LONGWOOD

1995-96 College Catalog

Farmville, Virginia

This catalog describes academic course numbers, descriptions, and standards for student progress and retention at the time of publication. However, the provisions of this publication are not to be regarded as an irrevocable contract between the student and Longwood College. There are established procedures for making changes which protect the institution's right to make changes deemed appropriate. A change of curriculum or graduation requirement is not made retroactive unless the alteration is to the student's advantage and can be accommodated within the span of years normally required for graduation.

Longwood College reserves the right to require a series of student outcomes assessment tests prior to graduation. The purpose of these assessment tests is (a) to help individual students develop to their fullest potential and (b) to improve the educational programs of the College. Students are required to participate; students who fail to participate may lose their priority ranking for registration and housing. The College may withhold transcripts for three months for graduating seniors who fail to participate.

Longwood College Undergraduate Bulletin, August, 1995. Announcements 1995-96. In effect until August 1, 1996. Longwood College is accredited by Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award bachelor's and master's degrees, National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, Virginia State Board of Education, National Association of Schools of Music; undergraduate Social Work Program accredited by the Council on Social Work Education; undergraduate Therapeutic Recreation Program accredited by the National Recreation and Park Association in cooperation with the American Association for Leisure and Recreation.

Longwood adheres to the principle of equal opportunity without regard to race, sex, creed, color, disability, national origin, age, or religion. This policy extends to all programs and activities supported by the College and to all employment opportunities at the College. Anyone with questions concerning access or accommodations should contact Disability Support Services at 804-395-2391 (V); 800-828-1120 (TT Relay).

LONGWOOD

201 High Street, Farmville, Virginia 23909

Dear Student:

You are an important part of this very special place. Faculty members will not only know your name; they'll also find out what makes you tick, what ignites your curiosity, and how far you can reach. With your help, they'll bring out the best in you through contacts before, during, and after class, through innovative teaching, over coffee or cokes, and in the hallways or on the walkways of this scenic campus.

Throughout the College you will also find uncommon opportunities to become involved, to develop leadership and life-enrichment skills, and to grow intellectually, socially, and personally. And you can take advantage of many high-tech resources and one of the best college libraries in Virginia.

At Longwood, the student comes first. We want you to become the best that you can be. We won't be satisfied with anything less. We hope you won't be, either.

Sincerely,

William F. Dorrell
President

Longwood College and Its Programs

LONGWOOD COLLEGE MISSION

Longwood College, founded in 1839, is a medium-size, state-assisted, coeducational, largely residential, comprehensive college offering programs leading to the bachelor's and master's degrees. Longwood offers courses both on the main campus and at educational sites in other locations. As a state-assisted institution of higher education, Longwood College is committed to the principles of equal opportunity and affirmative action.

The primary educational objective of Longwood College is to provide a baccalaureate and graduate degree curriculum distinguished by academic excellence. Essential to the goal of academic excellence is a faculty committed to the highest standards of teaching and research and/or creative arts.

Longwood is oriented both to the liberal arts and to professional and pre-professional programs. Its strong commitment to the liberal arts is reflected in its General Education requirement for all students and in its sponsorship of degree programs in the humanities, fine arts, social sciences, natural sciences, and mathematics. In addition to its traditionally strong programs in health related sciences, pre-engineering, and teacher education, the College offers professional and pre-professional programs in such areas as business, social work, and therapeutic recreation. Longwood also maintains cooperative programs with other institutions of higher learning.

Longwood is dedicated to the total education of its students and seeks to provide an atmosphere supportive of individual development. Through the offices of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, the Vice President for Student Affairs, the Deans, and the Learning Center, Longwood is committed to the intellectual, social, personal, and career development of each student.

Longwood's strong commitment to public service and economic development primarily for the citizens of Southside Virginia is reflected in a wide variety of Continuing Education programs, the services of the Small Business Development Center, an extensive calendar of public lectures, concerts, art exhibits and performances, provision of campus facilities for use by community groups, and the encouragement of community service by faculty, staff, and students.

Approved by the Board of Visitors, February 3, 1984. Amended by the Board of Visitors, April 19, 1987, October 4, 1989.

Revised 1991. Approved by the Board of Visitors, February 3, 1992.

Location

The College is located in Farmville, Virginia -- sixty-five miles west of Richmond and Petersburg, forty-eight miles east of Lynchburg, and sixty miles south of Charlottesville. U.S. Highways 15 and 460 intersect in town. Commercial bus systems provide service to the town.

Farmville is a pleasant college town with a population of 6,500; it is the business and education center of the area. Located in and near town are churches, hotels, motels, a country club, a municipal airport, and a community hospital. Hampden-Sydney College, a liberal arts college for men, is five miles south of the campus. Many points of interest are within a short distance of Farmville, including Appomattox Courthouse and Sailors Creek Battlefield.

History

Longwood College, a pioneer first in private and later in public education, is one of the oldest colleges in the United States. The College was founded on March 5, 1839, this being the date that the Farmville Female Seminary Association was incorporated by the General Assembly of Virginia.

In the succeeding years the increasing prosperity of the Farmville Female Seminary led the stockholders to expand the seminary into a college, and the Farmville Female College was incorporated in 1860. On April 7, 1884, the State of Virginia acquired the property of the Farmville Female College, and in October of the same year the Normal School opened with 110 students enrolled. This was the first state institution of higher learning for women in Virginia.

With the passage of the years, the Normal School expanded its curricula and progressed through a succession of names. It became the State Normal School for Women in 1914, the State Teachers College at Farmville in 1924, and Longwood College in 1949.

The College was first authorized to offer four-year curricula leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education in 1916. It was authorized to offer the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1935, the degree of Bachelor of Science in 1938, curricula in business education the same year, courses leading to a degree in music education in 1949, and the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration in 1976. In 1978, the College was authorized to offer the Bachelor of Fine Arts, and in 1981, the Bachelor of Music. In 1954, graduate programs were authorized. Longwood became fully coeducational in June 1976.

Buildings

The Longwood campus provides excellent facilities while radiating the charm, beauty, and character associated with its long heritage.

Red-brick Jeffersonian buildings stretch along High Street joined by a covered colonnade. At the center is the oldest building on campus, Ruffner Hall. It is distinguishable by its Rotunda, the dome of which features portraits of Thomas Jefferson, Horace Mann, and important figures in Longwood's history. Ruffner houses various administrative and faculty offices, classrooms, and the Blackwell Dining hall.

Behind and alongside this area are broad malls, lawns, 11 tennis courts, four athletic fields, an indoor-outdoor swimming pool, and numerous late-20th century buildings, including the library, high-rise and low-rise residence halls, the Lankford Student Union, and various academic facilities.

The campus has four auditoriums ranging in size from 176 seats to 1,227.

Lancer Hall is a 4.5 million-dollar health, physical education, and recreation complex. It has a gymnasium with 3,000 seats; a complete weight-training laboratory; an olympic-size pool with a three-meter board and underwater sound, lighting, and an observation window; a 500-seat natatorium; a modern dance studio with a floating floor and staging capacity; and one of the state's best-equipped laboratories for the study of human performance as it relates to exercise, sports, health, and the arts.

Students also can enjoy the facilities at Longwood Estate, about a mile from the campus. These include "The Cabin," the Dell, and a nine-hole golf course. The President's home is on the Estate.

College Library and Resources

The new $6,800,000 College Library, with a two-story entrance hall flanked by columns, provides state-of-the-art technology for information retrieval from libraries throughout the world, as well as satellite reception of foreign programs. The Library is air-conditioned and houses a collection of 900,000 print and non-print materials. The Library has an online catalog and an online circulation system. Reference services include individual reference assistance, bibliographic instruction to meet general and specific class needs, and online bibliographic searching upon request. Reserve materials include those requested by faculty as well as non-print material, and some materials that are constantly in high demand. During the regular sessions the Library is open at scheduled periods totaling 91 hours a week.

The College Year

The college year consists of a regular session, including two semesters of 15 weeks each, and a summer session. The summer session for undergraduate students consists of three four-week terms. The graduate summer session consists of two four-week terms. The summer session makes it possible for an undergraduate student to complete a degree program in three calendar years as compared with the traditional four academic years generally required to complete such a program. Both undergraduate and graduate classes during the summer are scheduled for five days a week.

Summer Session

Longwood welcomes a variety of students to its summer sessions by offering basic courses and advanced courses in the majors in a wide variety of academic disciplines in the three or four-week sessions as well as specialized instruction available through a broad range of workshop offerings.

Registration procedures for summer sessions are published in the summer brochure which is usually available on or about February 1 and which may be obtained by calling the Registrar's Office (804-395-2095).

Commencement

Commencement exercises are normally held once a year, in May. Upon sufficient demand by students completing degree requirements in December, a December commencement may be held. Those students completing a degree program between commencements may receive their degrees in August or December and may participate in the following May or December commencement of their choice.

Graduating seniors must buy from the college bookstore the caps, gowns, and hoods required for commencement exercises.

Longwood's Honor System

A strong tradition of honor is fundamental to the quality of living and learning in the Longwood community. The Honor System was founded in 1910, and its purpose is to create and sustain a community in which all persons are treated with trust, respect, and dignity. Longwood affirms the value and necessity of academic integrity in all intellectual endeavors. Students are expected to assume full responsibility for their actions and refrain from lying, cheating, stealing, and plagiarism.

Upon entering the College, students sign the Honor Pledge:

I,having a clear understanding of the basis and spirit of the Honor Code created and accepted by the student body of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia, pledge myself to govern my college life according to its standards and to accept my responsibility for helping others to do so, and with sensitive regard for my college, to live by the Honor Code at all times and to see that others do likewise.

Admissions

Longwood College accepts applicants for both fall and spring terms and is pledged to a non-discriminatory admissions policy.

UNDERGRADUATE ADMISSIONS

Freshmen

1. Complete and return the Undergraduate Application for Admission. The application must be accompanied by a non-refundable application fee of $25.00, or by an official Fee Waiver Form of the College Entrance Examination Board which has been issued and signed by the student's counselor. Longwood College application forms may be obtained in most high school or community college counseling offices or by writing to the Office of Admissions, Longwood College, Farmville, VA, 23909-1898.
2. Request that the student's high school submit to the Director of Admissions an official transcript of high school records. Students who have attended other colleges or universities must also request that the registrars of those institutions send complete official transcripts of their records.
3. Take the Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT I-Part I) of the College Entrance Examination Board, or the American College Testing Service Examination (ACT), and request the test scores be sent to the Admissions Office, Longwood College (certain transfer students may be exempt from the testing requirement; see transfer student section). Students planning to major in a modern language should take the subject test (SAT II-Part II) in the language or languages of their choice for placement purposes. Data from all tests recommended by the State Department of Education in cooperation with the local school divisions will be reported by the high school on the transcript form.
4. Submit any additional information the student believes to be pertinent to the Admissions Committee review and subsequent admission decision.

When the College receives the student's application, application fee, official transcripts of the records, and test scores, its Committee on Admissions carefully examines the student's qualifications and notifies the student as to whether or not the applicant is accepted for admission.

Freshman admissions decisions are competitive and based on academic performance in high school. Performance will be measured by considering academic units completed (college preparatory), class standing, cumulative grade-point average, and the scores on the SAT or ACT college entrance test. The Admissions Committee will also review additional information submitted by the candidate in support of the application. Primary emphasis, however, is placed on academic credentials.

Selection criteria are established each year by the Board of Visitors within the mission and constraints of the College. Most of our accepted applicants were graduated from high school with the Advanced Studies Diploma.

Minority applicants are evaluated for admission with more emphasis on the high school record and less emphasis on the SAT I score. A Summer Transition Program is available to a selected number of minority candidates whose academic credentials do not meet the regular admissions requirements, but who are judged by the Admissions Committee to possess the potential to master college-level work.

Candidates for admissions to an undergraduate degree in music will be expected to audition prior to declaring that major.

Students accepted for admission will be required to make a non-refundable deposit of $250.00 if they will be residential students and $100.00 if they will be commuting students. The deposit is due by May 1. Students accepted after May 1 will need to pay a non-refundable deposit within two weeks of their acceptance.

Early Action Admission

Longwood College offers Early Action Admission to freshman applicants who possess above-average high school records, class standing, and SAT I or ACT scores. To be considered for Early Action, applications must be received by December 1 and successful candidates will be notified by early January. Students not selected for Early Action will automatically be considered for regular undergraduate admission.

Early Admission

High school juniors who have demonstrated high academic achievement in a college preparatory high school program may be considered for Early Admission. General application procedures and deadlines are the same as for seniors, with the following documentation additionally required: written endorsement from the Director of Guidance or Principal; a letter from the parents or guardian in support of the decision; and a statement from the applicant outlining the reasons why they wish to begin college after their junior year.

Transfers

Transfer students should complete and return an application for admission, accompanied by a $25 non-refundable application fee. The student should request a final official high school transcript and official transcripts from each college attended to be sent directly to the Office of Admissions. It is important to indicate on the application form if an Associates Degree from a Virginia Community College will be received before transferring to Longwood.

Adults

Students aged 25 and older or those whose life experiences (family, marital status, employment history, military service, etc.) indicate nontraditional consideration should complete an Adult Application for Admission and submit a statement of educational goals. Students who have attended other accredited post-secondary institutions must have official transcripts from each institution forwarded directly to the Admissions Office. Official high school transcripts or GED Certification must also be submitted. A personal interview with an admissions counselor is highly recommended and may be required.

ADMISSIONS CRITERIA

Freshmen: Applicants for undergraduate degree programs should be graduates of an accredited high school, anticipating graduation from an accredited high school, or hold the GED Certificate with satisfactory scores. All students, whether high school graduates or GED holders, are expected to meet certain minimum unit requirements for admission. These minimum units include:

- Four units of English

- Three units of mathematics including Algebra I and II, and Geometry

- Three units of Science, two of which must include a laboratory

- Three units of Social Studies, including American History and Government

 - (Non-Virginia residents may substitute a second unit of history or social science in place of government.)

- Two units of one foreign language

- Two units of Health and Physical Education

- One unit of Fine or Practical Arts

The College highly recommends additional units in science, mathematics, social studies, fine arts, and foreign languages. An advanced studies curriculum is preferred.

Transfer Students: Applicants for advanced standing in undergraduate degree programs must present evidence of good standing at the last institution attended. A cumulative 2.2 GPA (on a 4.0 scale) for all hours attempted at all accredited colleges attended is expected to be considered for admission. Achievement of the minimum GPA does not imply automatic admission. Transfer applications are reviewed with primary emphasis on academic course work taken at the college-level. Students are expected to have completed successfully academic course work in four main academic areas: English, Mathematics, Science, and History/Social Science. Transfer applicants who will have earned fewer than 30 transferable semester hours in college-level subjects prior to enrollment at Longwood and who are under 22 years of age may also be evaluated on their high school academic performance and SAT scores.

Virginia community college students planning to transfer to Longwood should consult with their community college counselor and review the Longwood College Transfer Guide: Take The Next Step. Specific questions about transfer policies and practices should be addressed to the Office of Admissions or by calling that office at 804-395-2060. Copies of the Longwood College-VCCS Transfer Guide are available upon request.

Nontraditional Students: Applicants who do not meet the standard requirements of minimum academic units and/or SAT scores may be accepted provisionally. A conditional acceptance would require the successful completion of three general education or major requirement courses with a grade of "C" or better. A student deficient in a major subject area, such as, Mathematics, English, or Science, may be required to complete specific courses at a community college before entering Longwood.

International Students: The College welcomes applications from prospective international students. In addition to the program of study and SAT I requirements, the international student must also demonstrate proficiency in the English language through the TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language). A minimum score of 550 is needed for admission. In certain cases, SAT scores may exempt students from the TOEFL Exam. International students seeking admission to the College should request a copy of the International Student Guide.

International students should mail the International Student Application for Admission and high school records at least six months before planning to enroll. This will allow time for credentials evaluation and unexpected delays in international mail. The Admissions Office requires an English translation be attached to each transcript.

International students should pay particular attention to possible medical needs and be immunized for the following diseases: Measles (Rubeola), German Measles (Rubella), Mumps, Diphtheria, Tetanus, Polio, and have a Tuberculin Skin Test (ppd) within the past year. Medical insurance is mandatory. Should students have particular medication needs, they should write to the Longwood Student Health office to determine whether the medications can be obtained here. All international students and any dependent residing with them in the U.S. must obtain medical insurance which provides coverage for hospitalization expenses, medication evacuation, and repatriation expenses.

Students must certify sufficient financial resources in order to be issued a visa to attend Longwood. A foreign national must provide an affidavit that shows that he/she has enough money to pay for four years at Longwood. The affidavit must be signed by the student, parent, and notarized by a bank official. Longwood does not provide financial aid for international students.

Cancellation of an Admissions Offer: Longwood's Honor Code prohibits lying, cheating, and stealing. Students who complete the Application for Admission pledge to abide by The Honor Code. Should a student falsify the information provided on the application, alter academic documents, plagiarize the essay, or otherwise issue an untrue statement as part of the application process, the offer of admission will be revoked. The College also reserves the right to revoke an offer of admission should a student's academic performance fall below established minimums or should a student fail to meet written conditions stated in the admission letter prior to matriculation.

Students With Disabilities

In accordance with Title V, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, students with physical and/or learning disabilities will not be discriminated against on the basis of their disabilities.

Admission to Longwood College is based on the requirements outlined in the College Catalog. Admissions decisions are made without regard to disabilities. All applicants to the College are reviewed through the same admissions procedures. All students are expected to present academic credentials at or above the minimum standards for admission as established annually by the Admissions Committee. Students, with identified disabilities, eligible to take the SAT/ACT under accommodated conditions may submit those scores.

For applicants who choose to identify themselves in the admissions process, the Admissions Committee will review alternative measures for admissions criteria under the following conditions:

1. If a standard of admission interacts in a disproportionately adverse way with the applicant's documented disability, then a request by the applicant for a substitution in that criterion may be submitted.
2. The alternative measure must be a valid measure of the same skills, aptitudes, or areas of achievement as the admissions standards.

Applicants who wish to request accommodations in the admissions process; or who wish to request Admissions literature, the College Catalog, or an application in an alternate format should contact the Coordinator of Services for Individual with Disabilities at (804) 395-2391; TDD/TTY relay service: (800) 828-1120.

Accommodations Policy for Students with Disabilities

Once admitted, students seeking accommodations must notify the Coordinator of Services for Individuals with Disabilities. The Coordinator will determine what documentation must be provided in order to determine the most appropriate accommodations. In addition to reviewing the documentation, the Coordinator may re-request an interview between the student and a professional competent to evaluate the student's needs.

Longwood College recognizes both the wide variation in the needs of students with disabilities and the fact that as students progress through their programs, unanticipated needs may arise. The Coordinator will, at the request of the student, review the process by which his or her current accommodations were determined and revise the accommodations as appropriate.

Readmission Candidates

Students who have not attended Longwood College for one or more semesters must submit an Application for Readmission to the Admissions Office at least 60 days before the beginning of the term in which they plan to enroll. Readmission to the College is not automatic. Each decision is made on an individual basis. An Admissions Committee reviews the academic record and citizenship at Longwood as well as courses taken elsewhere. Official transcripts from other colleges of such course work are required.

The Admissions Committee is not obligated to readmit any student; however, a student denied readmission may appeal in writing to the Admissions Office. The appeal will be reviewed by the appropriate Dean(s).

Students eligible to be readmitted to the College may not, in some cases, be eligible to enroll in a particular major because their academic standing may be below the required minimum for the program.

Any student withdrawing during a semester or at the end of a semester who wishes to return at the next regular term must submit an Application for Readmission along with the $15.00 fee if applicable. Eligibility to return will be based on current academic standing at Longwood College.

Applications for readmission are available from the Office of Admissions in person, by mail, or by calling 804-395-2060.

Special Students

Students not seeking a degree may be permitted to take courses for which they are qualified. (Advanced courses must have the instructor's approval.) Students who have been denied regular admission to an undergraduate program at Longwood may not register as special students without permission from the Director of Admissions and the Dean of the School of the student's intended major. Special students must maintain at least a "C" average in order to continue. A student in this category who wishes to carry a full-time load (12 credits or more) must have permission from the Registrar or Director of Admissions; such permission is generally limited to those students who are working toward a special certification or license and who have demonstrated their ability to do college-level work.

Special students may register for classes directly through the Registrar's Office. (Special packets are available approximately three weeks prior to the start of classes for each regular semester.) First-time special students must complete an information sheet and the Application for Virginia In-State Tuition Rates. Tuition and fee payments are due in full at the time of registration.

Special students are advised that credits earned as a special student are not necessarily applicable toward a Longwood degree program. After admission to the College, such credits as well as credits earned at other colleges or universities, will be evaluated as to applicability to the specific degree program in which the student wishes to enroll.

Special students are encouraged to apply for admission to the College before they complete 24 credit hours. Special permission is required from the Registrar in order to take more than 24 hours as a special student.

Teacher Licensure

A student who has earned a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution may complete the course requirements for teacher licensure in Virginia. These students may register as special students.

Information about required courses and procedures for application for licensure is available from the Chair of the Education Department, School of Education, 804/395-2324.

Advanced Placement and CLEP

Longwood College offers advanced placement with college credit through the College Level Examination Program (CLEP) and through Advanced Placement Examinations. Both programs are administered by the Educational Testing Service, Box 592, Princeton, NJ. Students seeking information concerning CLEP or Advanced Placement Examinations may contact the Educational Testing Service, the Registrar's Office of Longwood College, or their high school guidance counselor. Information concerning acceptable scores and course equivalencies are available from the Admissions Office or Registrar's Office.

Second Baccalaureate Degree

A student who has earned a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution may earn a second baccalaureate degree by satisfying these requirements:

1. Submit an Undergraduate Application for Admission, a $25 non-refundable application fee, and all official college transcripts directly to the Office of Admissions. The student must also submit a completed Application for Degree along with a $25 Degree Application fee directly to the Registrar's Office before the student will be admitted to the college. In order to complete the Application for Degree, the student must meet with the appropriate Department Chair to plan a course of study.

2. Complete, at Longwood, at least 30 additional semester hours in a course of study beyond that work applied toward the first degree.
3. Complete all major and degree requirements in the second degree program.
4. Maintain a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0 with a 2.0 or higher in the second major.

Developmental Course Placement

As part of the advising and registration process, all entering freshmen will take diagnostic/placement tests in writing and mathematics. Students earning above a predetermined score on the Scholastic Assessment Tests (SAT) may be exempted from the writing assessment.

The results of the assessments will be used by students and college advisors to guide first semester registration. Students scoring below specified minimums on these placement tests will be required to participate in developmental courses. Developmental courses are designed to insure that students are prepared to succeed in Longwood's rigorous curriculum.

At the end of their developmental course work, students will be tested to determine if they have reached an established competency level before advancing to English 100 or college mathematics courses. Students who fail to meet a prescribed standard within two attempts will not be retained at the institution. Students diagnosed as underprepared in reading may be restricted to courses which do not have intensive reading requirements. Normally students are expected to complete successfully all developmental work within the first two academic years.

*As a residential institution, Longwood College believes group living provides opportunities for personal growth, development, and education. The College, therefore, requires students to live in the residence halls. Part-time students will not be permitted to live in the residence hall unless written permission is obtained from the Vice President for Student Affairs. Unauthorized part-time students found living in the residence hall will be charged full-time tuition and fees.

The residence hall requirement and policy applies to students unless they live at home, are 23 years of age prior to the beginning of fall semester, are married, have 100 credit hours prior to the beginning of fall semester, have eight semesters of campus residency, are eligible for the off-campus privilege (89 credit hours) which is implemented in the Spring of each year, and have some sort of unusual situation. Students who fit these categories should work with the Director of Housing before finalizing off-campus leases. Information and forms must be complete before any approvals are authorized.

Includes charges for Athletics, Student Union, Student Health Service, and other services.

All students residing in campus residence halls must pay a damage/contingency deposit of $100 upon initial assignment to residence halls, excluding the summer term. Subsequently, if the deposit balance falls below $50 at any time, the student must restore the deposit to the $100 level. The assessment of individual and group damages may be made against the deposit.

In addition to individual student responsibility for damage to room accommodations (beyond normal wear), students will be liable for damages to common areas of their residence hall when individual responsibility cannot be determined and assigned. Responsibility for damage will be determined by the location of the damages and the nature of the circumstances surrounding the damage. Charges will be made against the damage deposit of each student living in the area.

The deposit balance will be refunded approximately three months after graduation from Longwood or withdrawal from the residence hall. The refunded amount will be net of any outstanding balance owed to the College for tuition and fees, course fees, or telecommunication charges. No deposit refunds will be processed for $5.00 or less.

*The Residence Hall Room and Board Agreement spells out the terms of the meal plans available. Students select meal plans in the agreement and are permitted to change their selected meal plan during specific periods of time as stated in the Residence Hall Room and Board Agreement.

Classification as a Virginia Student

Entitlement to classification as a Virginia student and the privilege of paying in-state tuition is determined at the time of admission from information submitted by the student on the state domiciliary form. This form is attached to the application for admission, readmission, or will be sent to the student for completion by the Office of Admissions. In-state classifications are determined pursuant to the Code of Virginia.

The College may initiate a reclassification inquiry at any time after the occurrence of events or change in facts which give rise to a reasonable doubt about the validity of existing residential classification.

Appeal of the initial classification or subsequent reclassification requests should be made to the Dean of Students Office. Information and appeal forms may be obtained from the Office of Admissions or the Dean of Students Office.

Method of Payment

Students are responsible for paying their accounts as follows:

First Semester: one-half of the yearly charges, less any credits, will be billed on or about July 1, and are payable by August 1. Failure to receive a bill does NOT waive requirement for payment when due.

Second Semester: the remaining half of the charges, less any credits, will be billed on or about November 1, and are payable by December 1. Failure to receive a bill does NOT waive requirement for payment when due.

A late fee of $50 will be assessed if bills are not paid by the due date noted on the invoice.

Monthly Payment Plan. The College offers a Monthly Payment Plan to full-time students as an option for paying tuition bills. The deadline to apply for the Monthly Payment Plan is May 20 for the fall semester and October 20 for the spring semester.

Enrollment for each semester is not complete until fees and other charges have been paid or arrangements to pay have been made to the satisfaction of the College.

No credit for college work will be given to any student for a diploma, a teacher's certificate, or for transfer purposes until all financial obligations to the College have been paid or secured to the satisfaction of the College.

Notice of Policies and Charges on Unpaid Telephone Accounts

Students are responsible for the security of their authorization code, and will be liable for any charges made with their code. All students are required to pay telephone accounts within 30 days of the billing date. Failure to pay within 45 days of the billing date will result in a hold flag being placed on the student's record. This will prevent registration, adding or dropping of classes, and processing of transcripts. The student's authorization code will also be deactivated, preventing any additional long distance calls. Returned checks will incur a handling fee of $25.00. If the matter is referred for collection to an attorney or to a collection agency, then the debtor will be liable for attorney's fees or additional collection fees of 50% of the then unpaid balance. Requesting or accepting services will be deemed to be acceptance of these terms.

Notice of Fees and Charges on Unpaid Tuition and Fee Balances

The public is hereby placed upon notice that failure to pay in full at the time services are rendered or when billed will result in the imposition of interest at the rate of 10% per month on the unpaid balance. Returned checks will incur a handling fee of $25.00. If the matter is referred for collection to an attorney or to a collection agency, then the debtor will be liable for attorney's fees or additional collection fees of 50% of the then unpaid balance. Requesting or accepting services will be deemed to be acceptance of these terms.

The student is responsible for all charges assessed regardless of any arrangements or agreements made with other parties.

Application and Readmission Fees

A non-refundable application fee of $25.00 is required of all undergraduate students making their first application to Longwood College. For returning students, a non-refundable $15.00 readmission fee will be invoiced by the Office of Cashiering and Student Accounts on or about February 15, and is payable on or about March 15.

Deposit

A $100.00 student fee deposit is required of all commuter students to reserve their admission to Longwood College. A $250.00 student fee deposit is required of all residence hall students to reserve their admission to Longwood College.

Current students will be invoiced for the deposit on or about February 15, and it shall be payable on or about March 15. Failure to receive a bill does not waive requirement for payment when due.

New students will be invoiced for the deposit in the letter of admission from the Longwood College Admissions Office.

The deposit is refundable until June 1 in the case of current students, May 1 for new students admitted for the Fall semester and December 1 for the Spring semester. Requests for refunds must be made in writing to the Vice President for Student Affairs. Deposit payments made after May 1 (Fall) or December 1 (Spring) are non-refundable.

Refunds and Charges for On Campus Full-Time Students

Official notification of withdrawal must be processed prior to any consideration for refund. This notification should, if at all possible, be made in person or in writing to the Student Development Office, first floor French Hall, 395-2414. Refunds will be based on the effective date of withdrawal. NOTE: Refunds to students who are receiving financial assistance will be pro-rated based on the percentage of charges incurred by the student and the amount of financial assistance awarded to the student in accordance with Federal and state regulations.

The following charges and refunds will be made to students withdrawing from college:

- (a) A student withdrawing from the first 5 days of classes will be refunded 100% of total charges less a $250.00 withdrawal fee.
- (b) A student withdrawing during the first 25% of the academic period will be refunded 50% of total charges.
- (c) A student withdrawing during the period from 26% to 50% of the academic period will be refunded 25% of total charges.

Exceptions: In unusual circumstances, refunds beyond the above schedule may be recommended to the Vice President for Business Affairs by the Vice President for Student Affairs for students who leave the College "for reasons beyond the student's control," such as for a verified incapacitation, illness, or injury. Enforced withdrawals, such as disciplinary suspension, do not involve refunds beyond the above schedule.

Refund policy may vary in accordance with federal regulations.

Refunds and Charges for Off-Campus Students

The following charges and refunds will be made to students withdrawing from off-campus classes.

- (a) Students who withdraw before the first class meeting will be refunded all tuition less a $25 withdrawal fee. (This does not apply to classes where registration is held at the first class meeting.) Students must contact the Director of Off-Campus Programs in Continuing Studies (or the Program Coordinator at the CEC), and submit a letter of withdrawal postmarked prior to the first class meeting.
- (b) Students who withdraw before the second class meeting will be refunded all tuition less one credit hour and the registration fee. Students must submit a letter of withdrawal to the Director of Off-Campus Programs prior to the second class meeting. (Students may not attend the second class meeting.) The letter must be postmarked on or before the day of the second class meeting.
- (c) After the second class, no refunds will be made except in extenuating circumstances. Refunds may be recommended to the Vice President for Business Affairs by the Continuing Studies Office. Correspondence should be addressed to:

Director of Off-Campus Programs
Continuing Studies
Longwood College
201 High Street
Farmville, VA 23909

Refunds and Charges for On-Campus Part-Time Students

The following charges and refunds will be made to part-time students withdrawing from the College.

- (a) Any student withdrawing from the College or dropping all their classes during the first week of the academic semester will be refunded all but one credit hour of tuition.
- (b) A student withdrawing during the first 25% of the academic period will be refunded 50% of total charges with a minimum charge of one credit hour of tuition.
- (c) A student withdrawing during the period from 26% to 50% of the academic period will be refunded 25% of total charges with a minimum charge of one credit hour of tuition.
- (d) After 50% of the academic period, no refunds will be made.

An official notification of withdrawal must be processed before any reduction in charges or refunds will be made. This can be done by contacting the Student Development Office, first floor French Hall, 395-2414.

Withdrawal Policies and Procedures

Once a student has preregistered, registered, or otherwise been assigned classes for any semester, he/she must officially withdraw from the College before the 1st day of class for the academic semester to prevent tuition and fee charges. Students withdrawing on the 1st day of classes or later, will be charged as previously stated under the section "refunds and charges."

Withdrawal is not considered official unless a formal withdrawal is processed in the Student Development Office first floor French Hall, 395-2414. Dropping of classes in the Registrar's office does not fulfill the requirements for withdrawal.

If a student is administratively withdrawn for non-payment of tuition and fees and wishes to be reinstated, he/she must pay a reinstatement fee of $50 in addition to any outstanding charges. Payment must be made by cashier's check or money order.

Please note that academic withdrawal policies may differ from financial withdrawal policies. For academic policies, see page 42 of the Catalog.

Late Payment Fees

A charge of $50.00 will be assessed to preregistered students if tuition and fee bills are not paid by the due date on the invoice.

Students registering during late registration or the add period are expected to pay in full on the date of registration. Any account unpaid at the end of the add period will be assessed a $50.00 late fee.

A late fee of $10.00 will be assessed on course fees which are unpaid as of the due date.

Late Registration Fee

A charge of $50.00 will be assessed to students registering during late registration who were academically eligible for preregistration.

Special Cost Waivers for Children of War Casualties

Children between the ages of 16 and 25, either of whose parents was killed in action, is missing in action or a prisoner of war in any armed conflict, or is or may hereafter become totally disabled due to service subsequent to December 6, 1941, while serving in the army, navy, marine corps, air force, or coast guard of the United States, is eligible for free tuition and institutional charges at any educational or training institution of collegiate or secondary grade in the Commonwealth of Virginia if approved by the Director of the Division of War Veterans' Claims with the following stipulations:

1. Parent was a citizen of Virginia at the time of such service.
2. Parent is, and has been, a citizen of Virginia for at least ten years immediately prior to the date on which the application was submitted by or on behalf of such child for admission to any educational or training institution of collegiate or secondary grade in this Commonwealth.
3. If parent is deceased, was a citizen of Virginia on the date of his or her death, and had been a citizen of Virginia for at least ten years immediately prior to his or her death.

Eligibility for these benefits is established by the Director of War Veterans' Claims, Richmond, VA 23216. Students who consider themselves eligible should contact the Director or may seek assistance from the Director of Admissions at Longwood. Verification of eligibility must be on file with Cashiering and Students Accounts before the first day of classes each semester.

