Junior Festmeister, Sophomore Mittenmeister, Usherettes Chosen From Each Class

By LISE WORTHINGTON

Geist revealed tonight at the annual Geist festival, the Festmeister, the Mittenmeister, the eight usherettes, and a new position the Geistmeister, for this year's Oktoberfest weekend. As the German word Geist signifies, these girls are recognized for their imagination, intelligence, and outstanding Longwood spirit and devotion.

Geist announced that the position of Geistmeister would be given to the senior who most represented the Blue and White, or the overall Longwood spirit. The 1969 Geistmeister is Mary Lou Whitehead.

Mary Lou, an attractive and inquisitive student from Emporia, Virginia, certainly deserves this honor. Among her varied activities past and present include, Judicial Board representative for 4 years, a member of Zeta Tau Alpha, president of Panhellenic, and being president and vice president of the student Education Association. Mary Lou's major field of study is English, with a minor in speech.

Festmeister for the 1969 Oktoberfest is Cassey Wilkes, a junior. Her duties will include acting as mistress of ceremonies. This is the highest recognition that Geist gives a member of the Junior class.

Casey from Keysville, Virginia, plans to major in Physical Education. Her major has influenced some of her other activities. She has participated in class hockey, tennis, and volleyball, and is an active member of Alpha Gamma Delta. She has worked in the color skits for Geist, been a colleague, and is treasurer for the legislative board. She is also an outstanding "Peepicker."

Tapped for 1969 Mittenmeister is Penny Jones, a vivacious and fun loving sophomore. Her duties Oktoberfest weekend will be to supervise over the midway. This position is given in recognition of a deserving sophomore who has shown both spirit and loyalty.

Penny, an elementary Education major from Richmond, Virginia, is the sophomore representative to the judicial board. She has worked diligently in the Geist skits and the color skits. Penny is an Alpha Gamma Delta Pledge with plenty of spirit.

In addition to these important posts, Geist elected eight usherettes, two selected from each class. Their duties will consist of introducing the class skits in form of dance, and to seat the guests. Those chosen were, Betty King, Suzanne Turner, seniors; Carol Umbenstock, Julie Smith, juniors; Terry Van Cantfort, Joan Putney, sophomores, and Marsha Sweet and Bonnie Adams, freshmen.

Betty King is a physical education major from Clifton Forge, Virginia. Her record is an outstanding one. Her various activities have included vice president of the Athletic Association, alumni secretary and historian of Alpha Sigma Tau. Betty was an orientation leader, and a leader of Red and White spirit. She has been vice president of Delta Psi Kappa, and has represented Longwood in Varsity hockey and basketball.

Suzanne Turner, a chemistry major from Charlottesville, has been so active that her name is undoubtedly recognized in every form of school activity. Her past and present activities have included, president and secretary of the Athletic Association. She has held positions of corresponding secretary, first vice president, and rush chairman of Alpha Gamma Delta. She has been a great participant in class color, hockey, basketball, and volleyball. Her varsity record includes swimming, tennis and lacrosse. Suzanne is also a member of Lynchos and the German Club.

Carol Umbenstock, an elementary major from Charlottesville, has been active in the Athletic Association. She has participated in class hockey, volleyball, and basketball. Carol has represented Longwood on the Varsity swim team and is a member of the H20 club. With all her other activities, Carol is also a member of Alpha Gamma Delta.

Julie Smith who plans to major in chemistry and minor in Biology, is another student with an active Longwood list. She is the junior representative to the judicial board, and has been a Colleague. She is currently a member of Sigma Kappa and during the summer of '68 held the position of orientation leader and judicial board member.

Terry Van Cantfort, a physical education major from Portsmouth, Virginia, is vice president of the sophomore class. She is a Colleague and represented her class ably as a class representative. Terry is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau.

