dr. Jarman's first choice, and first choice of thousands of Alumnae from all parts of the United States. We are delighted to have him as our President.

President Lancaster's Message

The Alumnae of Farmville have been a loyal group throughout the years and in assuming the duties of the presidency relinquished by our beloved leader Joseph L. Jarman on July 1, I am fully conscious of the heavy responsibilities involved and the great challenge presented to me in my efforts to carry forward his great work. Progress can be made only through the active and unselfish endeavors of alumnae, faculty and students and I am grateful for the assurances of support of the entire body of alumnae.

First of all we must keep foremost in our minds that Farmville was established for one purpose—the training of those who in turn are to direct and guide the development into good citizens of the boys and girls of our state and nation. In other words the institution is first, last and always a teachers college. No college could be assigned a greater task and we should take pride in the fact that we have been entrusted with this responsibility.

How are we to meet this challenge?

We must be alert at all times to see to it that faculty and staff and facilities are the best that can be secured within the ability of the state to provide.

We must select our students in general on the basis of ability to do a good grade of college work and of course only those of sound character and correct attitudes.

We must strengthen our program of guidance and counselling with a view to helping all students adjust themselves to their surroundings and find the calling in which they will function effectively.

We must train and send out as teachers only those who have demonstrated those qualities of mind and spirit that mark them as worthy leaders of youth.

We must give a sound, broad and liberal education to all in order that our students may benefit from the experiences of our forefathers throughout the ages and may be familiar with the cultural heritage that is ours and may develop powers of discrimination and a sense of relative values so important as a basis for the useful and happy life.

We must make provision for acquainting our students with the problems of public education and with those techniques that have demonstrated their value in expediting the learning process.

We must maintain a campus training school that in many respects should be the heart of the college. A school in which the teaching is of the highest order and teaching materials and aids equal to the best to be found in the public schools of the state.

We must work out with the public school administrators of the state plans under which we can bring our trainees into contact with the best teaching situations in the state through a system of apprenticeship teaching under adequate and wise supervision.

Finally our faculty members must constantly analyze their course offerings and teaching techniques to the end that no stone be left unturned to develop young people of ability into high-minded, enthusiastic and well balanced leaders of the youth of the commonwealth.

Always we must perpetuate at Farmville that home-like atmosphere that has been responsible for the devotion of the former students to the institution. The friendly personal relationship of faculty and administration and students must continue.

To these ends we here at Farmville must dedicate our best efforts and with the support of our great body of alumnae we will succeed.

UNDER THE ACT OF AUGUST 24, 1912.

DEAR ALUMNAE:

It is again my privilege to send greetings, and to extend congratulations to each of you for your splendid achievements of the past year.

Recently, Farmville State Teachers College acquired a worthy successor to our beloved Dr. Jarman. Our new President, Dr. Lancaster, will advance the best interests of the College. The Alumnae have assured him a full measure of loyalty and support, which will make his task less difficult.

Do we realize our potential strength as we make plans for our association and chapter work this year? With more than fifty Chapters and seven thousand Alumnae, our accomplishments can be very much greater than they have ever been before.

Very important, indeed, is a business-like attitude toward a financial program. We have a special project fund as well as a general expense fund. At this time the Jarman Organ Fund is our special project which has already received enthusiastic support. Your cooperation will guarantee the early completion of this project and take care of the current expenses easily.

Scholarships are always near to our hearts. It is most gratifying that many Chapters are giving scholarships annually as one of their objectives. Many fine girls are thus enabled to prepare themselves for the teaching profession.

In this final message, I would like to thank you for the opportunity of serving as your President. It has greatly enriched my life. With an inspiring Executive Board and a capable, understanding Executive Secretary, my term of office has been a happy experience. The activities of the Association of Alumnae will be one of my chief interests through the years.

Sincerely yours,

LOUISE FORD WALLER,
President, Alumnae Association.

In recognition of Dr. Jarman's resignation and retirement as president, the administration and faculty of the college, on May 23, 1946, gave a dinner and planned a symposium in his honor. One of the special events at the dinner was the presentation to Dr. Jarman of the following tribute, artistically hand-lettered and framed.

DR. JOSEPH LEONARD JARMAN

A Leader who has advanced the College to national recognition as an educational force

An Educator who has recognized and weighed new trends in thought and practice

An Administrator who has ever been mindful of the material welfare of faculty and institution

A Guide who has solved wisely specific problems of departments and individuals

A Lover of beauty who has deemed the aesthetic side an essential of education

A Friend who has shared the hours of social pleasure

At the symposium, the following speakers, who represented the respective groups or organizations with which Dr. Jarman had been closely associated, told of the progress made by these groups during his long administration, and the vital part which he had in helping to promote this progress: Honorable Robert K. Brock, State Senator; Dr. John L. Manahan, President of the Association of Virginia Colleges; Henry G. Ellis, Executive Secretary of the Virginia Education Association; Dr. Early L. Fox, Past-President, Virginia Branch, National Congress of Parents and Teachers; Mr. Blake T. Newton, President, State Board of Education; Dr. J. L. Blair Buck, Director of Teacher Education; Dr. Charles W. Hunt, Secretary, American Association of Teachers Colleges and President, State Teachers College, Oneonta, New York.

One of the finest tributes to Dr. Jarman was written by Dr. Francis B. Simkins, associate professor of history at S.T.C., in the May 1946 issue of the "Virginia Journal of Education" which is quoted here: ". . . Handsome of countenance and possessed of a winsome smile, he inspires friendliness without sacrifice of dignity. . . . By precept and example he has inspired his students to be gracious in manners, tasteful in dress, and excellent in deportment. He is the Virginia gentleman who unconsciously makes his students into Virginia ladies. This record is without startling innovations in either theory or practice. President Jarman's strength lies in the practical application of a variety of tried concepts. . . . He has fostered the building of community consciousness. He has made his college an agency of enlightenment and progress for the whole state of Virginia. Success in these fields does not cover the whole range of educational achievement, but it has been enough to give the educator who has achieved it the title of greatness."

Founders Day 1946

On March 9, 1946 about two hundred and fifty loyal daughters of Farmville assembled to celebrate the sixty-second birthday of Alma Mater. The first big event started at 11 a.m. in the College auditorium when Alumnae, faculty and students joined in a most excellent program. The students' program consisted of music by the College Choir and the Madrigal Singers, and a gift to the Jarman Organ Fund by Jacquelin Parden, president of the Student Body.

Louise Ford Waller, Alumnae president, then introduced representatives of the "Six" reunion classes. She spoke of a change in plans this year to have a speaker from each of the reunion classes for a ten minute talk instead of having one guest speaker.

Madeline Mapp Barrow of Keller, Va., gave tone to the whole day with her first inspiring talk. After sixty years she presented Dr. Jarman the only copy of the first catalog of this College for the library. She also showed her 1886 diploma.

Miss Minnie Rice, the only member of the faculty who was here in 1896, read a letter from Rosalie Stuart Bland of Boykins, Va., who could not attend. Henrietta Dunlap responded for the Class of 1906.

The president of the Class of 1916, Louise Chiles Weisiger, has become a Georgia Peach, but she traveled from Augusta to celebrate with twenty-two other members of this Class their thirtieth anniversary.

Katherine Stallard Washington of Owensboro, Ky., was here to remind us that her Class of 1921 really started the custom of celebrating Founders Day. Another big event of this year was the beginning of the Student Building. From Chevy Chase, Md., came the ever alert Anne Smith Greene, president of the Class of 1926. Just as she had resolved, her Class was here in numbers and they won the coveted Jarman Cup given each year to the reunion class with the largest percentage of attendance. They sang again in perfect tune their Class song to Dr. Jarman.

"Tac" Waters Mapp of Newport News, Va., responded for the baby Class of 1936. Twenty-two members of this Class adorned the day's events. The great Eastern Shore of Virginia gave to S. T. C. the first and last class presidents of these illustrious "Six" Reunion Classes!