Part-Time Students

Students taking 12 or more credit hours will be charged full rates. Undergraduate Virginia students taking less than 12 credit hours will be charged at the rate of $112.00 per credit hour. Undergraduate non-Virginia students will be charged at the rate of $340.00 per credit hour.

A comprehensive fee of $25.00 per credit hour is charged for all part-time students enrolled for eleven credit hours or less. Failure to receive a bill does NOT waive requirement for payment when due.

Minimum Refund Policy

Due to the high cost of processing refunds, no refund checks will be issued for $10.00 or less.

Refunds

Refund checks will be issued in the name of the enrolled student, regardless of who originally made the payment.

OTHER FEES

Automobile Registration. A fee of $15.00 per semester or $30.00 per year is charged for each automobile registered. Parking on campus is permitted if the permit issued on payment of this fee is displayed.

Diploma Fee. A fee of $25.00 will be charged for a Bachelor's diploma and a $25.00 fee for a Master's diploma. This fee is payable to the Registrar at the time application is made for graduation and is non-refundable.

Field Courses. Since charges vary for students enrolled in student teaching, semester rates may be obtained in the Cashiering and Student Accounts Office.

Meals for Guests. Students entertaining guests in the College dining hall are charged the following rates, tax included: breakfast--$2.90, lunch--$3.95, dinner--$5.25, and premium dinner--$5.95.

Special Examination Fee. A charge of $25.00 will be made for each approved deferred examination and for the one re-examination permitted each senior.

Course Fees. Some academic classes require an additional course fee. These will be assessed to all students enrolled in the class at the end of the add/drop period.

Overload Fee. An overload charge at the per credit rate will be assessed for each credit greater than 18 for which a student is enrolled in each semester.

Special Note. Any student who has completed an undergraduate degree at any college or university will be charged graduate tuition rates. Please refer to the graduate catalog for rates.

FINANCIAL AID

General Information

The purpose of the Longwood College student aid program is to provide financial assistance to students who, without such aid, would place an unreasonable financial hardship on their families. The College assumes that the primary responsibility for financing a college education lies with the student and his or her parents. Awards by the College are intended to supplement the family's contribution.

The Financial Aid Office offers financial information and counseling to all students attending Longwood. The types of financial assistance offered include student employment, loans, grants, and scholarships. Eligibility for these programs is determined by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid which is available from high schools or Longwood College. Application should be made prior to March 15 of the academic year for which funds are being requested.

A booklet containing specific information about financial aid may be obtained by visiting or writing the Financial Aid Office, Longwood College, 201 High Street, Farmville, VA 23909.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

If a student fails to make satisfactory academic progress, the student may be ineligible to receive aid. Most programs either have a limit on the number of semesters of eligibility and/or a limit on the total amount of funds that can be received. To maintain satisfactory academic progress, a student must meet the Academic Probation and Suspension Policy as stated in this catalog. Also, some programs require a student to progress a grade level each year in order to maintain eligibility. Grade level progression is as follows: 1-24 credit hours, Freshman; 25-55 credit hours, Sophomore; 56-88 credit hours, Junior; and 89 credit hours and above, Senior.

A student may not receive financial assistance after attending Longwood for more than six years as a full-time student. If a student is academically suspended, the student cannot receive aid the semester the student returns to Longwood. The student must first meet the requirements of satisfactory academic progress before eligibility for assistance can be restored.

Application for Assistance Procedures

To apply, file a completed Free Application for Federal Student Aid indicating Longwood College as the institution you plan to attend. The priority filing date is March 15. The need assessment document will determine the eligibility for grants, scholarships, work and loans.

The award period for Longwood College is during the month of May; any applications filed by March 15 will receive first priority.

All aid is awarded on the basis of an academic year. Students are expected to file application for renewal of aid each year.

All aid is contingent upon receipt of funds from Federal, state, and institutional sources. Awards may be reduced if funding is reduced.

Assistance Programs Available

Federal Programs available through Longwood: Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant, Federal Perkins Loan, Federal Work-Study Program, and Federal Family Education Loan Program.

State Programs available through Longwood: College Scholarship Assistance Program, General Undergraduate Scholarship.

Institutional Programs at Longwood: Institutional Work-Study. This program provides students the opportunity to work in various on-campus jobs and is not based on need.

Army ROTC

Any full-time student, whether currently taking Military Science courses or not, may compete for an Army ROTC Scholarship which includes all academic fees, tuition, books, supplies and equipment, plus a grant of up to $4,500. Scholarship information is available by writing to the Financial Aid Office or the Military Science Program at Longwood.

All non-scholarship Military Science Advance Course students also receive a $3,000 grant while enrolled. Questions on eligibility should be addressed to the Military Science Program, Longwood College.

Graduating Senior Recognition

Dan Daniel Award for Scholarship and Citizenship. This award is announced at commencement each year. Selection is based upon academic ranking, and citizenship and leadership qualities both on and off campus.

Sally Barksdale Hargrett Prize for Academic Excellence. This prize will be given each year at commencement to the graduating senior who has attended Longwood as a full-time student for a minimum of 3 academic years and has achieved the highest academic record. The recipient will receive a certificate and a cash award of $2,000. The prize is to be "an incentive to encourage students to greater effort in achieving academic excellence . . . to enrich their college experience and advance their own well-being and that of the College."

Outside Programs

Methodist Student Loan. A student who is a full member of The United Methodist Church, a citizen of the United States, is admitted to a degree program, and has a "C" average, may be eligible to borrow up to $900 as an undergraduate student and $1,200 as a graduate student each calendar year. Interest varies but is always considerably lower than interest rates on commercial loans and payments do not begin until six months after graduation or withdrawal from school. For more information, contact the Director of the United Methodist Campus Ministry at Longwood College, 204 High St., Farmville, VA 23901, or phone 804-392-8089.

Senior Citizens. Senior citizens aged 60 or over with a Federal taxable income of less than $10,000 per year can enroll in credit courses free of tuition provided they meet the admissions standards of the institution and space is available. Any senior citizen aged 60 or over can enroll in a non-credit course or audit a credit course free of tuition regardless of taxable income provided space is available.

Veterans Assistance. All types of programs available to veterans/children of veterans are administered through the Financial Aid Office. If you are eligible for any assistance through these programs, please have your paperwork completed in the Financial Aid Office.

Children of persons killed, disabled, missing in action, or prisoners of war in any armed conflict are entitled to free tuition, and all required fees (educational and auxiliary) if deemed eligible by the Director of the Division of War Veterans' Claims. However, user fees, such as room and board charges, shall not be included in the authorization to waive tuition and fees (23-7.1 (f) of the Code of Virginia).

STUDENT DEVELOPMENT GOALS

Longwood's six broad student-development goals reflect our commitment to your intellectual, social, and personal development, as well as to your career preparation. They also emphasize your involvement in shaping the quality of your experiences here, and to finding meaning in your own values and directions.

Intellectual Goals

1. Mastery of a Broad Body of Knowledge in the liberal arts and sciences, so you can see things in perspective, appreciate and enjoy artistic expression, and critically, creatively, and logically respond to the complex world around you.
2. Mastery of a Specialized Body of Knowledge, so you'll have the expertise to be competitive and successful in your chosen career.

Personal Goals

1. A Sense of Personal Direction, so you can plan your future wisely and with honor, acquiring self-understanding, self-confidence, and a meaningful philosophy of life.
2. A Balanced and Healthy Lifestyle, which means making responsible choices related to values, friends, family, work, recreation, and life-long education.

Social Goals

1. Interpersonal Effectiveness and an appreciation of diversity and differences, so you can establish genuine, trusting, and honorable relationships within the broad family of humanity.
2. Responsible Citizenship, so you can do your best in ways uniquely your own and have the motivation to contribute to a better life for all through community participation and leadership.

Student Development at Longwood

The Longwood Board of Visitors endorsed Student Development, as expressed in the student goals, as a focus for program planning, design and implementation; as a policy pertinent to all programs and procedures; and as a concept, focus, and direction for programs and procedures. The Board endorsed the following:

"Student Development Orientation embraces the Longwood student development goals, as well as each student's opportunity to assess his/her developmental needs, pursue goals and experiences to fulfill those needs, design and implement progress intended to foster growth, evaluate achievement, and record this attainment.

The student development policy will give direction, shape and focus to student affairs programs and procedures, and it will assert Longwood's focus on the student as an integrated person, both personally and intellectually."

Vice President for Student Affairs, Dean of Students, and Director of Student Services

Student Affairs is committed to the total education and development of each student who enrolls at Longwood, and to making a positive difference in the student's academic and personal growth. Services and programs in student affairs will emphasize the traditional intimate, residential character of the College through creating a living/learning community of faculty, students, and staff. Out-of-class experiences and activities are designed to meet student development needs, to create an environment known for retaining students through graduation, and to implement specific student goals focusing on learning and personal development: a sense of direction, interpersonal effectiveness, responsible citizenship, and a balanced and healthy lifestyle.

Student Affairs staff expect students to be responsible for their personal behavior, responsible for taking advantage of their learning experiences, and responsible for establishing a purposeful balance of academic and social involvement. Student Affairs staff, in partnership with students, create and implement the design of communities where students are respected as individuals and where such values as care, motivation, honor, civility, and responsibility are emphasized. Student Affairs staff will continue to promote the importance of involvement as necessary for each student's academic and social learning. Involvement is not simply participation in activities, but it connects investment of time with commitment to identified goals for personal and academic development, including Longwood's goals for general education.

Dean of Students

The Dean of Students provides leadership for housing and residence education, student union and activities, campus recreation and intramurals, fraternity and sorority programs, professional and honorary student organizations, as well as for improving and enhancing the quality of life on campus and promoting student learning in both in-class and out-of-class experiences. The Dean serves as an initial contact for each student's needs, interests, and concerns and will assist students in whatever appropriate ways are necessary.

Director of Student Services

The Director of Student Services provides leadership for Longwood's student judicial programs and services, honor system, community service learning, programs which enhance awareness of substance abuse and sexual assault, and parking management. The Director serves as the primary point of student contact in matters related to student conduct, sexual assault, harassment, and honor violations.

The Vice President for Student Affairs provides leadership for promoting Longwood as an involving college for students with primary focus on out-of-class experiences that encourage and enhance student learning and personal development. Student Affairs functions: admissions and enrollment management, financial aid, housing and residence education, dining services, student union and activities, Greek affairs, student services, bookstore, intramurals and campus recreation, first year educational experiences and programs for new students, commuter student programs and services, student leadership programs, career services, student health services, counseling services, student affairs research, evaluation, and assessment, and the campus police.

Orientation

Orientation programs at Longwood are designed to help new students adjust to college academically and socially. Orientation Leaders, specially trained upperclass students, work to ensure that the transition to Longwood is welcoming, positive, and informative. Orientation is scheduled three times during the year. The PREVIEW orientation program is held in the summer for first year students and transfers (entering in the fall) and their parents or guests. PREVIEW helps students with advising and registration; getting acquainted with the campus; and meeting fellow students, faculty, and staff. During S.A.I.L. (Students Actively Involved in Longwood) Week in August, new students continue their orientation to Longwood as they learn about their academic major, the Honor System, personal responsibility, and campus resources and services. Starting a few days before classes begin, S.A.I.L. Week offers special programs for commuter, minority, and transfer students. In January, an orientation program is held for new students entering in the Spring. This program features essential academic and student life information.

Housing and Residence Hall Education

Residence Education Coordinators, who are full-time professional staff members, and Resident Assistants, who are students, provide leadership in each residence hall to stimulate and sustain a variety of interests among students. They also assist students in realizing their individual as well as community objectives. Student responsibility for behavior, community, activity, and learning is encouraged; students learn the meaning of care and consideration for people and property. Students are expected to live in the residence halls as part of the residential education program, unless they choose to live with parents. The Director of Housing is responsible for the residence requirements and works with students as they make their plans.

Students are responsible for the care and cleanliness of their rooms and for the condition of their floor and residence hall. A damage/contingency deposit is collected from each student and serves as an incentive for responsible involvement and behavior. In order to personalize rooms, students are encouraged to consider (with roommate) unique furnishings and are expected to supply lamps, bedspreads, drapes, blankets, pillows, and linens. Longwood provides beds, dressers, desks, and closets. Kitchens, laundry and vending facilities are located in each residence hall; study lounges and recreation rooms are available. Fire safety procedures and inspections are part of residence education and are strictly enforced.

Thirteen residence halls offer a variety of social and educational options for men and women. Tabb and French Halls, the oldest halls, are located east of Ruffner Hall and overlook the College Colonnade and Sunken Gardens. The Cunninghams, constructed in 1928, 1932, and 1938, form a complex of halls in the center of campus. Wheeler, Cox, and Stubbs Halls were built during the period, 1960-66, and are located on the western edge of the campus. Curry and Frazer are modern high-rise facilities that were completed in 1969 and 1970 respectively; they are centrally air-conditioned. The newest facility, ARC, was completed in the spring of 1992. It is centrally air-conditioned. Special living areas with themes bring together students with common interests. Information on special living options is available from the Housing Office.

Longwood Dining Services

Longwood Dining Services are an integral part of campus life. Residential students are required to participate in the community dining program by purchasing a 14 meal plan with dollars, a 15 meal plan or a 19 meal plan. There are 2 full-service dining facilities for students. The Blackwell Dining Room offers traditional homestyle meals in an elegant setting. The Rotunda Market is a state of the art quick serve facility. The Lancer Cafe and Express in the Lankford Student Union features Longwood's very own Pizza Hut Express and Farmville's only Taco Bell Express. Commuter students are welcome to participate in any of the operations by purchasing a meal plan, purchasing a commuter 5 meal deal or joining the Longwood Dollars declining balance program. Longwood Dollars is a pre-paid charge account where purchases are deducted from the account by way of the I.D. Longwood Dollars can be used at any LDS facility.

Learning Center

Longwood's Learning Center provides support to the learning process through services to students, faculty, and staff. The goals of the Learning Center are to assist students in improving their academic performance and in becoming independent life-long learners.

The Learning Center provides a range of services in a central location with easy access for students. Among the services offered by the Learning Center are peer tutoring, study skills workshops, standardized test preparation workshops, a library of self-paced instructional software, and writing assistance.

Other services housed at the Learning Center include the Longwood Seminar, the Office of Multicultural Affairs, Disabled Student Services, and the Office of Advising.

Commuter Students

The College recognizes the needs of commuter students and appreciates the unique role commuter students play in enhancing Longwood's educational mission and the partnership between the Longwood and Southside Virginia communities. There are over 900 commuters at Longwood - more than half of whom live outside the Farmville area.

Services are provided for commuters including designated parking areas and a Commuter Lounge in Lankford which has cooking facilities, lockers, messaging facilities, and College/community information designed for the unique needs of commuters. The Commuter Lounge also serves as a Computer Center, and provides wordprocessing, desktop publishing, and recreational facilities for commuters. A special "Ride and Information Board" has been established in the center of the campus with information about ride sharing and other matters of interest to commuters. The Dining Services offer dining options for commuter students including a discounted meal plan and a special "points" system.

Longwood considers students living off of the campus to be commuter students. Thus, whether students "commute" by walking from an apartment or by driving from a community outside of Farmville, they are commuters. The Commuter Student Association, governed by a council of students, meets on a weekly basis to plan social and informational events and represent the needs, interests, and concerns of the large and diverse commuter constituency. All commuters are automatically members of this organization.

Services and activities for commuter students are coordinated through the Office of Commuter Services, located in 207 Lankford Student Union. Information about the Commuter Student Association, or about Commuter Services, can be obtained by calling the Office of Commuter Services at 804/395-2685.

Student Assessment

Longwood College has developed a comprehensive student outcomes assessment program that is critical to the continued success of the College and to the academic and personal success of each Longwood student. This widely-supported program recognizes the "holistic" nature of education and is designed to measure student affective developmental outcomes as well as knowledge outcomes. Students gain personal information that can assist them in making purposeful choices about their involvement academically and socially, and Longwood gains descriptive information that serves to enhance the learning environment and institutional effectiveness of the College.

Student Activities

Longwood provides many opportunities for student involvement outside the classroom. Presently, there are over 120 student organizations serving the needs and interests of Longwood students. It is through these organizations that student life is defined. Programs offered are developed by students within each group in response to student interests and emerging issues in society. The activities provide opportunities for student learning that compliment the academic experience.

Students are encouraged to get involved in clubs and organizations. Exploring several groups of interest before deciding which ones are appropriate for full participation is the recommended strategy. Longwood's student organizations include arts and entertainment groups, Greeks, academic clubs and honoraries, governance councils, intramurals, and others. The Office of Leadership Education Programs publishes a list of student groups each fall. Anyone interested in a specific organization, or just wondering what is available, is invited to stop by Lankford room 207, or call 395-2685. Lancer Productions is the major student programming organization on campus. Funded by student fees, this group of students plans and implements a balanced schedule of social, cultural, educational, and recreational activities for the Longwood community. Programs sponsored by Lancer Productions include films, contemporary concerts, comedy clubs, coffeehouse entertainment, lectures, interactive and novelty events, and Spring Weekend. For additional information, call the Lancer Productions Office (395-2110) or hotline (395-2734).

Lankford Student Union

Lankford Student Union is not only a building, but also an organization and a program that is an integral part of the educational and co-curricular agenda of Longwood College. The Union is a central focus of college community life serving as the "living room" of the campus. The Union and its programs, both formal and informal, serve as a laboratory for students to explore social, cultural, and educational involvements, student governance, campus leadership, group participation, and student employment. It is a place where students, faculty, and staff can get to know and understand each other outside the classroom.

The Student Union is an ongoing training mechanism for students who work together with staff to plan and implement a balanced schedule of social, cultural, educational, and recreational activities. Student programmers learn transferable skills and are challenged in the area of personal development.

The Student Union is both a campus resource and a service. Campus information, quality food service, programming and meeting facilities, convenience items, and courtesies are readily available to the College community. The Student Union includes the Lankford Information Center, Commonwealth Ballroom, Meeting Rooms, Leadership Resource Center, Commuter Student Lounge, Student Government Office, Lancer Productions Office, Recreation Area featuring four bowling lanes, pool and ping pong tables, and video games, Lancer Snack Bar and Cafe with Taco Bell and Pizza Hut operations, Greek Affairs Office, Leadership Education Office, Honor Board Office, U.S. Post Office, and publications offices for the Rotunda, Virginian, and Gyre. For additional information, call (804) 395-2103.

Role and Participation of Students in Institutional Decision-Making

At Longwood College, students are encouraged to participate in decision-making. Students have substantive contributions to make; their participation will have educational value to them as well.

Students are given the opportunity to participate in the decision-making process at the highest levels through involvement in the Student Government Association. Student Government strives to "... achieve and maintain appropriate representation on all college, administrative, and faculty bodies and committees that make decisions affecting the student body of Longwood College . . ." (Article 1, Section 2 of the Student Government Constitution).

The mission statement of SGA also provides that the Student Government Association should "serve as the official voice of the student body through which student opinion may be expressed to the administration of Longwood College."

The Student Government Association

The Student Government Association works to advance the general welfare of the student body; and to promote the cultural, intellectual, and personal development of each student. This organization promotes effective self-governance, encourages individual excellence, and vigorously pursues the general will of the student body.

The Student Government Association consists of a Judiciary (Honor Board, Judicial Board, and Student Arbitration Board), the Executive Council, and the Student Senate. The Executive Council is the coordinating body among the different branches of the S.G.A. The Student Senate members are the President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, Publicity Chair, Eleven (11) Senators-At-Large, Senior Class President, Junior Class President, Sophomore Class President, Freshman Class President, Commuter Student Association President, Association of Black Students President, Residence Hall Association President, and a representative from the Inter Fraternity Council and Pan Hellenic Council. The Student Senate meets each Tuesday at 12:45 p.m. in the Appomattox, Buckingham, and Cumberland Rooms of the Lankford Student Union. The Executive Council meets at 9:00 p.m. on Thursday in the Charlotte Room of the Lankford Student Union. All meetings are open to the public. You are encouraged to attend. If you desire more information, call 2111, or stop by the office located in the Lankford Leadership Lounge.

Student Publications

The Rotunda is the student newspaper. It keeps the students and faculty informed of events and the interests of Longwood as observed from the students' point of view. It expresses the attitude of the students toward the various phases of student life and current activities.

Gyre is a literary magazine. Students contribute essays, poetry, short stories, and other writings, as well as art work.

Notonlynews is the Longwood College newsmagazine. It provides insights, opinions, and perspectives on issues of interest to students and collegiate life.

Clubs and Organizations

The challenges and opportunities of personal development and campus involvement are often found in student clubs and organizations. Members and leaders can gain interpersonal and communication abilities, confidence, and a sense of direction.

In order to enhance and enrich these opportunities, various leadership experiences are offered to teach students the skills of team building, resource management, goal setting, program planning and implementation, decision making, problem solving, and evaluation. Clubs and organizations are described in the Student Handbook. A list of clubs and organizations and officers is available in the Student Development office, 207 Lankford Student Union.

Greek Organizations: The opportunity for membership in Greek organizations is available to students who have completed at least 12 credit hours and have at least a 2.0 GPA. These groups are self-directed and creative in establishing goals and developing skills in leadership, service and communicating with others.

Honor and Professional Societies

There are a number of honor and professional societies which recognize excellence in various fields.

The principal honor organization on campus is Mortar Board. Chartered in 1993, Mortar Board is an outgrowth of Geist and its predecessor Alpha Kappa Gamma. Mortar Board is an honorary leadership society, recognizing three outstanding qualities in students: leadership, scholarship, and service. These qualities should be tempered with humility, integrity, and intellect.

The Longwood chapter of the National Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi was established at Longwood in February of 1972. Founded in 1897, the purpose of the society is to emphasize scholarship and character in the thoughts of students, to foster the significant purposes for which institutions of higher learning have been founded, and to stimulate mental achievement by recognition through election to membership. Undergraduates are eligible for membership as last semester juniors or seniors. For consideration as a junior, he/she must achieve a 3.75 cumulative quality point average. For consideration as a senior, he/she must achieve a 3.50 cumulative quality point average.

Alpha Lambda Delta is a national society which honors high scholastic achievement in the freshman year. The local chapter was installed in the fall of 1966. To be eligible a freshman must have a 3.5 average at the end of the first semester, or a cumulative 3.5 at the end of the freshman year. The purpose of the organization, as stated in the constitution, is "to promote intelligent living and a high standard of learning, and to encourage superior attainment among freshmen in institutions of higher learning."

In addition, departmental professional clubs and honor societies are available. Listings of these clubs and honoraries can be found in the Student Handbook.

Division of Intramurals and Campus Recreation

All undergraduate and graduate students taking 8 credits or more are eligible to participate in the activities sponsored by Intramurals and Campus Recreation. Some of these activities are: aerobic fitness classes taught in Iler Gym by qualified student instructors and a Walk Program for students, faculty, and staff who like to walk for exercise. Maps, charts, and awards are part of the program. There is also a 10 station fitness trail that starts in front of Iler.

The Division conducts weekly tournaments in the following activities: flag football, bowling, wallyball, 3-on-3 basketball, racquetball, volleyball, billiards, basketball, floor hockey, ping pong, badminton, spades (cards), innertube water polo, tennis doubles, softball, arm wrestling, 2-on-2 volleyball on the sand courts, foul shooting, and dual superstars. In several sports, there is an A and B league so every student can participate at his/her skill level. The Division also offers structured activities on weekends and tournaments such as coed softball, coed bowling, backgammon, racquetball, coed flag football, basketball, horseshoes, and outdoor volleyball on the sand court.

The racquetball courts, weight room, outdoor basketball courts, outdoor volleyball courts, fitness trail, gyms, and fields are open for "free" play/recreation during specified times. Students may check out equipment for use with their college ID card.

Intercollegiate Athletic Program

Longwood holds membership in Division II of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA). The NCAA is a national organization which provides governance and leadership for initiating and maintaining standards of excellence in intercollegiate athletic programs.

Starting in 1995-96, Longwood will compete in the newly formed Carolinas-Virginia Athletic Conference in nine sports (men's and women's basketball, men's and women's soccer, men's and women's tennis, baseball, softball, men's golf). The remaining sports will compete in the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) - Women's golf, field hockey, lacrosse and wrestling.

The intercollegiate athletic program consists of seven teams for women and six teams for men.

Women's Teams: basketball, field hockey, golf, lacrosse, soccer, softball and tennis.

Men's Teams: baseball, basketball, golf, soccer, tennis and wrestling.

The objectives of the Athletic Department are:

1. To attract the most academically qualified and most athletically promising students to our campus;
2. To provide a setting for educationally sound programs in which participants may develop physical, mental, and social values, and to assist faculty and staff in providing direction to student-athletes as they strive toward their primary goal of a baccalaureate education;
3. To conduct programs that instill a sense of teamwork, fair play, and good sports behavior, and are designed to protect and to enhance the physical welfare of its participants;
4. To support our athletes in their efforts to reach high levels of performance by providing competent coaching and quality facilities;
5. To strive always to be athletically competitive with our peer institutions.

Regardless of the intensity of the competition, the athletic program must maintain the appropriate balance between athletic endeavors and academic pursuits. In so doing, the athletic programs of the College shall be conducted in compliance with all policies of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the educational objectives of Longwood College.

The Intercollegiate Athletic Council, appointed by the Vice President of Academic Affairs, has general oversight over athletic policy, paying particular attention to compliance with NCAA regulations and equal opportunity requirements. It serves as an advisory body to the Athletic Director, and may make recommendations through the Vice President for Academic Affairs, to the President of the college as it deems appropriate.

Religious Organizations and Churches

As part of their education and experience at Longwood, students refine ideals and values, and connect these values with personal and academic goals. The Baptist Student Union, Campus Christian Fellowship, Canterbury Association, Catholic Student Association, Longwood Inter-Religious Council, and Wesley Foundation provide spiritual activities designed to meet the needs of students. Baptist and Methodist churches are represented by campus ministers. Students are also encouraged to participate in the religious life of the community.

Campus Police

The Campus Police have the responsibility of law enforcement, security, and parking enforcement. The south-center portion of the Graham Building houses the Campus Police Operations Center. A student escort service is available. The telephone number is 2091.

Parking areas are limited on the Longwood campus. As a result, parking is by Longwood permit only for students, faculty, and staff. Every attempt is made to provide ample parking on the campus; however, Longwood cannot guarantee a place on campus for every student wishing to bring a vehicle, nor is it liable for theft from, or vandalism of, these vehicles while parked on campus.

Counseling Center

Longwood maintains a Counseling Center to help students when they are encountering problems in any sphere of academic or personal development. The Counseling Center staff members are committed to helping students achieve the maximum from their education, as well as their personal experiences and involvement at Longwood. Students come to the Counseling Center to learn more about themselves and their life goals and to deal with problems and issues that are difficult to resolve alone. In addition to individual counseling, a variety of workshops and support groups are offered. All services are confidential.

Wellness

Wellness programs at Longwood are designed to assist students in assuming responsibility for their lives and to help them make informed, healthy choices. The wellness concept encompasses physical, intellectual, emotional, occupational, social, and spiritual health and is incorporated into the student development goals. Longwood encourages wellness through programs such as intramurals and campus recreation, the residential experience, academic and co-curricular involvement, and professional and peer-led education on substance abuse, sexual assault, sexually transmitted diseases, and other important issues.

Career Center

Planning for a career and learning the techniques for securing meaningful employment after graduation are integral parts of the collegiate experience. The Career Center exists to assist students in both tasks.

Within the Career Center's Library, students may obtain information regarding career options and utilize materials that will assist them in identifying and evaluating their values, skills, and interests. The Sigi Plus, Virginia View, and FOCIS (Federal Occupational and Career Information System) computerized career guidance systems are available to guide students through the process of selecting a career. In addition, Graduate School

Selector and GRE/GMAT Review software are helpful to students considering graduate school as an option. Workshops on job search strategies, interviewing skills, and resume writing, along with special topical programs, are presented. The Center also serves as a liaison for students, alumni, and prospective employers.

All seniors are encouraged to establish a credentials file which may be mailed to prospective employers upon request. A fee is charged to establish the file which is maintained for ten years after the date of graduation.

Student Health Services

Longwood maintains Student Health Services for students needing nursing and medical care, as well as preventive health care. Services of consultants, hospitalization, private nurses, prescriptions, x-rays, and laboratory tests are at the expense of the student. All student health records are confidential.

Southside Community Hospital is located only a few blocks from Longwood. It is well-equipped and has a capable staff of physicians and surgeons.

Full-time graduate and undergraduate students must have a Health Record on file in Student Health. State law requires that all students must be immunized against measles, rubella, mumps, polio, diphtheria, and tetanus. Screening for tuberculosis, with PPD (mantoux) test and/or chest x-ray, is also required. Failure to comply will result in a stop code being placed on registration. Students are encouraged to maintain a personal record of immunizations should they decide to enroll at other institutions.

A physician is available to see students on a regular basis each week during the academic year by appointment. A nurse practitioner is also available by appointment. Allergy injections are given only when a physician is in attendance.

Accident and Sickness Insurance

Longwood College requires that all full-time students show proof of health insurance coverage. Students who need health insurance coverage may wish to purchase the school accident and sickness insurance plan. Brochures are available in Student Health. Premiums must be paid by the student to the insurance carrier.

Liability Insurance

Longwood carries liability insurance for all students engaged in observation and field experiences. Medical malpractice insurance is provided to students in the allied health programs acting within their assignments.

Cullen Johnson, a modern languages major, was First Runner-Up to Miss America 1995 after being crowned Miss Virginia earlier.

Academic Regulations

Summarized in this section is important information related to the academic work of the College. Students must be familiar with the information in this section. It is the responsibility of each student to be certain that academic requirements necessary for graduation are completely fulfilled. The catalog for the year in which a student enters Longwood College governs academic regulations, general education, and graduation requirements. Transfer students may choose the catalog which applies to continuous full-time students at their class level. If a student re-enrolls in Longwood College after an absence of two or more semesters, the applicable catalog will be the one in effect at the time of re-enrollment. Deans and Department Chairs may waive or substitute major course requirements where appropriate.

Assessment

The purpose of assessment at Longwood College is (a) to help individual students develop to their fullest potential and (b) to improve the educational programs of the College. In the case of both the student and the College, we intend to assess how effectively consensually developed goals are being achieved, and based on these assessment data, we intend to generate recommendations and plans of action that will help achieve these goals.

In 1986 the Virginia Senate adopted Joint Resolution 83 directing state institutions of higher education to "establish assessment programs to measure student achievement." Additionally, the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools requires for accreditation that an institution "must define its expected educational results and describe how the achievement of these results will be ascertained" (Criteria for Accreditation: Commission on Colleges, Section III: Institutional Effectiveness, 1989).

Student participation is therefore required. Students who fail to participate may lose their priority ranking for registration and housing. The College may withhold transcripts for three months for graduating seniors who fail to participate.

Academic Organization

For administrative purposes, Longwood College is divided into three schools, each headed by a dean. Any academic rule or regulation making reference to a dean or specifying "with the Dean's permission" is referring to the dean of the school with which the student's major program of studies is associated.

The programs in the School of Business and Economics are listed on page 71, in the School of Education and Human Services on page 91, and in the School of Liberal Arts and Sciences on page 133. Students who have not declared a major are in the School of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Academic Advising

Longwood's advising program will provide informed academic counseling which makes effective use of the assessment, career planning, student development, and software resources available. Although course selection is important, advisors are trained and prepared to counsel or refer advisees on such matters as the following:

- assisting students in understanding their abilities, interests, and limitations.
- helping students clarify their values, developing an educational program consistent with these values, and relating their educational plans to their career plans.
- referring students to academic and students affairs support services.
- providing information about college and departmental policies, procedures, and resources.
- reviewing opportunities for academic involvement; internships, research with faculty, honorary societies, etc. assisting students in evaluating their progress toward their educational goals.

First year students are advised by selected advisors who participate in the Longwood Seminar program or special departmental advisors designated as transfer advocates. Before registration for the first semester of their second year, students are transferred to advisors in their major departments as assigned by the advising coordinator for that department. Students who have not declared a major by the end of their first year are advised by a special group of advisors coordinated by the Director of the Learning Center or designee.

Although the academic advisor assists students with curriculum decisions and options, the student bears full responsibility for meeting graduation requirements.

Declaration of Major

Students may declare a major upon entering Longwood or at any time during their first four semesters. However, they must declare a major before registering for their fifth semester.

English Proficiency

Any student identified by a faculty member as lacking proficiency in English composition may be referred to the English Proficiency Committee for testing. If the test reflects an inability to write correctly and effectively according to the standards established by the faculty of the college, the student will be placed on communication condition. Students placed on communication condition must undertake the remedial work stipulated by the English Proficiency Committee (usually English 061) by the semester after they are placed on condition and continue it until they pass the examination. Students may not participate in an internship or graduate until they have demonstrated proficiency by passing the examination.

Course Numbers

The courses listed in this catalog that are numbered between 100 and 199 are designed primarily for first and second year students; those between 200 and 299 are for first, second, and third year students; those between 300 and 399 are for second, third, and fourth year students; and those between 400 and 499 are for third and fourth year students. Undergraduate Honors Research Courses are numbered 498 and 499. Courses numbered from 500 to 599 are for graduates and advanced undergraduates; courses numbered 600 to 699 are for graduates only.

Course numbers between 000 and 099 indicate foundation level courses. These courses may be required of some students to make up deficiencies in certain fundamental skill areas preparatory to enrolling in courses requiring those skills. Foundation level courses do not carry credit toward an undergraduate degree.

Selected undergraduate "Honors" courses carry the designation 'Section 50' in the Master Schedule of Classes. A full description of the Honors Program and the eligibility requirements for these courses appears on page 67.