Marsha Sweet and Bonnie Adams are two prospective freshmen who show great potential after such a short time at Longwood. Marsha is from Portsmouth, Virginia. As of now, she is undecided on her major, but is considering the English field. Bonnie, from Richmond, plans to pursue the career of elementary education.

These 11 girls, each a complimentary example from the four classes, will spark enthusiasm, and purpose on the weekend of October 24, the 1969 Oktoberfest festival.

Teacher's Exams Announce Dates

PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY, September 15 - College seniors preparing to teach school may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of the four different test dates announced today by Educational Testing Service, a nonprofit, educational organization which prepares and administers this testing program.

New dates for the testing of prospective teachers are: November 8, 1969, and January 31, Longwood test date April 4, and July 18, 1970. The tests will be given at nearly 500 locations throughout the United States, ETS said.

Results of the National Teacher Examinations are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers and by several states for certification or licensing of teachers. Some colleges also require all seniors preparing to teach to take the examinations.

On each full day of testing, prospective teachers may take the Common Examinations, which measure their professional preparation and general cultural background, and a Teaching Area Examination which measures mastery of the subject they expect to teach.

YWCA Conference

A State YWCA Convention was held at Longwood College on October 3 and 4. On Friday night, October 3, the Virginia State Workshop Conference met at the Wesley Foundation. After dinner they had a micro-lab, in which sensitivity games are used in order to find out more about yourself and get acquainted with others.

Saturday they met from nine to four in the Lankford ABC Room. The meeting opened with a brief history of the Y's activities. Mary Jane Stewart, from Southern Regional Office, was head of the Conference. Discussion groups were held in four interest areas, which were National Y, Race Relations, Social Concern, and Local Y.

Attendings were representatives from Hampton Institute, Madison, Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Mary Washington, and Norfolk State.

It's A Blue & White Year

The Class of '73 has arrived, and for the hundredth time you hear the word "Welcome." By this time I am sure that you have discovered that it is more than a two syllable greeting, it is a spirit of the students on campus trying to make you feel at home and to build our college lives around each other.

The Freshmen have answered with a warm and friendly manner and an abundance of spirit, both Green and Blue. Not only have the Baby Greens exhibited a loyal devotion to their sister class, you have also shown a bond of sisterhood with our Red and White Sisters, the Seniors and the Sophomores. This is the Kind of spirit which portrays the traditions and the ties of Longwood.

The Red and Whites have added very much in the initiation of the Class of 1973. Their good humored competition and active sportsmanship set a shining example for the Frosh to follow.

It is this harmonious blend of Green and White and Red and White that exemplifies the essence of Blue and White Sisterhood. Let us remember, now that Oktoberfest is rapidly approaching, to make a promise for the best Blue and White year ever.

F-S-S Retreat Successful

Prior to the opening of class sessions, a number of student government officials, faculty members, and administrators took part in a "Faculty-Student Staff Retreat" at Holiday Lake.

In addition to a picnic lunch and "welcome backs" from old buddies, the main purpose of this gathering was to discuss pertinent questions in an effort to decide which stand our Longwood leaders held on certain issues. The assumption was, since these leaders were elected by the student body, then their opinions, on the whole, would express what the other girls on campus agreed or disagreed with.

Topics ranging from dress code changes to distribution of weekly calendars and on-campus firearms were discussed in separate committees and presented before the entire group.

A general consensus of opinion polled showed that:

1. As for locating mailboxes in Lankford, the committees agreed that this would benefit the students since mail could be delivered two to three times daily.
2. As for selling 3.2 beer on campus, the students opposed the sale, consumption, or housing of alcoholic beverages. The majority of students felt that to bring beer on campus would only downgrade our "teacher-institution image." Since, the committees noted, we have two drinking establishments in close proximity of the schools grounds, students only have a short distance to go in order to purchase beer without choosing to have alcohol on campus.
3. The examination schedule proposed last June has been approved as of September 16 by the faculty members and all students agreed the policy should continue.
4. Another suggestion proposed that a single day in mid-semester be devoted "exclusively to student appointments with advisors."
5. Our dress code situation caused probably the largest number of disagreements. Some committees felt that sports attire, excluding cut-off jeans and tee-shirts, (which met with general disapproval), be permitted on campus. One suggestion, particularly, was that whatever attire is approved for class wear should also be approved for the dining hall.

