This is a storyboard with many different outcomes. You control his life! this is an educational board that gives you information about lung cancer that you may be unaware of.

"Billy comes from a very successful and educated family. Billy is 18 years old and a senior in high school. He is unsure of his future and likes to live in the moment of fun. He goes out with his friends every weekend and the environment he is in, is becoming dangerous by using vape and cigarettes. Will Billy give in and participate in these activities? Does he know the consequences of this?"