Student Load

The College is organized on the semester plan whereby the credit hour, abbreviated as "credit," is the semester hour. Freshmen normally carry 15 to 17 credits, but may carry 18 credits if they earned at least 2.0 on their previous semester's work. Upperclass students normally carry 15 to 18 credits, but may carry up to 21 if they earned at least 2.0 on their previous semester's work. Students on probation or readmitted after suspension may not enroll for more than 15 credits per semester. A schedule beyond these limits requires special permission from the student's dean or department chair. Students must take at least 12 credits to maintain full-time status.

Registration Procedures

Undergraduate students are expected to register in person or by telephone during one of the opportunities provided during the academic year:

1. Pre-registration – normally a two week period in November for the following Spring Semester or in March/April for the following Fall Semester and limited to continuing undergraduate students.
2. Late (or general) registration – the day immediately preceding the first day of classes each semester.
3. Summer Preview – special registration procedures are provided for new freshmen and new transfer students during summer orientation. New students who cannot attend one of these programs register on late registration day.

Add Period -- Students may make schedule adjustments (adds and/or drops) during the first five class days of each semester. An advisor signature is required for any change made during this period.

Drop Period -- Students may drop classes (with advisor approval) during the first ten class days of each semester. Courses dropped during this period do not appear on the transcript.

"Free W" (No Academic Penalty Withdrawal) Period -- Students may withdraw from individual classes with a grade of "W" (not computed in the GPA) through noon on Friday of the seventh full week of classes. Residential students who fall below full-time status with such a withdrawal will be referred to the academic dean for special permission.

Deadlines -- Appropriate dates for the last day to add, last day to drop, and last day to withdraw without penalty are included in the official college calendar and in the Master Schedule of Classes for regular semesters.

Appropriate dates for last day to add, last day to drop, and last day to withdraw without penalty are included in the summer school schedule for summer classes, and in the appropriate descriptive literature for other classes not meeting on a regular semester pattern.

All registration and add/drop transactions must have the approval of the academic advisor and must be processed in the Registrar's office by the deadline to become effective.

Class Attendance

Students are expected to attend all classes. Failure to attend class regularly impairs academic performance. Absences are disruptive to the educational process for others. This is especially true, when absences cause interruptions for clarification of material previously covered, failure to assume assigned responsibilities for class presentations, or failure to adjust to changes in assigned material or due dates.

It is the responsibility of each instructor to give students a copy of his or her attendance policy at the beginning of each semester and to file a copy of the policy with the Department Chair and the appropriate School Dean.

Instructors may assign a grade of zero or "F" on work missed because of unexcused absences.

Instructors have the right to lower a student's course grade, but no more than one letter grade, if the student misses 10% of the scheduled class meeting times for unexcused absences.

Instructors have the right to assign a course grade of "F" when the student has missed a total (excused and unexcused) of 25% of the scheduled class meeting times.

Students must assume full responsibility for any loss incurred because of absence, whether excused or unexcused. Instructors should permit students to make up work when the absence is excused. Excused absences are those resulting from the student's participation in a college-sponsored activity, from recognizable emergencies, or from serious illness. Faculty who intend to require written excuses from the college infirmary or a personal physician for serious illness, or from faculty members in charge of college-sponsored activities, should so notify students in their written attendance policies.

Examinations

Written comprehensive examinations are given at the end of each course. For the regular session, three hour examination blocks are scheduled during the final examination period which is indicated as part of the official college calendar. This scheduling is based on the course meeting pattern and is published with the Master Schedule of Classes for the semester.

During the summer session and for courses not offered according to the traditional semester format, the examination is normally given at the time of the final class session.

Withdrawal Policy

Students may withdraw from individual classes with a grade of "W" until noon on Friday of the seventh full week of classes. After that date, withdrawals from individual classes are not permitted except for medical or other non-academic emergencies. A student who withdraws, for medical reasons, from the College or from a class after the seventh full week of classes must, by noon of the last class day, have a letter sent to the Dean of the student's school by a physician, detailing the nature of the illness and recommending withdrawal for medical reasons. In extenuating circumstances not related to academic performance, the Dean may grant a withdrawal if a written request from the student is received by noon of the last class day. If the Dean approves the request, the Dean will send a copy of the request or letter to the Registrar and all affected grades for that semester will be noted as "W" on the student's transcript. The Dean will notify the student's faculty members of any grade changes.

If the student is withdrawing from the College, (s)/he should go to the Student Development Office to initiate the College withdrawal process. The process for consideration and approval is otherwise the same as described in the previous paragraph.

For classes held in non-traditional time frames, such as summer school or for off-campus offerings, students may withdraw with no penalty for the first half of the course, but may not withdraw during the second half of the course except for medical or other non-academic emergencies.

Voluntary Withdrawal

It is the responsibility of any student wishing to withdraw from Longwood College (either during a semester or between semester periods) to initiate the official withdrawal process with the College. To initiate this process, the student should notify the Student Development Office (first floor, French Hall, 395-2414), preferably in person or in writing, of his/her intention to withdraw from Longwood. This procedure is necessary only for students voluntarily withdrawing, and does not apply to students being suspended, graduating seniors, seniors going to off-campus field placements in their last semester before graduation, students who are participating in study abroad programs, or to students taking the final year at another institution under one of the cooperative degree programs. Any specific questions about withdrawal from the College should be directed to the Student Development Office.

Students in cooperative programs must notify the Registrar's Office of their acceptance at the participating institution in order to ensure accurate recordkeeping during the final year and to initiate any appropriate refunds.

Enforced Withdrawal

The College will suspend or expel any student who fails to meet the standards of the College and the Student Government Association. In such a case, refunds may or may not be made at the discretion of the Vice President for Student Affairs.

Grades

The achievement of a student in a course is indicated by the grade that is received.

The significance of these marks is indicated below:

GRADING

A: Superior work

B: Above average work

C: Average work

D: Below average, but passing work

P: This grade indicates that the student has received credit for the course on a pass/fail grading option. This option is generally limited to elective courses and to certain courses offered only on a pass/fail basis.

F: Failure

Plus and minus grades may, at the discretion of the instructor involved, be recorded. Pluses and minuses do not affect the computation of the grade point average.

SPECIAL GRADING

I: This grade indicates that because of illness or for other good reason the work of the semester has not been completed. When this work has been completed acceptably, a final grade will be reported. A grade of "Incomplete" will revert automatically to a grade of "F" if the necessary makeup work has not been completed and the grade recorded by the middle of the subsequent regular semester.

R: Re-enroll. This symbol indicates that a student has made satisfactory progress, but needs to repeat the course to reach the required exit proficiency level. The R grade will be used only in English 041, 051, and 061 and Mathematics 052.

P: Pass

AU: This symbol indicates participation on a non-credit (audit) basis by students who meet certain minimum standards set by the course instructor. Students wishing to audit must have permission from the chair of the department (except for courses in the School of Business and Economics, see the Dean) in which the course is offered and are subject to the same tuition and fees as students enrolled for credit.

W: This symbol indicates withdrawal without penalty. It is automatically assigned for withdrawal from the end of the drop period (first two weeks) through the seventh week of the semester and for other documented withdrawals (see paragraph on Withdrawal Policy).

Pass/Fail

Students may take certain courses under the pass/fail system approved by the faculty in 1974. Pass/Fail courses are open to undergraduate students with 30 or more credit hours. A student may take a maximum of three courses; these courses may not be those which are required for general education or for major or minor requirements. Special non-degree students may also elect the pass/fail grading option.

The student must do satisfactory work in order to obtain a passing grade. Satisfactory work is defined as "C" work or better. Courses taken under the pass/fail option will not be included in the calculation of the grade point average. Students who wish to take a course for Pass/Fail credit must notify the Registrar of that fact by the end of the first six weeks of classes in the semester, or the equivalent portion of a summer session. Once this declaration is made, grading status cannot be changed.

In addition to the elective pass/fail grading option described above, certain courses in the college curriculum are designated for pass/fail grading. Such courses do not ordinarily satisfy general education, major, or minor requirements; the students enrolled do not need to make any special declaration and are subject to no restrictions.

Audit

Class size permitting and with department approval, a student may register for a course on an audit basis. Auditing a course means that a student enrolls in a course but does not receive academic credit. A student who registers for audit may be subject to other course requirements at the discretion of the instructor. Audit students are charged the regular rate of tuition and fees, and an audit course is counted as part of the student's semester load. (For purposes of enrollment certification for VA benefits or other programs requiring "for credit" enrollment, audit courses will not count toward the minimum number of credits required for full-time status.)

A change in registration from "audit" to "credit" or from "credit" to "audit" must be effected by the end of the add period. A course taken for audit cannot be changed to credit at a later date, nor can a course taken for credit be changed at a later date to audit.

Quality Points/Quality Hours

The quality of work completed by a student is recognized by the assignment of points to the various grades, commonly referred to as the Four Point System.

Under this system, 4 quality points are given for each credit on which an "A" grade is made; 3 quality points are given for each credit on which a "B" grade is made; 2 quality points are given for each credit on which a "C" grade is made; and 1 quality point is given for each credit on which a "D" grade is made. No quality points are given if a grade of "F" is made.

The term quality hours refers to the total number of hours on which the grade point average is calculated. This measure is derived from hours attempted by subtracting the equivalent credits for those courses that are foundation level courses (any courses with a Oxx number), those which are taken as pass/fail or under any other grading option which excludes calculation in the grade point average, those in which a grade of "I" was awarded, those in which a grade of "W" was awarded, and those which were taken for graduate credit.

Under the four point system, a student's grade point average may be computed by dividing the total number of quality points by the total number of quality hours.

A student's grade point average is based only on work taken at Longwood College. "Grades received in affiliate programs shall be counted in the student's GPA only if the student registered through Longwood."

Repeated Courses

Students may repeat one or more courses, up to a total of five repeats, and have the most recent grade replace the original in grade point average calculations. All enrollments and grades appear on the transcript. After the fifth repeat, both the original and repeated grade will be included in GPA calculations.

Academic Honors

The College recognizes superior scholarship through its Dean's List which is published at the end of each semester. Students whose names appear on it are those who have earned an academic average of 3.50 or above on a minimum of 12 semester hours work taken in the semester with no grade below "C-." Students eligible for the Dean's List must complete all courses in the semester for which they are registered. A grade of "I" on a student's record prevents consideration for this honor.

Grade Estimates

During the regular session, grade estimates are issued to all first-year students and any other students making a "D" or "F." Estimate grades are due to the Registrar by noon on Monday of the fifth full week of classes and are mailed to the student at the permanent address with copies provided to the academic advisor and to the Dean of the School.

Estimates are not recorded as part of the student's permanent academic record. They are, however, an important warning of academic risk to students and advisors.

Grade Appeals

The faculty of Longwood College is unequivocally committed to the principle that evaluation of student work and assignment of grades is a responsibility and a prerogative to be exercised solely by the individual instructor.

However, should a student feels the final course grade received was unfairly or inaccurately awarded, the student first should see the instructor involved, for an explanation of why the grade was assigned. If the student continues to feel the grade is unfair, (s)/he should submit an appeal, in writing, to the Department Chair or for students in Business and Economics, the School Dean with a copy to the faculty member involved, giving the reasons why the grade should be changed, with any available supporting evidence. For grades awarded in the fall semester, the written appeal must be submitted no later than February 1; for grades awarded in the spring semester and in summer school, the appeal must be filed no later than September 15. Appeals filed later will not be considered.

Unless the Department Chair/Dean finds the appeal patently without merit, the Chair/Dean shall hold a joint consultation with the student and the faculty member within two weeks. If the matter cannot be resolved within one week of the consultation, the Department Chair/Dean shall request in writing of the Executive Committee of the Faculty Senate the appointment of a committee to review all matters pertinent to the appeal. The committee shall consist of three members of the full-time faculty in the same or related discipline(s). A copy of the request shall be sent to the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The decision of the committee is final and shall be reported to the Department Chair/Dean, the appropriate Dean, the Vice President for Academic Affairs, and the Registrar, who shall record the grade. The hearing must be completed so that the grade will be final by the end of the sixth week of classes.

Should the appeal involve a grade assigned by a Department Chair, the Dean of the appropriate School will assume the role normally assigned to the Chair. Should the Chair also hold the office of Dean, the Vice President for Academic Affairs will assume the role normally assigned to the Chair. Should the appeal involve a grade assigned by a Dean, the Vice President for Academic Affairs will assume the role of the Chair.

Students should be aware of the fact that the review procedure may result in a grade being raised, lowered, or remaining unchanged.

ACADEMIC PROBATION AND SUSPENSION POLICY

Definition of Good Standing. A student who has been admitted to Longwood and is currently enrolled is in good standing until such time as the student is placed on academic suspension.

Probation. Students who fall below the minimum 2.0 cumulative grade point average will be placed on probation and notified on their grade report. Since academic probation indicates serious academic difficulty, students on probation may not enroll for more than 15 credits per term and are encouraged to seek assistance in the Learning Center.

Suspension. Students will be suspended if they meet any one of the following conditions:

1. they remain on academic probation for two consecutive regular semesters (fall or spring); or
2. their cumulative grade point average falls below 1.2 with 12-23 quality hours at Longwood; or
3. their cumulative grade point average falls below 1.5 with 24 or more quality hours at Longwood.

Notification of suspension will appear on the student's grade report. Academic suspension means required withdrawal from the College for a period of one regular semester (fall or spring) immediately following the session in which the suspension occurs.

Under extenuating circumstances, appeals for readmission and other exceptions to academic policies may be presented to the Faculty Petitions Committee. Students should contact the Registrar's Office for information and deadlines for submitting an appeal.

Students may apply for readmission to Longwood for the semester following completion of the suspension period. Students should apply at least 60 days before the beginning of the term in which they plan to enroll. Readmission to the College is not automatic. The Admissions Committee reviews the student's record and citizenship at Longwood, as well as courses taken elsewhere.

A student denied readmission may appeal in writing through the Admissions Office to the appropriate Dean(s).

Students readmitted after suspension enroll under the status of academic probation and are subject to the provisions of that status. If a student readmitted after suspension fails to obtain a semester grade-point average of 2.0 in any term before achieving a cumulative grade-point average of at least 2.0, the student will receive a second, and final, suspension. Thereafter a student may be considered for readmission only after a period of separation of a minimum of five calendar years.

Re-examination Policy

Re-examinations are not permitted for freshmen, sophomores, or juniors. Seniors may take one re-examination if the following conditions are met:

- Written permission must be obtained from the instructor and delivered to the Registrar.
- The Registrar must certify that the student is eligible to take the re-examination.
- A re-examination fee of $25.00 must be paid prior to taking the re-examination.
- For graduating seniors, the re-examination must be completed and the final grade reported to the Registrar by the instructor before Commencement.
- For non-graduating seniors, permission to take the re-examination must be cleared with the Registrar within ten college working days after the end of the examination period. The re-examination must be taken by the end of the second full week of classes of the subsequent session.

Longwood College Policy on Student Records and Annual Notification

Longwood College student record policies comply fully with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, enacted as section 438 of the General Education Provisions Act. The accumulation, processing, and maintenance of student data by the College is limited to that information, including grades, which is necessary and relevant to the purposes of the college. Personal data of students will be used only for the purpose for which it is collected.

Student data, whenever possible, shall be collected directly from the student; every effort will be made to ensure its accuracy and security. It shall be the express responsibility of the student to notify the Dean of Students' Office of any changes in status. Any student who initially or subsequently refuses to supply accurate and complete personal information as is legally allowed may jeopardize their current student status. Falsification of records with the intent to give untrue information is a violation of the Longwood College Honor Code.

The College shall provide for the confidentiality and security of official student data and, will release student information only as follows:

- (a) Directory information which may include the student's name, birth date, sex, ethnicity, nationality, local address, permanent address, telephone number, Parent's name, major field of study, classification, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, most recent educational institution attended by the student, dates of field experience, and other similar information.

A student may inform the Registrar in writing that any or all directory information may not be released without prior written consent. A student who desires to restrict directory information from the public must complete the Student Data Restriction form (available in the Registrar's Office) at the time of registration for the current academic year. Forms received after the last day to add a class for any semester, including summer, will not become effective until the following semester.

- (b) To the students themselves.
- (c) To parents or a financial institution where financial support of the student is in evidence as defined in Section 152 of the IRS Code of 1970.
- (d) To authorized College personnel (administrative officers, faculty, or their designees) who have legitimate educational interests as determined by the College, such as instruction, advising or educational research or in performance of other duties promoting necessary functions and management of the College as approved by the records access control officer.
- (e) To a third party agency as expressly designated in writing by the student.
- (f) As required by judicial order or court subpoena, or as may be required or permitted by law.
- (g) In a situation of emergency in which the knowledge of confidential student information is necessary to protect the immediate health or safety of a student or other persons.
- (h) Student arrest and charge information classified as public information.

In cooperation with the State Council of Higher Education in Virginia and its efforts to support assessment, Longwood College will provide student transcripts to any public high school or community college in Virginia which the student has previously attended or to any agency charged with the responsibility for collecting and/or analyzing data for the purpose of educational assessment for such a unit. The receiving agency will be charged with responsibility for protecting the student's right to privacy and for appropriate disposition of the records.

Eligible students are permitted to inspect and review educational records of which the student is the sole subject. College policy regarding the inspection and disclosure of educational records is in compliance with the federal statute. To obtain a copy of the Family Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (Section 438) or a copy of the college's policy on student records, contact the Registrar's Office, Longwood College, 201 High Street, Farmville, VA 23909.

Student access to all personal records shall be permitted within 45 days of a written request, during normal office hours. All records shall be available and in a form comprehensible to the student except for:

- (a) Medical records which, upon written authorization, shall be submitted to a psychologist or physician designated by the student.
- (b) Confidential financial statements and records of parents as excluded by law.
- (c) Third party confidential recommendations when such access has been waived by the student. Where a waiver has been given, parents as well as students are excluded from viewing such confidential information. Students may also obtain copies of most parts of their records for a nominal fee.

During normal office hours, the College shall provide an opportunity, for a student either in person, or by mail with proper identification, to challenge information believed to be inaccurate, incomplete, inappropriate, or misleading. All personal data challenged by a student shall be investigated by College officials. Completion of an investigation shall result in the following actions:

- (a) If the College concurs with the challenge, the student's records shall be amended or purged as appropriate; all previous record recipients shall be so notified by the College.
- (b) If the investigation fails to resolve the dispute, the student shall be permitted to file a statement of not more than 200 words setting forth the student's position. Copies of the statement will be supplied, at the student's expense, to previous and subsequent recipients of the record in question.
- (c) If a student wishes to make an appeal of the decision, the student may do so in writing to the President of the College.

The names, dates of access, and purposes of all persons or agencies other than appropriate Longwood College personnel given access to a student's personal records shall be recorded and maintained. Student records are retained by the College for at least one year after completion of work at the College. Permanent academic records from which transcripts are derived are maintained indefinitely. A student may request and receive information concerning the record of access to official College records filed under the student's name.

Inquires concerning student records should be directed to the following departments. When applicable, a schedule of fees for copies of these records are available from the office.

Parental Access to Grades

Longwood assumes all undergraduate students to be financially dependent on their parents; therefore, parents have access to student grades, schedules, transcripts, housing records, and directory information. Grade reports will be mailed to students at their permanent (home) address. Duplicate sets of grades can be made available on request and mailed to parents.

A student who wishes to be treated as financially independent must apply for independent status by completing and filing the appropriate form with the Registrar. Upon approval, the student's grades and records will be available only to him or her.

Parents of students who have declared themselves to be financially independent may gain access to student records and grades only by demonstrating to the College that the student is considered a dependent under the IRS code.

All graduate and non-traditional students will be treated as financially independent. Non-traditional students are 24 years or older and do not reside on campus.

Release of Transcripts

Requests for transcripts of academic records should be directed to the Registrar's Office. Upon written request by the student, an official transcript of the academic record will be issued to the person or institution designated, provided that all the student's obligations to Longwood College have been satisfactorily settled.

The only circumstances in which a student's transcripts are released in the absence of a written authorization are those specific exceptions stated in the preceding policy on student records.

Written requests for transcript generally require one week for processing.

Statement of General Transfer Policy

In general, credits are accepted from institutions that are accredited by the appropriate regional accreditation agency provided such credits carry a grade of "C" or better and are comparable to courses offered at Longwood (see exceptions listed in "Specific Policies"). Transfer of credit does not necessarily imply applicability to specific degree requirements.

Transfer Articulation Agreement With The Virginia Community College System

An accepted transfer student who has earned an Associate in Arts degree (AA), an Associate in Science degree (AS) or an Associate in Arts and Sciences degree (AA&S) in the Virginia Community College System (VCCS) prior to entering Longwood, and whose associate's degree represents a university parallel curriculum, is considered to have satisfied the College's General Education goals and is guaranteed junior class status. Even though all General Education goals have been satisfied, transfer students still must meet all major and degree requirements.

All other associate degrees will be examined individually for applicability of transfer credit.

Specific Policies for Transfer of Credits

1. Students wishing to transfer VCCS "General Usage Courses" (such as cooperative education, seminar and project, and supervised study) will have to provide a college evaluator with additional information about the specific content of such courses.
2. No transfer credit is granted for developmental work, orientation courses, or grades less than "C."
3. Two courses with essentially the same content cannot both be counted toward the same degree.
4. Hours or fractions in excess of those carried by Longwood courses for which substitution is made are counted as free electives. Hours or fractions waived in accepting course substitutions must be made up by elective credits to meet the total semester hour requirements for a degree.

The cumulative grade point average of each student will be calculated only on work taken at Longwood. Transfer credit accepted from other institutions will be used to reduce the number of credits required for graduation, but will not enter into the calculation of the grade point average.

Additional Transfer Policy for Longwood Students Taking Courses for Credit at Other Institutions

Any regularly enrolled undergraduate who wishes to take work at another institution to transfer to Longwood must secure permission from his/her Dean prior to enrolling in such courses. Prior approval provides the student the opportunity to have the course reviewed to determine 1) whether the course will transfer; 2) whether the course will satisfy a particular requirement; and 3) whether the course might be considered a duplicate of a course already taken at Longwood. Upon completion of work, official transcripts must be sent from the host institution to his/her Dean.

Correspondence Course

A maximum of fourteen semester hours of correspondence course credit may be credited toward a degree. WARNING: Correspondence course should not be started after the beginning of the senior year, and should be completed and documented by no later than April 15 of the senior year, since failure to complete correspondence work is a frequent cause of failure to meet graduation requirements. The College does not accept, on transfer, credits earned through correspondence courses in the natural and physical sciences and certain other subjects. Students must obtain approval to include in the degree program correspondence and extension courses prior to enrolling in them. Otherwise, the College can assume no responsibility for accepting such grades on transfer.

The College cannot grant a student permission to enroll in a correspondence course until after the student has attended this institution for at least one full summer session or a semester.

When a student is enrolled in the College and also enrolls in a correspondence course, the credit to be earned in the course will be counted in the total load of work that the student is permitted to carry.

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES PROGRAM

John F. Reynolds, Director

Longwood offers an International Studies Program for those who wish to devote a part of their education to learning about societies other than their own; it aims to give the interested student an opportunity to supplement his/her academic major with a concentration of studies which will enhance an understanding of the larger world in which we must live and work.

Students can minor in International Studies through a combination of courses in modern languages, history, geography, and political science.

See page 135 for more information.

Army ROTC

Army ROTC is available at Longwood for those students who are interested in exploring the possibility of earning a commission as an Army officer during their college years. The 100 and 200 level courses offered during the freshman and sophomore years serve two purposes: (1) they allow students to determine whether serving their country as Army officers will support their goals without making a military commitment, and (2) successful completion of these courses (if otherwise qualified) allows the student to enter the Advanced ROTC Program. Upon enrollment in the Advanced ROTC Program, the student must make a commitment to serve in the Army, and will receive a $3,000 grant paid during his/her enrollment in the Advanced ROTC Program. The student is commissioned as a 2nd Lieutenant in the U.S. Army, U.S. Reserves, or the National Guard upon completing the Advanced ROTC Program and the requirements for graduation. Credit hours earned in any ROTC course apply toward the general elective credits required for graduation.

Senior Honors Research Program

The honors program was inaugurated by the College in 1930 and modified in 1983; it enables capable students to study intensively a subject of their choice, thereby becoming acquainted with methods of research, organization of materials, and the presentation of results in a scholarly manner. Such intensive study stimulates initiative, resourcefulness, and original thought. Students in all departments are eligible to participate in this program. The program is administered by the Senior Honors Research Committee. Under this plan, the student is directed in creative research by an instructor who has specialized in the field and who acts as sponsor. The student enrolls in Honors Research 498 and 499, thereby gaining 6 credits toward graduation.

Senior Honors Research Program Procedures

1. A junior or senior who has a minimum grade point average of 2.7, with a 3.0 in his/her major, may enroll in Honors Research 498 after receiving permission from his/her sponsor, department chair, and the Senior Honors Research Committee prior to the Registrar's deadline for adding courses after the semester begins.
2. To receive this permission, students must submit a written proposal stating their thesis, the method and scope of research, and a preliminary bibliography. Students are encouraged to submit sufficient copies of their proposal early in the semester prior to their beginning honors work. These copies shall be submitted to the chairman of the Senior Honors Research Committee. After submitting the proposal, students must meet jointly with their department chair, sponsor, and the Senior Honors Research Committee to discuss their proposal.
3. If the proposal has been accepted, the student will enroll in Honors Research 498 and an examining committee to be composed of three members (excluding the sponsor) proposed by the sponsor and approved by the department chair and the Senior Honors Research Committee is to be assigned. The members of this committee will be available for consultation.

4. With the consent of his/her advisor, the student may register for Honors Research 499.
5. The student shall follow an accepted style sheet. Four copies of the paper shall be submitted to the Senior Honors Research Committee prior to the examination. Two of these copies will be retained in the library and the other two will be returned to the student.
6. An oral examination will be administered by the examining committee. A member of the Senior Honors Research Committee will be present and will report the recommendations of the examining committee to the Senior Honors Research Committee for final approval. The approval of at least two members of the examining committee is necessary for the granting of honors. The Examining Committee should be convened at least three weeks prior to commencement. The Registrar must be notified no later than two weeks before graduation that a student has completed the necessary work to be awarded honors. Candidates should submit copies to the Examining Committee at least one week prior to the scheduled oral examination.
7. Students who complete Honors Research 498, 499 with a grade of "A" or "B", who have maintained the grade point average indicated above, who have passed an oral examination in their research topic, and who have met any other requirements which their major department may require for graduation, will be graduated with honors in their major field.

Graduate Program

Graduate Program

Longwood College offers a Graduate Program leading to the degrees of Master of Science in Education, Master of Arts in English, and Master of Science in Sociology. In Education, areas of specialization include: supervision, elementary curriculum specialist, Curriculum and Instruction Specialist/English, Curriculum and Instruction Specialist/Speech and Theatre, Curriculum and Instruction Specialist/Environmental Science, Curriculum and Instruction Specialist/Modern Languages, Curriculum and Instruction Specialist/Mild Disabilities, Curriculum Specialist/Physical Education, Curriculum Specialist/Media/School Librarian, Guidance and Counseling, Community and College Counseling, and Reading.

A senior at Longwood College may take up to six hours of graduate credit beyond the undergraduate degree requirements. Such credit may be earned only in 500-level courses and, if it meets course requirements for the degree, may be counted toward a master's degree. The senior must have a 2.5 GPA and must receive permission from the Dean of Graduate and Continuing Studies and the department chair.

A student who holds a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution may apply for admission to graduate study. Applications for graduate study are reviewed by the Graduate Committee monthly. The Dean will notify the applicants, in writing, of the Graduate Committee's action.

For further information regarding admission to the Graduate Program, contact the Director of Admissions, Longwood College. Specific requirements for admission are outlined in the Graduate Catalog.

Academic Programs of Study

Longwood College awards the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science, the Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, the Bachelor of Music, the Bachelor of Fine Arts and the Bachelor of General Studies to successful undergraduate students. (A minimum of 120 semester hours is required for graduation in each of the programs; students in programs which require field experience must complete 128 hours for graduation.)

In order to earn a degree from Longwood College, each student must pursue and complete a concentrated course of study in a major area. These requirements must be met in addition to the completion of the general education requirements. At the undergraduate level, Longwood offers majors in 21 fields of study. Detailed requirements for each major program are listed with the appropriate department. The programs of major study, with the degree options for each, are as follows:

Major	Degree Options
Anthropology	B.A., B.S.
Biology	B.A., B.S.
Business Administration	B.S.B.A.
Chemistry	B.A., B.S.

Cooperative Program in Pre-Engineering

Longwood has cooperative programs with Old Dominion University and the Georgia Institute of Technology which make it possible for students to earn either a B.S. or B.A. degree in physics from Longwood and a B.S. degree in engineering from ODU or Georgia Tech.

In addition, Longwood has cooperative "Physicists to Masters in Materials Science Engineering, Nuclear Engineering, and Engineering Physics" programs with the University of Virginia. These programs make it possible for a student to earn a B.S. or B.A. degree in physics from Longwood and a Masters Degree in Materials Science Engineering, Nuclear Engineering, or Engineering Physics from U.Va.

Pre-Professional Preparation for The Medical Sciences

This curriculum prepares students for admission to accredited schools of medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, medical technology, dental hygiene, physical therapy, occupational therapy, and pharmacy. Pre-professional advisors at Longwood will assist the student in selecting the appropriate courses to meet the admission requirements for any health related program.

Longwood also offers several programs in cooperation with other institutions in Virginia. Students majoring in Biology with a concentration in Medical Technology spend the first three years at Longwood completing the appropriate pre-professional course work. The fourth year is spent in professional training at an affiliated hospital. Upon successful completion of the senior year training, the student is awarded a B.S. degree in biology with a concentration in Medical Technology from Longwood College.

Completion of the requirements of the Longwood pre-professional curriculum does not guarantee admission to the professional program. Admission to all professional programs is competitive. Admission is based on the student's performance during the pre-professional period, personal recommendations, related work experience, and a personal interview. A minimum GPA of 3.0 is usually required for transfer.

Southside Higher Education Consortium

The variety of courses available to Longwood students is increased by a cooperative arrangement with Hampden-Sydney College and with the Southside Higher Education Consortium which includes Longwood, Hampden-Sydney, Southside Virginia Community College, and Saint Paul's College. Under the terms of the arrangement, full-time degree program students in any one of the participating institutions may enroll in certain courses at any other of the participating institutions without added expense.

Students desiring to take advantage of this program must secure approval from their major advisors and from the registrar at their home institutions before they enroll at the other institution. Students sign up for courses on a first-come, first-serve basis until enrollment limits at the host institution are reached. Grades for courses taken under the consortium agreement are maintained only at the home institution. Transportation to the host institution must be arranged by each student.

Academic Requirements

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

The College awards the bachelor's degree to students who have fulfilled the following requirements:

1. Completion of all study required in one of the six degree programs offered. (Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Fine Arts, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, Bachelor of Music, or Bachelor of General Studies).
2. Completion of one hundred twenty (120) semester hours of credit for graduation in major programs that do not require field experiences, or one hundred and twenty-eight (128) semester hours of credit for graduation in major programs that do require field experiences.
3. A minimum average of "C" (grade point average of 2.0) on all work taken at the College and a minimum average of "C" (grade point average of 2.0) in those courses constituting the major subjects or field. By definition, the major subject or field consists of all courses listed as "major requirements" in the major program curriculum plus all additional courses taken in the same discipline as the major except those courses which may be specifically excluded by the major department. Students choosing to Minor in a field of study must have a 2.00 GPA in courses in that field of study.
4. All students will take at least 2 writing-intensive courses beyond courses required for general education.
5. Removal of any communication condition.
6. A minimum of 25% of the degree credit must be earned at Longwood, with 30 credit hours at the upper level. (Exception: Biology majors with a concentration in Med-Technology who take 300-400 level courses at affiliated institutions will be allowed to count that course work toward fulfilling the 30 hours graduation requirement.)
7. Not more than fourteen hours of credit by correspondence.
8. Approval of the individual by the general faculty as a candidate for graduation.
9. A formal Application for Degree. This application for graduation must be filed with the Registrar at least one full year prior to the date of graduation.

A Freshman Year Requirement

The Longwood Seminar (LSEM 100, 1 credit) is required for all entering freshman and transfer students at the freshman level who have not taken a similar course. It is an introduction to the goals of a college education, the skills and knowledge needed for college involvement and success, and the programs and facilities of Longwood College.

General Education Requirements

The purpose of the General Education Program of Longwood College is the development of disciplined, informed, and creative minds. The program is defined by ten goals (see the General Education section of the Catalog on pages 61-63 for a complete description of this program). Students may choose among the core courses listed for each goal. Each of the courses listed under each goal has been specifically designed to address that goal. Courses used by the student to satisfy general education requirements may not be used to satisfy major program requirements except for Goal 10. The Dean may authorize an exemption for any goal when a student, due to major requirements, must take at least two courses listed for that goal. A total of 33 hours of core courses is required for the General Education Program.

Additional Requirements for Specific Degrees

In addition to the 33 hours of core courses required for the General Education Program, students must fulfill the following requirements for specific degrees:

1. Bachelor of Arts Degree

Foreign Languages (3 credits) -- at the 202 level or above

Humanities (6 credits) -- in at least two disciplines and not in the discipline of the major

Modern Language majors must complete the degree requirement in a language other than their language of concentration.

Students who are not native speakers of English may be exempted from the B.A. language requirement provided that they have received their high school diploma, or its equivalent, from a school in their native land where the language of instruction was other than English.

2. Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree

Humanities (6 credits) -- in at least two disciplines and not in the discipline of the major

Social Sciences (3 credits) -- Students must take one of the following courses:

History 200, 336, 354, 359 or 360; Geography 241; Political Science 436, 437, 469, or 3 credits at the 202 or above level foreign language. (Students currently enrolled earning a BFA have the option to use either the catalog under which they enrolled or the 1993-94 catalog.)