Also, among the most important topics covered concerned a need for student education in drugs. We thought this information should be taught in health education classes with special emphasis to incoming freshmen in their orientation programs.

Now... Dr. Brown is sponsoring a "Drug Thing" tomorrow night at 7:30 in Jarman auditorium. She has contacted both legal and medical authorities in order to present a comprehensive, up-to-date program. We urge all students to attend this session and help to make the F-S-S Retreat an annual airing-out affair. This "Drug Thing" is our first step in the "Right" direction...

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I am a Freshman here at Longwood and I'm eagerly anticipating the many days I'll spend on this campus.

Last year as a Senior in high school I was confronted with decisions of which college I should attend, I had mailed inquiries to various schools throughout Virginia and Maryland in an attempt to make up my mind. All the catalogues had the statement, "warm and friendly atmosphere," so when I read it in Longwood's catalogue, I regarded it as another line of print. I learned early that the statement was put there in a sincere manner. Last May Day, the Longwood ladies were very cordial and congenial to my family and me, leaving an excellent first impression. This continued through orientation week as my orientation leader, Colleague, and student assistant helped me get through the trials of my first few days. It seems now that everyone I meet has a ready quick smile, a pleasant word, or a friendly gesture which does make a "warm and friendly atmosphere" around the campus.

So I'd just like to thank all the girls who helped Longwood receive their first-rate reputation that the catalogue, society, and heresay have given them.

Sincerely,
Lee Sharr

Tim Brown and Lankford Student Building, Organize Functions For Student Body

By LINDA FLOYD

What do you think of when you think about Lankford? First, one might mention the rec where you can get a bite to eat when you simply cannot wait until the next meal. Second, there's a bowling alley, pool tables, and color TV to entertain you when you just can't bear the sight of those books any longer. Oh, yes, and then there's a main floor to Lankford, too. It's really pretty - there's a big room called the Gold Room and off of it are several attractively furnished smaller rooms. These are used for the Junior Ring Dance, an occasional lecture, perhaps when a VIP visits the campus, and if a Longwood girl should happen to have a date.

The general consensus seems to be that Lankford is a beautiful building, but with the exception of the basement facilities, one that is used little. Plans are now underway in an attempt to change this. The Lankford Student Union, with Lankford's new manager, Tim Brown, as advisor, hopes to sponsor more activities and coordinate existing functions.

The Lankford Student Union, formed last year as the Lankford Building Committee, already has tentative plans for mixers and movies. The Union's officers include Mary Curtis Conrad - Chairman, Laurel Baldwin - Vice-chairman, Lynn Wilson - Secretary, JoAnne May - Treasurer, Laurel Baldwin - Major Functions, Jan Portor - Minor Functions, Randy Graves - Publicity, and Judy Donohue - Fine Arts. Mr. Brown anticipates that the Student Union will become a major campus organization by next year, that is, if it has the support of the student body - support which it vitally needs if it is to work for the students. The Union is open for membership and the various committees need workers.

The Student Union hopes to adopt a Lankford Student Union symbol soon. A contest will be run, and Longwood students will have an opportunity to design the symbol.

The way the Student Union will function is this. Classes and organizations wishing to sponsor activities will go directly to the Student Union. The Student Union will sponsor events in conjunction with the organization and will supply them with certain know-how, for example, how to go about getting a good, reliable band, how to publicize the activity, etc.

Mr. Brown relates that using Lankford for dating will remain a major part of its function since it is one of the few places on campus that affords an atmosphere different from that of dorms and classrooms. One idea he would like to see initiated is that of converting one of the rooms into a listening room where couples could listen to a stereo and perhaps dance.