The following Alumnae Chapters representatives were presented at this time by Ruth Harding Coyner, Alumnae Secretary: New York City—Nancy Lewis; Baltimore—Mildred Ragsdale Jackson; Washington—Kate Trent; Richmond—Myrtle Dunton Curtis; Petersburg—Kitty Whyte; Norfolk—Lillian Wahab; Lynchburg—Helen Costan; Roanoke—Elizabeth Shipplett; Hampton—Louise Bush; Peninsula—Genevieve Bonnewell Altwegg; Gloucester—Berta Worrell Hogg; Appomattox—Flora Belle Williams; Culpeper—Virginia Tinsley; Farmville—Martha Anne Laing Pearson; Bristol—Helen Gray Vance; Lexington—Henrietta Dunlap. Greetings were read from Fairfax, Charleston, W. Va., Northampton, Atlanta, Staunton and Portsmouth Chapters.

At 8 p.m. the Alumnae were the special guests of the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampton-Sydney Jongleurs, when they presented "Outward Bound" by Sutton Vane. Under the direction of Miss Leola Wheeler this fine play was the end of a perfect day.

Nominees of Alumnae Officers

(Read before voting)

This is the year for electing two important officers of the Alumnae Association, namely, a president and a director. The nominating committee presents with pride the following names for these officers. Each candidate was an outstanding citizen in College, and she has been prominent since then. It will be hard to vote for one but we hope the following brief remarks will help you in making a choice.

FOR PRESIDENT

Maria Bristow Starke, 1914, of Richmond, was president of the Junior and Senior Classes, president of the Dramatic and Glee Clubs, and a delegate to the Student Volunteer Convention in Kansas City, Mo., while she was in College. After teaching four years in Richmond, she married Thomas J. Starke, who is prominent in church, business and social circles in Richmond. Their home is "Rustom" on the River Road. Maria was co-founder and first president of the Tuckahoe Woman's Club, president of Field Army Cancer Control, president of the Richmond Baptist Women's Missionary Union, president of the Richmond Chapter of Farmville Alumnae, vice-president of the National Association of Farmville Alumnae, production chairman of the Goochland County Red Cross and honorary member of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Elizabeth Shipplett, 1938, of Roanoke, was vice-president of the Y.W.C.A., advertising manager of the Virginian Staff, student assistant for three years to the College Treasurer and a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, while she was in College. Since her graduation she has worked for Appalachian Power Company. Also she has been president of the Roanoke Chapter of Farmville Alumnae, vice-president of the National Association of Farmville Alumnae, president

Class Reunions

1947 is the year for the "Seven" Classes to hold reunions. This means that the Classes of 1887, 1897, 1907, 1917, 1922, 1927 and 1937 are invited to be the special guests of the College on next Founder's Day, March 8, 1947. Which one will be the lucky winner of the Jarman Cup for the largest percentage of attendance? Have you come back for a class reunion? If so, you know the thrill, if not, just try it once!

Dear Class of 1887,

I understand that this is the year of reunion for the "7" classes. As we were the first "7" class to graduate from the newly organized normal school, it is fitting that we should be there, in what force we can muster, to welcome the new President, Dr. Dabney Lancaster. Our class has seen the College expand and develop, beyond our fondest dreams, under a line of fine presidents. Dr. Ruffner, Dr. Cunningham, Dr. Frazer, and Dr. Jarman. Their influence has passed into the lives of thousands. Now we look with satisfaction and pride on the happy choice of Dr. Lancaster to carry the College on to new spheres of usefulness.

We of 1887 look back over six decades. But it seems yesterday when we were a harried line of girls waiting to use the one Webster's unabridged dictionary.

Do you remember how excitedly we attended the monthly receptions sponsored by Miss Bush, and how sophisticated we felt being sonorously announced by a courtly old Negro butler?

Or our pride in being extremely up-to-date, when we wielded Indian clubs and dumb-bells in our calisthenics class? Was it very funny that we had a baseball team, and that I was captain of The Nine?

It is hard to realize that today's crowd of non-academic activities, sororities, dramatics, dancing, pageantry, swimming, had their roots in our simple activities.

It would be fun for us to meet again, to talk over old days that were good, to see present achievements, and to glimpse plans for the future. We should especially be glad to express our admiration, gratitude, and affection for Dr. Jarman, and to wish Dr. Lancaster long and useful years of service.

With warm good wishes,

JULIA JOHNSON EGGLESTON

FEBRUARY 1897

Calling Farmville Normal School, old friends of half a century ago, the girls of February, 1897 . . .! Will you set back your clocks and re-live with me some of those days we had together, long ago, as our fiftieth anniversary rolls around?

My particular associations are with two groups, the Alumnae who graduated in 1893, the class that I entered, and my own class of February 1897. An attack of typhoid fever made me drop out of the 1893 class. For several years I taught, then I returned to Farmville to graduate in 1897. How proud we were that chilly day in mid-winter when clad in high neck and long sleeves and very long skirts, we received our diplomas. June graduates had always the advantage over the February girls, for in the spring there was a romantic setting of roses and honeysuckle.

That day in September that brought me to Farmville, the first student to find her way to the Normal from Clarke County, remains a vivid recollection.

Mr. Cox made each girl feel that she was peculiarly welcome. The tall trees in the yard, and the green shutters on the austere building, seemed a far piece from the Blue Ridge Mountains and my homesick heart was low that evening, but I was making a grand entrance to a grand act. There is not one thing left of those trees and bricks today, but wealth came my way that September twilight, wealth that bears compound interest still. It is yet in my nostrils, that whiff of tobacco from the Farmville warehouses, down town; in my ears the rustle of the aspen leaves on the trees shading the walk up Irving Hill; and the whistle of the train as it came into the station, it came from home perhaps; the church bells on Sunday and the rising bell that urged sleepy girls to greet another day.

Many gardens in many land have left me breathless with their beauty since those years long ago, but the crocuses in the garden down the street that first spring thrilled me, we had no crocuses in Northern Virginia, and the persistent singing of the North Carolina wren was a new and lovely melody.

Sounds and scenes make beautiful memories but people are more important. Who could forget Mrs. Morrison and her dignified nod as she gave her approval of your well swept room, or the click of Miss Sara's knitting needles, as she knit white socks while John poured coal into your hod? There is Dr. Harding in his black cape, slender and erect, talking on the doorstep with Miss Gash. He seldom preached a sermon without quoting "Vice is a monster of so frightful a mien" . . . etc.

Oh, Miss Parrish, you scared me almost to death, my knees knocked together when you sent me to the board to demonstrate the binomial theorem and when you called on me for a "mental combination" I forgot at that moment the one I had prepared, but I remember it now exactly; take 45, multiply 11, (sum of digits between the digits!), subtract 95, divide by 4, extract the square root . . . Answer! !

"Put expression in that," said Miss Parrish as she coached us for The Princess, played by us in the opera house. What distinction! Do you remember: "Not learned, save in gracious household ways"? Who can see the lavender gowns worn on the stage at that production? A rare intellect and an exciting personality—Miss Parrish. I wish I could meet another like her.

How much I miss to this day Miss Bessie Gaines. It was she who inspired me in my interest in Biology. She rests under her well loved trees at "Do Well," her old Charlotte County home. Miss Vickroy, who loved Virginia so dearly, died several years ago.

"Wearing of the Green" was one of Mr. Cunningham's favorite songs: How Miss Ruth Smith could make us sing that song so gaily and "Oh wert thou in the cold, cold blast" so movingly. John A. kept time on the rostrum as we marched out of the assembly hall Friday mornings. Here was a beloved teacher and friend, understanding and full of vision.

"Dr. McKosh had the right idea about this," he said as he went into the questions of psychology, indeed, unexplored in those days. How critically he listened to our quotations as we tremblingly recited them at assembly. These lines, given by a senior one day, come back to me! He liked them. "So live that when thy summons comes to join that innumerable caravan which moves to that mysterious realm . . . approach thy grave like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Miss Reynolds would hardly have believed that so lasting was the impress that her beautiful outline on the black board made on me, that her face for a long time rose up in protest when I did a careless drawing on the board in front of my class of college girls in Hunter College. Her influence lasts. The influence of individuals in the classroom is unpredictable, and as we look back, the relation of teacher and student and class mates, one to another, influence is indeed a varied and compensating thing.

Some years ago I made a pilgrimage to the church yard at Hampton, to place violets, her favorite flower, on the grave of Mary Blackmore, a beloved member of the class of 1893. Those who came within the circle of her radiant spirit will recall her as one set apart.