3. Bachelor of Science Degree and

Bachelor of Science in Business Administration Degree

Mathematics or Computer Science (3 credits)

Social Science (3 credits)

Natural Science (4 credits)

4. Bachelor of Music Degree

Humanities (9 credits) -- not in the discipline of the major

5. Bachelor of General Studies

See the General Studies section of this Catalog (page 134) for a complete description of this program.

The following disciplines fall within the categories of "Humanities" and "Social Sciences":

Humanities

Music

Theatre

Dance

Modern Language

Literature

Philosophy

Religion

Speech

Social Sciences

Anthropology

Economics

Geography

History

Political Science

Psychology

Sociology

Major Program Requirements

The specific major requirements of individual disciplines are listed separately in the Academic Programs section of this catalog. A few majors require a general education core course as part of their major program; in those cases, that core course satisfies a major program requirement and cannot be used to satisfy a general education requirement. The Dean may authorize an exemption for any general education goal when a student, due to major requirements, must take at least two courses listed for that goal.

Responsibility

It is solely the responsibility of the candidate for graduation to meet all of the above requirements, including the completion of 120 or 128 semester hours of work, whichever is appropriate.

Graduation

Only those students who have completed the degree requirements established by Longwood College will participate in graduation ceremonies. Graduating students will receive their diplomas on the day of Commencement.

Graduation Honors

Those students who have earned 60 or more hours at Longwood College and whose general averages for all Longwood credits offered for a degree are 3.35 or above are graduated with the following honors:

Cum Laude -- 3.35-3.54

Magna Cum Laude -- 3.55-3.74

Summa Cum Laude -- 3.75-4.00

The College also recognizes graduating seniors who have successfully completed an honors program in a specialized academic area.

General Education

General Education Requirements: Goals and Core Courses

The purpose of the General Education Program of Longwood College is the development of disciplined, informed, and creative minds. The program is defined by the following ten goals. Students may choose among the core courses listed for each goal. Each of the courses listed under each goal has been specifically designed to address that goal. Courses used by the student to satisfy general education requirements may not be used to satisfy major program requirements except for Goal 10. The Dean may authorize an exemption for any goal when a student, due to major requirements, must take at least two courses listed for that goal. A total of 33 hours of core courses is required for the General Education Program. Social Work 336/3 credits
Sociology 456/3 credits
Therapeutic Recreation 425/1 credit
Theatre 485/2 credits
Physical Education 398/3 credits

General Education: Course Criteria

In addition to addressing one of the above ten goals, each core course is specifically designed to satisfy the following nine criteria:

1. General Education courses should teach a disciplinary mode of inquiry (e.g., literary analysis, statistical analysis, historical interpretation, philosophical reasoning, aesthetic judgment, the scientific method) and provide students with practice in applying their disciplinary mode of inquiry, critical thinking, or problem solving strategies.
2. General Education courses should introduce creativity as a process and present examples.
3. General Education courses should consider questions of ethical values.
4. General Education courses should explore past, current, and future implications (e.g. social, political, economic, psychological or philosophical) of disciplinary knowledge.
5. General Education courses should encourage consideration of course content from diverse perspectives.
6. General Education courses should provide opportunities for students to use computers for word processing, data base, spreadsheet, graphics or other ways of organizing information.
7. General Education courses should require at least one substantive written paper, oral report, or course journal. General Education courses should also require students to articulate information or ideas in their own words on tests and exams.
8. General Education courses should require specific assignments which necessitate use of library resources.
9. General Education courses should foster awareness of the common elements among disciplines and the interconnectedness of disciplines.

Jayne Fanshaw, Secretary

The mission of Continuing Studies is to further the community service goals of Longwood by providing educational opportunities, both credit and noncredit, to persons of all ages in Southside Virginia. Longwood provides college-level experiences, through all off campus and summer programs, which lead to 1.) graduate degrees in Education, 2.) teacher recertification, 3.) professional advancement, and 4.) other programs as the need arises. Additional offerings include conferences and avocational, leisure time and children's programs. Continuing Studies represents Longwood as a general outreach arm of the college and serves as coordinator of community use of college facilities.

STAFF

Carl Bramlitt, M.S., Program Coordinator, CEC
Sarah E. Keatley, M.A., Director of Special Programs, Assistant to the Dean
Dennis K. Moore, M.S., Program Coordinator, CEC
Deborah C. Roller, M.S., Director, CEC
Kelly Weatherman, M.A., Director of Non-Credit Programs and Summer Intensive Courses

OTHER PROGRAMS

Off-Campus Programs

Degree programs or special courses for teachers are scheduled at selected off-campus sites. Longwood operates the Halifax-South Boston Continuing Education Center and offers many site courses.

Intensive Courses

Summer intensive courses include three-credit graduate classes which are appropriate for teacher recertification. Students are given assignments to be completed prior to and/or after the classes which meet for one or two weeks on campus.

Conferences

Prestigious organizations, such as Girls State, Virginia Department of Education, and PTA, hold their summer training sessions and conferences at Longwood.

Community Program

Longwood and its off-campus center offer a variety of avocational and leisurely study opportunities to the community. These programs include classes in fine arts, health and fitness, computers, special interest areas and classes for children.

HALIFAX/SOUTH BOSTON CONTINUING EDUCATION CENTER OF LONGWOOD

The mission of the Halifax County/South Boston Continuing Education Center of Longwood is to be innovative in the delivery of programs: continuing education courses for professionals; industrial and business training programs from Virginia's colleges, universities and state agencies in the following areas: post-secondary education classes and degree programs; satellite workshops and programs for civic and public organizations; adult literacy training; financial aid information for college studies.

It is the goal of the Halifax County/South Boston Continuing Education Center to provide opportunities of learning for the people in the area so they can develop the skills and motivation necessary to compete in the global economy.

OFF-CAMPUS WITHDRAWAL POLICY

Students who withdraw before the first class meeting will be refunded all tuition less a $25 withdrawal fee. (This does not apply to classes where registration is held at the first class meeting.) Students must contact the Director of Off-campus Programs in Continuing Studies (or the Program Coordinator at the CEC) and submit a letter of withdrawal postmarked prior to the first class meeting.

Students who withdraw before the second class meeting will be refunded all tuition less one credit hour and the registration fee. Students must submit a letter of withdrawal to the Director of Off-campus Programs prior to the second class meeting (students may not attend the second class meeting). The letter must be postmarked on or before the day of the second class meeting.

After the second class, no refunds will be made except in extenuating circumstances. Refunds may be recommended to the Vice President for Business Affairs by the Dean of Graduate and Continuing Studies.

In order to withdraw and receive a grade of "W", students must submit a letter of withdrawal to the Director of Off-campus Programs postmarked before the mid-point of the class. Students who withdraw before the first class meeting will have no record of enrollment in this class on their academic records.

Honors

Susan H. Bagby, Director

In the fall semester of 1983 Longwood College initiated an Honors Program in Arts and Sciences; in 1990 the program was expanded to include course offerings from disciplines beyond arts and sciences. The program is designed to offer attractive and challenging opportunities for intellectual growth to well-prepared and highly-motivated students. The emphasis in any course designated as "honors" is on teaching students to articulate an understanding of a given field, to relate that field of knowledge to others, to think independently, and to write and speak clearly and cogently. Honors classes are generally smaller than usual and provide opportunities for intensive class discussion and debate and for more than the usual number of individual conferences with course instructors.

Some honors classes are specially designated sections of courses required for general education; others are especially created for honors students and may be team-taught and inter-disciplinary in nature. Upper level courses which do not have prohibitive prerequisites may be designated as honors courses, and students formally enrolled in the honors program may occasionally be able to arrange for up to two advanced courses in the major field to be "enhanced" for honors credit. Students enrolled in the Longwood Honors Program who also elect to undertake Senior Honors Research may count six hours of that work in place of two of the three upper-level courses.

While the program is open to all entering students with SAT scores of at least 1050 and a high school GPA of at least 3.0, the Honors Committee recognizes that those scores are not the only or even the best predictors of outstanding achievement. The Committee welcomes applications from any second-semester or upperclass student who attains a cumulative grade point average of 3.25 and from incoming transfer students with a grade point average of 3.25. Any Longwood student who meets the qualifications for admission to the Honors Program but who does not wish to take a full range of honors work may register for one or more classes.

Twenty competitive honors scholarships are available for those entering the program and may be retained as long as students make satisfactory progress in the program and maintain honors grades. To remain in the Longwood Honors Program a student must maintain an average of 3.25 in all honors courses and an overall GPA of 3.25, both to be computed at the end of each year. Successful completion of two courses in a single modern or classical language or American Sign Language or two approved computer courses and of eight honors courses, three of which must be at the 300-level or above, will entitle a student to be graduated from the Longwood Honors Program. Honors graduates are recognized at graduation and their honors standing is permanently recorded on their transcripts.

Students enrolled in the honors program will have available to them in their first year placement in special sections of the Longwood seminar and housing on an honors floor with access to a study lounge equipped with networked computers; upperclass students may elect to stay on the honors floor or to move into the Academic Residence Community, and they may apply for honors exchange programs on other campuses.

LONGWOOD HONORS COURSES

Honors sections of many of the general education courses are offered frequently. Introductory and upper-level courses in every academic discipline may be offered, and from time to time interdisciplinary, team-taught, and special topics courses are scheduled either in specific departments or as Honors 295 or Honors 495.

DEGREE PROGRAMS

The School of Business and Economics offers courses leading to a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, a Bachelor of Science in Economics and a Bachelor of Arts in Economics. In addition, minors are offered in business administration and economics.

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the School of Business and Economics is to provide the base of knowledge and experience that will enable our graduates to be effective and successful business leaders who place business decisions into the broader context of the society in which they function. Through our approach to teaching and our interaction with students, we seek to develop our students (whose backgrounds range from average to superior) into graduates who are competitive with those of any school in the state. Our vision is to become Virginia's best undergraduate business school within a medium-size, comprehensive, state college or university.

Integral to this mission and to this vision is excellent teaching by highly qualified teachers who have an exceptional grasp of subject matter, a love of teaching, the gift of imparting what they know and love to students, and the desire to help each individual student reach his or her highest potential.

Essential to fulfilling the mission and vision is a three-way partnership among the faculty, the students, and the business community -- a partnership enriched by small classes, individual and team projects for students, one-on-one relationships between faculty and students, and frequent interaction among students, faculty, and real-world businesses through internships, visiting business leaders, and our Corporate Advisory Board.

To enhance the effectiveness of our faculty, we urge them to pursue intellectual endeavors and to provide contributions and services to the College and region. We strive to support them:

- Through professional development opportunities that enhance their teaching skills and knowledge.
- By providing them with the appropriate facilities, equipment, and technology.
- By fostering access to business and community leaders.

Strategic Goals

- Provide customer and market-based data to ensure that all Business School processes reflect the changing business environment.
- Establish a supportive and creative faculty culture.
- Create an exciting student environment that reflects a diverse society.
- Establish a curriculum that reflects the needs of a changing business world.
- Promote value-added intellectual contributions.
- Provide effective instructional resources.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (B.S.B.A.)

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

- Courses must be taken in the order approved by the faculty of the School of Business and Economics. In the first semester, all students will be given a sample schedule. Additional copies are available in Hiner 114.
- Students must declare a concentration before the preregistration date for the spring semester of their junior year.
- All prerequisites listed for individual courses must be satisfied (see individual course listings for prerequisites).
- Students must meet course requirements in general education, non-business, business core, and a chosen area of concentration. The B.S.B.A. degree program is structured progressively.
- Students may count no more than six credit hours of internship (the 490 courses) and/or Small Business Problem Solving (Management 492) toward the 120 credit-hour requirement for any degree offered by the School of Business and Economics.
- Any "business core" course substitution must be approved by the Dean, School of Business and Economics.
- Under special circumstances, a student may have a course prerequisite waived by obtaining written permission of the instructor and Dean of the School of Business and Economics.

GENERAL GUIDELINES

- Every attempt has been made to state the major and minor requirements as clearly as possible. Students are strongly encouraged to maintain close communication with their faculty advisor in order to plan a program that meets their individual goals and needs. Prior to registering for the second semester during the first year, all first-year students will be assigned an individual faculty advisor. All transfer students will be assigned an individual faculty advisor prior to registering for any courses. The faculty advisor will assist with program planning, course selection, registering for courses, and with considering individual career goals, expectations and job placement.
- For the purpose of assessing the quality of the program, first year students and graduating seniors will be tested.
- The School of Business and Economics does not guarantee that all courses will be offered every year.

Concentration Areas

Students pursuing a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree (B.S.B.A.) must concentrate in one of the following six areas:

Accounting: Students concentrating in accounting take courses which provide both technical instruction and a managerial perspective relevant to a career in accounting. The accounting concentration is designed to prepare students to be professional accountants in industry, government, or public practice. Students who complete the requirements for a concentration in accounting are eligible to take the Virginia Certified Public Accountant examination.

Economics: Economic logic underlies all business decisions and all government policies. A goal of the economics concentration is to teach students how to think critically about a situation and analyze its implications. Emphasis is placed on exposing students to important consumer, business, government and international situations. Graduates with a background in economics are hired by government and industry. In addition, a concentration in economics is a traditional education for students wishing to enter law school.

Finance: The finance concentration will prepare students to make financial assessments and managerial decisions, as well as plan and supervise financial activities for businesses and clients. Financial managers must be knowledgeable in a wide variety of fields, including capital budgeting, investments, capital markets, financial institutions, and emerging financial instruments. The finance curriculum provides background in these areas. It also provides a variety of methods of analyzing decisions faced in a modern business.

Management: The management concentration explores the relationship of behavioral and quantitative management techniques in the application of human resources, production processes, and organizational development. This curriculum provides students with skills in communication and critical thinking leading to management careers in any organization. In addition, the management skills of planning, directing, motivating, and controlling are essential for achieving organizational goals. The management concentration can provide a strong foundation for future graduate study in business.

Management Information Systems: The management information systems concentration is designed to prepare students to plan, design, and implement information systems in a modern computer environment. Students will learn how to manage information technologies and exploit their full potential. The concentration prepares students for a career in a variety of organizations ranging from the end users to the creators of information technology.

Marketing: Careers in advertising, buying, selling, logistics, product management, international marketing, and marketing research are only a few of the fields available to students concentrating in marketing. This concentration is designed to prepare students for managerial positions in these fields. The curriculum includes not-for-profit, governmental, and international applications of marketing knowledge. Classroom knowledge, internship opportunities, and involvement in student business organizations are integral components of the marketing concentration.

ECONOMICS PROGRAM

If ignorance paid dividends, most Americans could make a fortune out of what they don't know about economics. So, imagine what could be done with knowledge about economics. Economics is more than the study of the economy at large. Economics extends to business decision-making, such as, the analysis of the costs and benefits associated with a specific activity, determining optimal resource use and optimal output levels, the determination of prices in markets, the effects of regulation . . . In fact, it can be argued that economic logic underlies all business decisions and all government policies. A goal of the economics major is to teach the student how to think critically about a situation and analyze its implications. For example, how will businesses and workers be affected by the establishment of a national health care policy? If the price of inputs to a business production process increases, how should it respond? How will a business be affected in the world market by a weakening dollar? Emphasis is placed on exposing students to important analytical techniques. The students will, for example, learn some statistical techniques for data analysis that are commonly used by banking institutions, firms, and government agencies. Graduates with a background in economics are hired by government agencies that require extensive data analysis and policy evaluation. Industry hires economists for analysis and planning positions and financial industries also have a need for individuals with the ability to perform economic analysis. In addition, a major in economics is a traditional pre-law degree since students with a background in economics enter law school with well-refined analytical tools and an ability to think critically.

Two degrees in economics are offered: the Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Arts. Both degrees are designed to offer the student flexibility in fashioning the major, by teaching the student how to think critically about typical issues faced in business and social policy and how to analyze their implications. Emphasis is placed on exposing the student to decision-making tools used in a variety of career paths. All economics majors are required to take 36 hours of economics courses.

There are three curricular tracks offered for the Bachelor of Science in Economics, each of which has a different emphasis. The first track (Business Economics Concentration) focuses on economics while requiring students to take supporting courses in accounting, finance, computing, and statistical methods. It is designed to prepare students for analytical positions in a variety of businesses.

The second track (Technical Analysis Concentration) offers technical analysis and is intended for those students who plan to enroll in a master's or doctoral program upon leaving Longwood. In addition to economics requirements, this concentration emphasizes important analytical tools, such as math and statistics, that are essential to graduate school success. Students interested in this plan will be encouraged to take even more math than the requirements suggest.

The third track (the Bachelor of Science degree without a concentration) provides the most flexibility in both course work and career choices.

There is one Bachelor of Arts degree offered, the Bachelor of Arts in International Economics. This degree provides a wide ranging international experience. As part of this program, the student is required to take international economics courses and the International Studies Minor. In addition, Longwood's Office of International Studies offers many study-abroad experiences which complement this major.

MILITARY SCIENCE PROGRAM

Faculty and Staff

Perry A. Colvin, Major, Assistant Professor of Military Science

Dana Owen, Secretary

SFC Daniel P. Ostermann, Instructor

Army ROTC (Reserve Officer's Training Corps) is a four- or two-year course of study, open to men and women, which may be taken by students concurrently with their regular work. Credits earned in Military Science are counted as elective hours and may be applied toward hours required to fulfill the graduate requirements for any degree.

Students enrolled in the Advanced Course receive a grant of $1,500. Uniforms, books, and equipment for all courses are provided by the Army. Students may compete for ROTC scholarships that include all academic fees, tuition, books, supplies and equipment, plus a grant of up to $4,500.

Hampden-Sydney students are encouraged to enroll in military science classes and are also eligible for scholarships.

The Military Science program is divided into two phases: the Basic Course, 100- and 300-400 level classes, normally taken during the freshman and sophomore years; and the Advanced Course, 300-400 level classes, normally taken during the junior and senior years. Students enrolled in the Basic Course do not incur any military obligation and are not required to take the Advanced Course.

NOTE: Basic Course classes cannot be taken by juniors or seniors without permission from the Department of Military Science.

ACCOUNTING COURSES

* General Education Course

- * ACCT/MISY 494. Ethics in Accounting and Information Management Development of the ability to make informed, ethical choices in situations faced in business settings with an emphasis on dilemmas typically faced by managers of accounting and other information. 1 credit.

Accounting 240. PRINCIPLES OF ACCOUNTING I. Basics of the accounting cycle, including use of journals and ledgers, and the preparation of balance sheets and income statements. 3 credits.

Accounting 495. SPECIAL TOPICS IN ACCOUNTING. An individually designed course that allows the student to pursue advanced topics in specific accounting areas. Topics may vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit when topics change. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. 1-3 credits.

ECONOMICS COURSES

* General Education Course

 Writing Intensive Courses

* Economics 111. CONTEMPORARY ECONOMIC ISSUES AND SOCIAL POLICY. Fundamental economic principles and the economics of social issues. Material is addressed in a manner that illustrates the importance of understanding economic issues that affect you as a consumer, citizen, and taxpayer. Example topics are: environmental issues, poverty and inequality, the war on drugs, the determination of prices in markets and price manipulation, and the collapse of communism. The format for all classes is discussion. 3 credits.

Economics 217. PRINCIPLES OF ECONOMICS (MICRO EMPHASIS). Overview of economic theory and real world applications. For example, how are prices in the economy determined? How do economic markets operate? How do economic events such as technological advances, increases in input prices, and government policy changes affect market prices and the consumer? Some time will be spent on discussion of market structures such as competitive markets versus monopoly. Real world applications will be used to illustrate economic theories. 3 credits.

Economics 218. PRINCIPLES OF ECONOMICS (MACRO EMPHASIS). Study of the economy as a whole. Topics include the determination of a general price level for the economy, determinants of inflation, unemployment, interest rates, and Gross Domestic Product. For example, this course addresses how the Federal Reserve uses monetary policy to manipulate economic activity, inflation, and interest rates. 3 credits.

Economics 295. SPECIAL TOPICS. Selected topics in economics. The topics may vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit when topics change. 1-3 credits.

Economics 304. EXPERIMENTAL ECONOMICS. This course is project oriented. Students will work with the professor on grant-related research in order to learn about experimental design, protocol, and recruiting. Students will also work in groups on experimental projects which will be presented to the class. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. 3 credits.

Economics 306. ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT. Examination and analysis of alternative theories of economic development in Less Developed Countries. Special emphasis is on factors such as capital formation, population growth, institutions, and policies and planning for development. Prerequisite: ECON 218. 3 credits.

Economics 307. POVERTY, INEQUALITY, AND REDISTRIBUTION. Focus on poverty and inequality in the United States as well as internationally. Attention will be paid to the current welfare system in the U.S. and to potential reforms. More subtle inequalities will be addressed, such as education, labor regulation, and the impact of various government policies such as drug prohibition. Prerequisite: ECON 217. 3 credits.

Economics 310. COMPARATIVE ECONOMIC SYSTEMS. Critical study of alternative economic systems found in countries around the world. The economic systems of specific countries will be analyzed, including the centrally planned economies of Russia, Hungary, and Poland. Reform in the former Soviet Union is an especially timely topic. The economies of lesser developed countries will also be discussed. Prerequisites: ECON 217 and 218. 3 credits.

Economics 311. MONEY AND BANKING. The function of money as legal tender and the relation of money and credit to prices. Emphasis will be placed on monetary policy, interest rates, and the Federal Reserve System, international applications, and problems of currency exchange. Prerequisites: ECON 217 and 218. 3 credits.

Economics 312. MANAGERIAL ECONOMICS. This course applies economics to business decision-making. Applied regression analysis, an important empirical tool that is widely used in business and government, will be used to study managerial insights that can be gained from business data. Additional topics include linear programming, forecasting, and business strategies for firms in competitive and monopolistic markets. Prerequisites: ECON 217 and MANG 275. 3 credits.

*Economics 313. PUBLIC ECONOMICS. This course addresses the role of government in a market economy. The economic rationale for government intervention in correcting market failures is analyzed, along with regulation and redistribution issues. Emphasis is placed on the evaluation of government policies and programs, as well as potential reforms; for example, health care, drug prohibition, education reform, and farm subsidy programs. Contrast is made between bureaucratic and market solutions. Prerequisites: ECON 217. 3 credits.

Economics 314. ENVIRONMENTAL AND RESOURCE ECONOMICS. This course analyzes environmental concerns and the economics of resource use. Specifically, a contrast will be made between governmental solutions to environmental issues and market-based environmental reforms. Issues addressed include: animal extinction and common ownership problems, pollution, water management, global warming/global cooling, and land management. The underlying theme of the course is the ability to use economic theory to develop appropriate incentive structures for the use of economic resources. Prerequisite: ECON 217. 3 credits.

*Economics 315. ECONOMIC HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES. The economy of the United States from the Colonial era to the present day. Emphasis is on economic foundations of social and political evolution, from slavery through the Great Depression to the emergence of the Pacific Rim. Paper required. 3 credits.

*Economics 316. HISTORY OF ECONOMIC THOUGHT. Selected theories of economics, from Aristotle to Buchanan. Emphasis on developments in economic thinking after the advent of Adam Smith's Wealth of Nations, with particular attention given to mercantilism, classical thought, institutionalists, monetarism, Keynesian economics, and neoclassical thought. Paper required. 3 credits.

Economics 317. INTERMEDIATE MICROECONOMICS. Advanced topics in microeconomics supplemented by applications of microeconomic theory to policy and business issues. Theory of the consumer and the production will be emphasized. Prerequisite: ECON 217. 3 credits.

Economics 318. INTERMEDIATE MACROECONOMICS. Advanced coverage of monetary and fiscal theory and policy with emphasis on money supply and interest rates, national income determination, unemployment, inflation, and international issues. Prerequisites: ECON 217 and 218. 3 credits.

Economics 319. INTERNATIONAL ECONOMICS. Analytical approach to gains derived from trade, treatment of various theories of international trade (classical and current). Includes analysis of economic and political influences on exports and imports, foreign exchange rates, concept of elasticity as applied to international trade, balance of payments, significance of foreign trade and investment. Prerequisites: ECON 217 and 218. 3 credits.

*Economics 410. SENIOR SEMINAR. Designed as a seminar for senior level economics students. The course will be project oriented. Emphasis placed on discussion and project presentation. Topic will vary by semester. Prerequisites: Senior status in economics or approval of instructor. 3 credits.

Economics 411. ECONOMICS OF LABOR AND DISCRIMINATION. Economic analysis of labor markets, including issues of labor supply and demand, wage determination, unemployment, job search, education, and other human capital investments. Emphasis will be placed on the analysis of data on labor market outcomes relative to ethnicity and gender. Theories of discrimination will be addressed. Policy issues and programs such as minimum wage, comparable worth pay programs, and affirmative action will be discussed. Prerequisite: ECON 217. 3 credits.

Economics 412. INDUSTRIAL ORGANIZATION AND REGULATION. Focus will be on organization of the firm and the impacts of regulation. Topics include industrial pricing practices, reasons why firms exist, why they vertically or horizontally integrate, and recent downsizing trends. The regulation component will address antitrust legislation, pricing regulations, and rate of return regulations such as those commonly imposed on public utilities. Prerequisite: ECON 217. 3 credits.

Economics 414. ECONOMETRICS AND FORECASTING. Introduction to the basic concepts used in economic data analysis. Emphasis is on applications of linear regression techniques to analyze common empirical problems in economics, business, and government. Forecasting techniques that are commonly used by economists will be covered. Students will receive hands-on experience in data collection, computer software, and project design. Prerequisites: ECON 217 and 218, MANG 275 or Math 171. 3 credits.

Economics 490. INTERNSHIP IN ECONOMICS. Internship in economics is an on-the-job learning experience designed to give students applied experience with economics principles. Prerequisites: 60 credits, cumulative GPA of 2.5 or greater, and permission of an intern coordinator required. 1-6 credits.

Economics 495. SPECIAL TOPICS. Selected topics in economics. The topics may vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit when topics change. 1-3 credits.

Economics 498. ADVANCED TOPICS IN ECONOMICS. This is an individually designed course that allows the student to pursue advanced topics in specific areas of economics. Prerequisites: Senior standing and permission of instructor. 1-3 credits.

FINANCE COURSES

Writing Intensive Course

Finance 250. PERSONAL FINANCE. Basic fundamentals in selected areas of personal finance; role of the individual as a consumer and as an investor. 3 credits.

Finance 295. SPECIAL TOPICS. Selected topics in finance. The topics may vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit when topics change. Prerequisite: Permission of Instructor. 1-3 credits.

Finance 350. PRINCIPLES OF FINANCE. Principles and practices of financial management within a business firm. Examines acquisition of funds, cash flow, financial analysis, capital budgeting, working capital requirements, and capital structure. Prerequisites: MISY 170, ACCT 240 and 242, ECON 217 and 218 and MANG 275. 3 credits.

Finance 351. RISK MANAGEMENT. An introduction to the fundamentals of risk management. General understanding of the varied applications of the principles of insurance to situations involving risk. Prerequisite: FINA 350. 3 credits.

Finance 353. MANAGERIAL FINANCE. This course focuses on corporate financial decision-making. Topics include risk assessment, capital budgeting, cost of capital, asset pricing models, financing strategy, and international analysis. Prerequisite: FINA 350. 3 credits.

Finance 354. WORKING CAPITAL AND TREASURY FUNCTIONS. This course complements FINA 353; it concerns managing liquidity, working capital, long-term liabilities, selecting a capital structure, obtaining long-term financing, setting dividend policy, financing internationally, and overseeing pension plans. Prerequisite: FINA 350. 3 credits.

Finance 450. FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT.* Considerations, analyses and decisions pertinent to the financial management of a business firm. The course will make extensive use of cases. Prerequisite: FINA 350. 3 credits.

Finance 451. INVESTMENT ANALYSIS AND PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT. Characteristics and analysis of individual securities as well as the theory and practice of optimally combining securities into portfolios. The presentation of material is intended to be rigorous and practical, without being overly quantitative. Prerequisite: FINA 350. 3 credits.

Finance 452. FINANCIAL MARKETS AND INSTITUTIONS. Characteristics of and interrelationships among financial markets, securities, and institutions. Includes analysis of futures, options, and other derivative instruments. Prerequisite: FINA 350. 3 credits.

Finance 453. PRINCIPLES OF REAL ESTATE. Principles of ownership and transfer of real property interests; buying, selling, or leasing residential or investment real estate; and legal, economic, financial, and appraisal aspects of the subject matter. Prerequisite: FINA 350. 3 credits.

Finance 490. INTERNSHIP IN FINANCE. Internship in finance is an on-the-job learning experience designed to give students applied experience with finance principles. Prerequisites: 60 credits, cumulative GPA of 2.5 or greater, and permission of an intern coordinator required. 1-6 credits.

Finance 495. SPECIAL TOPICS. Selected topics in finance. The topics may vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit when topics change. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor. 1-3 credits.

Finance 498. ADVANCED FINANCE TOPICS. Advanced topics in finance. This is an individually designed course that allows the student to pursue advanced topics in specific finance areas. Prerequisites: Senior standing and permission of instructor. 1-3 credits.

MANAGEMENT COURSES

The Department of Education, Special Education and Social Work offers:

- A. A 40-credit undergraduate program in elementary education (N, K-8). Students major in Liberal Studies and register for the elementary education program.
- B. A five-year program in special education with a N, K-12 mild to moderate teaching endorsement (emotional disturbance, learning disabilities, and mild-moderate mental retardation.) Students must major in Liberal Studies and register for courses in the special education program. Students completing the undergraduate program will receive a bachelor's degree in Liberal Studies and upon the completion of the fifth year will receive a master's degree in special education. Students must complete the fifth year to be endorsed to teach special education.
- C. A B.S. or B.A. degree in Social Work.
- D. A B.S. or B.A. degree in Speech/Language Pathology and Audiology. Because this is a preprofessional program, students must earn a master's degree in speech pathology or audiology or education of the deaf/hearing impaired to be licensed as a speech pathologist or audiologist or teacher of the deaf/hearing impaired.
- E. A Master of Science in Education degree: Students interested in enrolling in one of the graduate programs need to consult the Longwood College Graduate Catalog.

Admission Into the Teacher Education and Professional Semester Programs:

Applications for admission into the teacher education and the Professional Semester programs are available in the Office of the Coordinator of Student Teaching and Field Services (Wynne 104).

Students must complete one application (for both the teacher education and the student teaching programs) and make an appointment for an interview with the coordinator during the fall semester of their junior year. Graduates of community colleges need to apply during their first semester at Longwood. Students with baccalaureate degrees who plan to enroll in a teacher education program and the Professional Semester must complete an application and make an appointment for an interview with the coordinator at least two-three semesters PRIOR to enrolling in the Professional Semester.

Absolute deadline for requesting a summer practicum assignment: March 15.

Absolute deadline to submit finalized application for the Professional Semester:

February 1: for the fall semester

September 15: for the spring semester

In order to be admitted into the teacher education program and the Professional Semester, a student must:

1. Have at least a 2.50 overall grade point average.
2. Be recommended by professors in the student's major department and in the Education, Special Education, Social Work Department. The coordinator is responsible for obtaining these recommendations.
3. Demonstrate the physical and mental health necessary for the tasks associated with the teaching profession. Individuals who give evidence of disability must demonstrate compensatory or support skills.
4. Demonstrate competency in oral and written English. All students must earn no less than a "C" in English 100 and English 101.
5. Present evidence of the satisfactory completion of a broad background in general education.
6. Demonstrate adequate preparation in professional courses with a minimum grade of "C" on each course or a "C" average.

Art, Music, Physical Education and Special Education students must have an overall grade point average of 2.50 and satisfactorily complete their major and education (or special education) prerequisites prior to enrolling in the Professional Semester. Specific requirements may be found in other sections of this Catalog.

Secondary education student must have an overall grade point average of 2.50 and satisfactorily complete their major requirements (including the methods course), and satisfactorily complete Education 245, 260, 265 and 455 prior to enrolling in the Professional Semester. Specific requirements by each department may be found in other sections of this Catalog.

The N, K-8 elementary education student must have an overall grade point average of 2.50, satisfactorily complete their major requirements, and satisfactorily complete Education, 225, 245, 260, 265, 325, 370, and 450 prior to enrolling in the Professional Semester.

A committee composed of the chair (or representative) of the student's major department, the chair (or representative) of the Education, Special Education, Social Work Department, and the coordinator will review each application. The coordinator chairs each committee.

APPEAL

A student denied admission may submit a written appeal to the Dean of the School of Education and Human Services. The appeal should include reasons as to why the student should be admitted and should include any supporting evidence. The Dean may appoint a committee to review all matters pertinent to the appeal prior to making a final decision. The committee will consist of three members of the full-time Longwood faculty. The decision of the Dean is final.

A student denied admission into the Professional Semester must appeal no later than two weeks prior to the beginning of the Professional Semester.

PRAXIS (the National Teacher's Examination: NTEs)

All prospective teachers seeking initial licensure in Virginia are required to take and submit PASSING scores on the PRAXIS. Information concerning the PRAXIS is available in Wynne Building 104 and 134. PRAXIS scores must be sent to the Coordinator of Student Teaching and Field Services before a recommendation for licensure can be transmitted to the Virginia State Department of Education.

Longwood will recommend a student for a Virginia teaching license if the grade in student teaching is "A", "B", or "C" and the overall grade point average is at least 2.50.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION PROGRAM

The Department of Education, Special Education, and Social Work offers a 40-credit program in elementary education. Students completing the program will be endorsed in Virginia to teach in nursery school and kindergarten through eighth grade (N, K-8).

Students select Liberal Studies as their major. Requirements for the B.A. or B.S. Degree in Liberal Studies are listed elsewhere in the Catalog. By carefully planning each semester's course work, students can use their electives to meet the requirements of the 40-credit elementary education program. This is the same as a double-major, which many college students select. After completing the degree and program requirements, students will receive a B.A. or B.S. Degree in Liberal Studies and an endorsement to teach N, K-8.