Mr. Brown, who came to Longwood

Exam Schedule

The faculty at its opening meeting approved continuation of the examination schedule which was set up last spring. This schedule provided an alternate date on which exams could be taken. The completed exam schedule will be published within the next two weeks in the "Rotunda".

There is now a faculty-student committee to explore the question of final exams. They will discuss the exam schedule, the form of finals, and the value of finals in the determination of the final course grade.

There are plans now to form two other committees with faculty-student representation. One is designed to explore the long-range curriculum program at Longwood, and the other is to investigate the use of computers in classroom instruction.

It is anticipated that we will have a computer available as a teaching aid within the next two years. Final determination of this will be made by the Commonwealth of Virginia.

At the present time, there are students on all of the college committees that deal with student problems. The Legislative Board indicates which students should serve on the various committees. Some of the committees are: the Library Committee, the Committee on the Evaluation of Teaching, the Artist Series Committee, the Calendar Committee, and the Book Store Committee.

Interesting Schedule Planned By Artists Series Committee

By PEGGY MOORE

Tuesday, October 7, is the date set for the first of four presentations scheduled by the Artists Series Committee for the current academic year.

Two young members of the New York Opera Company will be presented in Jarman at 7:30 p.m. on October 7. Young soprano Judith Anthony and Thomas Jamerson, Lyric baritone, will present a program of duets and solo arias from famous operas, lieder and musicals.

The next entertainment is scheduled for Sunday, February 8, at 7:30 p.m. The Alvin Ailey American Dance Theatre in a presentation described by the Virginia Dance Society of the Virginia Museum, where it will appear on February 10. "This powerful and sensitive dance company has been acclaimed throughout the world for the sheer excitement and beauty of its production. The result is a truly original contribution to modern dance that is distinguished by taste and imagination." According to Mr. C.E. Butler, chairman of the Artists Series

Committee, the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theatre is scheduled to appear not only at the Virginia Museum, but also at such colleges as University of Virginia, Madison and Mary Washington.

The Series will continue on March 10 at 8:00 p.m., when it will present The Cologne Chamber Orchestra, Helmut Muller-Bruhl, Conductor. This fine orchestra has appeared in several European countries. Its present schedule for the coming season includes a tour throughout Germany and most other musically important countries.

The last presentation of the year will be the comedy drama play, The HASTY HEART. The play will be presented on April 7 at 8:00 p.m. by The Barter Theatre (State Theatre of Virginia). This play received good reviews and enjoyed a long run in New York.

Although the Artists Series is required for the Freshman Class, the Artists Committee hopes to see many of the upperclassmen attend too. They would also like to invite all faculty and staff members and their families to attend.

Longwood Gymnastic Team Plans Show For Oktoberfest

The Longwood College gymnastic team, now in its second year, is beginning to plan its various activities.

From now until Giest week end the gymnasts are working on a show for Oktoberfest. Everyone is invited to participate in the performance, "A Star Like Wonder," to be presented several times on Saturday afternoon, October 25. Areas to be shown include uneven parallel bars, tumbling, vaulting, and floor exercise, all performed to music. Practices for this show are being held on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights at 7:00, in the French gym.

Beginning in the middle of November, are tryouts for the team. Those who are accepted for the team will compete with various schools throughout the state beginning in January with William and Mary. Those who do not make the team will still be invited to practice, although they will not compete. Gymnasts will have the option to learn how to judge various routines on the gymnastic equipment and will be able to judge meets on the high school level.

On November 22, Longwood will host a gymnastic clinic for Virginia coaches. Anyone can observe the clinic and the gymnastic team will help out in several capacities.

Speaking of the team, coach Miss Fath says, "I am impressed with the incoming skill of the Freshmen and Transfers as well as those upper-classmen who are returning."

Exhibit Room Houses Yarsarely Print Show-Op Art Featured

Now, until the end of October, in the Library Exhibit Room is the Vasarely Print Show.