How beautiful those days of gradual building up of new patterns from new scenes, expanded mental grasp and achievement; but richest treasure of all, experiences in human relations. The faces that stand out in the pictures that we cherish are those of our beloved companions of other years, colleagues of a half century ago. The voices we recall are the sweetest we have heard, and the loyalties created have never weakened. These things have been timeless, fifty years cannot measure anything belonging to these shining years.

My friends of February, 1897, and all of my alumnae sisters who have come along so far with me in these memories, will you not join with me in everlasting gratitude for the priceless gifts bestowed upon us by our Alma Mater?

MARTHA KENNERLY

Dear Classmates of June 1897:

This is to be a twin invitation since the president of our Class, Edna Spencer, has gone on. We do hope all the members of this Class will hear the call of Alma Mater and return to celebrate our golden anniversary. How wonderful if we could win the Jarman Cup after all these years! It has been done by the Class of 1894 twice, and we can do it too.

We should all search for pictures, memory books, diaries and anything that brings back those days of long ago. After fifty years these things have remained very clearly in our minds:

Dr. Cunningham's definition of a gentleman—Psalm 1, and his comment, "Let your punishment be the logical outcome of the misdemeanor," and "A school needs only two rules—Be polite, Be studious." He called our institution a "Work Shop." How modern!

Miss Reynolds having us dissect cats and frogs, (We wonder if the French woman's skeleton is still there?)

Miss Stone's insisting that we develop a definition and not teach it by rote.

Miss Vickroy's saying, "Young ladies, take paper and pencil for a surprise test."

Miss Littleton's trying to make us "see" what she taught.

Miss Rice's low grades when we deserved them, thanks be, we had to take Latin then.

Miss Patterson's patience in Mathematics, we had to take a full course in this subject too!

Miss Coulling's trying to find something artistic in us.

Miss Walton's standing in the hall as we went from one class to another saying, "Young ladies, chest elevated, abdomens subdued."

Mrs. Hardy's quiet motherliness as we taught under her in the practice school.

As we graduated in our shirt waists and skirts, with no frills and feathers, so may we come back to dear old Farmville, and see this modern "Work Shop" and reminisce about the old one.

Sincerely,

EMMA LECATO EICHELBERGER
ZILLAH MAPP WINN

Dear "Girls" of the January Class of 1907:

It seems impossible that it has been forty years since we graduated! When the Alumnae Secretary informed me of this unbelievable fact, I immediately pulled out all my annuals and looked us up! They reminded me that our Class numbered seventeen and that I know very little about the whereabouts of most of them. Four have passed to the Great Beyond, and two are living in Richmond. I would surely love to know something of the others. If possible let's meet again in Farmville on March 8, 1947.

The annuals brought back many happy memories! Those were halcyon days: we had leisure to think, a sense of deep security, and spiritual values were very close. We did not feel the need of money often, which was fortunate for most of us had little. Our wardrobes were scanty so they took little thought. We were really and truly chaperoned too! In the whole of Farmville there was only one automobile! We were living in a well ordered world between the gay nineties and the automobile age.

Do you remember Mrs. Morrison reading to us in her office? The mail call and the delights of a midnight feast? Our inexpensive and sparse refreshments? Lucy Manson and her bear dance? Dear Lois Leonard singing "Drink to me Only With Thine Eyes"? Carrie Mason's beautiful music and how indignant we were when she was asked to play only sacred music on Sunday? Mary Ewell Hundley and I have recently talked of the unusually fine characters in the faculty. We appreciate now more than ever their lives of beauty. I am writing this on a busy Monday morning with a painter in the front hall, so I must hustle back to my household duties! I can't end however without mentioning the Great War which I imagine touched your lives as heavily as it did mine. Both of my sons spent the bitter winter of 1945 in Germany—but they returned in remarkably fine shape.

With best wishes and hoping to see you next March,

Yours sincerely,

MARY SCHOFIELD WATKINS

Dear Classmates of June 1907:

How far away that sounds and how much has happened in the years since then!

Much to my regret I have seen very little of any of you and neither have I heard from you. I am getting your addresses and hope to send each of you a personal message. I do wish I could hear from you before writing this so I could let others know what has happened during the years.

Several years ago Clara Smith Stoneburner's son married a Henderson girl but at the time I was unable to see Clara but talked to her over the phone.

Since 1922 we have been living in Henderson, N. C. My husband is an architect and we have two sons, E. G. Flannagan, Jr., in business with his father, Stephen G. Flannagan, just returned from Saipan, and one daughter, Effie, who married Lt. Robert D. Baskerville, now stationed at Anchorage, Alaska. She has two children, a son, and a daughter named after my sister Parke Morris, who graduated from State Teachers College.

It has been a great disappointment to me not to be able to attend past reunions of my class and I sincerely trust I shall be able to come in March.

Please each of you make every effort to come, and if possible communicate with some other member of the class and urge them to come.

With my heartiest good wishes.

Yours very sincerely,

MRS. BERYL MORRIS FLANNAGAN

Dear Classmates of 1917:

Our class is having their reunion on Founders Day in 1947 and I'm hoping to see a great many familiar faces at this time. I know you have scattered all over the globe but do try to meet us at good old S. T. C. then so we can renew old acquaintances and talk over the good old days.

Hoping to see you then.

Sincerely,

NAOMI DUNCAN MORRIS

Dear Carrie Spradlin, Annie Alvis and Mary Finch:

The information that our quarter-of-a-century class reunion year has rolled around may come as a surprise to you. It has taken me several weeks to get over the shock sufficiently to write this letter, but now that I have accepted the calendar's decree I'm beginning to enjoy the prospect of a reunion in March and I hope you will feel the same way.

Perhaps we might establish an all-time record of one hundred per cent present. Mary is farthest away, but even Augusta, Ga., isn't far when there's a twenty-fifth class reunion to attend, with the additional bait of having a younger sister back at S. T. C. as a Training School supervisor. Richmond, Ky. isn't too far away, Annie, and a fellow teacher's college should readily allow you time to visit your Alma Mater. Besides, you've been back often enough to know that our degree class of four should certainly avail itself of the opportunity to win the Jarman Silver Cup for the largest percentage of attendance. And Carrie, in Portsmouth, Virginia, isn't left with a ghost of an excuse. We've wished for you so many Founders Days, Carrie, so don't disappoint us again.

You will find me "back home" at S. T. C. again as a member of the English department, so I'll be able to extend you a double welcome. We'll participate in all the customary festivities provided for the occasion and then have a special get-together at my cottage in Hampden-Sydney. So make your plans now for March 8!

Yours affectionately,

MILDRED DICKINSON DAVIS

Dear Girls of Diploma Class of 1922:

Impossible as it may seem, come June, it will have been twenty-five years since we said good-bye to our dear Alma Mater. Since I left Farmville I have always kept our annual handy, and after I established a home of my own it became one of the books always on the shelf in our living room. From time to time I visit with you girls of the Class of 1922, and wonder where you are, and what you are doing.

I do sincerely hope that a large per cent of our class will be together at the Founders Day reunion celebration. I am going to try to be there. Some of you I know have daughters who have already entered S. T. C., or who will enter very soon. Couldn't we have a grand time talking? Do let's try to get together. I haven't been back since 1923. I suppose I really wouldn't know the place.

As we make New Year resolutions January 1, let us each resolve to attend Founders Day, March 8, 1947. I believe all of us thinking together about it will work miracles.

With good wishes to each of you,

Sincerely,

GWENDOLYN WRIGHT KRAEMER

Dear Degree Class of Twenty-seven:

I thought I'd write a "pome" but the muse went on vacation, so I'll send this little note with a cordial invitation.

TWENTY YEARS! Can you realize we've lived longer since graduation at S. T. C. than we had when we entered there? I have a feeling, however, that we'll feel younger, or less sophisticated, and certainly more at home this time than when we matriculated.

If I remember correctly there were seventy-eight graduates in our class. What do you say to our having seventy-eight returnees? Wouldn't it be good? We will miss so many members of the faculty and home department but Dr. Jarman is still smiling, bless his heart, and from what I hear, it is worth the trip to meet the new members of the Administration. Let's show them we're proud of Farmville.

Save the date in March and let's have a wonderful reunion—it'll be such fun.

Most sincerely,

VIRGINIA POTTS REDHEAD

Dear Class of 1937,

Go on and laugh! I know you are because I have laughed so many times when I have realized the number of years we've been out of school! Somehow, I never thought about it actually happening to us . . . a class reunion . . . our tenth anniversary. Well, that's it! Time has swept by so quickly that this reminder will probably startle most of you as it did me. Certainly, it doesn't seem ten years since we were college gals.