Students will be assigned an academic advisor in Liberal Studies and Elementary Education. Students need to declare Liberal Studies as their major by the end of the sophomore year and must inform the Registrar's Office that they will be double-majoring in Liberal Studies and Elementary Education.

Students seeking elementary licensure who think they have a strong justification for taking a major other than LSTU must apply in writing to the chair of the Department of Education, Special Education, and Social Work. If the chair denies the application, the student may appeal to the Coordinator of the Liberal Studies Program who will submit the appeal to the Liberal Studies Steering Committee. The decision of this committee is final.

The 40-credit program consists of the following courses:

SPECIAL EDUCATION, N, K-12

Students desiring to teach special education on the N, K-12 level will need to complete the five-year Liberal Studies/special education degree programs. A BA or BS degree in Liberal Studies will be awarded upon completion of the fourth year and a M.S. degree in Special Education will be awarded upon completion of the fifth year. Students will not be endorsed to teach special education until the completion of the fifth year.

Please read the undergraduate and graduate catalogs concerning the requirements relating to these two degrees.

Students seeking elementary licensure who believe that they have strong justification for considering a major other than Liberal Studies must apply in writing to the chair of the Department of Education. If the chair denies the application, the student may appeal to the coordinator of the Liberal Studies Program who will submit the appeal to the Liberal Studies Steering Committee. The decision of this committee is final.

SECONDARY EDUCATION PROGRAMS 8-12

TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM N, K-12

Art	Physical Education
Instrumental Music	Vocal/Choral Music

For students who want to teach art, music, or physical education on the N, K-12 level, please see the undergraduate catalog for the courses that need to be taken. Each program has different requirements. An academic/professional advisor will be assigned by that department. A professional advisor in the EDUC Department will not be assigned, but professional advisors in EDUC will be glad to help at any time. With careful scheduling, a student can complete all degree and program requirements in four years.

ADD-ON ENDORSEMENTS

It may be possible for some teacher education students to add a second endorsement to a teaching license while completing degree and teacher education requirements. To receive an add-on endorsement, a student must minor in one of the disciplines listed below. Students must have the written permission of the chair of that department prior to declaring a minor. With careful scheduling, it may be possible for a student to complete degree requirements, teacher education program requirements, and an add-on endorsement, in four years.

Add-On Endorsements for Grades 8-12:

- SPEECH: for secondary education majors
- THEATRE ARTS: for secondary education majors
- DRIVER EDUCATION: for physical education majors only

LIBERAL STUDIES-SPECIAL EDUCATION PROGRAM

Faculty

Rachel Mathews, Ed.D., Assistant Professor of Special Education
Ruth L. Meese, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Special Education
Peggy L. Tarpley, M.A., Associate Professor of Special Education
Patricia Whitfield, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Special Education

Longwood offers a five-year Liberal Studies-Special Education Program leading to a Bachelor's Degree in Liberal Studies in 4 years and a Master's Degree in Special Education in 5 years. This program is designed for students who want to become Special Education teachers. (See the Liberal Studies section of this Catalog.) A professional portfolio is developed during the five year period. Students may choose to terminate their course work at the end of the fourth year (with 126 credit hours) with a Bachelor's Degree in Liberal Studies and not pursue the Master's Degree. However, students must complete the fifth year to become endorsed in Special Education.

SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY AND AUDIOLOGY PROGRAM

Faculty

Stephen C. Keith, Ed.D., Assistant Professor of Education

The four-year undergraduate major in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology is a pre-professional degree which prepares the student for entry into a Master's degree program in Speech-Language Pathology, Communicative Disorders, or Audiology.

Admission to or Continuation in the Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology Program

- 1. In order to be admitted to the Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology Program, or to the continue in the program, these minimal academic requirements must be met:
 - To enter Sophomore level: 2.6 overall GPA
 - To enter Junior level: 2.8 overall GPA
 - To enter Senior level: 3.0 overall GPA
 - To graduate from the program: 3.2 overall GPA
- 2. A student in this program needs to earn a grade of B or better in all courses in the major.
- 3. Only those majors who graduate with an overall GPA of 3.2 and a 3.7 in the major will be recommended for Master's programs.
- 4. Appeal

A student denied entry to or continuation of the SLPA program may submit a written appeal to the chair of the Department of Education, Special Education, and Social Work. If the appeal is denied, the student may then appeal in writing to the Dean of the School of Education and Human Services. The appeal should include reasons as to why the student should be admitted or continued and should include any supporting evidence. The decision of the Dean is final. However, the Dean may appoint a committee to review all matters pertinent to the appeal prior to making a final decision. The committee will consist of three members of the full-time faculty.

Social Work Program

George C. Stonikinis, Jr., Area Coordinator
Cynthia Thompson, Secretary

The specific aims of the Social Work Program are: (1) to provide students with opportunities to obtain knowledge, attitudes and skills appropriate for social work practice at the baccalaureate level, and (2) to offer a background preparation for students intending to enter a graduate professional school of social work, law school, or related graduate program of study.

Courses are designed to help students become directly familiar with diverse social problems and to participate in the delivery of human services to individuals, small groups, families, organizations and/or communities by developing a knowledge and skillbase in the following:

Administration	Fund-Raising	Research
Casework	Group Work	Social Action
Community Development	Personnel	Staff Development
Community Organization	Planning	Supervision
Community Relations	Program Development	Teaching
Consultation	Psychotherapy	Writing
Education	Rehabilitative Counseling

Faculty

Edna V. Allen-Bledsoe, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Social Work
Theresa A. Clark, M.S., Instructor of Social Work
George C. Stonikinis, Jr., M.S.W., Associate Professor and Area Coordinator
Sarah V. Young, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Social Work

The Program in Social Work provides an undergraduate course of study of unique and personalized instruction accredited by the Council on Social Work Education, leading to the Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Arts in Social Work. The curriculum prepares individuals for admission into accelerated one-year M.S.W. degree programs or entry into the expanding opportunities of first level professional practice according to the standards of the National Association of Social Workers.

The Social Work Program at Longwood College is designed around the concept of the "generalist worker," one who is prepared to practice in a wide variety of social services settings. The faculty of the Social Work Program reflect this orientation. Additionally, the staff individualizes much of the students' education and growth as they develop a professional knowledge, skill and attitude base through periodic personalized evaluations and discussions with the entire faculty.

Junior Field Instruction consists of an agency placement concurrent with integrative course work and involves 180 hours of instruction in a field setting. A grade point average of 2.25 in the major and overall is required for placement in a field instruction setting. Students transferring into the program later in their academic pursuits are provided with the accelerated 9 1/2-week summer program. Senior Field Instruction usually occurs during the last semester and consists of 600 hours (15 weeks, 40 hours per week) of field instruction in an agency setting. These placements are readily available throughout the state, and many students choose to live at home during this experience, thus saving money and preparing for graduation and the transition to career pursuits.

SOCIAL WORK

* A special fee is charge for all Field Instruction courses.

 Writing Intensive Course

 Social Work 101. INTRODUCTION TO THE HUMAN SERVICES. The broad range of human professions and the nature and structure of human service organizations (schools, hospitals, welfare, corrections, mental health, environment, etc.) which deliver client services. Emphasis is placed on the common elements underlying "helping" actions of a wide variety of human services. Students preparing for a career in any human service area will be provided an orientation to systematic analysis of human service professions and systems. 3 credits.

Social Work 102. SOCIAL WELFARE AND THE SOCIAL WORK PROFESSION. A study of the dynamic adjustment process between the American social welfare system and its societal, value, and historical context. Emphasis is placed on providing a conceptual, theoretical, and philosophical basis for analyzing institutional welfare and its relation to individual and social needs, social justice, and a pluralistic and humanistic society. The emergence, current status, and future of professional social work practice are explored. Prerequisite: SW 101. 3 credits.

Social Work 108. CAREER PLANNING. An approach to skill building for career planning based upon a systematic analysis of the student's interests, life long learning plans, and career goals is presented. Discussion of strategies for beginning career pursuit through the use of the academic major and liberal arts for building generic and specific knowledge and skill bases that expand the student's career options. Emphasis is placed on capitalizing upon the relevancy and immediacy of the college experience for preparation for careers in a changing society. Non-social work majors encouraged. 1 credit. (Students completing this course may not get credit for SW 408.)

Social Work 240. SOCIAL POLICY AND ISSUES IN SOCIAL WELFARE. Models of policy analysis and formulation are reviewed and the role of both social work and government are investigated. The characteristics of poverty, racism, sexism, power, and community are studied in relation to social welfare policy, social work practice, social planning, and programs and services. Prerequisite: SW 102. 3 credits.

Social Work 280. HUMAN BEHAVIOR AND THE SOCIAL ENVIRONMENT I. Utilizing a general systems approach, the student will develop a multi-level perspective of human behavior in the areas of personality development, self-concept formation, community and organizational systems, group processes, personal change dynamics, family systems, and life cycles. Concurrent focus is placed on practice relevancy of the theory base. Prerequisite: Sociology 101. 3 credits.

Social Work 281. HUMAN BEHAVIOR AND THE SOCIAL ENVIRONMENT II. A continuing exploration of theoretical contributions to the design and application of intervention strategies. The role of interpersonal influence is studied within the context of effective communication for planned change and effective skills are practiced. Prerequisite: SW 280. 3 credits.

Social Work 295-495: SPECIAL TOPICS. Selected topics in Social Work. The topics will vary from semester to semester. Descriptions will be available from academic advisors. May be repeated for credit when topics change. 1-3 credits.

Social Work 309. HUMAN SEXUAL ADJUSTMENT. Socio-cultural influences on gender identity and sexual behavior will be analyzed and issues regarding sexual expression and sexual dysfunctioning will be explored. Methods of dealing with sexual adjustment difficulties at both the individual and community levels are presented including human service resources. Prerequisite: 3 hours of Sociology and Psychology. 3 credits.

Social Work 310. MINORITY EXPERIENCES: HUMAN DEVELOPMENT IN HOSTILE ENVIRONMENTS. With a special emphasis on the Black experience, the course will examine the impact of the conditions of institutionalized racism, sexism, and prejudice on the development of personality, copability, and self concept. Survival strategies, individual strengths and societal treatment of minorities will be analyzed in order to further develop skills for effective practitioner-client relationships. Prerequisite: Sociology 101. 3 credits.

Social Work 320. SOCIAL WORK RESEARCH AND EVALUATION DESIGN. The role of scientific inquiry in the continuing development of knowledge and practice skill, measures of accountability, needs assessment, and evaluation design is presented. Students conduct agency research and assessments and study the impact of applied scientific techniques on the design and delivery of professional practice. Prerequisite: Mathematics 171. 3 credits.

Social Work 335. JUNIOR INTERVENTIVE MEANS LAB. Laboratory experiences enabling the development and application of practice skills for direct practice. Emphasis is on levels of problems, systematic assessment and problem solving, and uniqueness of various interventive means. Co-requisite: SW 336. 1 credit.

Social Work 336. INTERVENTIVE MEANS IN SOCIAL WORK. A generic approach to social work practice with the goal of achieving social justice and the fulfillment of human potential and needs. Students analyze problem situations, select goals and strategies of intervention and worker roles, develop skill in use of self and other resources and assess effectiveness of intervention and services. Prerequisite: SW 281. Corequisite: SW 335. 3 credits.

Social Work 337. FAMILY AND CHILDREN'S SERVICES. Major concepts of family and child welfare are presented and trends in relevant policy, services and practice skills related to supportive, supplemental and substitutive programs are analyzed. Prerequisite: SW 240 or permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Social Work 339. JUNIOR FIELD INSTRUCTION IN SOCIAL WORK.* Throughout the semester, a direct practice experience under the supervision of a field instructor. Application and continued growth of knowledge base, social work practice skills, and values are assessed. Termination of the field instruction will include a formal "Junior Evaluation" involving staff and student in an assessment of the student's candidacy for admission into the Social Work Program. Prerequisite: SW 336 and 2.25 GPA average overall and in major courses. 5 credits.

Social Work 340. JUNIOR INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR. Seminar format provides a supplementary opportunity for generalizing principles and intervention approaches beyond the individual field instruction experience. Focus is on the systematic application of generalist practice principles, both traditional and innovative, in the formation of an integrated professional practice approach. Co-requisite: SW 339. 1 credit.

Social Work 400. FIELD INSTRUCTION.* Educationally directed student learning in selected settings. Students learn by participating in the delivery of social services to individuals, small groups, families, organizations, and/or communities. At least 40 hours per week in an agency for 15 weeks. Prerequisite: SW 427 and 2.25 GPA average overall and in major courses. Co-requisites: SW 401, 404 and 407. 12 credits.

Social Work 401. INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR. A concurrent seminar providing an opportunity for generalizing intervention skills and experience beyond the student's particular field instruction experience. 3 sessions (30 hours) at regional locations. Co-requisites: SW 400, 404, 407. 2 credits.

Social Work 404. SOCIAL WELFARE ADMINISTRATION. An analysis of skills and understanding essentials for the translation of human service program goals into organizational structures. Emphasis is on organizational concepts and theories, administrative philosophies and actual analyses of structural change and operation of field experience agencies. Prerequisite: SW 400. Co-requisites: SW 400, 404, 407. 1 credit.

Social Work 405. WORKING WITH SPECIAL POPULATIONS. A presentation of the principles of majority-minority relationships within the context of diverse "special populations". The problems of minority status due to factors of race, sex, age, sexual preference, and cultural heritage are studied. Prerequisite: 3 hours of Sociology. 3 credits.

Social Work 406. AGING AND SOCIETY. An introduction to the psychological, social and economic realities of aging with an emphasis on perceiving the elderly as a minority group. Theories of the aging process will be analyzed in conjunction with intervention techniques. 1 credit.

Social Work 407. LAW AND THE SOCIAL WORKER. Seminar on law as a resource in social work practice, with emphasis on areas where the two professions meet -- such as public welfare, juvenile court, family law, adoptions, etc. Examines attitudes of law and social work toward each other. Co-requisites: SW 400, 404, 407. 1 credit.

Social Work 408. JOBS, WORK, AND CAREER PLANNING. The changing nature of work and securing a job are investigated regarding societal changes, the individual's stage in life, and public policy. Strategies for maintaining one's career goals throughout life are presented along with adaptive techniques for career planning. Each student will identify career goals, and explore specific opportunities and approaches to his career. Non-social work majors are encouraged. Prerequisite: 6 hours of social sciences. 2 credits.

Social Work 415. INTER-PROFESSIONAL COMMUNICATION: TECHNIQUES FOR THE SURVIVAL OF INTERVENTIVE STRATEGIES. Study of effective professional role performance through the systematic integration and application of knowledge and theory in the design of inter-professional transactions and helping patterns; special attention to use of a scientific practice base for determining effective professional action. Prerequisite: SW 336. 3 credits.

 Social Work 427. ADVANCED INTERVENTIVE MEANS. Continued development of generic skills and values at the advanced level for professional practice. Emphasis is placed on integration of knowledge into techniques and strategies for human service delivery. Prerequisite: SW 339. 3 credits.

Social Work 461. DELIVERING HOSPICE CARE. A skills approach to the provision of hospice care to the terminally ill. Physical, psychological, social, and spiritual needs unique to this client population will be presented. 1 credit.

Social Work 485. ISSUES RELATED TO SEX AND GENDER DIFFERENCES. A seminar on how sex differences and gendered behaviors are constructed and maintained. 3 credits.

Social Work 490. TOPICAL SEMINAR IN SOCIAL WORK. A series of topical lectures, presentations and discussions concerning areas of current concern to practitioners in a variety of welfare settings. Emphasis is placed on practice related material and the involvement of practitioners from local agencies is encouraged. 1-3 credits.

All physical education majors must make a minimum grade of "C" on each course taken as a part of the activity core and the physical education activities required under the general education requirement. Prior to student teaching and internship experiences, a 2.5 and 2.0 are required respectively. Additional policies and standards for physical education majors are in the Physical Education Major Student Handbook.

The Physical Education curriculum has four instructional programs leading to a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in physical education. One program culminates in licensure for the teaching profession and three in professionally related fields. All physical education majors must take a core of physical education theory and skill classes; then, depending upon interest and career goals, the student will take course work in one of the following program options:

TEACHING NK-12 OPTION

Students electing this program will be licensed to teach physical education at the elementary and secondary levels. The program provides the scientific background courses for teaching health and physical education and activity skills as well as a scientific, analytical approach to movement.

Students electing the teacher education option may elect concentrations in the following areas: adapted physical education, athletic training, and coaching, or to become endorsed to teach health, NK-12 and driver education.

NON-TEACHING OPTIONS

Sports Medicine:

The program in sports medicine is designed to prepare students for a career in the field of athletic training, or may serve as the pre-professional course of study for physical therapy and sports medicine. Students are required to accumulate a minimum of 1500 hours of on-the-job training either by working in the athletic training room or directly with the athletic teams.

Exercise and Health Science:

The program in exercise-fitness is designed to prepare students for a career in the field of exercise and health-related fitness. Students are required to complete two "hands on" experiences with adult fitness programs, one of which is an eight week internship in a fitness setting.

Sports Communication:

The program in sports communication prepares the student for a career in the field of radio-TV sports broadcasting and sports information. Practical experiences in radio-TV, sports broadcasting and sports information are included as part of the program in the junior and senior years.

Coaching Minor:

A coaching minor is open to all students matriculating at Longwood College. Students interested in the coaching minor must enroll in 18 hours of specialized professional courses in physical education.

Dance Minor:

Students interested in a dance minor must audition to enter the program and are expected to be active members of the Longwood College Company of Dancers for a minimum of two years. Students must also successfully complete eighteen hours of required courses in dance.

Exercising in the water to music for the purpose of improving muscular strength, flexibility, slimness and especially aerobic fitness as well as overall swimming ability. This course does not fulfill the Longwood swimming requirement. 1 credit. A student who has completed Total Fitness through Water Aerobics may not take PHED 112.

Physical Education 116. BEGINNING WEIGHT TRAINING. An introductory course with emphasis on current issues dealing with weight training. The student will learn and workout with various weight training programs and apply the principles to his/her individual workouts. The course employs basic techniques in proper lifting with safety procedures involved. 1 credit. A student who has completed Total Fitness through Weight Training may not take PHED 116.

Physical Education 118. CYCLING. An introductory activity course with emphasis upon the history and development of the modern bicycle, selection and properly fitting the bicycle to the rider, development of good riding skills, maintenance of the bicycle and knowledge and adherence to correct safety procedures. The class emphasizes the fitness and leisure application of cycling. 1 credit. A student who has completed Total Fitness through Cycling may not take PHED 118.

Physical Education 127. AEROBIC DANCING. An aerobic activity which combines different styles of music with vigorous jazz and modern dance movements to increase cardiorespiratory fitness. In addition to performing choreographed routines, students receive instruction in monitoring heart rate, injury prevention and a variety of other topics relevant to body/mind wellness. 1 credit. A student who has completed Total Fitness through Aerobic Dancing may not take PHED 127.

Physical Education 141. AEROBIC FITNESS AND WEIGHT CONTROL. Instruction and participation in aerobic exercises and their relationship to personal health, physical fitness and weight control. 1 credit. A student who has completed Total Fitness through Aerobic Exercise may not take PHED 141.

Physical Education 212. LIFEGUARDING AND EMERGENCY WATER SAFETY. Instruction in lifesaving, first aid, CPR and lifeguard techniques leading to certification by the American Red Cross. Prerequisite: pass screening test. 2 credits.

Physical Education 216. ADVANCED WEIGHT TRAINING. Knowledge of the basic fundamentals and further training in athletic preparation, power lifting, body building and fitness/figure control. 1 credit.

Physical Education 241. ADVANCED AEROBICS. Instruction and participation in aerobic activities for students with good cardiovascular endurance. The emphasis is on long distance training and its effect on the body systems. 1 credit.

Physical Education 311. FITNESS SWIMMING. Emphasis on competitive strokes with workouts designed for endurance and speed. 1 credit.

Physical Education 312. WATER SAFETY INSTRUCTOR. Methods of teaching and indepth analysis of swimming and personal safety skills leading to American Red Cross certification as a swimming instructor. Prerequisite: pass screening test. 2 credits.

Physical Education 313. CATALINAS. A performing group with emphasis on junior level synchronized swimming figures. Prerequisite: audition. 1 credit.

Physical Education 413. CATALINAS. An advanced performing group. Prerequisite: audition. Pass/fail only.

End of activity courses section.

Physical Education 270. BASIC ATHLETIC TRAINING. Prevention, treatment and rehabilitation of athletic injuries; stresses examination and evaluation techniques of athletic injuries. 3 credits.

 Physical Education 275. FOUNDATIONS OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND SPORT. Survey of the historical philosophical bases of health and physical education. 3 credits.

Physical Education 280. MOTOR DEVELOPMENT. Movement changes throughout the lifespan and their implications for the curriculum in physical education. 3 credits.

Physical Education 295. SPECIAL TOPICS IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION. Selected topics in physical education which will vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit when topics change. 1-3 credits.

Physical Education 361 (Recreation 361). DEVELOPMENTAL AND ADAPTIVE ACTIVITIES. A study of activities and their adaptation for children in special populations. 3 credits.

Physical Education 362. ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION OF INTRAMURALS. Practice and theory in organizing and administering intramurals. 3 credits.

Physical Education 364. ADAPTED PHYSICAL EDUCATION. Symptoms, causes and implications of various types of disabilities in relation to programming. Techniques in individual educational planning, activity adaptation and classroom organization. 3 credits.

Physical Education 370. ADVANCED ATHLETIC TRAINING. Designed for the advanced student and prospective professional. Concentrates on advanced treatment and evaluation techniques and rehabilitation following athletic trauma or surgery. Prerequisites: HLTH 260, PHED 270, Biology 206, 207, permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Physical Education 371, 372, 471, 472. PRACTICUM IN ATHLETIC TRAINING. Concentrated clinical experience in athletic training and sportsmedicine with periodic classroom review. Stresses development of diagnostic and treatment skills. Prerequisites: HLTH 260, PHED 270, permission of instructor. 1 credit.

Physical Education 380. SPORT PEDAGOGY I: THE ORIENTATION TO TEACHING. The aim of this course is to orient the student to the teaching process, to increase the student's understanding of the dimensions of effective teaching and to improve the student's teaching skills and teaching strategies through practice under appropriate and controlled conditions. Prerequisite: PHED 280 or consent of instructor. 3 credits.

Physical Education 381. SPORT PEDAGOGY II: AN ANALYSIS AND DESIGN OF MOTOR SKILLS. The aim of this course is to assist the student in understanding the teaching-learning process and how to analyze and evaluate the instructional process which includes organizing the learning environment, presenting progressive learning tasks to students and providing learner feedback. Prerequisite: PHED 380. 3 credits.

Physical Education 382. SPORT PEDAGOGY III: CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT AND APPLICATION IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION. This course is designed to orient the student in the process of curriculum construction in physical education for both the elementary and secondary school programs; to provide the student with experiences in teaching and in systematic observation and analysis of teaching. Prerequisites: PHED 380, 381. 3 credits.

Physical Education 385. SPORT PSYCHOLOGY. An examination of the psychological dimensions which influence an athlete's skill acquisition and performance in the competitive environment. 3 credits.

*Physical Education 386. KINESIOLOGY. Study of human motion, including structural and mechanical kinesiology with emphasis on anatomic and biomechanical principles, application of these principles in the analysis of human motion--basic neuromuscular skills, sports, dance and all physical education activities. Practical application of biomechanics for teaching, coaching and physical medicine. Prerequisite: Biology 207. 3 credits.

Physical Education 387. PHYSIOLOGY OF EXERCISE. Lecture and laboratory experiences in the physiological responses of the body to the physical activity in everyday life and in sports. Prerequisites: Biology 206 and Biology 207. 3 credits.

Physical Education 388. FITNESS INTERNSHIP. An 8-10 week supervised field experience (minimum of 320 clock hours). The internship will take place during the summer between the junior and senior years. To be eligible for participation the student must be of junior standing, enrolled in the fitness specialist option and have an overall GPA of 2.0. Prerequisite: PHED 387, 490. 8 credits.

Physical Education 390. ELEMENTARY SCHOOL HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION. Health and physical education principles and activities for the elementary school. For elementary majors. 3 credits.

Physical Education 392. MECHANICAL AND PHYSIOLOGICAL PRINCIPLES OF SPORT AND EXERCISE. The physiological responses of the body to exercise and the mechanical principles of human movement. Designed for students other than physical education majors; physical education majors may not take this course. 3 credits.

Physical Education 393, 394, 395, 396. PRINCIPLES AND TECHNIQUES OF OFFICIATING. The study of current roles and practices in the techniques of officiating. (393-Field Hockey; 394-Gymnastics; 395-Volleyball; 396-Basketball) 1 credit.

Susan E. Lynch, Ph.D., Assistant Therapeutic Recreation

Therapeutic Recreation is an allied health profession that utilizes recreation and leisure experiences to assist people with various disabilities in developing and maintaining a personally meaningful leisure lifestyle which encompasses functional independence, health and well-being. Through specific therapy, leisure education, and recreation participation, therapeutic recreation is practiced in a variety of clinical and community settings such as: rehabilitation and general medical facilities; mental health and psychiatric facilities for children and adults; substance treatment programs; corrections; specialized and outdoor programs for adjudicated youth; long-term and day-care facilities and nursing homes; residences for individuals with developmental disabilities, and in community recreation and park agencies.

Longwood's nationally accredited and recognized Therapeutic Recreation Program provides students with a comprehensive foundation in leisure theory and an in-depth concentration in disability studies and therapeutic recreation principles and practices. Students graduate with a Bachelor of Science degree in Therapeutic Recreation which prepares them for many entry-level positions.

Upon graduation, students become eligible to sit for the national certification exam through the National Council for Therapeutic Recreation Certification (NCTRC). Academic course work is complemented with 120 hours of preliminary fieldwork and two professionally supervised internship experiences which may be completed in a variety of agencies and locations. Students must maintain a minimal GPA of 2.0 overall and a 2.25 in the major in order to be eligible for pre-professional practice.

The major in general studies is administered through the School of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Any adult students who are interested in this degree should consult the General Studies coordinator in the office of the Dean of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

BACHELOR OF GENERAL STUDIES DEGREE PROGRAM

Faculty

Faculty for the General Studies Program are faculty members in the various departments of Longwood College.

The Bachelor of General Studies degree program is designed to offer an academically sound program which will provide an alternative to traditionally structured baccalaureate degrees. In acquiring credits, a student may proceed at his/her own pace and draw upon nontraditional modes of instructional delivery.

A student's program of study is a joint venture between the student and his/her academic advisor. The study core or concentration is developed with regard for the individual needs and interests of the student in cooperation with the expertise of the faculty advisor. The program includes no on-campus residence requirements and no time limits. Students must complete a minimum of thirty (30) semester hours of upper level Longwood courses.

The program is open to adults whose life experiences will influence their successful progress as students. In order to be admitted fully to the BGS program, a student must have completed at least six credit hours at Longwood with a minimum of 2.00 GPA (4.00 scale). A student may be fully accepted into the BGS only after a lapse of at least five years since enrollment in another degree program.

Requirements

A student must achieve the following in order to earn a BGS at Longwood:

- accumulate the equivalent of a total of 120 semester hours,
- earn at least a 2.00 GPA on all work completed in this program,
- complete 34 semester hours of general education
 - 6 s.h. English - ENGL 100 and 101
 - 9 s.h. Humanities - to be elected from Humanities courses which have been approved for General Education (Literature, Fine Arts, Philosophy and Language),*
 - 10 s.h. Laboratory Science and Mathematics - to be elected from the Science, Math and Computer Science courses which have been approved for General Education,*
 - 9 s.h. Social and Behavioral Sciences - to be elected from the Social Sciences and courses which have been approved for General Education (History, Sociology, Anthropology, Psychology, Economics, Political Science and Geography).
- finish an individualized, interdisciplinary core of study (approved by an academic advisor and the BGS Coordinator) equivalent to at least 30 semester hours of credit, at least 24 of which must be upper level classes. A minimum of 2.00 GPA must be earned in the core courses.
- successfully complete a three semester hour final project. This must be related to the individualized study core and is undertaken in the last semester of study.
- meet the English proficiency requirement.
- complete a minimum of 32 hours of Longwood courses.

BGS students may elect to secure N, K-8 Teacher Licensure as a part of their degree program provided they maintain a 2.50 GPA.

*Courses must be selected from at least two different areas.

* John F. Reynolds, Ph.D., Director

Longwood offers an International Studies Program for those who wish to devote a part of their education to learning about societies other than their own; it aims to give the interested student an opportunity to supplement his/her academic major with a concentration of studies which will enhance an understanding of the larger world in which we must live and work.

Students wishing to participate in the program should sign up in the International Studies Office (G202).

Requirements for 18-Credit Minor in International Studies

1. 9 credit hours in a modern language at the 201 level or above to include 330 (Culture and Civilization). Note: Modern Language majors must take all 18 hours in number 2 below.
2. 9 credit hours chosen from the following: (no more than two courses from any one discipline may be chosen):
Economics 310
Geography 352, 401, 402, 403, 444, 450, 453
Health Education 210
History 200, 307, 308, 336, 355, 356, 359, 360
Marketing 384
Political Science 335, 436, 437, 441, 442, 469

One of the following may be substituted for a course in number 2:

Art History 261, 262, 263
Biology 496I, Special Projects in Biology, Research Abroad
Chemistry 468, Special Projects in Chemistry, Research Abroad
Philosophy 242
Physical Education 136, International Folk Dance
Theatre 212, Japanese Theatre

NOTE: No student may count a course required for his/her major as fulfilling the minor.
Example—History majors must take their 18 hours in fields other than History, etc.

In addition to the above courses, students are encouraged to participate in international studies events on campus. Students should also consider taking part in trips abroad organized by the College; of great value would be participation in programs of study worked out between Longwood and foreign universities.

* On sabbatical fall semester 1995

Ellery Sedgwick, Coordinator

Advisory Committee: Dr. Ellery Sedgwick, Chair, Mr. James Curley, Dr. Douglas M. Dalton, Dr. James Gussett, Mr. Marshall Hall, Dr. Frank Howe, Dr. Betty Jo Simmons, Dr. John Peale

Students seeking licensure in Elementary Education (NK-8) or Special Education are expected to major in Liberal Studies. The major in Liberal Studies is administered through the Office of Dean of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Students interested in discussing or enrolling in the program should consult with the program coordinator, a member of the program advisory committee, or the Chair of the Education Department.

BACHELOR OF LIBERAL STUDIES DEGREE PROGRAM

The Liberal Studies degree program is cross-disciplinary and includes courses from the Humanities, Mathematics, the Natural Sciences, and the Social Sciences. Faculty teaching in the program are members of various departments in the School of Liberal Arts and Sciences. The purpose of the program is to develop broadly informed individuals who understand contemporary issues, and will provide civic and professional leadership. Concentration one, which includes a sequence of education courses leading to licensure to teach NK-8 or special education, also provides an excellent cross-disciplinary background for those seeking to teach on the elementary school level or in special education.

Every attempt has been made to state the major and minor requirements as clearly as possible. However, every student majoring in the program must maintain close communication with the academic advisor to plan a program suited to the student's needs. The faculty in the program are also happy to assist each student in this and in defining career goals and expectations.

NOTE: The program does not guarantee that all of the courses listed will be offered every year.

Women's Studies Program

Sarah Young, Director

Longwood offers a minor in Women's Studies for those students who wish to enhance their understanding of gender perspectives in the world in which we live and work. While reflecting the diversity of women's lives, the program will also examine the dynamics and interrelatedness of race, class, and gender categories.

Students wishing to minor in Women's Studies should sign up in Wynne 111.

Requirements for 18-Credit Minor in Women's Studies

In order to complete a minor in Women's Studies, students must:

1. file a form of intention to pursue the minor with the Director of Women's Studies prior to registering for their sixth semester,
2. earn a grade point average of 2.0 in those courses chosen to meet the minor requirements, and
3. complete eighteen hours of course work as designated below:

Required Courses (6 credit hours):

Anthropology 106

English 432

Elective in health, ethical, or equity issues (3 credit hours):

Health Education 430

Philosophy 201

Electives, two of which must be taken at the 300 or 400 level (9 credit hours):

(and other courses to be approved by the Women's Studies Committee)

NOTE: A student may not count a course as fulfilling a requirement for both a major and a minor.

In addition to the above courses, students are encouraged to participate in women's studies events on campus.

Women's Studies 295. SELECTED TOPICS. Selected topics in Women's Studies. The topics will vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit when topics change. 1-3 credits.

Women's Studies 491. SYMPOSIUM IN WOMEN'S STUDIES. Symposium programs sponsored by the Washington Center. Forty to 60 hours of lectures, panel discussions, workshops, site visits, and bi-weekly discussion groups over a 2 to 3 week period in Washington, D.C. Prerequisites: two courses in women's studies, 2.5 GPA, and approval of Director of Women's Studies. The work done in the Symposium will be evaluated by a faculty member designated by the Program Director, and cannot be "double-counted" at Longwood to meet requirements of other disciplines. 2-3 credits.

Women's Studies 492. INTERNSHIP IN WOMEN'S STUDIES. Directed practicum in a public, private, or community agency or organization which has as one of its goals the improvement of the status of women. Students work with an on-site supervisor who guides their internship in collaboration with a faculty liaison appointed by the Director of Women's Studies. Prerequisites: two courses in women's studies, 2.5 GPA, and permission of the Longwood Women's Studies Committee. 1-6 credits.

Women's Studies 495. SPECIAL TOPICS. Selected topics in women's studies. The topics may vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit when topics change. 1-6 credits.

Department of Art

Randall W. Edmonson, Chair

Hal Sherman, Secretary

The Department of Art at Longwood College occupies the Bedford Art Building, one building in the Fine Arts Complex. The building contains eight multi-purpose studios; an outdoor work area, two exhibition galleries, and an auditorium seating 176.