Victor Vasarely, who was born in Hungary, and who now lives in Paris, first studied medicine in Budapest. He became attracted to art and enrolled at the Budapest Bauhaus. There he studied under Moholy-Nagy and acquainted himself with the teachings of Malevich, Mondrian, and Kandinsky.

Vasarely introduced the concept of movement into pure abstract painting. The aim of his kinetic art is to be multidimensional. He bases his work on geometry and conception rather than feeling—Op art. He believes that modern techniques have changed the concept of a work of art. Art does not have to be unique, but may be reproduced or recreated in many copies until it is machine made.

AA Set Up Intramural Hockey To Increase Participation

You don't have to be good at it — you just have to want to have fun! Intramural hockey is soon to begin and with the new procedure set up by the Athletic Association, everyone can play.

The point value for intramural hockey is one point if one plays at least 2 games. Under the new system, each dorm, except Stubbs, will be represented by 1 team — Curry will have 2 teams — 1 from 4-7 floors, the other from 7-10. Likewise each sorority will also be represented by 1 team. Each dormitory and sorority will make available a sign up list. Any girl in that dormitory provided she is not in a sorority, may sign up for the team. The maximum number for each team is 20, the minimum is 12. Each sorority will also have a team, made up of any girl in that sorority. Each team is advised to choose a captain to help coach and organize the teams. When all teams have been turned in, a schedule of games will be posted.

The AA feels that this system of intramurals will allow more girls to participate who want to play and have fun. It will also allow each class to play with other classes, and it provides and promotes greater participation among the student body. With the maximum number of teams possible being 22, then it wouldn't require daily games for each team. The AA feels that this system, though on a trial basis this year, will be more accepted by the general student body and produce great results. But it needs your support! So come out and play intramural hockey — perhaps you can help your dorm or sorority to win this year's Intramural Hockey trophy which you can keep for the entire year.

Registration For All Classes Besides Sophs Went Well

A joint committee of faculty and students is now in the process of reviewing registration to see if there can be any improvements. Registration this fall went as well as any previous registration at Longwood, and at some colleges, students waited for as long as eight hours to register.

Sophomores have the worst time of all the classes getting their desired courses, for their schedules are flexible enough to be changed. Any sophomore who was denied a course will be able to take it later. No student was denied a course necessary to complete her graduation requirements if she needed it now.

There was also the necessity this year to close some psychology classes since developmental and educational psychology have been changed from closed-circuit television to smaller groups.

The enrollment figures are: 1,887 students — of these are 666 freshmen, 450 sophomores, 359 juniors, and 397 seniors.

New Dormitory Residents Join Longwood College Staff

Longwood College is greatly pleased to welcome three new dorm residents to its campus. Mrs. Martha Crandle, Miss Judy Hedrick, and Miss Bette Hamner are working this year as dorm mothers.

Mrs. Crandle, who is originally from Clarksville, Georgia, is the new head resident in Curry. Mrs. Crandle attended Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, and the Cleveland Art School. She began her career as a secretary, but later filled in a vacancy at the University of Pennsylvania as a sorority dorm mother. Before coming to us, she was a head resident at the University of Georgia.

When asked how she would compare Longwood to the other schools at which she has served, she said, "There is no way that I can compare a small college to a large university. I like Longwood. I really prefer a small college and a small town, because I'm from a small town. Big cities are fun when you're young."

Mrs. Crandle, in commenting on the Longwood Hilton said, "I love it. It has everything anyone could wish for in making dormitory life as interesting as possible. All the advantages are here."

Mrs. Crandle explained that she and Miss Jane Snyder, Curry dorm assistant resident, along with the students, are planning on forming an indorm weekend club for those girls who do not leave the campus very often. They've planned a Christmas program, and they hope to have sings on the roof in the future.

Because of the enthusiasm and interest of her girls, Mrs. Crandle said that they hope to have discussions and speakers on such topics as marriage, prenatal care, and contraceptives.