We have all been caught in this business of making our lives fuller and happier. But remember those days when all that concerned us was making that next class, that coke at the drug store, those last few hours before exams, a dash to the mail box before chapel and the thrill of those girl-break dances. Remember those wonderful friendships and the fun we had together? (That was life or at any rate, we thought so then.) I know you never dreamed that all that would slip away so easily.

A great deal of the time since we left has been dreadful for us all—and for the world, but all that has passed now, and we still have so much, and so much to look forward to.

Founders Day and class reunions meant so little to us when we were in school. When Founders Day came around and the Alumnae came back, honestly, I didn't understand why all the fuss—all that searching for something we had so close to us. I suppose none of us understood then just what reunions were for or just why girls did go back after all those years.

Many things have happened at Farmville. We have a new President to meet, Dr. Lancaster. We will see Dr. Jarman, too, because he lives right on the campus. It would be good to win for our class the Jarman Silver Cup which is given each year for the reunion class with the largest percentage of attendance.

I'd like to tell you some of the reasons why I want to go back next Spring and why I'd like for you to be there, too. First of all, it takes all of us to make this a go. Then, I have wished so many times that I could go back even for a short time and relive those wonderful experiences; see all those faces that were so dear to me and maybe get a small transfusion of whatever-it-was that made my problems vanish almost before they started.

Please try hard to meet me in Farmville next Spring, March 8, for Founders Day, won't you? We should make our first reunion a never-to-be-forgotten occasion, and the best Founders Day ever.

With best wishes to each of you,

Sincerely,

MARY BOWLES POWELL

ALUMNAE CHAPTER ACTIVITIES

FARMVILLE

FRANCES DODSON
NORFOLK

Since the organization of the first Farmville Alumnae Chapter in Lynchburg in 1909, the true spirit of Alma Mater has been evident in an organized form. Various Chapters have come and gone, but always there has been a valuable nucleus to promote the interest of the College in the various communities and to further cordial relations between alumnae by working for a common cause.

Since the fifty odd Chapters vary greatly in size, close standardization is impossible, but a letter of objectives is sent out each year, hoping that each Chapter will use the suggestions as best fits its individual needs. The response is usually very enthusiastic and last year the cooperation was almost one hundred per cent. Realizing the acute teacher shortage in Virginia many of the Chapters have centered their energies on giving scholarships to students in the upper ten per cent of the high school graduates, who showed leadership and a definite interest in teaching. Richmond, Norfolk, Roanoke, Lynchburg and Farmville Chapters have such scholarships this year.

Myrtle Dunton Curtis has been a whiz of a president of the Richmond Chapter. With able officers assisting her they have increased their paid membership from eighty-five to two hundred ten. They gave their award this year to Peggy Lee Lloyd, a graduate of Thomas Jefferson High School. Their annual luncheon in April at the John Marshall Hotel was wonderfully well attended. Pat Cowherd Adkins is responsible for preparing an excellent card file of the Richmond Alumnae.

The Norfolk Chapter had a most successful year, continuing their monthly Saturday luncheon meetings at Ames and Brownley Tea Room. They made the largest single contribution to the Jarman Organ Fund, by giving a card party in the home of Kitty Morgan Hogge. Their scholarship was presented to Frances Dodson at the Maury High School commencement. Grace Chambers Feinthal was elected to succeed Lillian Wahab as president.

Under the peppy leadership of Tux Howison Metcalf the Roanoke Chapter invited all Alumnae there and in surrounding places to attend a luncheon in honor of Dr. Jarman at the Patrick Henry Hotel in February. The attendance was splendid and they went over the top with their scholarship fund.

The Lynchburg Chapter also honored Dr. Jarman with a dinner at the Virginian Hotel in February. Agnes Burger Williams presided and Dr. Gordon Moss, S. T. C. professor of History, whose home was formerly in Lynchburg, made a splendid tribute to the retiring president of the College. They have awarded their scholarship loan to a graduate of E. C. Glass High School for the coming year.

The Staunton Chapter held two meetings during the year in the home of Jonnie Hiner Hamrick. They sent a good report on Founders Day.

The Farmville Chapter awarded their Mary White Cox scholarship to Anne Scruggs at the high school commencement. Katherine Brewer Smith was appointed to finish out the unexpired term of the president, Martha Anne Laing Pearson, who left in July to join her husband in China.

The Peninsula Chapter had a luncheon meeting in May at the James River Country Club near Hilton Village. Miss Leola Wheeler, Dr. Gordon Moss and two Senior S. T. C. students from Hampton attended this meeting. Prospective students were also invited at this time. The Warwick County and the Newport News divisions of this Chapter also held meetings during the year.

The Baltimore Chapter had a most enjoyable tea last November in the home of Louise Rowe Pullen in Catonsville, Md. At this time Mildred Ragsdale Jackson was elected president to succeed Virginia Cox Pohe. Dean Martha Smith, Miss Mary B. Haynes, Virginia Wall and Ruth Coyner attended this meeting.

The following day the same Farmville delegation attended the tea of the Washington Chapter in the home of Carrie Sutherlin, president of Chevy Chase

Report of the Jarman Organ Fund

At the May meeting of the Executive Board of Alumnae, Mr. Grainger explained the plans that had been made for honoring Dr. Jarman as he rounded out his forty-four years of service here in June. He spoke of how various groups in Farmville and friends elsewhere were contributing to the final symposium celebration. He stated that he knew the Alumnae would like a part in it too.

After discussing the matter the Board decided that the Alumnae part had already been initiated in March when the Jarman Organ Fund had been launched. It was agreed by the members of the Board that our efforts would be continued so that we may have a considerable sum when a new auditorium is erected here, or the old auditorium is enlarged.

Our report of the Fund as it stood at the time of the symposium was posted in the Library, along with the many exhibits there of the appreciations of the fruits of Dr. Jarman's labors. At this time the Fund was $2,117.94. Checks are coming in as time goes on, and we feel sure that this Fund will continue to increase until our goal is reached. A good pipe organ will cost at least $25,000 and certainly we want nothing but the best. Remember $110,000 was raised over a period of twenty-five years for the Student Building, and we are as loyal now as we were then.

Don't forget that the first $1.50 of every contribution goes to the running of the Alumnae Association. Make all checks payable to the Alumnae Fund, and send them to the Alumnae Secretary. Let's make our goal for the Jarman Organ Fund alone at least $2,000 a year. We can do it for we are 7,000 strong! Let's show our new president, Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, who was the unanimous Alumnae choice, that he has our wholehearted financial support too!

ALUMNAE NEWS

Realizing that our Alumnae Association was organized sixty years ago, on June 23, 1887, the Executive Board asked Miss Mary Peck, a member of the Department of History here, to write a history of this Association. She is working on it and we hope to publish it in a later bulletin. Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro was asked to prepare a list of past presidents, which follows.

Fannie Bugg (Mrs. D. B. Blanton) and Mr. Blanton celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary in November, 1945.

Julia Johnson (Mrs. J. D. Eggleston) and Dr. Eggleston observed their golden wedding anniversary December 18 at their home at Hampden-Sydney. Dr. Eggleston was for many years president of Hampden-Sydney College.

Eva Stuart Willis (Mrs. Robert B. Crawley) whose death occurred in April, 1946, was active in many community organizations; The Farmville Parent-Teachers Association, the Sunday School of the Presbyterian Church, the Judith Randolph Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Woman's Club, the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, and the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Alice Edmunds Paulett (Mrs. Geoffrey Creyke), Washington, D. C., was the subject of a feature article in The Washington Evening Star, March 3, 1946. She is now vice-president general of the National Society, DAR, climaxing many other offices such as serving as national organizing secretary for the Children of the American Revolution. When she was State regent for the District her committees for the Red Cross and National Defense donated a mobile blood donor unit, two clubmobiles, and a station wagon, nine service recreation rooms and gave $11,408.00 in cash during one year. Among other organizations claiming her interest are the Red Cross, the Women's War Finance Committee, the PEO the 20th Century Club (she is first vice-president), the Y.W.C.A. Fond of poetry, she has written verses for publication.

Nelly C. Preston, Seven Mile Ford, from July 1 to December 31, 1945, was instructor at the Chilhowie and Atkins school community canneries.