The Department of Art also provides aesthetic and cultural enrichment opportunities for the academic community through lectures, workshops, and demonstrations by well-known artists and art educators, presents exhibits of student and professional work in two galleries, and offers opportunities for members of the community to take courses in studio art, art education, and art history. The faculty also supports and encourages aesthetic and cultural opportunities, as well as programs sponsored by the Central Virginia Arts area affiliate of the Virginia Museum and Longwood Center for the Visual Arts.

Mark S. Baldridge, M.F.A., Professor of Art

John S. J. Burke, Ed.D., Associate Professor of Interior Architecture

Randall W. Edmonson, M.F.A., Professor of Art

Elisabeth L. Flynn-Chapman, Ph.D., Professor of Art History

Debra Israel, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Art

Grace Norman, M.F.A., Assistant Professor

Amie Oliver, M.F.A., Associate Professor of Art

Homer L. Springer, Jr., M.Ed., Professor of Art

The primary educational objective of the Department of Art is to provide quality baccalaureate degree programs in art education, graphic design (commercial art) interior design, and the fine arts, with concentrations in art history or studio; to offer a variety of courses that fulfill general education requirements.

While a foundation in art techniques, theory, and art history is essential, creative expression and development of concepts, values, and critical judgment are expected and encouraged. Students may choose a field of specialization or concentration, form their own concepts, and develop individual methods and directions. The Department of Art emphasizes the humanities and aesthetic judgment, the development of personal expression, and the relationship of the content of art in the nature of learning and human development essential for a liberal arts education as well as independent judgment.

The Department expects students to be creative with ideas, techniques, and materials in every aspect of their daily lives. We desire our students to be knowledgeable about art history, current art activities, techniques, media, design, the value of art and its role in society, and their own personal artistic direction. We expect to mold our students to be productive, self-motivated and to develop discipline and responsibility concerning professional obligations and expectations in the business world. We encourage our students to be artistic with the use of design, to be technically proficient, to utilize ideas and influences with the highest level of quality craftsmanship. Finally, we expect our students to be enlightened people, to be appreciative of life, to contribute to the well-being of others and society in general, and to respect other individuals, their viewpoints and their values.

The Department also offers tailored programs of study for students who wish to minor in studio art or art history. Students interested in a minor in general art or art history should contact the chair for advising.

Every attempt has been made to state the major and minor requirements as clearly as possible. However, it is strongly recommended that every student majoring or minoring maintain close communication with the academic advisor assigned in order to plan their program in a fashion best suited to the student's individual goals and needs. The faculty stands ready to assist any student in this regard.

Graduation requirements from the Art Department include two faculty/student assessment interviews (normally in the freshmen and sophomore years), participation in the annual junior exhibit and a senior exhibition in the Showcase Gallery or a senior art history lecture. Any exception to these graduation requirements must be referred to the Department Chair.

In addition, freshman majors are required to take a test registering their knowledge of art which will also be repeated in their senior year. This test assists the department in identifying any deficiencies to which it should address itself. These requirements help to assess the effectiveness of the program and insure a quality and relevant education for our majors.

Field trips in some lecture and studio classes involve a nominal cost for the students. Students are required to furnish all necessary supplies and some tools, however, many items are purchased with a studio fee which is collected in each class allowing students to benefit from bulk purchases and also have the convenience of the materials being readily available. This fee will vary from $5.00 to $35.00, depending on the class and the materials supplied. A list of these fees is available from the Dean's Office and the Department of Art Office. Any student enrolled in an art class after the end of the "drop period" must pay this fee. To avoid the fee, it is imperative that the student be officially withdrawn from the class prior to this deadline. This rule will be strictly enforced and no exceptions made since these funds must be spent early in the semester to insure the availability of student supplies for the classes. Students who withdraw after the deadline will have the option of obtaining their share of the purchased materials.

Course Requirements

All art majors will receive a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree. The General Education Requirements will be identical for each concentration except that the Art Department Requirements will vary slightly.

Department of English, Philosophy, and Modern Languages

Ellery Sedgwick, Chair

Peggy Ward, Secretary

The English program of the Department of English, Philosophy, and Modern Languages offers courses leading to the B.A. and M.A. degrees.

Every attempt has been made to state the major and minor requirements as clearly as possible. However, we recommend that every student majoring or minoring in the program maintain close communication with the academic advisor assigned by the department in order to plan a program suited to the student's needs. The faculty of the department are happy to assist each student in this and in defining individual career goals and expectations.

NOTE: The department does not guarantee that all of the courses listed will be offered every year.

Assessment

The Department requires student outcomes assessment testing prior to graduation.

The major in English requires a minimum of 33 hours of coursework in the discipline. Graduates from the program enter a variety of careers requiring skill in communication, research, and the analysis or production of texts, including teaching, journalism, law, publishing, technical writing, and business management. The relatively low number of required hours for the major gives students flexibility either to develop their background in writing and literature further or to add expertise in a related field. Faculty advisors will be glad to review options and career paths with students.

Majors seeking licensure for teaching secondary English should add to the major requirements English 381, 382, 480, and 483. These courses, as well as the required Education courses, should be completed before student teaching. Students licensed to teach secondary English can also gain endorsements to teach Economics, Geography, History, Journalism, Political Science, Speech, or Theater by adding a minor in those fields. (See “Add-On Endorsements” under Education.)

In addition to the English major and secondary licensure, the department also offers minors in Communications or Journalism. These minors are interdisciplinary and include courses from several fields including Art, Computer Science, Speech, Theater, Business Management, Marketing, and Information Systems. The minors in both Journalism and Communications require 18 credit hours of course work as listed below and both encourage additional work in supervised practicum environments.

Philosophy 211. SURVEY OF MEDIEVAL PHILOSOPHY. A survey of the development of western thought during the Medieval and Renaissance periods. Emphasis on the Christian philosophies of Augustine and Aquinas and on the humanistic philosophies of the Italian renaissance. 3 credits.

Philosophy 212. SURVEY OF EARLY MODERN PHILOSOPHY. A survey of the development of western thought from the 16th century through the 19th century. Emphasis on the philosophical traditions from Hobbes in the British Isles and from Descartes on the continent, especially on Descartes, Locke, and Hume. 3 credits.

Philosophy 213. SURVEY OF NINETEENTH CENTURY PHILOSOPHY. A survey of the development of western thought from Kant to the beginning of the 20th century. Emphasis on Kant's position as a solution to problems raised in the 18th century, and to the development of German philosophy in Schopenhauer, Hegel, and Marx. The foundations of existentialism. 3 credits.

Philosophy 250. THEMES IN BIBLICAL LITERATURE. An introductory study of selected recurring themes in the history of salvation in both the Old and New Testaments. An historicist philosophy on these themes is developed. Readings from the Bible and from works written from the historicist point of view. 3 credits.

Philosophy 295. SPECIAL TOPICS. Selected topics in Philosophy. The topics will vary from semester to semester. Descriptions will be available from academic advisors. May be repeated for credit when topics change. Prerequisite none. 1-3 credits.

Philosophy 300. LOGIC. The fundamentals of deduction and induction which aid the student in developing habits of valid thinking and in understanding the scientific method. Emphasis on deductive logic and on tools for analysis of issues in different fields of inquiry. 3 credits.

Philosophy 305. ETHICS SEMINAR.* A critical examination of normative ethical theories and of how they may be employed to resolve representative current moral problems. Attention given to certain related metaethical issues such as freedom and determinism, relativism, and absolutism and the meaning and justification of ethical judgments. Modern and contemporary readings. 3 credits.

Philosophy 307. MORAL ISSUES AND PERSPECTIVES. An introduction to the philosophical analysis of today's moral problems and the "care and justice" perspectives in which such problems may be resolved. (Students may not receive credit for both Philosophy 201 and 307). Prerequisite: Philosophy 306. 2 credits.

Philosophy 310. BUSINESS ETHICS. A study of ethical theory and an application of its principles and concepts to the analysis and solution of cases of moral problems in business. Emphasis will be on detection of moral problems in business, on normative ethical theories, on such fundamental concepts as autonomy, responsibility and justice, and on the process of ethical reasoning required to resolve a variety of moral problems actually encountered in the business world. 3 credits.

Philosophy 315. BIOMEDICAL ETHICS. Ethical inquiry into the concepts of person, autonomy, rights, responsibility, and justice relevant to biomedicine and their application to issues of euthanasia, abortion, genetic control, the definition of death, allocation of scarce medical resources, experimentation with human beings, and intentional deception in biomedicine. 3 credits.

Philosophy 320. AMERICAN THOUGHT. A survey of the development of American philosophy from its colonial beginnings to the present. Emphasis on the development of native American pragmatism in Pierce, James and Dewey. 3 credits.

Philosophy 350. AESTHETICS. A study of theories of art and beauty, including the relation between beauty and the arts, the function and value of the arts in culture, and standards for criticism and judgments of beauty. 3 credits.

Philosophy 355. PHILOSOPHY OF MIND. A study of such leading theories as dualistic interactionism, behaviorism and materialism, which concern the nature of the person, self-knowledge, the relation to the mental and the physical and human action. Emphasis on theories of the self or person and on criteria for the evaluation thereof. Classical, modern, and contemporary sources. 3 credits.

Philosophy 360. PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION. A critical examination of certain problems in religion, including the nature of religion, grounds for belief and disbelief in God, the varieties of religious experience and immortality. Classical, modern and contemporary sources. 3 credits.

Philosophy 365. PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE. An examination of such issues as the logic of scientific reasoning and method, the distinction between science and pseudoscience, the analysis of central concepts in science, especially causality, law and explanation, and finally, the relation of science and values in our culture. Attention will be given to the development of a consistent point of view on these issues. Examples will be drawn from a broad range of sciences, both natural and social. 3 credits.

Philosophy 480. SEMINAR IN PHILOSOPHY. An intensive study of one of the major philosophers emphasized in the introductory four-course sequence in the history of western philosophy. Lectures on the systematic position in general and student papers on particular topics on or about that position. Readings from major works of the philosopher chosen and from important critical secondary sources. Prerequisites: completion of the other specified required courses for either the major or minor programs in philosophy or permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Philosophy 490. INDEPENDENT STUDY. A directed reading and/or research program on a topic or thinker selected by the student and approved by the director. 3 credits.

Philosophy 495/595. SPECIAL TOPICS. Selected topics in Philosophy. The topics will vary from semester to semester. Descriptions will be available from academic advisers. May be repeated for credit when topics change. 1-3 periods; 1-3 credits.

MODERN LANGUAGES PROGRAM

The Modern Languages program offers courses in French, German, and Spanish. The major in Modern Languages requires a concentration in one of these three languages (30 hours beyond 202) and a second modern language (3 hours at the 202-level or above). No grade below "C" in the language of the concentration is accepted for graduation requirements for the major or minor in that language.

Students preparing to teach must take 36 semester hours of modern foreign language, including courses in advanced grammar and composition, conversation, culture and civilization, literature, applied linguistics, and methods. Second language certification requires 24 semester hours (at least 12 of which must be beyond intermediate level). Advanced placement reduces proportionately the number of hours required by the Commonwealth of Virginia for certification.

Modern Language majors are required to complete at least one regular semester in a college-approved study abroad program. Students must have a cumulative grade point average of at least 2.5 to be eligible for study abroad. Longwood sponsors regular semester study abroad programs with the University of Salzburg in Austria, with Heidelberg College at the University of Heidelberg in Germany, with the VENUSA program at the University of the Andes in Merida, Venezuela, and with the University of Valencia in Spain. The college also offers regular semester abroad programs sponsored by the Council on International Educational Exchange at various universities in France. Summer programs are available in France, Spain, and with the University of the Antilles in Martinique.

Supporting courses are recommended in the other humanities. Greek, Latin, and Russian may be taken at Hampden-Sydney College.

ASSESSMENT

The Department requires student outcomes assessment testing prior to graduation.

Department of History and Political Science

Gilbert J. Millar, Chair
Pearl W. Agee, Secretary

The Department of History and Political Science offers in both fields major programs culminating in the Bachelor of Arts for History majors and either the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science for Political Science majors. History majors may elect the optional concentration in historic preservation, and majors in both fields who are interested in careers in the law may elect the optional pre-law concentrations. Qualified political science majors may also avail themselves of the Political Science Semester Internship with the Virginia General Assembly in Richmond, or the Washington Center Internship in Washington, DC. Minor programs in both history and political science are open to all students.

The major programs in history and political science meet the Collegiate Professional certification requirements for teaching in Virginia. History and political science majors may be required to complete a comprehensive departmental examination demonstrating academic proficiency in major subjects. Additional requirements for admission to the Teacher Education Program are cited elsewhere in this catalog.

The Department is committed to full participation in the college program for the assessment of student outcomes. Accordingly, majors in both history and political science are required to complete all standardized and/or department tests used in the program.

HISTORY PROGRAM

Faculty

Richard T. Couture, M.A., Associate Professor of History and Coordinator of Historic Preservation Program
James W. Crowl, Ph.D., Associate Professor of History
William F. Dorrill, Ph.D., Professor of History and Political Science
L. Marshall Hall, Jr., M.A.T., Associate Professor of History
Gilbert J. Millar, Ph.D., Professor of History
James R. Munson, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of History
Robert F. Pace, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of American History
Maurice P. Sneller, Ph.D., Professor of History

The major in history requires completion of History 100 or 110 (whichever is not selected for General Education) and History 221 and 222, and of 28 credits in additional history courses selected in consultation with a department advisor. Students electing an American history concentration must complete, aside from the Western Civilization and U.S. History surveys, 21 hours of additional work in American History and 6 in Non-American History; those electing a Non-American concentration must complete, aside from the Western Civilization and U.S. History and 6 in American History.

Majors in history seeking certification for elementary or secondary teaching in Virginia should be thoroughly familiar with the professional education requirements listed elsewhere in this catalog. Those interested in secondary certification must include History 300 in their professional program. To qualify for either the elementary or secondary student-teaching practicum, majors must complete History 100 or 110 and History 222 with no less than a grade of 'C' in each course.

The optional historic preservation concentration requires completion of History 100 or 110 (whichever is not selected for General Education), History 221 and 222, and 48 credits in upper-level courses, including 19 in history, 12 in anthropology, 15 in art, and 3 in political science. An optional internship program is available to all historic preservation majors.

The optional pre-law concentration requires completion of History 100 or 110

(whichever is not selected for General Education) and History 221 and 222, and 46 credits in upper-level courses, including 19 credits in history, 18 in political science, 3 in psychology, and 3 in accounting. It is also strongly recommended that students add electives in computer science and forensic psychology and take six additional hours in social science courses selected in consultation with the advisor.

Major programs in history require completion of a modern foreign language at the 202 level or higher. "For those seeking Secondary Education certification, History 300 (Political Science 300) must be taken in addition to the 37 credits in History stipulated (in C. Major Requirements) below."

Senior course 480/1 credit required of all students.

Majors are encouraged to take Political Science 331 OR 332 to fulfill General Education Goal 10, but may take any approved Ethics course listed under Goal 10.

No grade below "C" in major course work.

Majors seeking Teacher Certification are required to have a cumulative grade point average and departmental major average of at least 2.5 before student teaching.

MINOR IN HISTORY

Students seeking a minor in history are required to complete 18 credits of work, including History 100 or 110 (whichever is not selected for General Education), History 221 and 222, and 9 elective credits in upper-level courses chosen in consultation with a department advisor.

POLITICAL SCIENCE PROGRAM

Faculty

David S. Calihan, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Political Science
William F. Dorrill, Ph.D., Professor of History and Political Science
William R. Harbour, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Political Science
Lehlohonolo Tlou, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Political Science

The major in political science requires completion of History 100 or 110 (whichever is not selected for General Education), History 222, and Political Science 150 and 216, and of 31 credits in additional work in political science. Qualified majors may apply for admission to the political science internship programs with the Virginia General Assembly in Richmond, or the Washington Center in Washington, D.C.

Majors in political science seeking certification for elementary or secondary teaching in Virginia should be thoroughly familiar with the professional education requirements listed elsewhere in this catalog. Those interested in secondary certification must include Political Science 300 in their professional program. To qualify for either the elementary or secondary student-teaching practicum, majors must complete Political Science 150 and 216 with no less than a grade of 'B' in 150 and 'C' in 216. Majors seeking teacher certification are required to have a cumulative grade point average and a departmental major average of at least 2.5 before student teaching.

The optional pre-law concentration requires completion of History 100 or 110 (whichever is not taken for General Education credit), History 222, and Political Science 150 and 216, and 34 credits in additional courses, including 25 credits in political science, 3 in history, 3 in psychology, and 3 in accounting. It is also strongly recommended that students add electives in computer science and forensic psychology and take six additional hours of work in social science courses selected in consultation with the advisor.

Political Science majors seeking the Bachelor of Arts degree must complete a modern foreign language at the 202 level or higher.

Specific course listings for political science programs are given below.

MINOR IN POLITICAL SCIENCE

The minor in Political Science requires completion of Political Science 150 and 216 and of 12 credits of upper-level courses in political science chosen in consultation with a department advisor.

Department of Mathematics and Computer Science

James C. Gussett, Chair
Carol Clark, Secretary

The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science offers courses leading to a major in mathematics and computer science, and minors in mathematics and computer science. It also offers courses which fulfill general education and Bachelor of Science degree requirements. On the basis of a screening procedure some students will be required to take Mathematics 051 and/or 052 prior to general education mathematics courses.

ASSESSMENT: The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science requires all majors to participate in any required assessment activities, including, as seniors, taking a comprehensive mathematics test and the senior seminar course. The purpose of the test is to assess the progress of the majors and the effectiveness of the program.

Certification

Students who are preparing to teach and who are majoring in fields other than mathematics may be endorsed to teach computer science or general mathematics by minoring in computer science or mathematics, respectively. An endorsement in general mathematics enables one to teach general mathematics (including general, consumer, basic, career and shop mathematics) wherever it is offered in grades 8-12.

MATHEMATICS PROGRAM

William P. Abrams, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Mathematics
John E. Arehart, Ed.D., Associate Professor of Computer Science and Mathematics
Sandra A. Bollinger, M.A., Assistant Professor of Mathematics
Sharon Emerson-Stonnell, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Mathematics
Maud J. Eno, B.A., Instructor of Mathematics
James C. Gussett, Ed.D., Professor of Mathematics
Robert D. May, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Mathematics
E. T. Noone, Jr., Ed.D., Professor of Mathematics
Jeffery H. Peden, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Computer Science
Robert P. Webber, Ph.D., Professor of Computer Science and Mathematics
Robert S. Wu, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Mathematics

All mathematics majors are required to take a core of mathematics courses (Mathematics 261, 262, 300, 343, 361, 371 and 488). The remaining courses will be selected from one of two concentrations -- pure mathematics, or applied mathematics/computer science.

While every attempt is made to state the requirements and concentrations available in the department as succinctly as possible, it is recommended that every student majoring or minoring in the department continue in close communication with the academic advisor assigned by the department in order to plan the program best suited to individual needs and goals.

Students desiring a minor in mathematics or computer science must successfully complete the appropriate program described below, and must see the Chair of the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science to declare officially a minor in either field.

Minor in Computer Science/18 hours. See page 184.

For additional Endorsement to teach General Mathematics (Grades 8-12), with a major other than mathematics
Minor in Mathematics/19 or 22 hours. See below.

Students seeking the B.A. degree must take 3 semester hours of one modern language at the 202 level or higher and choose the humanities elective from Literature, Philosophy, or Religion.

MINOR IN MATHEMATICS

Mathematics 121*/3 credits

Mathematics 261, 262/10 credits

Electives: 300-400 level mathematics/3 credits

200-400 level computer science or mathematics/6 credits

TOTAL/22 credits

*This requirement may be waived for students beginning their mathematics studies with Mathematics 261.

Electives may not include Mathematics 271, 313, 321, and 451.

MATHEMATICS

*General Education Courses

Writing Intensive Course

Mathematics 121. FUNCTIONS AND GRAPHS.* A study of polynomial, rational, exponential, logarithmic and trigonometric functions with emphasis on graphing techniques, algebraic and numerical properties and applications. Prerequisite: Two years of high school algebra or by placement. 3 credits.

Mathematics 171. STATISTICAL DECISION MAKING.* An elementary statistics course designed to show the student how statistics is used in problem solving and decision making. Topics include measures of central tendency and variability; elementary probability concepts; the binomial, normal and Chi-square distributions, correlation and regression; and hypothesis testing. Special emphasis is placed upon the proper use of statistics in real life situations. 3 credits.

Mathematics 267. APPLICATIONS OF CALCULUS.* A course designed for students in Business, Economics, and the Social and Life Sciences. The techniques of calculus are presented in an informal approach. Emphasis is on applications of the mathematical concepts of calculus, e.g., break-even analysis, optimization, spread of epidemics, population growth models. Credit will not be given in this course toward the mathematics major. Prerequisite: Mathematics 164 or equivalent. 4 credits.

Mathematics 051. BASIC MATHEMATICS. An individualized course in basic mathematics. The content will include computational skills in whole numbers, fractions and decimals; percent, ratio, proportion; and topics in basic algebra. Students will be assigned to the course on the basis of score on a diagnostic test. This course does not satisfy general education requirements. Successful completion of the course required before the student will be permitted to take general education mathematics courses required for graduation. Credit for this course cannot be used toward graduation. 3 credits (Pass/Fail).

Mathematics 052. ALGEBRA. An individualized course in algebra. The content will include the real number system; polynomials; algebraic fractions; exponents and radicals; graphing linear and quadratic equations and linear inequalities. Students will be assigned to the course on the basis of score on a diagnostic test. This course does not satisfy general education requirements. Successful completion of the course is required before the student will be permitted to take general education mathematics required for graduation. Credit for this course cannot be used toward graduation. 3 credits (Pass/Fail).

Mathematics 114. MATHEMATICS FOR THE CONSUMER. An introductory course designed to acquaint the student with the application of mathematics in the life of the consumer. Special attention will be given to the algebraic derivation of formulas, the reduction of real life situations to mathematical models, and the mathematics employed in banking, budgeting, credit, taxes, insurance, installment buying, annuities, stocks, bonds, and mortgages. 3 credits.

Mathematics 164. PRECALCULUS. A study of functions with an emphasis on exponential, logarithmic, and trigonometric functions in order to prepare the student for calculus. 3 credits.

Mathematics 181. FINITE MATHEMATICS. A study of discrete mathematical structures with applications primarily to business and economics. Topics will be selected from a review of sets; linear and quadratic functions; solving systems of linear equations using Gauss-Jordan elimination; matrix algebra; solutions of inequalities; linear programming, including the graphical methods and introduction to the simplex method; introductory probability; introduction to calculus; and mathematics of finance. 3 credits.

Mathematics 261, 262. THE DIFFERENTIAL AND INTEGRAL CALCULUS. A unified course dealing with the basic ideas of calculus and analytic geometry. Prerequisite for Mathematics 262: successful completion of 261. Students who do not make a "C" or better in 261 should have the consent of the chair before enrolling in 262. 5 credits.

Mathematics 271. APPLIED STATISTICS. Topics include measures of central tendency, probability distributions, measures of dispersion, correlation and linear regression, analysis of variance and covariance. The emphasis will be on linear modeling techniques to conduct hypothesis tests. Computer applications will be an integral part of the course. Knowledge of calculus will not be required. Credit will not be given toward the mathematics majors. 3 credits.

Mathematics 295. SPECIAL TOPICS. Selected topics in mathematics. The topics may vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit when topics change. 1-3 credits.

*Mathematics 300. A TRANSITION TO ADVANCED MATHEMATICS. An introduction to rigorous mathematical proof with focus on the properties of the real number system. Topics include elementary symbolic logic, mathematical induction, algebra of sets, relations, countability, algebraic and completeness properties of the reals. 3 credits.

Mathematics 313. TEACHING PROBABILITY AND STATISTICS. Designed especially for the pre-service teacher and will use an experiential, informal, activity-based approach. There will be hands-on activities and experiments relating empirical and theoretical probabilities. Quick descriptive statistics and new graphical methods will be presented. These techniques are useful in describing, comparing, exploring and interpreting sets of data. There will also be intuitive ideas from inferential statistics. 3 credits.

Mathematics 321. MATHEMATICAL THINKING AND PROBLEM SOLVING. A study of thinking skills and strategies used in solving problems and an examination of ways that these can be taught to others. Numerical and geometrical concepts normally taught in the middle and junior high schools will be used in developing problem solving skills. 3 credits.

Mathematics 335. ADVANCED EUCLIDEAN GEOMETRY. A study of Euclidean geometry from a more advanced viewpoint. The methods and techniques of synthetic axiomatic geometry will be stressed through a study of logic and formal proof, constructions, higher Euclidean geometry, finite geometries, and non-Euclidean geometries. Prerequisite/corequisite: Mathematics 261. 3 credits.

Mathematics 336. SURVEY OF MODERN GEOMETRIES. A study designed to widen and enlarge the horizons of the students through an examination of some of the geometric developments since the time of Euclid. The characteristics and interrelatedness of various geometries--topological, projective, affine, similarity, Euclidean, non-Euclidean and inversion--will be briefly examined through transformations. Prerequisite: Mathematics 300. 3 credits.

Mathematics 342. INTRODUCTION TO MODERN ALGEBRA. Sets and mappings, integers, general algebraic systems, groups, rings, and fields. Prerequisite: Mathematics 300. 3 credits.

Mathematics 343. LINEAR ALGEBRA. A basic study of vector spaces, linear transformations, and their relationships to matrix algebra. Also included are determinants, isomorphism theorems, linear functionals, and dual spaces. Prerequisite: Mathematics 262 or consent of department chair. 3 credits.

Mathematics 345. NUMBER THEORY. An introductory course in additive and multiplicative number theory. Included are topics such as: divisibility, prime numbers, congruences, residue systems, linear and quadratic congruences, Diophantine equations, quadratic residues, and number theoretic functions. Prerequisite/corequisite: Mathematics 342 or consent of instructor. 3 credits.

Mathematics 350 (Computer Science 350). ETHICAL ISSUES IN MATHEMATICS

AND COMPUTER SCIENCE. Consideration of ethical implications of mathematics and computer science in society. Overview of ethical theory; case studies of situations illustrating ethical dilemmas. A knowledge of calculus and algorithms will be assumed. 1 credit.

Mathematics 351. INTRODUCTION TO TOPOLOGY. Topological spaces, continuous mappings, homeomorphisms, compactness, connectedness, metric spaces, and other selected topics in point set topology. Prerequisite: Mathematics 361. 3 credits.

Mathematics 361. CALCULUS III. Advanced topics in calculus not considered in Mathematics 261, 262. Prerequisite: Mathematics 262. Students who do not make "C" or better in 262 should have consent of the chair before enrolling. 3 credits.

Mathematics 371. INTRODUCTION TO PROBABILITY AND STATISTICS. Theory of probability; expected values of random variables; tests of hypotheses; sampling; the central limit theorem; regression analysis. Prerequisite: Mathematics 361. 3 credits.

Mathematics 405. NUMERICAL ANALYSIS. An investigation of numerical techniques of approximation, matrix computations, integration, and differentiation with emphasis on the solution of non-linear equations, linear systems and differential equations. The course will require use of the computer. Attention will be given to the problems of rounding error, conditioning, and stability. Prerequisite: Mathematics 343, 361 and Computer Science 121 or equivalent. 3 credits.

Mathematics 451. THE TEACHING OF HIGH SCHOOL MATHEMATICS. A study of current practices in high school mathematics teaching with emphasis on principles, techniques, and materials. Required for those planning to teach high school mathematics. 3 credits.

Mathematics 460. DIFFERENTIAL EQUATIONS. Primarily a study of ordinary differential equations of the first and second order with application to elementary work in mechanics and physics. Prerequisite: Mathematics 361. 3 credits.

Mathematics 461. ADVANCED CALCULUS. A theoretical approach to the study of limits, continuity, differentials, derivatives, and integrals. Development of the real number system, elementary point set theory, functions of several variables, infinite series, and power series. Prerequisite: Mathematics 300, 361. 3 credits.

Mathematics 472. INTRODUCTION TO MATHEMATICAL STATISTICS. Distribution of functions of random variables; moments and moment generating functions; T, F and Chi-square distributions; limiting distributions; interval estimation. Prerequisite: Mathematics 361 and 371. 3 credits.

Mathematics 481. COMPLEX ANALYSIS. An introduction to the fundamental concepts of complex analysis, including the complex plane, holomorphic functions, the exponential function, Cauchy integral formula, Taylor series, Laurent series, conformal maps, the notion of residues and some applications in physics. Prerequisite: Mathematics 361. 3 credits.

*Mathematics 488. SENIOR SEMINAR. A capstone course for the mathematics major. Students will learn problem solving skills which will be useful in the academic/industrial community. Computer packages such as Mathematica, Maple, Tex and Internet will be introduced. Prerequisite: Mathematics Major and Senior Status. 3 credits.

Mathematics 490. DIRECTED STUDY IN MATHEMATICS. Individualized study; recommended only when material cannot be studied through existing course offerings. Must have permission of department chair. 1-3 credits. May be repeated as 491, etc.; no more than 6 credits.

Mathematics 495. SPECIAL TOPICS. Selected topics in mathematics. The topics may vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit when topics change. 1-3 credits.

For Graduates and Advanced Undergraduates

Mathematics 513. THE TEACHING OF PROBABILITY AND STATISTICS.

This course is designed especially for teachers and will use an experiential, informal, activity-based approach. There will be hands-on activities and experiments relating empirical and theoretical probabilities. Quick descriptive statistics and new graphical methods will be presented. These techniques are useful in describing, comparing, exploring and interpreting sets of data. There will also be intuitive ideas from inferential statistics. 3 credits.

Mathematics 595. WORKSHOPS IN MATHEMATICS. 1-3 credits.

COMPUTER SCIENCE PROGRAM

Robert P. Webber, Ph.D., Professor of Mathematics and Computer Science

While every attempt is made to state the requirements and concentrations available in the department as succinctly as possible, it is recommended that every student majoring or minoring in the department continue in close communication with the academic advisor assigned by the department in order to plan the program best suited to individual needs and goals.

Students desiring a minor in computer science must successfully complete the appropriate program described below, and must see the Chair of the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science to declare officially a minor in this field.

MINOR IN COMPUTER SCIENCE

A minor in computer science shall consist of 18 credit hours of computer science courses, at least 12 hours of which must be at the 300 or 400 level.

COMPUTER SCIENCE

General Education*

Writing Intensive Course*

Computer Science 121. INTRODUCTION TO PROGRAMMING. An introductory course in computer science with emphasis on techniques of structured programming, algorithms, problem solving and applications. A writing intensive course. 3 credits. Every semester.

Computer Science 156. INTRODUCTION TO COMPUTER BASED SYSTEMS. Introduction to the computer as a production tool. Topics include the relation of hardware and software, the operating system, the use of application software, specifically word-processors, spread sheets, databases, and an introduction to programming. 3 credits.

Computer Science 201 (MISY 270). BEGINNING COBOL. An introduction to programming in a business oriented language (COBOL) with emphasis on commercial applications and elementary concepts of file processing. Prerequisite: Computer Science 156 or credit for another Computer Science course. 3 credits.

Computer Science 204. INTRODUCTION TO COMPUTER SCIENCE. An introductory course in computer science emphasizing programming and algorithm development. Topics will include basic language structures, assignment, iteration, control flow, language and programmer defined variable types, and basic data manipulation models. 3 credits.

Computer Science 206. DATA STRUCTURES IN ADVANCED PROGRAMMING. A one semester course in advanced programming utilizing data structures and models. The course emphasizes advanced programming techniques in the manipulation of data structures. Prerequisite: Computer Science 204. 3 credits.

Computer Science 215. INTRODUCTION TO FORTRAN. An overview of the FORTRAN programming language, with emphasis on applications to mathematics and science. Prerequisites: knowledge of another computer language. 3 credits.

Computer Science 272. FORTRAN FOR BUSINESS. An introduction to the FORTRAN programming language, with emphasis on applications in business. Prerequisites: Computer Science 121 or 201. 3 credits.

Computer Science 290. SELF STUDY IN PROGRAMMING. Independent study of a specific programming language, its syntax and applications, based on prior study of programming languages in general. May not duplicate other language courses. Must be arranged with an instructor and approved by department chair before registering. May be repeated for credit with different languages. Prerequisite: Computer Science 206. 1 credit.

Computer Science 295. SPECIAL TOPICS. Selected topics in computer science. The topics may vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit when topics change. 1-3 credits.

Computer Science 300. DISCRETE MATHEMATICS FOR COMPUTER SCIENCE. Topics in discrete mathematics used in computer science, including methods of proof, graphs, computability, and formal grammars. Prerequisites: Computer Science 204 or 206. 3 credits.

Computer Science 301. COMPUTER ORGANIZATION AND ASSEMBLER

LANGUAGE PROGRAMMING. Assembler language programming; addressing techniques; internal storage structure; machine-level representation of instructions and data; sub-routines. Prerequisites: Computer Science 206 or consent of instructor. Fall only; 3 credits.

Computer Science 302. DATA ABSTRACTION PROGRAMMING. A one semester course in advanced programming utilizing the data abstraction programming paradigm. The course emphasizes advanced programming techniques used in the design, definition, and manipulation of abstract data types. Prerequisites: Computer Science 206 (or equivalent) using a language of instruction other than C++ and Computer Science 315 (or equivalent). Note: This course may not be taken for credit if credit has been received for Computer Science 206 (or equivalent) using C++ as the language of instruction. 3 credits.

Computer Science 306. COMPUTER ORGANIZATION. The organization and structuring of the major hardware components of computers; the mechanics of information transfer and control within a computer system; standard computer architectures; the fundamentals of logic design. Prerequisite: Computer Science 301. 3 credits.