Mrs. Crandle says, "Dorm living has to be more than first a hotel life of eating, attending classes, and studying. It must also be educational, and through these projects, we hope to accomplish this purpose."

Miss Judy Hedrick, a native of Roanoke, is the new dorm mother in Main Cunningham. A 1967 graduate of Longwood, with a major in English and Speech, Miss Hedrick is now working toward her master's degree. Before coming to Longwood as a dorm resident, she taught English at Randolph-Henry High School in Charlotte County. While there, Miss Hedrick sponsored the school newspaper, directed the senior play for two years, and directed a one act play. Also, she helped with forensics, and worked some in guidance.

When asked if she thought Longwood had changed much, she said, "Most definitely!" Those things that had changed the most were: the administration, building names, new professors, Oktoberfest, the size of the school, and many rules, including curfew, drinking, and no bed check or lights out for freshmen. Miss Hedrick said, "I'm glad Longwood is growing, but I don't want to see it get too big."

Concerning the Longwood spirit, Miss Hedrick said, "The Longwood spirit is still here, and I hope it never quits. I think the Rotunda sings exemplify class and color spirit. Longwood is a part of me, and I like to think that I'm still a part of Longwood. You know, I still get excited by Chi!"

Miss Hedrick says she has a good group of girls who are very easy to get along with. She finds working as a dorm resident "interesting." She said, "It itself is educational. I like people and I like to find out why they do things."

Miss Bette Hamner, a 1965 graduate of Longwood with a major in English, history, and social sciences, is a native of Richmond. She taught for four years at Huguenot Academy. She sponsored the school newspaper, majorettes, Quill and Scroll, and drama club. Miss Hamner taught English, history, journalism, and drama. She too is working toward her master's degree.

When asked how she liked being dorm mother in South Ruffner she said, "I think it's funny. I like it. It's a different experience, and I find it interesting and enjoyable. I feel just like one of the kids."

Miss Hamner finds her girls to be very nice. She says, "I love them all." Concerning the changes at Longwood Miss Hamner said, "It's gotten bigger, and they're a lot of new teachers, and I really don't think it's changed much. Once I got back, I felt like I belonged here. I live in 241 South Ruffner when I was a freshman, and it hasn't changed a bit!"

"As far as school spirit is concerned," Miss Hamner commented, "I think it's pretty much the same, but if the college keeps growing, it may lose some of its spirit."

Both Miss Hedrick and Miss Hamner remarked that they feel like they've lost when the girls sing "Who's Going To Win," for they're the only ones who say, "We are the class of '65 and '67!"

Longwood girls dance on stage with the Swingin' Medallions during annual Colleague's Concert, Sept. 27.

Longwood's two newest Head Residents, Judy Hedrick and Bette Hamner, think about the "Good 'Ole Days." Miss Hedrick is a 1967 graduate and Miss Hamner is a 1965 graduate.

Along with several new members in the group, The Swingin' Medallions present a new show. Audience appeal was tremendous!

Linwood Holton, Republican hopeful for governor in November, greets students and area residents at a Political Rally September 26. Holton's appearance was followed by the official opening of Republican Campaign Headquarters.

Although the concert began two hours late as a result of transportation difficulties with equipment, when the instrument truck finally arrived band members pitched in and set up in about 15 minutes.

Dear Frances:

Just a note to let you know that I am counting on the Longwood College Young Democratic Club for assistance and support in this campaign. I feel certain that your organization could be of great help to the effort of the Democratic Party there in Prince Edward County, and I hope you will be in touch with Tom Smith to see what needs to be done.

As you know, I feel very strongly that young people should become involved in the affairs of their State, and I think a political campaign is a good place to start.

If you have any comments or suggestions about the campaign or the issues which are of particular concern to you and the members of your Club, I hope you will pass them along. Your thoughts will always be most welcome.

Here's to victory in November!

Sincerely,

Bill