Frances Wolfe, Corresponding secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Diocese of Virginia, served as registrar at the annual meeting held in May at St. Paul's Church in Richmond.

Genevieve Venable (Mrs. Morton Holladay), has a year's leave of absence from her position in the Southside Hospital, Farmville. She will spend this time with her daughters in Hawaii.

Jessie Ball (Mrs. Alfred I. duPont) is a member of the Board of Trustees of Hollins College. As a memorial to her mother, she made a gift to the college of securities valued at $38,600.00. The income will be used to increase faculty salaries. Mrs. duPont is also serving on the Patrick Henry Foundation and is using her influence in the fund drive to purchase "Red Hill" in Charlotte County.

Edna Cox (Mrs. Charles Turnbull) has received the Navy Cross which was awarded posthumously to her son, Captain Robert Turnbull, U.S.M.C. He was killed on the Solomon Islands.

Martha M. Kennerly spends her summers in White Post, and Greenway Court, Virginia. This winter she is with a niece in Tucson, Arizona. She has started a Round Robin letter that will be sent to the editor of the Alumnae Magazine, after each class member has contributed her items of personal news, for inclusion in the alumnae news section.

Margaret Henderson (Mrs. A. P. Forbes) has retired from teaching. For many years she had been at Binford Junior High School in Richmond, and was one of the city's most outstanding teachers. At the same time, Mr. Forbes retired from banking. They have moved from Richmond to Kilmarnock.

Mamie Auerback was a member of the committee of Richmond teachers appointed by the Senior High School Teachers Association to study teacher salary scales, and make recommendations on salaries to the Richmond League of Teachers. $100.00 was allotted for the purchase of necessary materials for the study.

Etta Rose Bailey, principal of Maury Elementary School, Richmond, directed the work of elementary education at the College of William and Mary during the summer session of 1946. "Elementary school people will be especially interested to know that Miss Bailey will be teaching education this summer," commented George J. Oliver, "for she is generally considered an outstanding person in her field and has acquired a national reputation." She also directed the development of the Richmond Youth Center which had its formal opening at the Second Baptist Church December 6, 1945. It was organized around the idea that youth should have a place for wholesome recreation of their own designing, and is open to all young people between the ages of 17 and 24.

Kathleen Baldwin (Mrs. W. E. MacDonald) who has made her home in Statesville, N. C., for some time has returned to Farmville to live. With Mr. MacDonald she is occupying their house at 710 High Street.

Florence Boston (Mrs. Henry W. Decker) continues to be the only woman member of the Richmond School Board. Last year she was elected a member of the board of trustees of the Valentine Museum. One of her sons who was serving in the Navy, made the supreme sacrifice in last year's Pacific hurricane.

Bessie Bucher (Mrs. William D. Pike) taught four years then worked a year for the War Department in Washington. Since 1919, she has been connected with a New York City retail shoe company, which she has seen grow from 20 stores to 600. Her particular job is personnel and employment. With twelve men, she was the only woman whose picture and thumbnail life sketch appeared in a recent issue of the Melville Shoe Co. magazine.

At the Culpeper High School commencement, the Class of '46 presented to the school a portrait of the late Ruth Campbell who had been assistant principal there for twenty-five years. Her sudden death had been a shock to the community and state.

Adelaide E. Chappell (Mrs. Jesse W. Gates) and Mr. Gates celebrated the silver anniversary of their wedding by entertaining a few friends and members of the immediate families who had been present twenty-five years ago.

Mary Dupuy was recently elected president of the Southside Federation of Social Workers, an organization which includes the social workers of eleven Virginia Counties. She is also president of the Farmville branch of the American Association of University Women.

Amanda Elizabeth Edwards (Mrs. N. R. Hoyle) is club institute chairman for the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs. In addition to this work she has served as parliamentarian, vice-president and president of the Newport News Woman's Club, parliamentarian for the Sixth District, VFWC, chairman of the VFWC department of education and resolutions, and recording secretary. She is president of the Kecoughtan Civic League, a member of the executive board, District X, Graduate Nurses of Virginia, and vice-president of the Cooperative Education Association of Virginia.

Carrie Hunter (Mrs. Marion Willis) has returned to the States after visiting her daughter, Carolyn Willis Weiler in Fairbanks, Alaska. She also visited her son in California.

Julia Johnson (Mrs. M. L. T. Davis, Jr.) received first honorable mention in the prize offered by the Virginia Writers Club for the best poem in 1945.

Mary Hester Jones (Mrs. Theo Alphin) is teaching Latin in the Waynesboro High School. After a recent visit to Farmville, (the first in thirty-eight years), she wrote: "I've felt buoyed up ever since, and have attacked the Oratio Obliqua with new zeal—by even peeping into Miss Rice's old classroom—I was disappointed not to see her."

Dixie McCabe (Mrs. M. S. Hariston) taught three years then married and went to live in China for 15 years. She has two sons, one in the Army and one at V.M.I. For the past few years she has worked with O.P.A. in her home, Stuart, Va.

Mary Morris McCabe, received a Citation for War Duty from the U. S. Treasury Department, for selling bonds in all four War Loan Drives in Washington, D. C. For the past two years she has worked with children from neighborhood and Friendship Homes for a D.A.R. committee on Junior American Citizenship. She is very active in all phases of D.A.R. work.

Elizabeth Mosely has taught first grade at Rustburg since her graduation here. She attended summer school here in 1946.

Marie "Bugs" Noel (Mrs. Lee Harr) has been living in New York while her husband was in the service. Her daughter, Noel Harr, a senior at Mary Baldwin College last year, was president of the Y.W.C.A., a member of the student council and maid of honor in the May Court.

Madelaine Warburton (Mrs. A. D. Carswell) taught six years in Cumberland County, one year as critic teacher in Fredericksburg, then married a Presbyterian minister in 1923. Since then she has known mostly the "ups" of being a rural preacher's wife. They have seven children, two boys and five girls, ages six to twenty-two, and they live near Sanford, N. C.

1917-1926

Claudia Anderson (Mrs. E. F. Liebrecht) is living on Long Island. Mr. Liebrecht, since 1940 general patent attorney for the N. W. Kellogg Company, was recently made vice-president of that firm. He has charge of patent activities and the handling of licenses for the New York firm.

Jessie Brett (Mrs. V. C. Kennedy) is Research Chairman in the Jefferson Junior High School in Washington, D. C. Her very interesting article, "An Atypical Group in Junior High" appeared in the June issue of The Journal of the Education Association of the District of Columbia. She is also the new president of the Washington Alumnae Chapter.

Emily S. Calcott, Ph.D. from the University of Virginia, has been appointed associate professor of English at State College, Murfreesboro, Tenn. She has been professor of English at S.T.C., Troy, Alabama, for the past six years.

Louise E. Denit (Mrs. Donald Goodyear) is the sister of Brigadier-General Guy Blair Denit of Salem, Va., thrice decorated for his performance as chief surgeon of General MacArthur's Pacific forces. In March he was appointed chief of Operations service in the office of the surgeon-general. He holds the Distinguished Service Medal.

Willie Griffin (Mrs. Jenkins) is teaching the seventh grade in Jarratt High School. She has two children, a son and a daughter.

Jonnie Hiner (Mrs. Richard M. Hamrick). A host of devoted relatives and friends and mere acquaintances, mourn the passing of this rare spirit. Testimony to her qualities of heart and mind is found in the notices and editorials of her home newspapers, which are here quoted in part: "In the untimely death of Mrs. Richard M. Hamrick Staunton lost a valued citizen who had contributed much to the community's life. She was exceptional in her devotion to public causes and in her ability to get worthwhile things done. In her comparatively short life Mrs. Hamrick was a public school teacher, member of the City School Board, officer or director of six secular organizations, superintendent of the Intermediate Department of the Church School, president of the Woman's Society of the church, and active in various others. She found time for these in addition to motherhood in a beautiful family life. Her influence will continue through the inspiration she has given in the many circles in which she moved." Her husband and two sons survive.

Sergeant Dorothy Luck, rated as an expert in the medical field of the WAC, was sent in 1945 to all parts of Virginia to help recruit the eligible women of the State to rehabilitate returned battle casualties.