*Computer Science 308. ORGANIZATION OF PROGRAMMING LANGUAGES. Topics include language and definition structure, data types and structures, control structures and data flow, run-time characteristics and lexical analysis and parsing. Programming assignments will involve the use of several different languages. Prerequisite: Computer Science 206 or permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Computer Science 311. INTRODUCTION TO OPERATING SYSTEMS AND COMPUTER ARCHITECTURE. Emphasis will be placed on concepts rather than case studies and on the interdependence of operating systems and architecture. Topics include instruction sets, I/O and interrupt structure, addressing schemes, microprogramming, memory management and recovery procedures. Prerequisite: Computer Science 301. 3 credits.

Computer Science 315. THE C PROGRAMMING LANGUAGE. An advanced programming course utilizing the C programming language, with emphasis on control structures, the manipulation of data structures, and modular programming techniques. A programming intensive course. Prerequisites: Computer Science 204 or Computer Science 206. 3 credits.

Computer Science 316. OBJECT-ORIENTED PROGRAMMING. A course in the techniques of object-oriented programming in an object-oriented programming language. Topics covered include inheritance, function and operator overloading, object construction, visibility, information hiding, and multiple inheritance. Prerequisite: Computer Science 206. 3 credits.

Computer Science 323. NON-PROCEDURAL PROGRAMMING TOOLS. A study of non-procedural fourth generation languages and CASE tools. Prerequisite: Computer Science 206. 3 credits.

Computer Science 350. (Mathematics 350). ETHICAL ISSUES IN MATHEMATICS AND COMPUTER SCIENCE.* Consideration of ethical implications of mathematics and computer science in society. Overview of ethical theory; case studies of situations illustrating ethical dilemmas. A knowledge of calculus and algorithms will be assumed. 1 credit.

Computer Science 360. COMPUTER NETWORK THEORY. A course covering the theory and design of modern computer networks. Topics include local and wide area networks, the OSI network model, basic network performance analysis, and real time networks. Prerequisite: Computer Science 206. 3 credits.

Computer Science 362. THEORY OF DATABASES.* A course covering the theory and practice of modern databases design and implementation. Topics include relational and hierarchical database design, database query languages, update consistency, and distributed databases. Prerequisite: Computer Science 206. 3 credits.

Computer Science 390. ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE. An advanced theory and programming course covering the theory and techniques of artificial intelligence. Topics covered include computer vision, game playing, min-max algorithms, and an introduction to the LISP programming language. Prerequisite: Computer Science 206. 3 credits.

Computer Science 408. ADA AND SOFTWARE ENGINEERING. Syntax and semantics of the Ada programming language. Principles of Software Engineering. Prerequisites: Computer Science 204 or 206. 3 credits.

Computer Science 415. THEORY OF COMPUTATION. The basic theories underlying computer science, such as language and automata theory, and the computability of functions. Emphasis is placed on the development of theoretical machine and language descriptions. Prerequisite: Computer Science 300. 3 credits.

Computer Science 435. QUEUEING THEORY AND SIMULATION. A course covering the basic mathematics of queueing systems and the principles of the computer simulation of queueing systems. Topics include M/M/1, M/G/1, and G/M/1 queues, Laplace and z-transforms, priority queueing, and basic computer simulation techniques. Prerequisite: Computer Science 204 or equivalent, Mathematics 371. 3 credits.

Computer Science 445. COMPILER DESIGN. A course covering the basic theory and techniques of compiler and code translation systems. Topics include lexical analysis, parsing, and code generation, and the various techniques used when handling differing source language classes. A programming intensive course. Also covered are the techniques of top-down and bottom-up parsing. Prerequisite: Computer Science 300. 3 credits.

Computer Science 452. COMPUTERS IN EDUCATION. A survey of programming languages, software, and hardware commonly found in an educational setting.

Prerequisite: Computer Science 206. 3 credits.

Computer Science 488. SEMINAR IN COMPUTER SCIENCE. Students will work individually and in terms on the development, implementation, and maintenance of a large software project. This course is the capstone experience in the computer science major. A segment on assessment will be included. Corequisite: Satisfaction of all other requirements for the computer science major or consent of instructor. 3 credits.

Computer Science 490. DIRECTED STUDY IN COMPUTER SCIENCE. Individualized study; recommended only when material cannot be studied through existing course offerings. Must have permission of department chair. 1-3 credits. May be repeated as Computer Science 491, etc.; no more than 6 credits.

Computer Science 495. SPECIAL TOPICS. Selected topics in computer science. The topics may vary from semester to semester. May be repeated for credit when topics change. 1-3 credits.

For Graduates and Advanced Undergraduates

Computer Science 505. COMPUTERS IN MATHEMATICS EDUCATION. Introduction to programming in the interactive language BASIC. Techniques and existing programs in computer-assisted instruction, computer-managed instruction, simulation and modeling. Emphasis will be placed on secondary school applications. Offered on demand; 3 credits.

Computer Science 595. WORKSHOPS IN COMPUTER SCIENCE. 1-3 credits.

Department of Music

Dr. Donald L. Trott, Chair
Brenda Clark, Secretary

The purpose of the department is to educate students and the college community in music of all eras, styles, and types. Specifically, the department offers a curriculum designed for the training of music majors and for informing them of career opportunities in music; the curriculum offers the opportunities for majors to increase their musical literacy and sensitivity. The department makes available a general education in music for the non-music major and gives opportunities for members of the community to increase their music skills and appreciation.

The Department of Music offers two degrees: the Bachelor of Arts degree with concentration in music, and the Bachelor of Music degree with concentration in Education, in Performance (voice, piano, organ, harpsichord, brass, woodwinds, strings, and percussion) or in Composition. Common to each degree is a basic music core outlined in the specific degree plans below.

The following additional requirements should be noted:

1. Each incoming Freshman music major or transfer student is screened for music major degree programs of study through performance audition and interview with the Music Faculty. Early in the first semester, a non-keyboard major must take a keyboard placement examination in order to determine the student's level of piano proficiency.
2. Every music major is required to enroll in an ensemble for credit each semester. For vocal majors that ensemble will be Concert Choir or Camerata Singers and for instrumental majors that ensemble will be Concert Band. Keyboard majors may choose from the three, depending upon abilities and professional track.
3. Students pursuing the B.M. degree in performance are required to present a half Junior recital and a full Senior recital. Students pursuing the B.A. in Music or the B.M. in the education concentration are required to present a minimum of a half Senior recital.
4. Students pursuing the BM in Composition are required to present a half recital of original works and a half recital in the applied area.

The amount of credit in applied music that may be transferred from other institutions will be determined through evaluation of the student's ability by the Music faculty.

The Department of Music also offers a Minor in Music, a program which requires the successful completion of 24 credits in music. Those credits are earned in theoretical studies, history and literature, applied study, and in music ensembles.

The department is an accredited institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Music.

Assessment

Students are admitted to the music major on the basis of an in-person audition and interview with the Music Faculty. Students majoring in music are carefully assessed in performance each semester during their college careers by a jury examination in performance administered by the Music Faculty who make written commentary which is then discussed with the student by the applied instructor in a follow-up conference. Prior to the presentation of half and full recitals, a Recital Hearing is performed for the Music Faculty who make written commentary which is discussed in a follow-up conference. Continuing students who apply for scholarship assistance are auditioned and interviewed by the Music Faculty.

MUSIC DEGREE PROGRAMS

Faculty

All music faculty teach in each of the music degree programs listed below.

Robert E. Blasch, Ed.D., Professor of Music
Caroline Hong, D.M., Assistant Professor of Music
Charles E. Kinzer, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Music
Patricia D. Lust, D.M., Associate Professor of Music

BACHELOR OF ARTS

Concentration in Music

(Applied Areas: Voice, Piano, Organ,
Harpsichord, Brass, Woodwinds, Strings, Percussion)

The degree Bachelor of Arts with a Concentration in Music is a program of study in which the student is encouraged to develop skills as a practicing musician and which prepares the student with the necessary skills to pursue graduate studies in music literature or history. The degree program requires a modern language in either German or French.

A. General Education Core Requirements. 33 credits.

See General Education Requirements listed on pages 61-63.

B. Additional Degree Requirements. 9 credits.

BACHELOR OF MUSIC

Concentration in Education

(Applied Areas: Voice, Piano, Organ,
Harpsichord, Brass, Woodwinds, Strings, Percussion)

The degree Bachelor of Music with a concentration in Education K-12 is earned at the completion of a program of music study which is designed to prepare the student to be certified and to teach music in the schools. In addition to developing each student as a practicing musician in voice or in instrumental studies, the skills necessary to communicate musical concepts and skills are emphasized. Opportunities to observe and to teach in the classroom situation prepare the student for an intensive professional semester at the end of the program of study.

Department of Natural Sciences

Carolyn Wells, Chair

Betty J. Woodie, Secretary

The Department offers majors in biology, chemistry, and physics; minors are available in biology, chemistry, earth science, environmental studies, geography, and physics. A student may major or minor in more than one area with the appropriate selection of courses. The Department also offers degrees in cooperation with other institutions in the fields of pre-engineering and medical technology. Pre-professional medical programs prepare students to transfer to professional schools in a number of health oriented professions. The Department of Natural Sciences offers courses which satisfy the science requirements for general education in all degree programs of the College.

The aim of study in this department is to develop an interest in the natural world and to acquire the scientific habits of problem-solving through experimentation, accurate observation, exact statements, and independent thought.

ASSESSMENT: The Department of Natural Sciences requires senior majors to take a comprehensive achievement test. The purpose of the test is to assess the progress of the majors and the effectiveness of the program.

The biology major at Longwood provides fundamental training in many areas of the biological sciences so that graduates may pursue graduate study or careers in research, industry, teaching, medicine, dentistry, or allied health fields. To provide a broad background in the biological program, each student must take biological concepts, general botany, general zoology, evolution, genetics, unifying biological principles, biological seminar, and a course from each of the areas of morphology, physiology, and ecology. A minimum of 38 credit hours in biology (including 7 elective hours) is required for all majors. A student who is in another major may obtain a biology minor. The minor program requires 8 semester hours at the introductory level, 8 hours at the 200 level or above, 4 hours at the 300 level or above, and 4 hours of electives for a total of 24 semester hours. Students are encouraged to enroll in a program of honors study or in a research project in biology.

A student may seek secondary teaching endorsement in biology. This program consists of all courses required of a biology major and Education 245, 260, 265, 455, Science 352, and the professional semester consisting of 18 hours including student teaching in the senior year. If an additional endorsement in chemistry, earth science, or physics is desired, the student must minor in that discipline and meet all state mandated core requirements for that certification.

BIOLOGY MINOR

Students who are interested in pursuing a biology minor should contact the area coordinator. The minor must include:

- Biology 102, 103/8 credits
- 8 semester hours of biology at the 200 level or above.
- 4 semester hours of biology at the 300 level or above.
- 4 semester hours of biology electives.
- TOTAL/24 credits

No grade below "C-" is accepted in fulfilling the Biology minor requirement.

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES MINOR

This interdisciplinary minor serves those students majoring in any subject who are interested in beginning an understanding of environmental issues. Grades below "C-" will not apply toward the fulfillment of minor requirements. Students choosing this minor must make appropriate selections from each of the following groups:

Group A*-8 hours

Biology 102	4 credits	General Botany

or		Resource Economics
Earth Science 261	4 credits	Meteorology

Group E-6 hours

Biology 500, 505, 541, 543, 574,
Earth Science 577 or
Biology/Earth Science 578	6 credits	(one summer field course)

Total required hours: 24-25

* Biology majors seeking this minor must take Chemistry 121, 352; Chemistry majors seeking this minor must take either Biology 102/342 or Biology 103/341. All other majors may choose one of the three options indicated in Group A.

BIOLOGY

A special fee is charged for all courses with laboratories.

* General Education Course

 Writing Intensive Course

* Biology 101. BIOLOGICAL CONCEPTS.

An inquiry into the common features of life at the molecular, cellular and organismic levels including: osmosis, mitosis, meiosis, photosynthesis, respiration, cytology, classical and molecular genetics, development, evolution, and ecology. 3 lecture hours and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Biology 102. GENERAL BOTANY. The structure and function of plants with emphasis on the angiosperms. A broad survey of the plant kingdom including the biology, life cycles, economics and ecology of representatives of the plant divisions. Biology majors must make at least a C- in this course before taking advanced biology courses. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Biology 103. GENERAL ZOOLOGY. A broad survey of the animal kingdom with emphasis on the biology, comparative anatomy, life cycles, economics and ecology of representatives from the various phyla. Biology majors must make at least a C- in this course before taking advanced biology courses. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

 Biology 110. BIOLOGICAL CONCEPTS II. An examination of evolutionary, ecological, and behavioral considerations leading to an understanding of the diversity of life forms living on earth, the interrelationships of those life forms with the environment, and the strategies employed by living organisms to acquire resources and to reproduce. Special emphasis is given to environmental issues facing man today. This course does not meet the requirements of a biology major. 3 lecture periods and one 2-hour lab period; 4 credits. Prerequisites: Biology 101 or equivalent.

Biology 112. FUNDAMENTALS OF BOTANY. An inquiry into the common features of life at the molecular, cellular, and organismic levels in plants. Emphasis on classification, metabolic processes, ecology, evolution, cell biology, and importance to society. For Liberal Studies majors or students seeking licensure. Does not meet the requirements for a biology major or minor. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods. 4 credits.

Biology 113. FUNDAMENTALS OF ZOOLOGY. An inquiry into the common features of life at the molecular, cellular, and organismic levels in animals. Emphasis on life cycles, genetics, ecology, evolution, and economics of the various phyla. For Liberal Studies majors or students seeking teaching licensure. Does not meet the requirements for a biology major or minor. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods. 4 credits.

Biology 201. PLANT MORPHOLOGY. A comparative study of embryonic development, anatomy, structure and evolution in representative vascular plant divisions. Prerequisite: Biology 102. 3 lecture and one 3-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

 Biology 202. ANIMAL MORPHOLOGY. A comparative study of embryonic development, anatomy and evolution in representative vertebrate groups. Prerequisite: Biology 103. 2 lecture and two 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Biology 206, 207. HUMAN ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY. Basic physiological principles and integrated anatomy and physiology of the integumentary, digestive, respiratory, cardiovascular and lymphatic systems (Biology 206) and the skeletal, muscular, nervous, endocrine, excretory and reproductive systems (Biology 207). Biology 206 is recommended as a prerequisite for 207. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods. Both semesters required for credit; 4 credits each semester.

Biology 295. SPECIAL TOPICS IN BIOLOGY. 1-4 credits.

Biology 304. MICROBIOLOGY. A study of the structure, physiology and activities of micro-organisms as related to their role in nature, disease, immunological interactions, industrial processes and human affairs. Basic concepts of, and fundamental techniques for, isolation, growth, identification and immunological reactions are stressed. 3 lecture and two 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Biology 305. PLANT PHYSIOLOGY. The principal physiological processes in vascular plants at the molecular, cellular and tissue level including respiration, photosynthesis, water relations and factors associated with plant morphogenesis. Prerequisite: Biology 102. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

*Biology 306. VERTEBRATE PHYSIOLOGY. The principal functional processes in vertebrate organs and organ systems including respiration, circulation, hormonal coordination, water balance, thermoregulation, nervous coordination, and responses to special environments. Prerequisites: 1 semester of chemistry and Biology 103. 3 lecture and one 3-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Biology 321. PLANT TAXONOMY. The morphology, classification and systematics of the vascular plants with emphasis on family characteristics. The laboratory stresses the identification and herbarium preparation of local plants collected during weekly field trips. Prerequisite: Biology 102. 2 lecture and two 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Biology 323. GENETICS AND SOCIETY. A detailed study of the structure and functioning of the genetic apparatus. Basic genetic facts will be related to important aspects of everyday life, including key issues of social and ethical responsibilities raised by advancing genetic knowledge. Does not normally meet requirements for a biology major. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Biology 341. GENERAL ECOLOGY. The principles underlying the interrelations of groups of organisms with their environments, including the population, community and ecosystem levels of organization. The lab normally includes local field trips with an extended field trip to the coast. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

*Biology 342. PLANT ECOLOGY. The relationships of plants to their physical and biological environment with a consideration of plants in populations, communities, ecosystems and plant associations within Virginia. The lab emphasizes local field investigations and includes extended field trips to the coast and the mountains. Prerequisite: Biology 102. 3 lecture and one 3-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Biology 352 (Science 352) METHODS IN BIOLOGY FOR SECONDARY TEACHERS. A study of the appropriate methods and materials for teaching high school biology courses. 3 lecture periods; 3 credits.

Biology 361. AQUATIC ECOLOGY. A study of lakes, ponds and streams including their origin, development, morphometry, geochemistry, energy balance, productivity, and the dynamics of plant and animal communities. Laboratory includes a field trip within Virginia. Prerequisites: Biology 102 or 103 and a semester of Chemistry is recommended. 2 lecture and two 3-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Biology 362 (Earth Science 362). BIOLOGICAL OCEANOGRAPHY. An introduction to the taxonomy, habitats, adaptations and unique biological processes of marine flora and fauna. Laboratory normally includes an extended field trip to the coast. Prerequisite: Biology 102 or 103. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Biology 363. FIELD BIOLOGY. Collection, identification and life histories of local fauna. One lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 2 credits.

Biology 364 (Earth Science 364). MAN AND THE ENVIRONMENT. A consideration of local, national and international environmental problems. Three lecture periods; 3 credits.

Biology 399. EVOLUTION. A study of the basic processes of organic evolution including the historical development of evolutionary theory, sources of variation, adaptation, natural selection, speciation, the fossil record, biogeography and major steps in evolution. 3 lecture periods; 3 credits.

*Biology 400. UNIFYING BIOLOGICAL PRINCIPLES. An integrative study of phenomena common to all living creatures: metabolism, homeostasis, reproduction, development, inheritance, life's interactions and the environment through time and space. Themes are studied from the perspective of both cellular and organismic levels of complexity. Open only to junior and senior biology majors and minors. Prerequisite: 16 hours of 200, 300, and/or 400 level biology. 3 lecture periods; 3 credits.

Biology 412 (Chemistry 412) BIOCHEMISTRY. A study of the chemistry of proteins, carbohydrates, lipids and nucleic acids in biological systems. Prerequisite: Chemistry 305 or permission of instructor. 3 lecture periods; 3 credits. (Or 4 credits with one 2-hour lab period.)

*Biology 424. GENETICS. A study of the mechanisms for the replication, continuation, variation of regulation and expression of genetic information. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Biology 425. MODERN GENETICS. A study of the structure and function of hereditary material at the molecular level. Topics include DNA-RNA structure and replication, protein synthesis, and homeostasis. Prerequisite: Biology 424. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

*Biology 426. CELL BIOLOGY. A study of the structure and function of prokaryotic and eukaryotic cells, including plant and animal cell types. Emphasis on the structure and function of membranes, mitochondria, ribosomes, endoplasmic reticula, plastids, nuclei and nucleoli. Prerequisites: Biology 102 and 103. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Biology 470. ACAROLOGY. The classification, biology, medical and economic significance of mites and ticks. Prerequisite:

site: Biology 103. Two 2-hour lab periods; 2 credits.

Biology 471. ORNITHOLOGY. Identification, classification and morphology of birds common to Virginia. Saturday field trips. Prerequisites: Biology 103 and permission of instructor. 3 lecture/lab periods; 2 credits.

Biology 472. BIOLOGY OF FISHES. The morphology, taxonomy, physiology and ecology of fishes. Prerequisite: Biology 103 and permission of instructor. Two lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 3 credits.

Biology 473. BRYOLOGY. The taxonomy and biology of local mosses and liverworts. Prerequisite: Biology 102 and permission of instructor. Four lecture/lab periods; 1/2 semester course. 2 credits.

Biology 474. ENTOMOLOGY. A study of insects: morphology, ecology, evolution, physiology, or taxonomy of the class or of a particular order. Prerequisites: Biology 103 and permission of instructor. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Biology 475. HERPETOLOGY. The study of reptiles and amphibians with emphasis on the systematics, distribution, ecology and evolution of each group. Prerequisites: Biology 103 and permission of instructor. 2 lecture and two 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Biology 476. HORTICULTURE. A survey of basic principles and practices for the propagation and care of plants. Open to all students. No prerequisites. 3 credits.

Biology 477. PTERIDOLOGY. The morphology, taxonomy and ecology of ferns, lycopods and horsetail rushes. Prerequisite: Biology 102. 2 lecture and one 3-hour lab periods; 3 credits.

Biology 485. THE ETHICS OF BIOLOGY. A study of basic ethical principles coupled with student led discussions of how these principles apply to contemporary personal and professional biological concerns. Open only to biology majors and minors. 1 credit.

Biology 490. BIOLOGICAL SEMINAR. Short oral presentations by students on selected, researched biological topics. May be repeated as 491 or 492. Open to junior and senior biology majors and minors. 1 lecture period; 1 credit.

Biology 495. SPECIAL TOPICS IN BIOLOGY. 1-4 credits.

Biology 496. RESEARCH PROJECTS IN BIOLOGY. With the approval of a faculty member and the department head, a student may carry out an individual research project. The nature of the project must be determined between the student and faculty member and approved by the head before the student may register for the course. May be repeated as 497. 2, 3, or 4 credits.

Biology 496I. RESEARCH PROJECTS IN BIOLOGY. With the approval of a faculty member and the department head, a student may carry out an individual research project in a foreign country. The nature of the project must be determined between the student and the faculty member and approved by the head of the department before the student may register for the course. May be repeated as 497I. 2, 3, or 4 credits.

Biology 500. FIELD ORNITHOLOGY. A four-week summer field course for advanced undergraduates, graduates, teachers, and naturalists. Students are expected to learn the techniques of censusing breeding bird populations in Prince Edward County and other selected sites. Identification of bird species by sight and by sound is emphasized. The course includes a study of the behavior of breeding birds, the habitat favored by each species, and ecological factors that affect the efforts of birds to perpetuate their species. 6 credits.

Biology 501. ADVANCED FIELD ORNITHOLOGY. A four-week summer field course for advanced undergraduates, graduates, teachers, and naturalists who have successfully completed Biology 500. Identification of 100 birds by sight and sound is required by the end of the course. Students must formulate and ex-cute an original research project involving birds in the field in Prince Edward or its surrounding counties; projects may be chosen from bird population studies in areas not previously censused, investigations of the decline of certain bird species, interpretations of bird song and its meanings, studies of the breeding behavior of selected bird species, or similar field research problems. Prerequisite Biology 500. 6 credits.

Biology 505. FIELD MAMMALOLOGY. An intensive summer field course for advanced undergraduates, graduates, naturalists, and teachers. An overview of the mammals of the world will be presented with a detailed emphasis on the mammals of Virginia. Students are expected to learn techniques for research in mammalogy including censusing, tracking, and museum specimen preparation. The course will also include a study of mammalian ecology, behavior, and evolution. Students will prepare a written and oral "Species Report," and are expected to attend all field trips to different regions of Virginia and to the National Zoo in Washington, D.C. 6 credits.

Biology 541. FIELD ECOLOGY. A study of ecosystems, communities, and populations for advanced undergraduates, graduates, teachers, and others interested in their natural surroundings. Students are expected to become familiar with ecological sampling techniques. Prerequisites: Courses in General Botany and General Zoology recommended. 6 credits.

Biology 543. FIELD BOTANY. A summer field course for biology majors, teachers and naturalists. Lectures emphasize the taxonomy and ecology of local plants. Field trips are made daily to local biological communities to examine their ecology and identify common mosses, ferns, wildflowers and trees. One or more extended field trips are made to the coast or mountains to observe complementary biological communities. Fifteen 7-hour periods. 6 credits.

Biology 564. ENVIRONMENTAL ISSUES. An in-depth study of the major environmental issues challenging modern society, including a close examination of the causes of these issues and an analysis of corrective measures that could be applied to each. Majors topics addressed are population, deforestation, biodiversity loss, and climate alteration. The relationship of economics and politics to environmental issues is critically examined. The establishment of ecocentric ethical viewpoints and the development of Earth sustainable systems are emphasized. For graduates and advanced undergraduates. 3 lecture periods. 3 credits.

Biology 574. SYSTEMATIC ENTOMOLOGY. An introduction to the study of insects, their morphology, evolution, life histories, physiology, ecology, and taxonomy. An extensive insect collection is required. For advanced undergraduates and graduates. 6 credits.

CHEMISTRY PROGRAM

Faculty

Patrick G. Barber, Ph.D., Professor of Chemistry
Maurice H. Maxwell, Jr., Ph.D., Professor of Chemistry
Eike Reich, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Chemistry

The chemistry major at Longwood provides graduates with the necessary background to pursue either graduate studies or a career in industry, government, medicine, and other health-related fields. Students interested in chemical engineering at UVA Graduate Department of Chemical Engineering must have a 3.0 GPA or better and must have completed chemistry 400 and 401, calculus and differential equations. Chemistry majors graduating from Longwood have been accepted at graduate schools in Virginia and other states. They also have been able to step into jobs in state and federal laboratories and industrial facilities. The requirements for the chemistry major include courses in general chemistry, organic chemistry, analytical chemistry, physical chemistry, instrumental analysis, and special interest electives. Students are encouraged to enroll in Special Projects Courses in Chemistry in order to increase their competence in working in a laboratory. Superior students are encouraged to complete a chemistry Honors Project or a Research Project. The program in chemistry is rigorous, but it is flexible enough for students to take a second major.

Students majoring in other areas may elect to minor in chemistry. The chemistry minor requires 24 semester hours: general chemistry (8 hours), organic chemistry (8 hours), analytical chemistry (4 hours), and physical chemistry (4 hours).

No grade below "C-" on chemistry courses is accepted for the graduation requirements for the major or minor in chemistry.

Those students interested in obtaining an endorsement to teach chemistry in high school in Virginia must meet the requirements of the chemistry major. Those planning to teach in elementary and middle schools in Virginia are encouraged to complete a B.S. degree in chemistry with an appropriate selection of education courses. See the teacher preparation section of this catalog for further details.

CHEMISTRY MINOR

Students interested in pursuing a chemistry minor should contact the director of the chemistry program. Grades below "C-" are not accepted for the minor. The minor must include:

- 8 semester hours general chemistry
- 8 semester hours organic chemistry
- 4 semester hours analytical chemistry
- 4 semester hours physical chemistry
- TOTAL/24 hours

CHEMISTRY

General Education Course*

Writing Intensive*

Chemistry 101. GENERAL CHEMISTRY. A study of the basic concepts of chemistry, including the structure of matter and the historical development that led to that understanding. Designed for students with no previous education in chemistry. Does not fulfill requirements for biology, chemistry or physics majors. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Chemistry 111. FUNDAMENTALS OF CHEMISTRY. An introduction to Chemistry that provides the foundation for further chemistry courses by focussing on the structure of matter (including nuclear chemistry, orbital theory, and stoichiometry), acid-base theory, concepts of chemical bonding and the periodic law. The importance of chemistry in everyday life as well as being the basis for other sciences will be outlined. 3 lecture, one 3-hour recitation plus lab periods/wk. Prerequisites: High School Chemistry or Placement test or Chemistry 101. Chemistry majors must make at least a C- in this course before taking advanced chemistry courses. 4 credits.

Chemistry 121. INORGANIC CHEMISTRY AND QUALITATIVE INORGANIC ANALYSIS.* The course provides an extensive description of the chemical elements and their compounds, occurrence, manufacture, reactions, and relevance for the society together with a detailed discussion of classical separation methods for metal ions and anions. 3 lecture, one 3-hour recitation plus lab period/wk. Chemistry majors must make at least a C- in this course before taking advanced chemistry courses. Prerequisites: Chemistry 111. 4 credits.

Chemistry 231. GRAVIMETRIC AND VOLUMETRIC LABORATORY ANALYSES. A laboratory practicum on the use of gravimetric and volumetric methods of chemical analyses. Encourages the development of good laboratory skills and techniques. 1 lecture and one 4-hour laboratory. Prerequisites: Chemistry 111. 2 credits.

*Chemistry 301. INTRODUCTORY PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY. Fundamental principles and problems associated with structure and interaction of matter. Introduction to thermodynamics, kinetics, equilibrium, electrochemistry, solid state structure, and quantum mechanics. Prerequisites: Chemistry 111 and Mathematics 121 or equivalent. Mathematics 261 or 267 recommended. 3 lecture and one 3-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Chemistry 305. ORGANIC CHEMISTRY I. Fundamental principles and reactions of organic chemistry. Prerequisite: Chemistry 111. 3 lecture and one 3-hour lab period; 4 credits.

Chemistry 306. ORGANIC CHEMISTRY II. A continuation of Chemistry 305. 3 lecture and one 3-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Chemistry 351. INSTRUMENTAL ANALYSIS I. The theory and practice of instrumental techniques in analytical chemistry. Includes optical and electrochemical methods of analysis. Develops familiarity and practice in the use of laboratory instrumentation. Prerequisite: Chemistry 111 and 231. Corequisite: Chemistry 305, 306. 3 lecture and one 3-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Chemistry 352. INSTRUMENTAL ANALYSIS II. The theory and practice of instrumental techniques in analytical chemistry. Includes chromatographic methods of separation and analysis. Develops familiarity and practice in the use of laboratory instruments. Prerequisite: Chemistry 111 and 231. Corequisite: Chemistry 305, 306. 3 lecture and one 3-hour lab periods. 4 credits.

Chemistry 371-375. SPECIAL COURSES IN CHEMISTRY. Specialized courses for small groups of students. The course titles and descriptions listed below represent some of the special areas covered. 1, 2, 3, or 4 credits.

Advanced Organic Chemistry 371. An advanced study of organic reactions and mechanisms. Prerequisite: Chemistry 305 and 306. 3 lecture periods; 3 credits.

Environmental Chemistry 372. A study of the fundamental problems of chemistry pollution of the soil, water, and atmosphere. Prerequisite: Chemistry 305 or permission of instructor. 3 lecture periods; 3 credits.

Advanced Inorganic Chemistry 373. The structures, properties, reactions and uses of inorganic compounds. Prerequisite: Chemistry 121 and permission of instructor. 3 lecture periods; 3 credits.

Laboratory Safety 374. A study of laboratory safety equipment, hazards from chemical reaction, toxins, carcinogens, corrosives, and radiation. 2 lecture periods; 2 credits.

Polymer Chemistry 375. A study of chemical reactions used to synthesize modifications on polymer properties, techniques to characterize polymers, and natural polymers. 3 lecture periods; 3 credits.

*Chemistry 400. PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY. A study of thermodynamics, equilibria, kinetics, solution properties, and electrochemistry. Prerequisite: Chemistry 111 and Mathematics 261 or 267, or permission of instructor. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods. 4 credits.

Chemistry 401. PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY. A study of elementary quantum mechanics, atomic and molecular structure, spectroscopy, and statistical mechanics. Prerequisites: Chemistry 111; Mathematics 262 or 267; Physics 101 and 102, or 201 and 202; or permission of instructor. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods. 4 credits.

Chemistry 412 (Biology 412). BIOCHEMISTRY. A study of the chemistry of proteins, carbohydrates, lipids, and nucleic acids in biological systems. Prerequisite: Chemistry 305 or permission of instructor. 3 lecture periods; 3 credits. (Or 4 credits with one 2-hour lab period.)

Chemistry 420. CHEMISTRY SEMINAR. Reports and discussions of topics of current interest in the field of chemistry. Open to qualified students. Introduction to chemical literature. May be repeated for credit, in which event the number will be 421, 422, etc.; 1 credit.

Chemistry 461. RESEARCH IN CHEMISTRY. Students will carry out research projects under individual supervision of an instructor. The nature of the project will depend on the interest and needs of the student. Consent of the instructor and approval of the department head are prerequisites for enrollment. May be repeated as Chemistry 462, 463, 464. 3 lab periods per credit. 1, 2, 3, or 4 credits.

Chemistry 465 and 466. Research in chemistry during the summer at Longwood College or off-campus in the United States. 1, 2, 3 or 4 credits.

Chemistry 467. SCIENTIFIC INSTRUMENT DESIGN AND FABRICATION. Design and actual fabrication of scientific instruments including glass, metal, wood, plastic, and electronic instruments.

Course involves one or more of the following: glass working techniques, precision milling machine and lathe operations, machine shop techniques, electronic testing of circuits, and breadboard and hardwiring electronic circuits. Each semester course will emphasize different projects. May be repeated for credit. 3 lab periods per credit. 1, 2, 3, or 4 credits.

Chemistry 468. RESEARCH ABROAD. Research on special projects in chemistry. (outside the United States) 1, 2, 3, or 4 credits.

Chemistry 498. HONORS RESEARCH IN CHEMISTRY. Students conduct research in chemistry under the direction of a faculty member and the Senior Honors Research Committee. May be repeated as 499. 3 credits.

EARTH SCIENCES PROGRAM

Faculty

John M. Austin, M.Ed., Associate Professor of Physical Science and Area Coordinator
Billy S. Batts, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Biology
James W. Curley, M.A.T., Assistant Professor of Physical Science
Gregory Faiers, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Geography
Lynn M. Ferguson, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Earth Science
David S. Hardin, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Geography

Courses in the Earth Science Program are designed to meet the general education of all students, to enhance their cultural development in a liberal arts program, to broaden their knowledge of the physical environment, to offer courses to meet the earth science, general science and geography certification requirements, and to provide a solid foundation for those planning to enter fields in which environmental knowledge is of value.

Those students interested in obtaining an endorsement to teach earth and space science in Virginia must meet the requirements of the minor (24 credit hours in earth science) plus one course in each of the following: biology, chemistry or physics, mathematics, Education 245, 260, 265 or 370, and 455, Science 352, and the professional semester including student teaching. If the student is certified in another science, an additional endorsement in earth and space science can be obtained by taking a minimum of 24 credit hours in earth science and meeting all state mandated core requirements for the certification.

