Mask cleaning station at my house! I was already well prepared for this pandemic!

Ensure we secured for those seniors at most risk during the pandemic. My mother works for the senior services agency in Martinsville, VA. Her agency serves Martinsville city, Henry county, Pittsylvania county, Danville city, Patrick County and Franklin County. We have been delivering food to those seniors who are food insecure since the stay at home order! You can also use photos off of their Facebook page if you would like! Its Southern Area Agency on Aging

We have taken dozens of trips to the grocery store to get shelf stable food for hundred in the community, and we get dirty looks because people think we are stock piling, we made the joke that we need t-shirts that say "shopping for seniors!"

There were a lot of things not captured in Photos but are things that need to be noted. Martinsville VA is known for its race track. It is what keeps our economy going, but currently the racetrack is a COVID testing site in our small town and the races have been cancelled... Restaurants and businesses have closed down everywhere since our entire town is full of mom and pop restaurants. And I have personally been affected by COVID in so many ways. Our own restaurant located in Danville, VA had to close for over a month, and we just reopened for business (without the small business help) on Wednesday April 22nd. It has been a tough ride, but our little towns are rallying together to help small businesses, which is amazing.

I have to admit it was scary to reopen and work a full-time job providing food to the public especially knowing we have to have my five-year-old brother with type one diabetes being there as well. It is hard times for everyone right now, and scary times as well. I will probably send in more and I will attempt to get photos at our coffee shop doing curbside pickup!