Katherine Montague (Mrs. C. T. Cooper) has been very active in community, church and war work in Winchester, Va. Her son is a cadet at Augusta Military Academy and her eleven-year-old daughter was crown bearer for Queen Shenandoah the nineteenth, at this year's Apple Blossom Festival.

Mary Louis Morris (Mrs. Randolph S. Shearet) taught the second grade in Orange, Va., for a number of years. She has moved to Lynchburg and is teaching in a rural school near that city.

Agnes Murphy, Mamie McDaniel, and Mary A. Savage were students in S.T.C. summer workshop dealing with Virginia's natural resources.

Bernice Nuchols (Mrs. J. A. Stanley) is an instructor in the lower school of Fork Union Military Academy.

Jean Elcanor Peacock (Mrs. King) has carried on her studies in art while teaching and home-making. She is a member of the National Association of Women Artists. In 1945 and 1946 two of her pictures were shown at the annual exhibitions in Argent Galleries, New York City, "Judy in the Chair" and "Hotel Lobby."

Florence V. Penick (Mrs. Wm. H. Lybrook, Jr.) writes "Every now and then one of my friends writes she has entered her daughter in Farmville, which makes me envious. Mine will have to go to V.P.I., being both boys."

Ringgold Prout (Mrs. George T. Miller) teaches the second grade in Granby High School, Norfolk. For eight years she has been field worker for the primary department of the Baptist Sunday School Board. She is much in demand as a speaker in religious circles.

Catherine Riddle is an exchange teacher from Granby High School, Norfolk, to Hawaii. Her sister, Bessie Meade Riddle (Mrs. Lacy Tynes) is also living in Hawaii with her family. Her husband, a doctor in the Navy, is stationed there.

Lila Wiatt Sinclair is visiting teacher for the Hopewell City schools. She has taught in the Hopewell elementary schools for twenty-one years. During the summer she was a student in the Richmond School of Social Work.

Winnie E. Sutherland resigned her position as academic dean at Blackstone College for Girls to become visiting teacher in Fairfax County. In 1944 she was principal of Herndon High School.

Frances Treacle (Mrs. R. C. Whaley) received her master's degree from William and Mary last June.

Kate Trent, kindergarten supervisor at Wilson Teachers College, Washington, D. C. is having a sabbatical leave and will do graduate work at Catholic University in Washington.

Gladys Tucker (Mrs. Roy B. Rollins) is active in P.T.A., Woman's Club, Garden Club, U.D.C., and is chairman of the Board of Deaconess in her church in Charleston, W. Va. She has three sons; Roy, Jr. and Haven Tucker are students at the Greenbriar Military Academy, and David is at home.

Etta Belle Walker (Mrs. O. F. Northington, Jr.) had a leading part in the production of Community Quiz: Some $64 Questions, the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs study guide on community development. All were formulated at a Summer workshop at the University of Virginia. In her foreword to the brochure, Mrs. Northington says it is the outgrowth of a conversation with Governor Darden "concerning the relation of the Federation to the welfare of the Commonwealth." The questions concern the State's past and present and how its people can use Virginia's resources to build a better future.

Ridley Walker (Mrs. Sanderford), taught two years in North Carolina. She has three sons, ages fourteen, sixteen and twenty. Her oldest son returned last spring from two years service in the Pacific and hopes to enter Hampden-Sydney. Ridley also hopes to leave a government job in Washington and return to Virginia to make her home.

Lucile Walton, science teacher in the Danville High School, has been studying at the U. of Va. Summer School of Biology at Mountain Lake. She gave a paper to the Biology Section, Virginia Academy of Science last May entitled "Further Notes on the Cone Gall of Witch Hazel."

Wilma Pattie Williams, R. N., wrote from a Baltimore hospital, "I wish I could be with you on Founders Day and that my gift for the Jarman Organ Fund could be much larger. I'll be thinking of you next Wednesday while I'm busy with my sixty-four very nice patients here."

1927-1936

Nora Berden (Mrs. W. H. Rawlinson) received her master's degree in June from the University of Michigan and is teaching in a junior high school in Kalamazoo. All of her seven children have received four or five years of college training. Her daughter, Mabel, made the supreme sacrifice in World War II, while serving with the Women Airforce Service Pilots.

Margaret E. Bock has been appointed Itinerant Nutritionist for the American Red Cross Eastern Area with headquarters in Alexandria, Va. She has had a wealth of experience in teaching nutrition and dietetics, having served as Assistant Administrative Dietitian at the Medical College of Virginia, chief dietitian at the Petersburg Hospital and at Westbrook Sanatorium in Richmond.

Kathleen M. Bondurant (Mrs. J. W. Wilson, Jr.), her son, James W. Wilson, III, was one of the twenty-two chemists engaged in wartime scientific research at the University who were awarded certificates of merit by the National Defense Research Committee.

Marjorie M. Booton, who had varied experiences in different war areas as American Red Cross Hospital Recreation Worker, returned to the United States in 1945, and is now principal of a school near Luray, her home.

Nellie Bousman is now principal of Hughes Memorial Orphanage in Danville, Va.

Elizabeth Bowers (Mrs. John W. Meredith) has a way of keeping up with Farmville girls in California. She attended the wedding of Lt. A. F. Harris, Jr., son of Zulicme Duval Harris at the Naval Base, Vallejo, Calif. Lt. Dabney Watts, brother of Carolyn Watts Wilson, and Carrie Hunter Willis, visited her during the spring.

Carmen Clark, who was acting librarian during the military service of Dr. Merritt, resigned her position as assistant librarian to become reference librarian of the Air University at Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala.

Margaret Clark (Mrs. Harry H. Hanger) spent the last winter with her mother at Miller School while her husband, a Captain in the Air Corps, was stationed in Nebraska. In addition to caring for her year-old daughter, she taught three classes in Algebra and attended her class reunion here last Founders Day!

S. Louise Crute, Farmville, in November, 1945, went to Honolulu to be head nurse in the Cahu Sugar Plantation Hospital at Waipahu.

Janet Curran (Mrs. J. A. Requarth) has recently been discharged from the Army Nurse's Corps as a First Lt. She spent a total of four years in the U. S. uniform, serving three years in the European Theatre of Operations as charge nurse on the Chest Surgery ward at the 111th General Hospital in England. Since returning to the states she has married a regular Army officer and is stationed in Corvallis, Oregon.

Mary Diehl (Mrs. William Doering) left in October to join her husband in Stuttgart, Germany. Mr. Doering is processing and distribution specialist with the U. S. Government working in coordination with the War department.

Frances Elizabeth Edwards of Chatham is librarian at Chandler Junior High School in Richmond.

Mary Ellen French (Mrs. Arthur B. Packett) is a member of the Richmond County School Board for Marshall District. She has successfully taught in the high schools in the Northern Neck, and is active in church and community affairs.

Martha B. Gunter, was commissioned a Lt. in the WAC's in November, 1945. Prior to her enlistment in the WAC in 1943 she taught in Campbell County.

Esther Haskins is director of the Roosevelt Club in Manila, the Philippines, possibly the largest Red Cross Club in the world. She heads a staff of thirty-two members who cater to the needs of this Serviceman's "home away from home." Prior to this job Esther was hostess for the air corps, and post assistant director of recreation in New Guinea. After graduating at S.T.C. she studied sociology at V.P.I. and had a six weeks' training course at American University in Washington. The Manila Times says "Miss Haskins has a big job and likes it. She likes the Philippines and the Filipinos."

Martha Anne Laing (Mrs. Roy Pearson) left Farmville in July to join her husband in Hong Kong, China. She was accompanied by her small son and Anne Buck, who will be his teacher there.

Elizabeth I. McIntosh (Mrs. Edward Lee Smith) returned to the United States early in 1946 after three years service in the European Theater. Captain and Mrs. Smith are making their home in New Jersey.

Laura Mottley, of Amelia County, is home economics teacher at Lawrenceville. At one time she was a member of the Agriculture Extension Division at Lawrenceville.

Mary Ellen Powell, Principal of Robert E. Lee School, Danville, contributed an article to the May, 1945, Virginia Journal of Education which was reprinted in the N.E.A. Journal of March, 1946. It is entitled, School Labors Make School Grounds Bloom, and is a description of the transformation from red mud to "good green lawns, shrub-bordered walks, and garden where all the colors of the spectrum are to be found in blooming plants." The community as well as the three hundred pupils take pride in the achievement and pleasure in visiting the beauty spot. The article is stimulating and suggestive for those teachers whose environment needs "face-lifting."