EARTH SCIENCE MINOR

Students interested in pursuing an earth science minor should contact the area coordinator. The minor must include the following courses. Grades below "C-" are not accepted for the minor.

Earth Science 200 or 201/4 credits
Earth Science 210, 311/8 credits
Earth Science 261/4 credits

Earth Science 362 or 363/4 credits
Earth Science elective/4 credits
TOTAL/24 credits

EARTH SCIENCE

*General Education Course

Earth Science 101. PHYSICAL SCIENCE. A survey of basic physics needed for a cross-disciplinary major. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; for Liberal Studies majors and other students seeking teaching licensure. 4 credits.

Earth Science 102. EARTH SCIENCE.* A survey of the earth sciences. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Earth Science 200. ASTRONOMY OF THE SOLAR SYSTEM. Descriptive study of the solar system and celestial dynamics. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Earth Science 201. STELLAR ASTRONOMY. Descriptive study of star types, stellar distances, binary systems, variable stars, stellar evolution, clusters, galaxies, and cosmology. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Earth Science 210. PHYSICAL GEOLOGY. An introduction to the natural physical environment, the materials and processes which shape the earth's crust. Specific topics include minerals, rocks, earthquakes, volcanoes, and plate tectonics. Also the effects of streams, waves, ground water, ice, wind, and gravity on the surface of the earth. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Earth Science 252 (Geography 252). PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY. A study of the earth's physical landscape, the dynamics of the natural systems which form it and the interrelationships between the systems. Included are investigations of human impacts on the earth's system. 3 credits.

Earth Science 261 (Geography 261). METEOROLOGY. A study of the basic weather phenomena and processes including the elements for modern weather forecasting. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Earth Science 311. HISTORICAL GEOLOGY. An introduction to the methods, assumptions, and current interpretations of the evidence concerning the origin and evolution of the earth and its life forms. Emphasis on the geologic history of the United States. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Earth Science 341 (Biology 341). GENERAL ECOLOGY. The principles underlying the interrelations of groups of organisms with their environments, including the population, community, and ecosystem levels of organization. The lab normally includes local field trips with an extended field trip to the coast. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Earth Science 353 (Geography 353). GEOGRAPHY OF VIRGINIA. Geographical appraisal of Virginia, including the geology, landforms, soils, climate, economic minerals, original vegetation, and human geography of Virginia, emphasizing settlement of population, agriculture, industries and transportation. Prerequisite: Geography 201 and permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Earth Science 355 (Geography 355). CLIMATOLOGY. A study of the dynamics of the atmosphere as an energy system, its interactions with other parts of the Earth's physical system, and the effects of these interactions on human life and activity. Climate variations on global, regional, and local scales are investigated including methods of climate classification and techniques used to model future climatic conditions. Prerequisite: Geography 201 or Earth Science - Geography 261 or permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Earth Science 358 (Geography 358). CARTOGRAPHY. Emphasis is focused on construction of thematic maps at the pre-professional level and their incorporation in presentations of research. Modern techniques and processes are discussed along with conventional pen and ink methods. Prerequisites: permission of instructor. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab period; 4 credits.

Earth Science 362 (Biology 362). BIOLOGICAL OCEANOGRAPHY. An introduction to the taxonomy, habitats, adaptations, and unique biological processes of marine flora and fauna. Laboratory normally includes an extended field trip to the coast. Prerequisite: Biology 102 or 103. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Earth Science 363. PHYSICAL OCEANOGRAPHY. An introduction to the historical, geological, chemical and physical aspects of the oceans. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Earth Science 364 (Biology 364). MAN AND THE ENVIRONMENT. A consideration of local, national, and international environmental problems. Topics such as the energy crisis, pollution, population problems, birth control and resource recycling will be covered. 3 credits.

Earth Science 410 (Geography 410). REGIONAL PHYSIOGRAPHY OF THE UNITED STATES. Treatment of the processes that have shaped the varied surface features within the United States. Theories and concepts relating to geomorphic evolution in the major and minor physiographic divisions will be emphasized. Prerequisite: Geography 201 or Earth Science 252 or Earth Science 210. 3 credits.

Earth Science 462. SPECIAL PROJECTS IN EARTH SCIENCE. Students will carry out study or research projects under individual supervision of instructor. The nature of the projects will depend on the interest and needs of the students. Consent of the instructor and approval of the department head is prerequisite for enrollment in this course. May be repeated as Earth Science 463 and 464. 1-4 credits.

Earth Science 577. PHYSICAL SPELEOLOGY. The physical study of caves, karst hydrology, and related features. The course involves field trips to cavernous regions of Virginia and West Virginia. Permission of instructor required. Prerequisite: Course in Physical Geology recommended. 6 credits.

Earth Science 478/578 (Biology 578). BIOLOGICAL SPELEOLOGY. Study of the cave environment and the life forms found there, with emphasis on the diversity, dispersal, ecology, and evolution of cave fauna. The course involves field trips to cavernous regions of Virginia and West Virginia. Permission of instructor required. Prerequisite: Course in General Zoology recommended. 6 credits.

SCIENCE

Science 352. SCIENCE FOR SECONDARY TEACHERS. A study of materials and methods for teaching the physical and/or biological sciences at the junior and senior high school level. Course content will be designed to meet the individual needs of each student. Recommended prior to student teaching. 3 credits.

Science 362. SCIENCE FOR ELEMENTARY TEACHERS. A study of materials and methods of teaching science in the primary and upper elementary grades with emphasis on student use of laboratory materials and techniques. Prerequisites: Biology 102 and 103 and Earth Science 102. 1 single and 2 double periods; 3 credits.

GEOGRAPHY PROGRAM

Faculty

Gregory Faires, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Geography

GEOGRAPHY

*General Education Course

- Geography 201. BASIC ELEMENTS OF GEOGRAPHY.* The scope and nature of geographic philosophies are treated. Special emphasis is placed on the significance of man, culture, and the cultural processes in the organization of space on the earth's surface. 3 credits.

Geography 241. CULTURAL GEOGRAPHY. A study of the interaction between man and the land. Spatial and time elements are interwoven with selected topics such as man's religions, settlement patterns, racial stocks, economics, and population characteristics. 3 credits.

Geography 242. ECONOMIC GEOGRAPHY. Relation of geographic factors to economic conditions in determining the nature and location of the several productive occupations and the distribution of the output of these occupations, including their transportation and marketing. Prerequisite: Geography 201 and permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Geography 252 (Earth Science 252.) PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY. A study of the earth's physical landscape, the dynamics of the natural systems which form it and the interrelationships between the systems. Included are investigations of human impacts on the earth's systems. 3 credits.

Geography 261 (Earth Science 261). METEOROLOGY. A study of the basic weather phenomena and processes including the elements for modern weather forecasting. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Geography 352. WORLD REGIONAL GEOGRAPHY. Analysis of the geography of major world regions, emphasizing the physical, cultural, and economic factors affecting life in each. Special consideration is given to current problems involving natural hazards, political developments, and cultural attributes of countries around the world. 3 credits.

Geography 353 (Earth Science 353). GEOGRAPHY OF VIRGINIA. Geographical appraisal of Virginia, including the geology, landforms, soils, climate, economic minerals, original vegetation, and the human geography of Virginia, emphasizing settlement and population, agriculture, industries and transportation. Prerequisite: Geography 201 or permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Geography 355 (Earth Science 355). CLIMATOLOGY. A study of the dynamics of the atmosphere as an energy system, its interactions with other parts of the Earth's physical system, and the effects of these interactions on human life and activity. Climate variations on global, regional, and local scales are investigated including methods of climate classification and techniques used to model future climatic conditions. Prerequisite: Geography 201 or Earth Science - Geography 261 or permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Geography 358 (Earth Science 358). CARTOGRAPHY. Emphasis is focused on the construction of thematic maps at the pre-professional level and their incorporation in presentations of research. Modern techniques and processes are discussed along with conventional pen and ink methods. Prerequisites: permission of instructor. 4 credits.

Geography 401. GEOGRAPHY OF SOUTH-EAST ASIA. Regional analysis of the physical geography and problems in the economic political geography of Southeast Asia. Emphasis on China, Japan, and India. Prerequisite: Geography 201 and permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Geography 402. GEOGRAPHY OF LATIN AMERICA. Regional and systematic analysis of the geography of Latin America, including treatment of physical, cultural and economic characteristics of the several regions within the Latin American nations. 3 credits.

Geography 403. GEOGRAPHY OF EUROPE AND THE MEDITERRANEAN. Regional analysis of peninsula, western and central Europe and the Mediterranean Basin. Prerequisite: Geography 201 or permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Geography 404. GEOGRAPHY OF ANGLO-AMERICA. Regional analysis of human geography of the United States, Canada, and Alaska, emphasizing the physical and economic factors affecting the utilization of the several regions. Prerequisite: Geography 201 or permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Geography 405. REGIONAL GEOGRAPHY OF MODERN AFRICA. A regional analysis of the geographical factors influencing the culture and economics of the African continent. Special emphasis will be placed on the present state of economic development. Prerequisite: Geography 201 or permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Geography 410 (Earth Science 410). REGIONAL PHYSIOGRAPHY OF THE UNITED STATES. Treatment of the processes that have shaped the varied surface features within the United States. Theories and concepts relating to geomorphic evolution in the major and minor physiographic divisions will be emphasized. Prerequisite: Geography 201 or Earth Science 252 or Earth Science 210. 3 credits.

Geography 444. POLITICAL GEOGRAPHY. Geographic factors in major nations of the world and how they affect international relations, with analysis of current strategic positions of the U.S. and the former U.S.S.R. Prerequisite: Geography 201 or permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Geography 450. GEOGRAPHY OF CONTEMPORARY PROBLEM AREAS. A physical, economic, historical, and cultural analysis of selected regions and nations in the news. A background for understanding present day conditions, and the social significance of the events occurring in these areas. Prerequisite: Geography 201 or permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Geography 453. GEOGRAPHICAL APPRAISAL OF THE SOVIET UNION. An evaluation of people, land, climate, resources and space as they bear on the economic developments and political prospects of the former Soviet Union. Prerequisite: Geography 201 or permission of instructor. 3 credits.

Geography 462. SPECIAL PROJECTS IN GEOGRAPHY. Students will carry out study or research projects under supervision of an instructor. May be repeated as Geography 463 and 464. Six credits total may be earned. 1, 2, 3 credits.

PHYSICS PROGRAM

Faculty

Wayne K. Meshejian, M.S., Assistant Professor of Physics and Area Coordinator of Physics
Charles D. Ross, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Physics and Program Director of Pre-Engineering

The physics major at Longwood provides fundamental training in several areas of physics so that graduates may pursue graduate study or careers in research, industry, teaching, or engineering. Those who wish to major in physics may choose from the following options:

- 1. traditional physics major for students interested in preparation for graduate work or careers in research or industry.
- 2. pre-medical/biophysics concentration for students interested in preparation for medical school or graduate work in biophysics.
- 3. pre-engineering for students interested in cooperative engineering programs.

A minimum of 32 semester hours credit in physics is required for all physics majors. Many physics majors elect to double major in both physics and some other discipline. Also, a student majoring in another field may choose to minor in physics. The minor program requires 24 semester hours in physics. No grade below "C-" in physics courses is accepted for the major or minor in physics.

PHYSICS

General Education Course*

Writing Intensive Course*

Physics 101. GENERAL PHYSICS.* An introduction to the basic concepts of mechanics and heat. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; physics and pre-engineering majors must make at least a C- in this course before taking advanced physics courses. 4 credits.

Physics 102. GENERAL PHYSICS. A study of sound, light, electricity and magnetism. Prerequisite: Physics 101. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; physics and pre-engineering majors must make at least a C- in this course before taking advanced physics courses. 4 credits.

Physics 201. UNIVERSITY PHYSICS. Similar to Physics 101, but with the calculus used throughout. Prerequisite or corequisite: Mathematics 261. Offered on demand. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Physics 202. UNIVERSITY PHYSICS. Similar to Physics 102, but with the calculus used throughout. Prerequisite: Physics 201. Offered on demand. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

 Physics 321. ATOMIC AND NUCLEAR PHYSICS I. A survey of modern developments in electron, atomic, and nuclear physics. Prerequisite: Physics 101, 102 or 201, 202. Prerequisite or corequisite: Mathematics 261. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Physics 322. ATOMIC AND NUCLEAR PHYSICS II. A continuation of Physics 321. Prerequisite: Physics 101, 102 or 201, 202. Prerequisite or corequisite: Mathematics 262. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Physics 324. THERMODYNAMICS. A study of thermal properties of matter; phenomena involved in flow of heat and performance of work. Kinetic theory and statistical mechanics are included. Prerequisite: Physics 101, 102 or 201, 202. Prerequisite or corequisite: Mathematics 261. Offered on demand. 3 credits.

Physics 326. LIGHT. A study of the nature and behavior of light and other electro-magnetic radiation. Prerequisite: Physics 101, 102 or 201, 202, Mathematics 261. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Physics 331. A.C. AND D.C. CIRCUITS. A.C. and D.C. circuits, loop, mesh and nodal analysis, network theorems, dependent sources, RLC circuits, transients, resonance, and electrical measurements. Prerequisite: Physics 101, 102 or 201, 202. Prerequisite or corequisite: Mathematics 261. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Physics 332. CLASSICAL ELECTRICITY AND MAGNETISM. Electric and magnetic fields, potentials, resistance, inductance, and capacitance, polarization, magnetic materials, Maxwell's equations. Prerequisite: Mathematics 262. 4 periods; 4 credits.

Physics 341. ELECTRONICS. An introduction to electronics including A.C. and D.C. analysis and synthesis of transistor amplifier circuits, operational amplifiers and elementary logic circuits. Prerequisite: Physics 331. 3 lecture and one 2-hour lab periods; 4 credits.

Physics 352. MECHANICS. A mathematical study of motion using Newtonian and Lagrangian techniques. Prerequisite: Physics 101, 102 or 201, 202. Prerequisite or corequisite: Mathematics 460. 4 periods; 4 credits.

Physics 462. SPECIAL PROJECTS IN PHYSICS. Students will carry out research projects under individual supervision of an instructor. The nature of the project will depend on the interest and needs of the student. Consent of instructor and approval of department head is prerequisite for enrollment. May be repeated as Physics 463, 464. 2, 3, or 4 credits.

PRE-ENGINEERING 3 & 2
(Georgia Institute of Technology)
B.S. or B.A. Degree in Physics Granted by Longwood
B.S. Degree in Engineering Granted by Georgia Institute of Technology

Students in the 3 & 2 Dual Degree Program attend Longwood College for the first three years to complete the major part of the Longwood degree requirements as well as the requirements for the first two years of the engineering degree at G.I.T. At the beginning of the fourth year, provided a "B-plus" academic average has been achieved, the student transfers to G.I.T. for the final two years. Upon completing the Longwood requirements at G.I.T., the student receives a bachelor's degree in physics from Longwood, normally at the end of his/her first year at G.I.T. The student receives a bachelor's degree in any of the several degree areas offered by the the G.I.T. College of Engineering at the end of the fifth year or when all prescribed courses are completed. Normally, in the five-year period, the student earns two bachelor's degrees, one from each institution.

For the additional hours of course work not specified above, transfer credit will be given by Longwood for courses passed (with grades of "C" or above) in the engineering curriculum upon completion of the first year at G.I.T.

PHYSICIST TO MASTERS IN MATERIALS SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING 3 1/2 PLUS 1 1/2 UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA

Bachelor's Degree in Physics granted by Longwood
Master's Degree in Engineering granted by University of Virginia

This dual-degree program makes it possible for the student to earn both a Bachelor's Degree in Physics from Longwood and a Master's Degree in Materials Science and Engineering from the University of Virginia. Students in this program attend Longwood for three-and-one-half years to complete at least 117 semester hours of the Longwood degree requirements as listed below. Upon obtaining the approval of the Director of the Physics and Pre-Engineering Program, and with the condition that the Longwood academic average is "B" or better, the student applies for admission to the University of Virginia's School of Engineering and Applied Science as a conditional graduate student. The student will be expected to complete at least 15 semester hours at the University of Virginia with a "B" average or higher and a score of at least 1000 on the Graduate Record Examination in order to be admitted unconditionally into the graduate program of Materials Science and Engineering.

The University of Virginia Master of Engineering Program is designed to require approximately 12 months to complete. The student may elect to pursue the Master of Science degree rather than the Master of Engineering. A Master of Science would require a longer time (typically 18 months) because of the thesis research associated with this degree.

For the additional 12 hours not specified above, at the request of the student, 12 hours of transfer credit will be awarded by Longwood upon completion of the Physicist to Electrical Engineering summer course (provided the grade is "C" or above).

PHYSICIST TO MASTERS IN NUCLEAR ENGINEERING OR ENGINEERING PHYSICS

3 1/2 Plus 1 1/2 (Program in Nuclear Engineering and Engineering Physics, University of Virginia)

Bachelor's Degree in Physics granted by Longwood
Master's Degree in Engineering granted by University of Virginia

This dual-degree program makes it possible for the student to earn both a Bachelor's Degree in Physics from Longwood and a Master's Degree in Nuclear Engineering or Engineering Physics from the University of Virginia in approximately five years. Students in this 3' Plus 1' Dual-Degree Program attend Longwood for three-and-one-half years to complete at least 114 semester hours of the Longwood degree requirements as listed below. Upon obtaining the approval of the Area Coordinator of Physics and Pre-Engineering Programs, and with the condition that the Longwood academic average is "B" or better, the student applies for admission to the University of Virginia's School of Engineering and Applied Science as a conditional graduate student in order to complete 15 semester hours (one semester) of appropriate undergraduate courses in that school. After completing these 15 hours with a "B" average or higher, the student should then be admitted unconditionally into the graduate program of either Nuclear Engineering or Engineering Physics. In addition, satisfactory completion of these 15 undergraduate hours completes the semester hour requirement for the Longwood Bachelor's Degree in Physics.

The University of Virginia Master of Engineering Program is designed to require approximately 12 months to complete. The student may elect to pursue the Master of Science in Nuclear Engineering or Engineering Physics rather than the Master of Engineering. A Master of Science in either discipline would require a longer time (typically 18 months) because of the research associated with this degree.

Students in the 3 & 2 Dual-Degree program attend Longwood College for the first three years to complete the major part of the Longwood degree requirements as well as the requirements equivalent to the first two years of the engineering degree at ODU. At the beginning of the summer prior to the fourth year, the student transfers to ODU for the final two years (two and one-half years for computer or electrical engineering). Upon completing the Longwood requirements at ODU, the student receives a bachelor's degree in physics from Longwood, normally at the end of his/her first year at ODU. He receives the bachelor's degree in Civil, Computer, Electrical, or Mechanical Engineering from ODU at the end of the fifth year or when all prescribed courses are completed. University of Virginia Medical Center, Charlottesville

The Department of Natural Sciences is successful in preparing students for careers in medical technology, dental hygiene, occupational therapy, physical therapy, nursing, pharmacy, medicine, dentistry, and other health related professions. Students spend two-three years at Longwood taking the required coursework for transfer into the professional program at another institution. By working closely with an academic advisor, students can prepare for transfer into programs at any professional institution. Completion of Longwood's pre-professional program, however, does not guarantee admission to the professional program. Admission to these programs is competitive and is based on the student's academic performance during the pre-professional period as well as personal recommendations and related experiences. A minimum GPA of 3.0 is usually required for transfer.

PRE-DENTAL HYGIENE (VCU-MCV, ODU)

PRE-MEDICAL CURRICULUM
(VCU-MCV, U.Va., Eastern Virginia Medical School)

Pre-medical students usually major in Biology, Chemistry, or Physics. Since requirements of medical schools may vary considerably, students should communicate with the pre-medical curriculum advisor, Dr. Wayne Tinnell 395-2586.

PRE-DENTISTRY
(VCU-MCV)

Pre-dental students usually major in Biology, Chemistry, or Physics. The entrance requirements at MCV should be followed closely by pre-dentistry students.

PRE-VETERINARY MEDICINE
(VPI&SU)

Pre-veterinary medicine students usually major in Biology. Exceptional students are sometimes accepted by Veterinary Medicine School, after 3 years of coursework.

Former New York Governor Mario Cuomo spoke at Longwood last year.

Department of Psychology

Jennifer M. Apperson, Ph.D., Chair
Tina Bracey, Secretary

The Department of Psychology offers both an undergraduate major and a minor, as well as basic introductory and service courses to numerous other college majors. Psychology courses required for other majors and minors are clearly identified under those disciplines.

PSYCHOLOGY PROGRAM

Faculty

Jennifer M. Apperson, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Psychology
Christopher A. Bjornsen, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Psychology
David M. Carkenord, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Psychology
Terry L. Overton, Ed.D., Associate Professor of Psychology
Edward D. Smith, Ph.D., Professor of Psychology
David B. Stein, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Psychology
Linda R. Tennison, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Psychology
Terrell Tuten, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Psychology

Registration for internship and independent research opportunities in psychology requires a 2.50 GPA.

To satisfy major requirements for graduation, students majoring in psychology must earn a grade of no less than C- in all psychology courses (44 credits).

The Department of Psychology offers five concentrations. All psychology majors are required to take the 26 credits of core requirements and 18 credits of psychology electives. We recommend, but we do not require, that majors choose a concentration.

ASSESSMENT

The Department of Psychology requires senior majors to take and pass a comprehensive psychology test. The purpose of the test is to assess the progress of our majors, and the effectiveness of our program.

Department of Sociology and Anthropology

Douglas Dalton, Chair
Beverly Barton, Secretary

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology offers an undergraduate major in sociology and anthropology, and minors in both disciplines. Students majoring in sociology or in anthropology may earn either the B.A. or B.S. degree.

Students with a GPA below 2.25 will not be accepted as majors. Students may reapply after their GPA has increased to 2.25.

The departmental curriculum is designed to provide opportunity for knowledge, skills and abilities to students who plan to (1) seek employment in business, industry, human service, or related fields, (2) pursue advanced studies in law, public policy, urban planning, or related fields, (3) engage in graduate work in sociology or anthropology, or (4) pursue undergraduate studies of the organization and functioning of human societies.

The sociology major can specialize in concentrations in Criminal Justice, Pre-Law, or Pre-Medicine. Additionally, internships are often available. In the past, students have interned in probation and parole offices, community colleges, local government branches, planning and research agencies, physical and mental health care facilities, etc.

A popular offering in the department is the Archeology Field School. Students learn about prehistoric civilizations through supervised excavations of actual settlements. The Field School is offered in Summer Sessions. For more information, see Dr. James W. Jordan.

Through a variety of activities, the department attempts to provide students with a program of breadth and depth characteristic of the Longwood educational experience. The department sponsors an active Sociology and Anthropology Club and a chapter of Alpha Kappa Delta, the international sociology honor society. In addition, each academic year the departmental faculty chooses outstanding students to receive the Kathleen Goodwin Cover Sociology Scholarship, the Diane M. Sheffield Memorial Scholarship, and the Outstanding Senior in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology Award.

General education requirements for the student majoring in sociology or anthropology can be found under "General Education Requirements" in this catalog. It is the responsibility of all students to consult with their academic advisor prior to each registration to ensure the proper fulfillment of general education and departmental requirements for graduation. Students minoring in sociology or anthropology must satisfy the general education requirements of the department of their major subject. Majors and minors are required to participate in yearly curriculum assessment, which may consist of comprehensive examinations.

The department occupies offices and classrooms in West Ruffner. The administrative office of the department is located in Room 221.

SOCIOLOGY PROGRAM

Faculty

Lee D. Millar Bidwell, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Sociology
William Burger, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Sociology
Rodena E. Ellerbe, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Sociology
Lawrence G. Hlad, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Sociology
James F. Hodgson, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Sociology
Debra S. Kelley, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Sociology
Kenneth B. Perkins, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Sociology
Darryl G. Poole, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Sociology

The objective of the sociology major is to prepare students for occupations in business, industry, government, and human service. The major is appropriate preparation for graduate study in the social sciences and law. The focus of sociology is on social forces, institutions, organizations, and how individuals interface with society. The student's personal growth can be achieved through understanding of the rich diversity of the modern world. Skills can be developed in oral and written communication, critical thinking, scientific research methods, statistics and computerized data analysis. Opportunities for internships in research or in regional agencies are often available.

Minor in Sociology

The objective of the minor in sociology is to acquaint the student with the discipline and to allow for personal growth and skill building. Additionally, the minor is intended to enhance career possibilities. Research methods, statistics, computerized data analysis, oral and written communication, and critical thinking are emphasized.

Variable credit; no more than 15 total credits may be earned. 3-15 credits.

ANTHROPOLOGY PROGRAM

Faculty

Douglas M. Dalton, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Anthropology
James W. Jordan, Ph.D., Professor of Sociology and Anthropology

Anthropology focuses on the social and biological diversity of human groups both in the present and in the prehistoric past. This great diversity is examined through the study of patterns of social behavior, language structure, archeological artifacts and the process of genetic evolution.

The objective of the anthropology major is to prepare students for careers in business and industry, government, and human service. Additionally, the major is appropriate preparation for graduate study in anthropology or other social sciences.

The objective of the minor in anthropology is to acquaint the student with the discipline and to survey the techniques of research used in physical anthropology, archeology, linguistics, and social anthropology. Research methods, critical thinking, oral and written communication are emphasized. The minor is intended to enhance career possibilities.

Students with a GPA below 2.25 will not be accepted as majors. Students may reapply after their GPA has increased to 2.25.

ANTHROPOLOGY

General Education Course*
Writing Intensive Courses*

Anthropology 101. INTRODUCTION TO ANTHROPOLOGY.* The origins, evolution, and present biological and cultural diversity of the human species using data from the fossil record, archeological artifacts, the structure of languages, and behavior and world-view of people living in other cultures. 3 credits.

Anthropology 106. INTRODUCTION TO WOMEN'S STUDIES.* The course will introduce students to literature in the social sciences by and about women. We will explore key roles which women play in society, how they have questioned these roles, and contributions which women make in different societies. We will read about women in our own and other societies as a way to explore these questions. 3 credits.

Anthropology 202. ARCHEOLOGY. A survey course of the techniques used to locate, survey, sample and excavate prehistoric and historic archeological sites. The analysis of artifacts and features, typing of collection of stone tools and pottery, and case studies of well known archeological sites from various culture areas of the world. 3 credits.

Anthropology 203. PHYSICAL ANTHROPOLOGY. An analysis of prehistoric and contemporary humans as physical organisms. The study of human origins and evolution from 5 million years ago to the present. The study of variation in human populations in characteristics such as skin color, blood type, susceptibility to diseases, and adaptations to extremes of cold, heat, and altitude. 3 credits.

Anthropology 204. LANGUAGE AND CULTURE. The analysis of language with stress on the dependence of language upon its sociological context. A survey of linguistic variability, social dialectology, language change, and ethnolinguistic analysis. 3 credits.

Anthropology 205H. HUMAN LIFE IN THE PREHISTORIC WORLD. An examination of the behavior and values likely to have been central to human groups in prehistoric times. The seminar approach will be employed with continual student dialog based on readings. Collections of stone tools and pottery sherds will be analyzed in class. 3 credits.

Anthropology 295/495. SPECIAL TOPICS. Recommended when the student desires to pursue a specialized topic in depth. Must have permission of department chair and instructor directing the course. No more than 6 credits may be earned. Cumulative GPA must be 2.50 or higher to be eligible.

Anthropology 296. FIELD METHODS IN ARCHEOLOGY. The skills necessary to excavate a prehistoric Indian site and to recognize and recover archeological artifacts. The field school is held at a prehistoric Indian site. The site work consists of learning the techniques of excavation, mapping, soil analysis, the recovery, washing and analysis of prehistoric stone tools, and the interpretation of stratigraphy. Offered during summer session. 6 credits.

Anthropology 310. PEOPLES OF AFRICA.* An analysis of the human cultures of prehistoric and contemporary Africa. Archeological and linguistic data will be used to trace the biological and cultural relationships among contemporary African societies. 3 credits

Anthropology 311. INDIANS OF NORTH AMERICA.* Descriptions, comparisons, and analysis of past and present Indian cultures. Possible origins of the various North American Indian tribes will also be discussed and will be supported by the use of archeological and linguistic data. 3 credits.

Anthropology 312. SOUTH AMERICAN INDIANS. A survey course of archeological and ethnographic focusing on hunter-gatherer and horticulturalist Indian groups. The effects of social-cultural change in contemporary Indian life will be a major component of the course. 3 credits.

Anthropology 313. PEOPLES OF THE PACIFIC.* Historical and contemporary descriptions of the varieties of peoples and cultures in Polynesia, Micronesia, and Melanesia. 3 credits.

Anthropology 320. FOLKLORE. The oral techniques used in literate and non-literate cultures to pass traditions from generation to generation. The forms and functions of folktales, proverbs, curses, folk-songs, riddles, ceremonies, folk art, and games in Western and non-Western culture. 3 credits.

Anthropology 321 (Sociology 321). SUPER-NATURAL BELIEF SYSTEMS. An investigation of the social aspects of religion, its forms of organization, and its relationships to other institutions. 3 credits.

Anthropology 325 (Sociology 325). WOMEN AND SOCIETY. An introduction to the study of women's roles, contributions, and perception of society through readings in anthropology and sociology. The focus will be on the effects of gender, race and ethnicity in the lives of women. Prerequisite: Sociology 101 or 102. 3 credits.

Anthropology 355 (Sociology 355). THE COMMUNITY. Review of theories of community and analysis of representative community studies. 3 credits.

Anthropology 383. OCCUPATIONAL AND CAREER ANTHROPOLOGY. An overview of job and career opportunities in anthropology. Course topics include applying for jobs, planning for graduate study, development of a resumé. 1 credit.

Anthropology 410. RESEARCH METHODS IN CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY. The methods employed by anthropologists in their gathering and analysis of material of the behavior of people living in other cultures. Methods surveyed include participant observation, analysis of speech patterns, collection of genealogies, mapping, collection of oral histories, semantic analysis and the eliciting of symbol systems. 3 credits.

Anthropology 455 (Sociology 455). SOCIAL CHANGE. The study of significant alterations in the organization of society and in patterns of values, norms, and behavior over time. Explores the social and economic development associated with modernization and industrialization and various sources of change found in technology, social structure, population, the environment, and cultural innovation. 3 credits.

*Anthropology 460. ANTHROPOLOGICAL THEORY. The history of theory and models in anthropology. An overview of the intellectual "schools" which have affected research in the past and a survey of present models in anthropological thinking. 3 credits.

*Anthropology 461. SENIOR SEMINAR IN ANTHROPOLOGY. A seminar for senior anthropology majors, designed to integrate knowledge of specific subfields into a comprehensive view of anthropology and its role in relation to other sciences. Open only to senior anthropology majors. 3 credits.

Anthropology 492. INTERNSHIP IN ANTHROPOLOGY. Directed student learning in applied settings, that permits a practiced, supervised experience. Students learn through performance in meaningful tasks in a variety of social environments. May be repeated. Prerequisite: 18 hours of anthropology. Student's cumulative GPA must be 2.50 or above to be eligible for internship. Must be arranged in advance with program director or department chair. No more than 15 total credits may be earned. Variable credit: 3-15 hours per semester.

Anthropology 496/596. THE ORGANIZATION AND EXECUTION OF ARCHEOLOGICAL FIELDWORK. Advanced students with experience in basic field methods in archeology learn the skills necessary to organize and supervise the execution of archeological excavations. Students will serve as assistants to the Director of an ongoing excavation and will aid in the design of the field strategy, intra-site sampling techniques, site mapping, and artifact and feature plotting and recording. Offered during summer session. 6 credits.

Anthropology 497. FIELDWORK IN SOUTH AMERICAN ARCHEOLOGY. This course is designed to expose students to the skills and methods needed to excavate prehistoric sites and to recover and analyze artifacts and features. Students will have the opportunity to work in laboratory as well as field settings. Prerequisite: Permission of Instructor. 6 credits.

Department of Speech and Theatre

Nancy Anderson Haga, Chair
Cecelia Culler, Secretary

The Department of Speech and Theatre offers a B.F.A. in Visual and Performing Arts with a concentration in Theatre.

ASSESSMENT

To graduate as a Theatre major, students are required to be assessed annually by professional performers and technicians. Each student prepares a portfolio of theatrical activities and projects for the year. Performance majors prepare contrasting monologues for assessment. Technical majors prepare projects in scene design, lighting, properties, scene technology, or costume. All majors have individual conferences and written evaluations by assessors. All assessment activities are videotaped. Strengths and weaknesses are evaluated and curriculum changes made accordingly.

We cannot guarantee that all of the courses listed will be offered every year.

THEATRE PROGRAM

Faculty

Pamela Arkin, M.F.A., Assistant Professor of Speech and Theatre
A. Moffatt Evans, Jr., M.F.A., Associate Professor of Speech and Theatre
Rodney Williams, B.A., Instructor of Theatre and Dance
Douglas M. Young, Ph.D., Professor of Speech and Theatre

The Theatre program offers the student an opportunity to explore all facets of theatrical work as well as to pursue one of several areas of specialization: performance, technical theatre, musical theatre, theatre arts management, and drama therapy. The objective of the program is to produce trained and competent performers, managers, and theatrical technicians and to develop an appreciation for the literary, performance and historical traditions that are unique to the theatre. The drama therapy specialization prepares the student for further training in a graduate program. An audition is required for theatre majors in performance and musical theatre specialization.

Students are trained in regular course and studio work and by participating in a full schedule of major productions each year. In addition, selected students receive a full semester's training under professionals as interns, for which they receive academic credit.

For non-majors, courses in theatre offer the student insights into the human character as reflected in dramatic literature and productions, and create an awareness of the relationship of theatre to the individual's life, society, and the human condition. Non-majors may participate and receive academic credit for work in the major theatrical productions of the Longwood Theatre program.