Grace A. Reeves (Mrs. George T. Hitch) takes an active part in church and civic circles in Pulaski, Va., where her husband is in the jewelry business. They have two children, George and Betty Kay, ages 10 and 5.

Lillian Rhodes, of Lynchburg, has her M.A. from Columbia in art, and was a teacher for several years. World War II called her to service, and she became a WAVE, ranking Lt. (jg). Now she is on the staff of the Richmond Veteran's Information and Service Center as assistant director.

Mary Sykes (Mrs. Henry House) taught for eleven years in N. C. before she was married in 1937. She has two children, a daughter six and a son four.

of the Junior Woman's Club of Roanoke, Junior Hostess of the USO during the war, and she is very active in the work of the Episcopal Church.

FOR DIRECTOR

Amanda ("Chubby") Gray, 1926 and 1936, of Hampton, was most active in dramatics in both of her careers at S.T.C., having waited exactly ten years between the two. She also played on the varsity basketball team in College. At present she is teaching dramatics and coaching the dramatic club in Newport News High School.

Rachel Royall, 1930, of Tazewell, was a leader in all student government activities while in College. From 1941 to 1944 she was assistant to Miss Mary White Cox, who was then Head of the Home Department. At present she is teaching English in her home town High School, Tazewell, Va.

The Hon. William M. Tuck, Governor of Virginia.
Dr. Meta Glass, President Emeritus, Sweet Briar College.

Faculty News

Dr. Beverly Ruffin, the new librarian, came to S.T.C. from Northwestern University, but her home is in Richmond. She received her B.A. degree from William and Mary, her B.S., M.S. degrees from Columbia University and her doctorate from the University of Chicago.

Miss Emily Clark is assistant professor of music, teaching piano. She has bachelor degrees in musical science from Johns Hopkins University and Peabody Conservatory of Music. Her former home is Farmville, but she has been teaching at Peabody and also supervising music in the Baltimore public schools.

Dr. A. Curtis Higginbotham, new associate professor of Biology, came from Michigan State College. He won both bachelor and Ph.D. degrees from Northwestern University.

Dr. Ethel Sutherland, who comes from East Carolina Teachers College, N. C., is associate professor of mathematics. Her home is Mahwah, N. J. and she holds bachelor, master and doctorate degrees from Columbia University, N. Y.

Dr. Graves H. Thompson, a Hampden-Sydney graduate, whose M.S. and Ph.D. degrees were obtained at Harvard, is teaching Latin at S.T.C. on a part-time basis. He also teaches Latin at Hampden-Sydney.

Mrs. Mildred Dickinson Davis is a new member of the English department. She will supervise the high school teachers of English. Mrs. Davis holds degrees from S.T.C., and the University of Virginia. She studied last summer at the English school at Bread Loaf, N. H.

Miss Lucy Bralley of Richmond, who graduated at S.T.C. the past June, with the B.S. degree, is assisting in the college bureau of teaching materials.

Miss Caroline R. Eason, daughter of late Dr. Thomas D. Eason, a former beloved professor at S.T.C. and Carrie Rennie Eason, is the new kindergarten teacher. She is a graduate of S.T.C. and has taught in the Richmond public schools.

Miss Margaret Finch is one of the first grade teachers this year. She has a B.S. degree from S.T.C. and has a wide experience in primary education having taught in the Matthew Whaley School in Williamsburg and in California. Her home is in Chase City, Va.

Miss Annie Laurie Stone of Farmville, who has been supervisor of Cumberland County Schools, is the new supervisor of the fourth grade. She has the B.S. degree from S.T.C., and an M.S. from Columbia University.

Mr. Norman O. Myers, assistant professor in business education, returned this year after two years in the Navy.

Dr. George W. Jeffers, Head of the Department of Biology, has accepted an invitation to serve as a member of the Advisory Board of the North Carolina Fisheries Survey. This survey is similar in all the essentials to the recent survey of the Chesapeake Fisheries, which Dr. Jeffers directed last year. He is also one of five prominent Virginians named by Gov. W. M. Tuck as members of the State Museum of Science Commission. He is much in demand for lectures on his major interest, marine biology. Last May he spoke to the James River Woman's Club on "Women in Service."

Dr. J. P. Wynne is the author of a new book "Philosophies of Education" which will be published next winter. This volume will be for the general reader as well as for the use of college and university students. Dr. Wynne taught in the Ohio University summer school last summer.

Miss Olive Parmenter, who was at S.T.C. during the two years that Mr. Norman Myers served in the Navy, is now assistant professor of business and commercial science at Skidmore College in Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Dr. Francis B. Simkins, author, historian and professor of History, was the guest speaker of the Charlotte County Branch of A.P.V.A. at "Arcadia" the plantation home of Mr. and Mrs. John Daniel last summer. Dr. Simkins spoke on "The Everlasting South," a resume of the introductory chapter to his book "The South Retains Its Past," which will be published in 1947 by Alfred A. Knopf.

Dr. Leroy C. Merritt, who has been librarian at S.T.C. for the past three years, has left to accept a position with the University of California.

Dr. Sibyl Henry, principal of the Farmville elementary school, represented S.T.C. at the two-day sesquicentennial of the University of N. C. last April.

Mr. J. M. Grainger, Head of the Dept. of English, was named chairman of a committee in Virginia to consider the possibility of starting a search for teaching talent. Mr. Grainger also represented S.T.C. at a summer conference of secondary and college educators at Mary Washington College last summer.

Miss Helen Draper, professor of modern languages spent the past summer in Caracas, Venezuela, and taught English at El Centro Americano. She also continued her graduate study in Spanish at the University of Venezuela. Senora Marita De Sota, who was a guest at S.T.C. last April as an exchange professor, appointed by the International Educational Relations Council in Washington, was her hostess.

Dr. Susan Field died at her home in Lincoln, Nebraska, on April 15, 1946. She was resident physician at State Teachers College from 1908 to 1911, and again from 1921 to 1935. During this interval she held a similar position at George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn. She was the first resident physician of the college, also the first woman physician to serve the institution. She was a graduate of the Women's Medical College of Philadelphia. She had warm friends in the college, among the alumnae, and in the town of Farmville who remember with gratitude her unselfish, untiring service and devotion to her profession.

Dr. Edith Stevens, associate professor of biology, died on October 31, 1945, from injuries sustained from a laboratory explosion in August. She received degrees from West Virginia University, and her Ph.D. degree from the University of Chicago. She did research work with the Biological Board of Canada, the Marine Biological Laboratory of Wood's Hole, Mass., the University of Michigan and Pennsylvania State College. She was a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and a member of Sigma Xi, honorary fraternity in science. She had a real thirst for knowledge, high standards for her students in learning and character, a fine sense of humor, a personality that won warm friends among faculty and students.

Junior College. Under the fine leadership of Kate Trent this Chapter has been most successful. At their spring meeting in the home of Scotia Stark Haggerty, Jessie Brett Kennedy was elected president.

The Gloucester Chapter decided to have their annual party for prospective students in the fall of 1946 instead of the spring. Edith Estep Gray is the enthusiastic leader of this group.

The Blacksburg Chapter has over thirty members, and Louise Vaden Threkhold, the president, was hostess to this group when Virginia Wall and Ruth Coyner visited there in February. Mary Robeson Wood, Louise Vaden Threkhold and Mary Spiggle Michael attended the Roanoke luncheon for Dr. Jarman.

Other Chapters have written of interesting meetings. Among them are Atlanta, Fairfax, Hampton, Bristol, Charleston, W. Va., Culpeper, Northampton and Lexington. Now that the war is over may all of the Chapters begin their work again with the usual Farmville spirit!

Miss Maud Keyes Taliaferro, at one time library assistant, then in charge of the post office and book room for forty years, died in October, 1945. Her faithful performance of all duties connected with the College, her devotion to her church, and her interest in college and community affairs were noteworthy. All who really knew "Miss Maudie K" will miss her greatly.

Dr. Fannie Wyche Dunn, student at Peabody College for Teachers, recipient of B.S., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Columbia University, was supervisor of student teachers at Farmville, and director of rural education. She was professor of rural education at Columbia University for many years and achieved a position of high distinction in this field, being internationally recognized as an authority. In 1944, she was one of the chief speakers at the White House Conference on Rural Education called by President Roosevelt. In the midst of teaching, and traveling to all parts of the country, speaking, consulting, helping people to study and experiment, she found time to write books and articles, for journals and year books of national societies. In 1943, she retired to her little farm in Connecticut and there reveled in the out-of-doors that she loved.

When Dr. Dunn was buried on January 17, 1946, friends and former students from more than ten states gathered to pay their last homage to her. One has written: "She was a great teacher. She did not instruct. By example and guidance she helped us grow. She had a splendid mind, keen insight, great vision. She had the humility, the simplicity, of greatness. We were filled with a new belief in immortality for we knew that somewhere this great spirit lived with the courage, the gaiety, the great love of living that characterized her human existence."

Mrs. Sadie J. Hardy, Mrs. Claiborne, following her graduation from Farmville State Female Normal School and study elsewhere, was recalled by Dr. Cunningham to be principal of the "Practice School," which position she held from 1894 to 1899. No other director has been more acceptable to the community or more beloved by pupils and teachers, and her death was a real sorrow to her scores of friends and admirers.

The Best Is Yet To Be

*Fill not thy heart so full of yesterdays
It has no room for tomorrows.
Focus thy gaze on rising stars
Turn from western sunset bars!
Look down the road that stretches on
Unending through the ages,
There ever widening vista smiles
Its reaches lost in heaven's unmeasured miles,
"The best is yet to be."*

Sail Out!

*Chart well thy course with God—then
Have faith.
Cut loose thy moorings,
Weigh anchor, hoist sail and put out to sea.
Point thy prow out
And seek whatever is to be.
Except thou venture out thou'll never know
The half was meant for thee.
The rugged rocks lie near the shore,
Beyond their breakers lies the open sea—
Sail out, fulfill thy destiny.
Have faith!*

The Executive Board at their May meeting voted to publish the Revised Constitution and By-Laws of the Association of Alumnae of the State Teachers College at Farmville, Va., because of the changes during the last ten years, and that Chapters may use it as a model for their Constitutions.

Revised Constitution and By-Laws of the Association of Alumnae of the Farmville State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

CONSTITUTION

Article I. Name

The name of this organization shall be the Association of Alumnae of the Farmville State Teachers College.

Article II. Object

The object of the Association shall be to promote the interests of the State Teachers College at Farmville, Virginia; to maintain among its graduates and ex-students a spirit of fellowship and service; to help in promoting better education in Virginia.

Article III. Membership

Section 1—Membership in this Association shall be of three classes: active, associate, and honorary.

Section 2—Active membership shall be limited to graduates of the institution.

Section 3—Associate membership shall be limited to ex-students who have completed three quarters of professional work at the institution leading to a diploma or the degree.

Section 4—Honorary membership may be conferred upon members of the faculty or home department, or upon any other person especially in sympathy with the work of the Association.

Article IV. Amendments

Amendments to this Constitution may be made by a majority vote of those present at an annual meeting. Notice of such amendment must be given to the Executive Board at least one month prior to the annual meeting at which it is to be proposed.

BY-LAWS

Article I. Officers

Section 1—The officers of this association shall be: president; first vice-president; second vice-president; alumnae secretary; two directors; and two faculty Alumnae as custodians of the files.

Section 2—The officers of this Association, with the exception of the Alumnae Secretary, whose appointment is herein provided for, and the president, who may be reelected for an additional term of two years, shall be ineligible to succeed themselves in office. Two vice-presidents and a director shall be elected at one time and a president and a director at another, to avoid too many changes in one year. The custodians shall be appointed by the president to aid in the Alumnae office work.

Article II. Duties of Officers

Section 1—It shall be the duty of the president of the Association to preside at all the meetings of the association; to act as chairman of the Executive Board hereinafter provided for; to affix the seal of the association as authorized by the Executive Board; and to do and perform such other acts as may be directed by the Executive Board.

Section 2—It shall be the duty of the first vice-president in case of the president's absence, to assume certain definite work as may be directed by the Executive Board.

Section 3—It shall be the duty of the second vice-president to act for the president in case of absence of both president and first vice-president and to assume certain definite work as may be directed by the Executive Board.

Section 4—It shall be the especial duty of the directors to exercise general oversight of the work of the Association and to offer suggestions for constructive work.

Article III. Executive Board

Section 1—The general management of the Association shall be vested in an Executive Board consisting of the officers of the Association and the outgoing president who shall serve for a term of two years or until the expiration of the term of the president incumbent. The president and the president emeritus, of the Farmville State Teachers College, shall be members of the Executive Board.

Section 2—Vacancies in the Board. The Executive Board shall have power to fill any vacancies occurring in the membership, the appointee to hold office until her successor shall be elected at the next annual meeting.

Section 3—Meetings of the Board. The Board shall meet at stated times in its discretion or at the call of the president of the Association.

Section 4—Any member who cannot attend a Board meeting must name a proxy for the meeting, or the president is empowered to do so.

Section 5—Quorum. Four members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any Board meeting.

Section 6—Committees. The Executive Board shall have the power to create such committees as it may deem necessary and to appoint special officers to carry out its plans in its discretion.

Article IV. Alumnae Secretary

The Executive Board shall appoint an alumnae secretary at a salary and for a term of office to be determined by the Board to whom she shall be responsible.

She shall have charge of the principal office of the association which shall be located at the State Teachers College at Farmville. She shall keep a record of the membership of the association and act as recording and corresponding secretary for the association and the Board. She shall organize chapters of the association in other places and assist them in their places and work. She shall inaugurate plans for the furthering of the work of the association and Board and carry them out with the approval of the Board. She shall carry out the plans of the association and the Board. She shall act as editor of an Alumnae magazine. She shall keep the seal of the association. She shall act as treasurer of the association, shall collect the annual dues of the members, receive and hold all other funds except special funds otherwise provided for, and disburse them as approved by the president of the association. Her accounts shall be audited by the school accountant, times to be determined by the Board. She shall report annually to the association at the regular meeting.

Article V. Meetings

The Association shall meet annually at the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia; the time and the place to be fixed annually by the Executive Board.

Article VI. Nominations for Office

Section 1—Nominations for office shall be made by a nominating committee composed of: one member of the Executive Board chosen by the Board, the alumnae secretary, and three members of the association elected by the association from the active membership.

Section 2—At least two (2) nominations for each office shall be made and announced in the Alumnae magazine before the annual meeting.

Article VII. Elections

Elections shall be made by ballot, either by mail or at the annual meeting.

Article VIII. Contributions

Section 1—Alumnae shall be asked to make an annual contribution to the Alumnae Fund, which is to be used for the running expenses of the Association, for the publication of an Alumnae magazine and for any special project approved by the Executive Board.

Section 2—The first one dollar and a half of every contribution shall go to the expenses of the Alumnae Association.

Section 3—There shall be a life membership fee of $25.

Article IX. Amendments

The amendments to these By-Laws may be made by submitting at the annual meeting the desired amendment in writing signed by at least five active alumnae.

Article X

Except as otherwise provided in these articles, Robert's Rules of Order, Revised, shall be the parliamentary authority for the association and the Executive Board.

Article XI

Associate and honorary members shall have all the privileges of active members excepting those of holding office and of voting.

Article XII. Quorum

Twenty-five members at an annual meeting shall be considered a quorum for business.

Article XIII. Order of Business

The order of business at the annual meetings shall be:

1. Call to order
2. Minutes of previous meeting
3. Reports of officers
 - (1) President
 - (2) Alumnae Secretary
4. Report of treasurers of financial funds.
5. Unfinished business
6. New business
7. Notices
8. Report of the nominating committee
9. Introduction of the new president
10. Adjournment

FOR SALE:—"The Story of Longwood" by Jane Ruffin, 1945. This booklet was written in the History Seminar and has been published by the College. It has about fifty pages, illustrated, with detailed references to sources for every factual statement. It is considered the best book written on Longwood and it is fascinatingly interesting. The price is thirty-five cents and it may be ordered through the Alumnae Office or bought at the College Book Store. The Seminar papers of Marie Davis, 1943, on "The Colonial Church in Virginia's Isle of Wight," and of Edith Jones, 1945, on "Richard Bennett, Puritan Governor of Virginia" have also been published. These two papers won first place in the contest sponsored by the Colonial Dames of Virginia and participated in by all the Colleges of Virginia.
